
COOK'S

NEWSPAPER

SCRAP BOOK

HEAVY CANVAS BACK AND CORNERS, PAPER SIDES.

No. 12	10x12	240 pages
" 012	10x12	240 "	Index in front and paged
" 14	10x14	240 "
" 014	10x14	240 "	" " " " " "
" 18	12x18	240 "
" 24	18x24	240 "

HEAVY CANVAS BACK AND CORNERS, BLACK CLOTH SIDES.

" 13	10x12	240 pages
" 013	10x12	240 "	Index in front and paged
" 15	10x14	240 "
" 015	10x14	240 "	" " " " " "

MANUFACTURED BY

JOSEPH F. COOK,

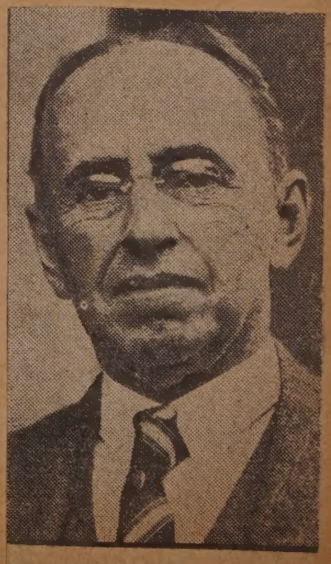
244-246 MILK STREET,

BOSTON MASS.

JL25:25H

THE LEGIONNAIRE — Nothing more need to be said, really, for Mayor Charles S. Ashley is a friend of all the Legion men and innumerable others, besides. 1927

The G. A. R. veterans of Marion are seen marching through the town on Aug. 16, 1894. Andrew J. Smith is leading this section of the line, astride his "charger."



THE REV. JOHN M. TROUT.
Aug. 1, 1927.

THE BOWDITCH HOUSE ON COUNTY STREET—The action in two of the three acts in the play, La Gringa, a romantic tale of a New Bedford captain of a whaling vessel, and a Spanish girl he lures from a Mexican convent, is laid in the Bowditch house on County street, this city. Feb. 26 · 1928

TUGS AT VINEYARD HAVEN—Many residents in Marthas Vineyard today can recall incidents connected with the tugs grouped in th

WILLIAM H. SNOW. Mar. 26, 1928

P. W. LITCHFIELD. Feb. 19, 1928

1917. —Wide World Photo

A WEEKLY TASK IN PURITAN HOMES—Miss Edna Thompson, North Truro, is seen dipping barberry candles. She manufactures more than 24 dozen a day, each candle being dipped 35 times. She is shown holding a finished candle and a row of candles in the process of dipping.

ON DUTY HERE

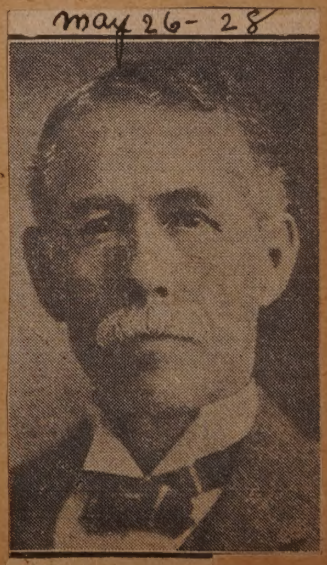
Dec 21-27

James K. Wilson, Warrant Officer, Is Now Stationed at Fort Rodman

Warrant Officer James K. Wilson, awarded a soldier's medal by the War department for heroism displayed in saving an Atlanta, Ga., boy from drowning, has been transferred from the Fourth Corps area headquarters, Atlanta, Ga., and is now serving at Fort Rodman. It was while engaged in Boy Scout work last year that Mr. Wilson displayed heroism in saving one of his Scouts from drowning. He has a record of 27 years of service in the Army and participated in all of the major offensives of the First division in the World war.

PRESIDENTIAL VISIT—This picture was taken Aug. 27, 1874, at the time President Ulysses S. Grant visited at Bishop Haven's cottage, at Oak Bluffs. Mrs. Grant is standing in back of the President, who is seated. At the left is General Babcock, secretary to the President, with Mrs. Babcock and their niece, Miss Campbell. In the center is Miss Barnes, sister-in-law of General Babcock.

May 26-28



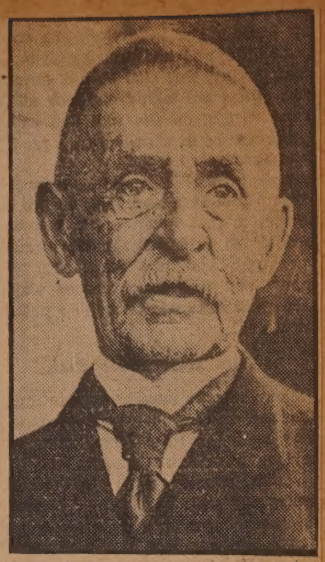
Gideon H. Allen,

DESCRIBES HONORS IN FRONT OF FRONT LINE

Aug 28-27

Joseph N. Viera Twice Decorated

Top: Joseph N. Viera, being decorated with the Croix de Guerre on the New Bedford common Memorial day, 1919. He received the Distinguished Service Cross at the New Bedford High school July 4 the same year. Below: Mr. Viera upon his return from France.



JOHN M. BURGESS.

June 3, 1928

WILL OBSERVE 93D BIRTHDAY

John M. Burgess Resides in House in Which He Was Born

Enjoys Daily Walk and Keeps Abreast of Current Events

John M. Burgess, 93 today will observe the anniversary in the house where he was born and where he has ever since lived, 39 Foster street. Mr. Burgess has continued to enjoy fairly good health so that he gets out nearly every day for a walk about the square and in the yard. He has a good appetite and his mind has remained clear so that he takes an interest in current events. Failing eyesight has made it necessary for him to give up reading, but other than this he is very well.

It is interesting to speculate on the village of Bedford on which Mr. Burgess looked as a child. In that year of 1838 the compiler of the New Bedford directory, Henry H. Crapo, returned the names of 3,233 adult persons as residing within the village of Bedford. The total population was 12,354. The town selectmen that year were James B. Congdon, Thomas B. Bush and James D. Thomson. Martin Van Buren was president of the United States with a salary of $25,000. The governor of Massachusetts was Edward Everett, whose salary was $3,666.67. Lemuel Shaw was chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court with a salary of $3,500. Oliver Prescott was judge of probate in Bristol country with a salary of $425.

New Bedford had no railroad then. The directory gave a table of distances by stage from the Commercial Coffee house, then the leading hostelry in the village. The directory advertisements of that year were odorous of the whaling industry. The total expense of the village in that year was $42,895.58.

CHIEF SAMUEL D. McLEOD.

CHARLES BRADFORD MITCHELL. Mr. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Fairhaven, has won the Olin prize fellowship for graduate study in English at Wesleyan university. He will get his Ph.B. degree this year, and will study for an A. M. degree next year.

JHS-1928

St. Luke's

IN THE LABORATORY — In this room, the walls of which enclose every imaginable scientific instrument, the cases of the patients are diagnosed and the proper treatment prescribed.

St. Luke's

ENJOYING THE SUNSHINE—These young patients in the children's ward at the hospital don't seem to mind the confinement to a hospital as much as many adults. Their cheerful shouting and calling to one another buoys up their spirit.

CHARLES M. CARROLL.
Jan 29.28

ED BY 10 GENERATIONS
—This house, parts of which re 200 years old, still stands the Freeman farm in Sagmore. It contains many ntiques and relics of th arly days when the Free-an family founded the own of Sandwich.

NEW Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY

Oct-8-27

Miss Mary Frances Cross

IS EXPERIENCED IN Y.W.C.A. WORK

New General Secretary Has Spent Number of Years in Orient

Miss Mary Frances Cross Holds Extensive Record of Service

Miss Mary Frances Cross, who has just accepted the position of general secretary of the New Bedford Y. W. C. A., comes to this association with a wide and varied experience. Her first few years in the Y. W. C. A. were in Germantown, Philadelphia, as general secretary, then as a traveling secretary for New York and New Jersey.

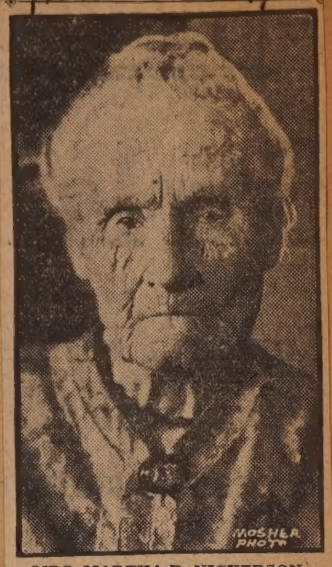
Years Spent in Orient.

Following this, she spent five years in India and Ceylon, under the World's Y. W. C. A. committee. Upon her return she became a traveling field secretary for the national board, with headquarters in Denver. From there she went to Minneapolis, where for several years she was metropolitan general secretary. In 1922 she went to Shanghai, China, having been asked by the China National committee of the Y. W. C. A. to organize an international center which would serve girls of all nationalities who were employed in the schools and business offices of the foreign concessions of that city.

Comes Here from Iowa.

It was to these girls, away from the privileges and opportunities of the Y. W. C. A. which they had known in their home lands that Miss Cross has given the last five years. She returned from China this spring not because of the agitation caused by the present civil war there, but because the term of service for which she went out was ended. Miss Cross comes to New Bedford from her home in Grinnell, Iowa, where she has been spending the summer.

5/18 ALMOST 101 1928



MRS. MARTHA B. NICKERSON.

Mrs. Nickerson will observe her 101st birthday at her Oak Bluffs residence, the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. J. F. Leonard, Tuesday, May 22. Mrs. Nickerson is the oldest person on the island of Marthas Vineyard. Despite her age, she enjoys very good health and takes an interest in current events.

1 21

SCHOONER ARIEL BADLY DAMAGED

Baffin Land Scientific Expedition Craft in Cape Chidley Storm

Owner Cables Vessel to Remain in Labrador All Winter

The schooner Ariel which left here in June for a scientific expedition to Baffin Land was damaged badly in a storm near Cape Chidley, Aug. 21. Word of the misfortune to the vessel has been received by insurance underwriters here. The message was sent from Battle Harbor, Labrador, by Dr. O. L. Austin, Tuckahoe, N. Y., owner of the vessel. Dr. Austin is an ornithologist and went to the far north to study migratory birds.

In a cable, Dr. Austin said:

"My schooner Ariel, damaged by storm near Cape Chidley, Aug 21. Have had survey made here. Master and surveyors consider it unsafe to proceed to United States. In view of lateness of season and unusually bad weather conditions can not proceed to St. Johns, Newfoundland, nearest port where docking and repairing can bze done without danger of total loss. Consequently am leaving vessel here for winter in charge of caretaker. Will take her to St. Johns as early as safely possible next.

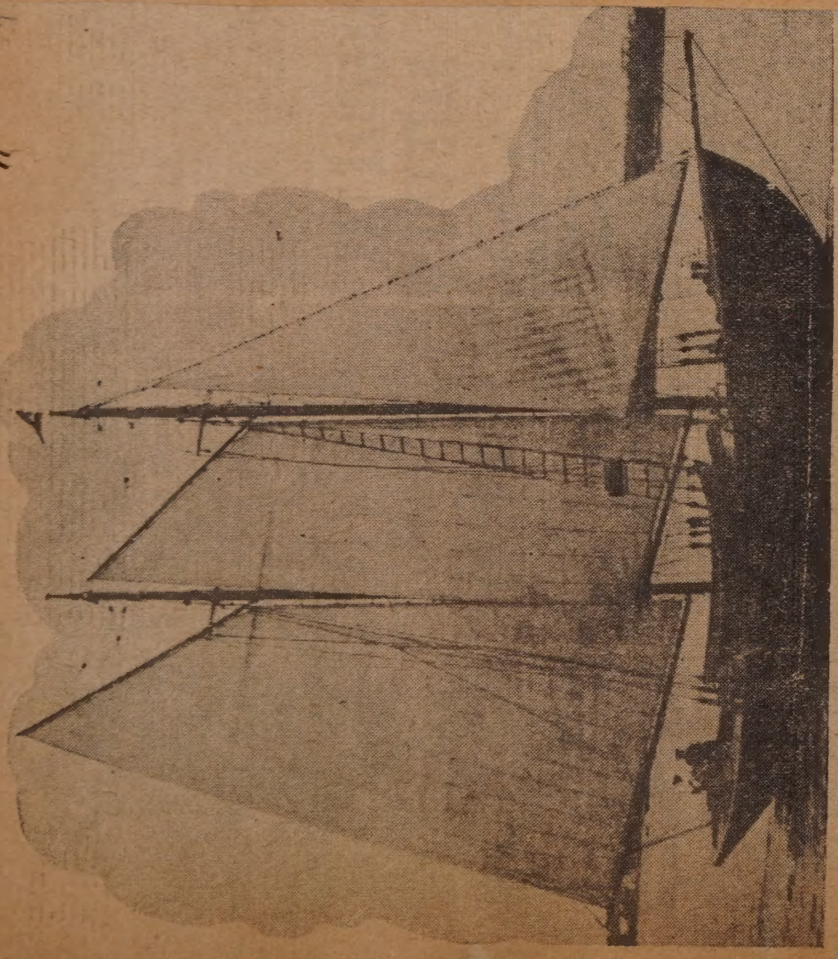
Fitted Out at Fairhaven.

The Ariel was fitted out at Peirce and Kilburn's for the expedition. Dr. Austin was accompanied by his son, Dr. Oliver L. Austin Jr., and Captain Richard Parmenter, Provincetown. The Ariel was designed by William H. Hand of this city. When the Ariel left here, her hull was covered with steel sheathing so that the ice of the far northern waters could not penetrate.

The habits of migratory birds was the subject of special study made in the north by Dr. Austin and his party. Dr. Austin's son who accompanied him has completed recently courses in ornithology at Harvard.

FITTING HERE BATTERED IN NORTH

9/25-27

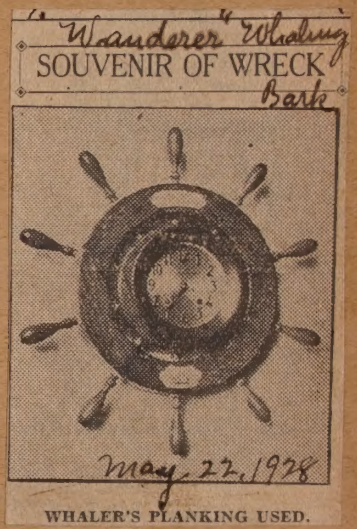


Schooner Ariel in Storm Off Labrador

SADDLE AND PILLION—On the Freeman farm, Sagamore, are two markers, placed by the family, in 1910, in honor of the founders of the Freeman family in this country. Edmond Freeman, born in England, was a founder of the town of Sandwich, in 1637, and was an assistant to Governor Bradford. The markers are known as a saddle and pillion.

THE MANSE — This house, one of the oldest in the town of Dennis was built in 1735. It was occupied for nearly 40 years, by the Rev. Josiah Dennis, one of the first preachers on the Cape, for whom the town was named. Mrs. Harry Chaffee now lives in it.

MOVING DAY — The class of 1913 is shown marching into the new high school at the head of William street, in the fall of 1912, when the change was made from the Summer street building.



WHALER'S PLANKING USED.

BIRTHPLACE — Major General Leonard Wood was born in this yellow-painted frame house that stands on the road between Cataumet and Pocasset, not far from the Wing's Neck road. It is not occupied now, as the general's brother, Jacob Wood, has built a more modern dwelling on Wing's Neck.

1927.

CARRIES ON—Although New Bedford does not hold its former place in the sun of whaling industry, F. Eben Brown, Fairhaven, continues to make whaling implements. He is carrying on the work his father did before him. He is shown here with two whaling bomb guns of his own make, rare whaling tools these days. —Photo by Herbert Photos, Inc.

DOORSTONE MARKS GRAVE

7/27-27

Memorial to Walter F. Spooner

DOORSTEP USED AS TOMBSTONE

7/27

Slab of Granite from Homestead Marks Grave of Walter R. Spooner

1927

Widow Selects Memorial as Fitting for Former Deputy Sheriff

The irregular rectangle of granite in the Acushnet cemetery, with a square smoothed off in the center for the names of Walter R. Spooner and his wife, was until a few weeks ago lying in front of the door of the old Spooner house, built more than 200 years ago, but now falling into decay.

Mrs. Spooner said that she could think of no more fitting monument and none so individual, for her husband, who died a year and a half ago, than this old block of native granite that had been so long a part of the Spooner home.

Dates to 18th Century.

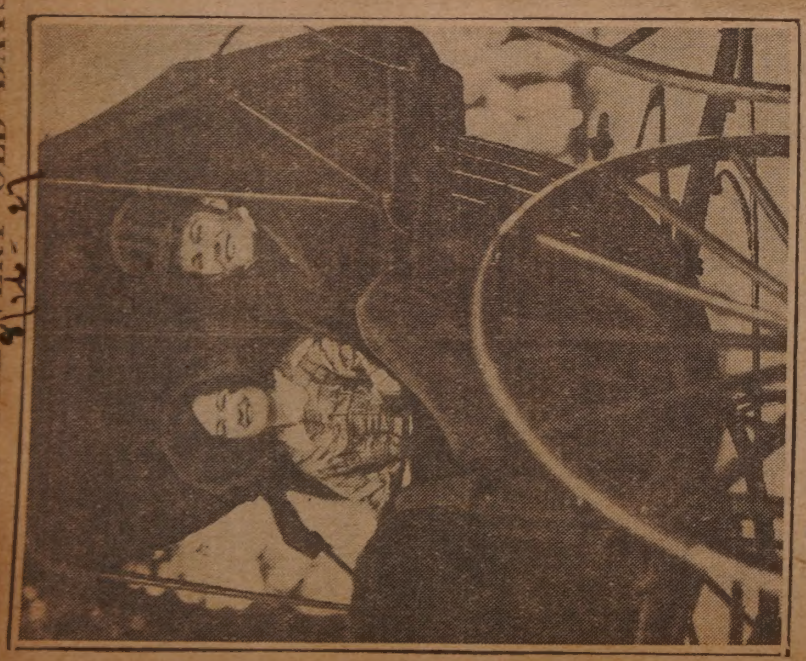
The Spooners have not lived in the homestead for more than 35 years, but the property has been in the family since early in the 18th century, when William Spooner settled in Acushnet. The granite doorstep, she believes, was taken up from a field near the house and set up before the door when the house was built. Generation after generation of Spooners has walked over it and worn smooth the nubbly surface of the rock.

Among notables who have stepped across the stone to enter the Spooner house were Judge Edward Pope, first collector of customs at this port and William Greenleaf, who first read the Declaration of Independence in Boston. Mr. Greenleaf's daughter was the wife of Noah Webster.

The stone on the hill in the cemetery, set upright, has been fastened in a base of mortar and smaller rocks, also taken from the fields near the old house, by J. F. Corcoran Sons. Mr. Spooner was a Bristol county deputy sheriff.

RECALLING THE VERY OLD DAYS

9/22-27

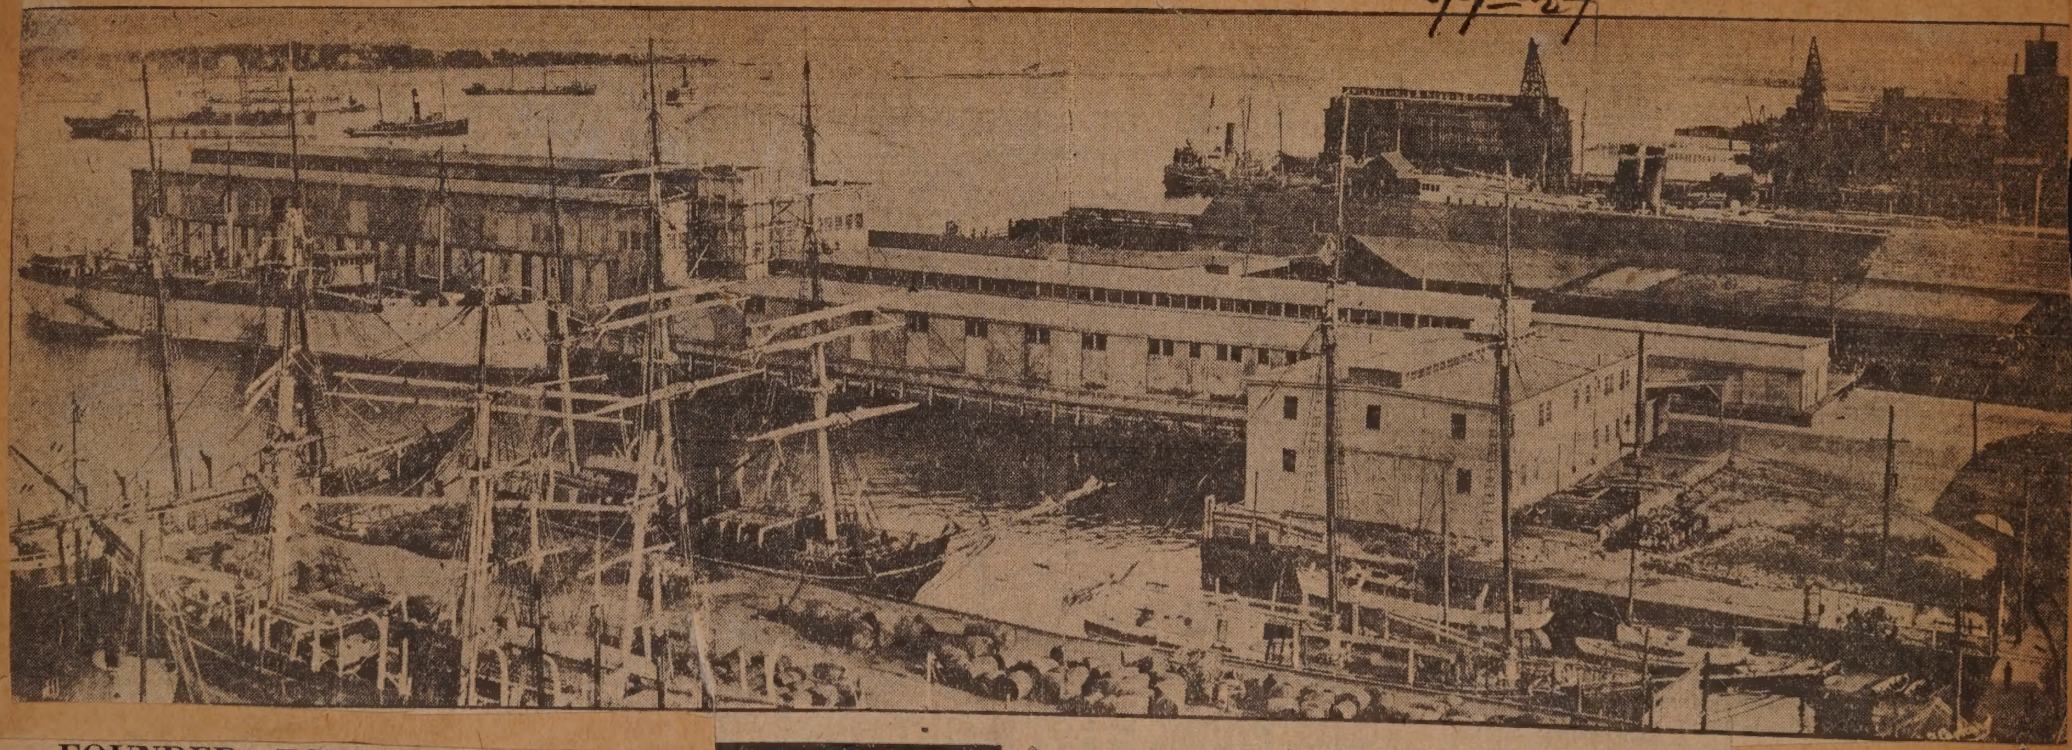


In Fairhaven Yesterday

Miss Mary and Edmund Hawes in the ancient vehicle with which they turned out for Fairhaven's street fete. Other pictures on page 2.

WHERE NEW BEDFORD'S NEWEST INDUSTRY WILL SOON BEGIN OPERATIONS

8/7-27



FOUNDED FOR 50 YEARS

New Bedford mass- July 22-1928

ST. JAMES'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

WELLINGTON A. FRANCIS.

At State Pier

Remodeling operations incidental to preparing the state pier for occupation by the Lamport Manufacturers' Supply company, Inc., New York, to whom it has just been leased for 10 years, will begin tomorrow. Contracts will be let simultaneously with the commencement of work. A representative of the company made a final inspection of the pier yesterday.

Goods are already on the way from New York, but actual operations in New Bedford's new industry will not begin before September. A five-day week is company practice and will be the rule here. The plant's working hours will be from 7 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 5:30 in the afternoon five days a week, Saturdays being holidays. The company's factory superintendent, Mr. Peters, will arrive in New Bedford Monday.

Wellington A. Francis, New Bedford cloth broker, whose picture appears herewith, was prominent in the now completed negotiations and was largely instrumental in interesting the Lamport company in New Bedford's possibilities.

OAK BLUFFS CAMPGROUND—This old time scene shows County park, a familiar spot.

1927.

Photo by Lynwood M. Chace.

SPANNING THE RIVER—Brightman street bridge crosses the Taunton river between South Somerset and Fall River.

July 11 1928 Photo by Lynwood M. Chace

"IT'S GREAT SPORT"—So says Pilot Bachelder, left, who is shown with William H. Sparrow, mechanic, and Alois P. Gast.

KITCHEN—A spotless room from which comes the food for patients cared for in one of the wards at the hospital. St. Luke's ISLAND EXPRESSED IN ART—The east, west, north and south of Marthas Vineyard are introduced in this composite decoration by Frank F. Frederick, director of the School of Industrial Arts, Trenton, N. J., whose idea was "to call to the attention of the young people the many beauties of their island home." 1927.

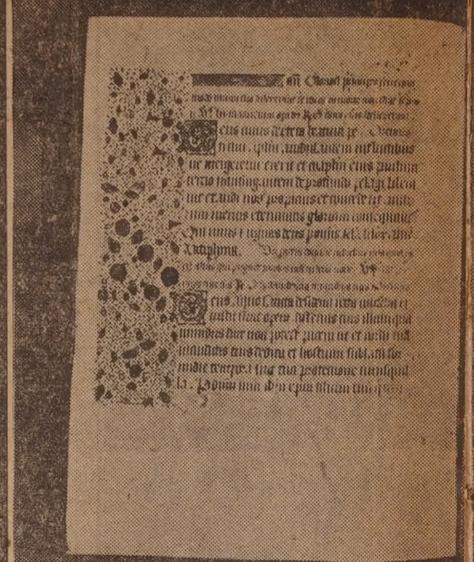
—Photo by A. F. Packard.

MEADOWS AND DUNES—At Sandwich the meadows and dunes present a striking scene in autumn, when the brown and red and gold of the marsh grass is set off by the silver of the sand.

NEW BEDFORD TO OBSERVE INTERNATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

Dec 10-27

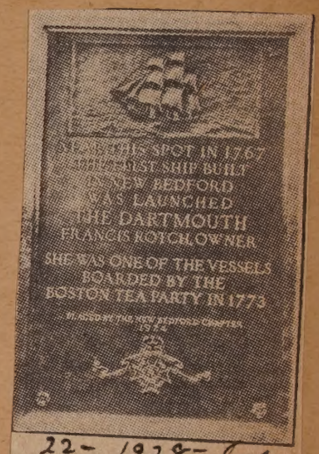


Books on Display at Library

Two of the unusual exhibits on display in the New Bedford Free Public library this week as part of the city's observance of International Bible week are pictured above. To the left are frontispiece and title page of an edition of the Polyglot Bible, which dates back to 1657. On the right are two pages of the Book of Hours, 15th century, the right showing an illustration done in colors, and the left an example of the text written by hand.

HOME OF A HERO — Joshua Crosby, who commanded a quarter deck on the frigate, Constitution, in the fight with the Guerriere in the war of 1812, lived in this rugged dwelling at Orleans. A tablet commemorates his memory. The home is now occupied by E. C. Franzmann. Dec. 25-1927.

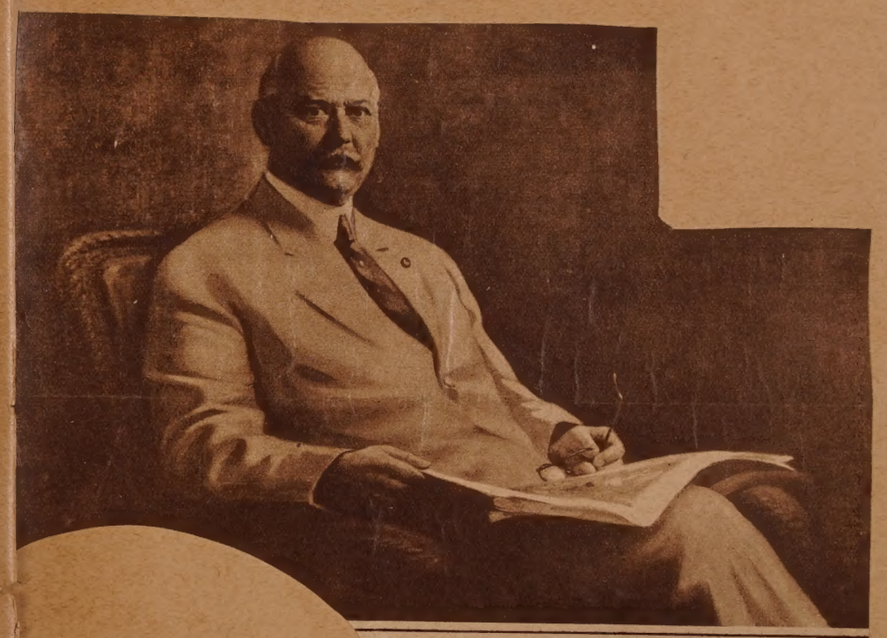
BRISTOL COUNTY COMMISSIONERS — John I. Bryant, Fairhaven; Richard E. Warner, Taunton, and Arthur M. Reed, Westport, Bristol county commissioners, are shown, left to right, in a recent photograph. Jan 1, 1928.



22-1928-July

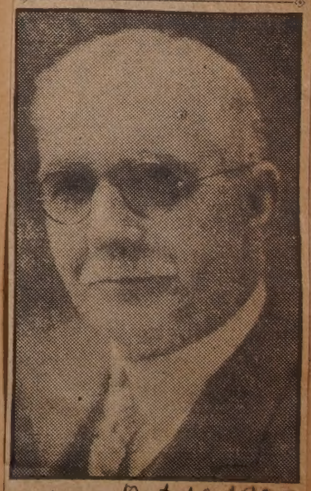
THE DARTMOUTH TABLET

Put up in 1924 by the New Bedford chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution commemorating the building and launching here of one of the Boston Tea Party ships.



FORMER WAR LEADER—A character study of the late John W. Weeks, former secretary of war and prominent figure in Massachusetts affairs, painted by Mr. De Groot. Dec 25, 1927.

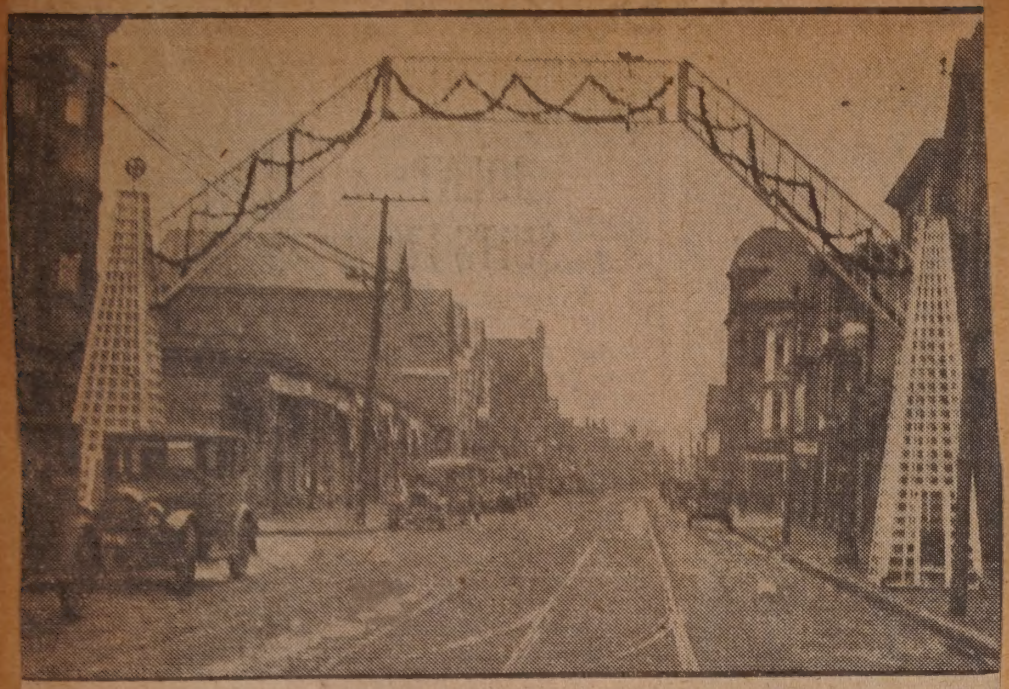
PASTOR RESIGNS



Oct 10, 1929

James D. Butts Deserts Church for Delicatessen Store

NORTH END IS DRAPED IN HOLIDAY GARB



One of Five Christmas Arches

This arch built over Purchase street is one of five erected to stimulate holiday interest up north. The picture is looking south with Logan street at the left.

NORTH END HAS HOLIDAY ARCHES

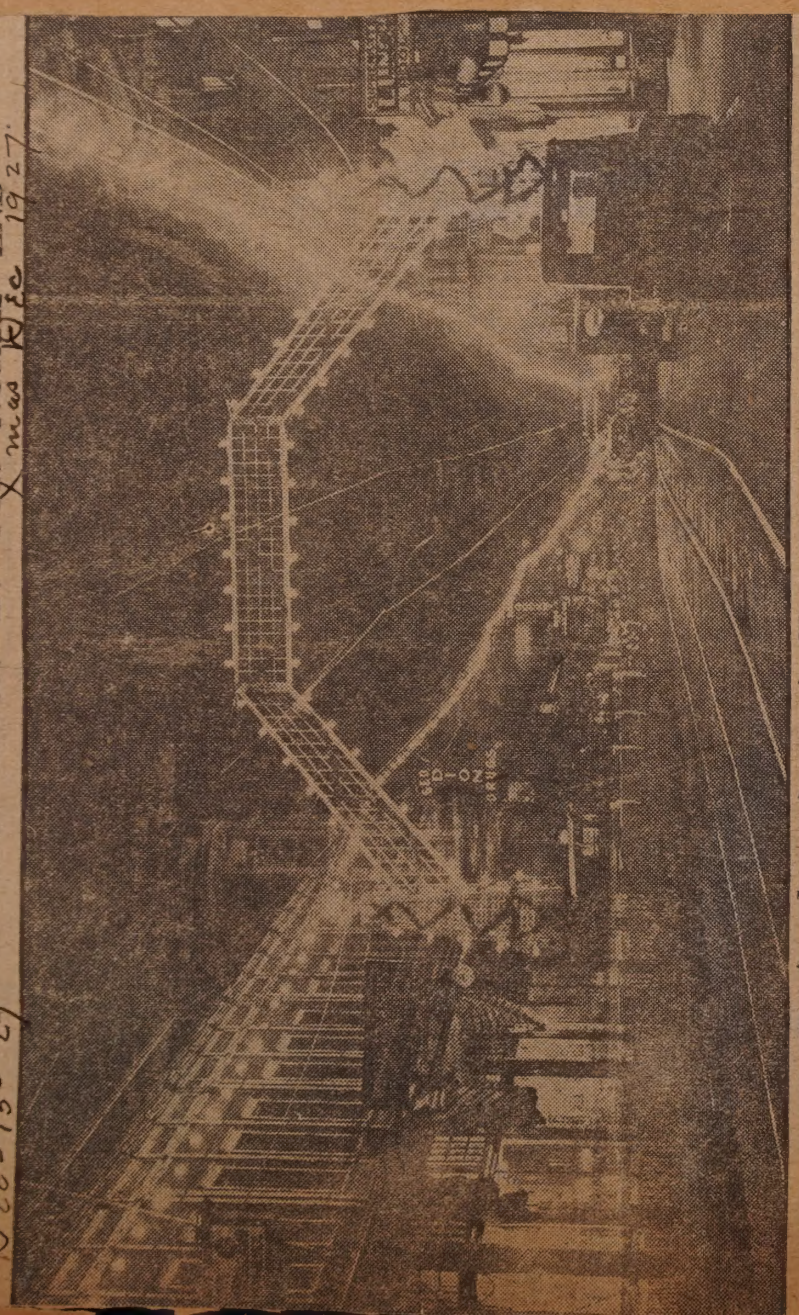
New White Way and Evergreen Covered Structures Will Be Lighted for First Time Next Monday

Three of the five arches which are to be erected in the North End have been put in place. The other two are under construction. The arches are for the purpose of stimulating interest in holiday trade. Permission to erect them was granted the North End Merchants association by the Board of Aldermen.

The arch shown here is on Purchase street between Logan and Weld street. All of the other arches have been placed on Acushnet avenue. They are located on Acushnet avenue, at Cedar Grove street, at Coggeshall street, at Sawyer street and at Nye street. The arches take up considerable room on the sidewalks, making it difficult for more than two persons to pass at one time.

Evergreens have been entwined about ne arches and multi-colored lights aced across the top of the arches. ese lights will blaze into radiance at e same time as the North End's new ite way is lighted. It was originally nned to have Councilman Walter llargeon throw the switch lighting new white way for the first time rsday afternoon, but because the s will not be ready to be lighted t time, the event has been postuntil Monday at 4:30 P. M.

Dec-15-27 BRIGHT LIGHTS REIGN IN OUR NORTH END Xmas Eve 1927.



Acushnet Avenue's Christmas Array

How the North End street looks with its new street lights and the added electricity of the holiday season. Picture was taken looking north from Cedar Grove street.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE—A portrait of Miss Caroline L. Aldrich, painted by Adrian M. De Groot, now on exhibition at his studio in Boston. Dec. 25 1927

TO DIRECT GIRLS

Sept. 17, 1929

MRS. HARRIET M. SCHAFFERT.

JOINS STAFF OF UNITED CHURCH

Mrs. Harriet M. Shaffert Is Appointed Educational Director

WHEN BICYCLING WAS A SPORT—The Metacomet Cycle club, back in 1897, has these young men for members: left to night, Frank Sowle, Emerson Slade, Howard M. Gibbs, James Linton, 'Doc' Lilley in back of Harry Kerr, Arthur C. Tripp, Eugene McGuiness, Robert Washburn, John Hathaway and Harry Inman.

May 27, 1928

ON JUNGLE SEARCH—William DeMello, son of Mr. and Mrs. August DeMello, 52 Briggs street, on the S. S. Voltaire enroute to Rio de Janeiro, as a radio erator with the expe tion searching in Braz for Colonel P. H. Fawcett and his son, lost explorers.

JIMMY INSPIRES BOOK OF VERSE

Sept 11-27

Mrs. Helen Hartness Flanders and Her Children

THERE'S JOY IN THE ROD—With the trout fishing season only a week away old time anglers will recall the late A. Frank Clark in knee boots and white outfit, enjoying a joke with his young protege. April 8, 1926.

HUGE TURTLE CAUGHT OFF CAPE

June 29, 1928

WEIGHS 850 POUNDS.

This giant turtle was caught off the banks of Chatham and weighs 850 pounds. It is estimated to be 200 years old. It is the largest turtle ever landed at the Boston fish pier. Joseph Manning, South Boston, is sitting on this turtle.

PUBLISHES BOOK OF CHILD VERSE

Mrs. Helen Hartness Flanders Observes Son's Original Views of World

Vermont Poet Has Spent Summers Since Childhood at Salters Point

Mrs. Helen Hartness Flanders, who has been spending her summers at Salters point since her childhood days, is the author of a book just published by the Duttons, entitled Looking Out of Jimmie. Jimmie, the youngest of her three children, and the subject of the book, is an active young man of three. His original viewpoint of the world has been observed by his mother and set down in rhyme, day by day; the accumulation of these verses has been delightfully illustrated by that very gifted artist Willy Pogany, and made into a gay and attractive book by the publishers.

Like most small boys, Jimmie is attracted by the railroad (his home town, by the way, is Springfield, Vt., and the nearest station seven miles away! A purely personal viewpoint is indicated in

The Hand Car.

I'd like to have a hand car
And ride the humming rails;
For down the track and round the curves
The little hand car sails.

It goes through towns and villages
Wherever goes the track,
And I could ride a long, long ride
And never one turn back.

An engine wears a long, long train
And lots of people, too.
But we'd be hand car and myself
Wherever we passed through.

We'd ride into the next and next
Of everything we'd see.
Sometimes perhaps, I might come home
But then I'd just be me!

His experience with "Ladies" lead to rather mixed feelings.

"There's sure to be a "double-chins"
Who looks me over and begins
'I know a boy like you but he—"
Then she goes on and on to me
About this boy.
We all keep still
And let her say all that she will.
(This often happens any day
If I'm not careful where I play;
For I'm quite likely to make friends
Forgetting how it often ends.

And then there is

The Swimming Suit.

They said,
"It is your swimming suit."
And held it up,
"It's very cute."

I found it stayed close to my skin
And much came out that they put in—
My legs and arms and feet and hands.
The rest felt woolly on the sands
But in the water it felt right and much more—Dust-Shine, Where Mostly Winds and Robins Go, Running-Board, About Laps, etc. Some of it has poetic feeling, as The Brook, and some is mainly whimsical, as The Engine.
And kept me inside—very tight.

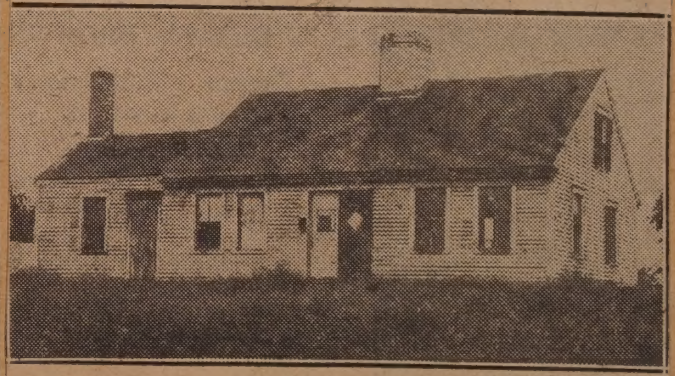
The author of Looking Out of Jimmie is, in private life, Mrs. Ralph Edward Flanders, and her Vermont home rejoices in the appealing name of Smiley Manse. Jimmie's daddy is in Who's Who. He is a mechanical engineer, director and manager of the Jones and Lamson Machine company, Springfield, Vt., member of various engineering societies, and author of a book on gear cutting machinery, and was formerly editor of an engineering publication.

AIDS IN CHURCH ARMY WORK

Oct 29-27

Sister Annie Horner

WEST END PROPERTY SOLD



OLD TABER HOMESTEAD Sept. 15, '29

WOMAN JOINS IN UNITED CRUSADE

Sister Annie Horner Is Only One of Her Sex in Church Army in U. S.

Has 18 Years in Organization Behind Her as Record of Life Work

By MINNA LITTMANN.

Sister Annie Horner, of the English Church Army, just arrived in this city to co-operate with the men of the Church Army in the New Bedford united crusade, has the distinction of being the only woman member of her organization on duty in the United States.

It was a visit to parents and brothers and sisters living in Philadelphia that brought her to this country from England eight years ago, Sister Horner explained, and it was the work that developed for her during that visit, in Ambrose Mission parish, Kensington, Philadelphia, that has kept her here, with the approval, of course, of her superiors on the other side.

In England, Sister Horner explains, there are practically as many women workers in the Army as there are men. Most of them engage in rescue work. They attend the same training college in London that the men do and receive the same training, and in addition a little hospital training that fits them to do first aid.

Sister Horner's work in Philadelphia is that of general parish assistant, with emphasis on the evangelistic side, which is the chief aim of the Church Army worker.

"I do whatever there is for me to do," says this brisk little woman, who gives an instant impression of tireless energy and devotion, with her concise, swift speech, her quick movements, her ready smile, the healthy English color in her cheeks, and the crisp neatness of her self-effacing black uniform. "Whatever there is to do," includes for her conducting Bible classes, weekly children's meetings, and Lenten services, superintendency of the Sunday school, visiting the sick, and helping the rector of the parish conduct open air meetings. The last named activity was begun in the parish last year by Church Army men.

There's no time left for outside interests, Sister Horner admits with a happy smile.

Eighteen years in all in Church Army work lie behind her, which means that she was in the work 10 years in England before her six months leave here developed into what appears at present a permanent assignment. Whether it will be or not, she can not say, for like her comrades she is under orders. For 8½ years of her English career she worked under Archdeacon Gresford Jones in Sheffield cathedral parish.

Sister Horner's native home is Leicester, England. In that city she worked for some years as forewoman of a department of a factory making knit woolen hosiery, sweaters, scarfs, and the like, before going into Church Army work. She is living at the Elm Arch inn during her stay in New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD LEGIONNAIRES OFF FOR PARIS IN GAYER MOOD THAN IN 1917

Sept 9- 1927

To Honeymoon Over There

Mayor Ashley said good-by to New Bedford's American Legion dele gation as it started from the municipal building this morning. Below Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aylward, who made the trip their honeymoon They were wed last night.

COLONIAL PLAN FOR 1928 HOME

June 10, 1928

PRESCOTTS OCCUPY NEW DOMICILE.

Jonathan Bourne Office Is Found Unchanged in 45 Years

Sept 11- 27-

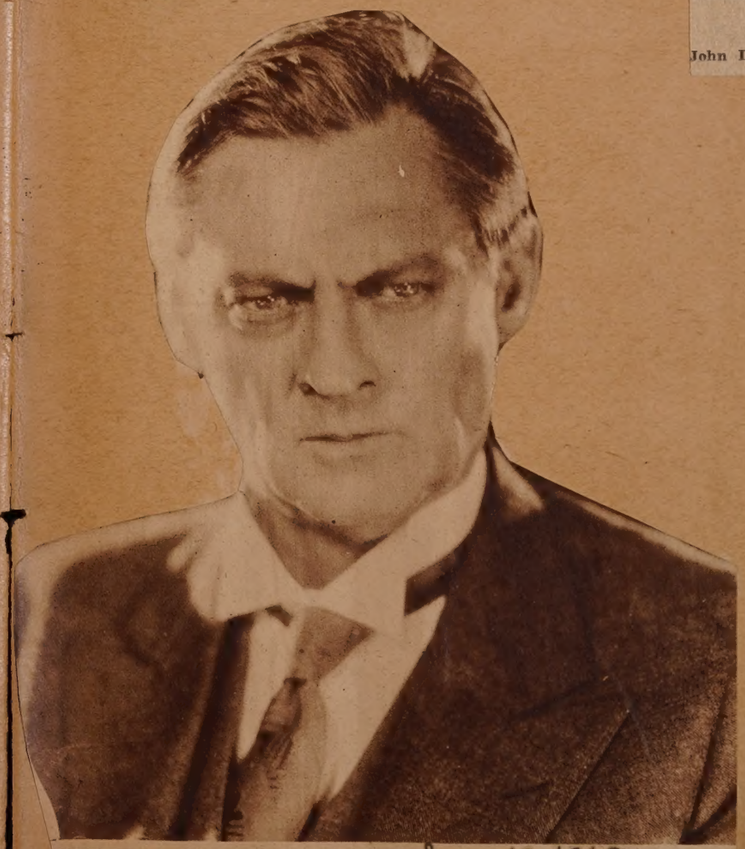
Former Employe Discovers Sand Box He Placed for Customs Officer

JOHN L. DEXTER LONG IN DETROIT BUSINESS

Yachting Enthusiast Is President of Association of Newsboys

Among Old Scenes

John L. Dexter revisiting the office of Jonathan Bourne, where he worked 45 years ago.



June 10, 1928

IN SCENES FILMED HERE—Lionel Barrymore, who came to New Bedford for the filming of his new movie, based on the play La Gringa.

Jan 8, 1928. —Photo by Bach

EDITOR OF THE MORNING MERCURY

new studio photograph of Zephaniah W.

AMERICANIZATION STUDENTS ENJOY CAPITAL

5-27

On the White House Grounds

New Bedford students, headed by Miss Lila Neves, supervisor here, were among those who called on President Coolidge Saturday. Above, front row, are, John T. Tigert, U. S. commissioner of education; Congressman Rogers; Miss Mary E. Guyton, and E. Everett Clarke, state supervisors of adult alien education, and Noe Demers. Below, in this part of the big delegation, the following from New Bedford can be picked out: Albert Wilusz, John Kozik, John Hagnan, Peter Woitasiewiz, Miss Delphina Silveira, Wilfred Pothier, Mrs. Tilly Cooperstein, Miss Lila A. Neves, Miss Viola C. Manseau, Mrs. Mary Smith and Miss Josephine Naja.

MANY YEARS A VIGOROUS POLITICAL FIGURE

Nov-26-27

Andrew P. Doyle

A long familiar face at three stages of its owner's career. Left, th young legislator; center, veteran and grandfather; right, at the prime o life.

NOTABLES HONOR DEAD LEGISLATOR

Nov-29-27

At Funeral of Andrew P. Doyle

The body of Representative Andrew P. Doyle being carried from St. James's Roman Catholic church Monday. Below, New Bedford firemen marching to the service and Speaker Hull, right, with others of

TO SOUTH END SCHOOL

Sept. 14, 1929

MISS MARGERY L. STOCKER.

NEW LIBRARIAN HERE MONDAY

Miss Stocker, Elected to Junior High Post, Is Simmons Alumna

SOLDIER-LIBRARIAN WRITES OF YOUTH AND WAR

Sep 1927.

Louis Felix Ranlett, of Millicent Library, Fairhaven, Gives Straightforward, Non-Critical Account of His Own Experiences Over There in Intensely Interesting Book Recently Published

Louis Felix Ranlett Makes Debut as

Publication of Let's Go brings Louis Felix Ranl thor. (1) The attractive jacket design and the forma from Mr. Ranlett's wartime collection, showing the bombardment. (3) Second Lieutenant Ranlett, as he his book is concerned. (4) Another scar of wartime, tury church on the Marne. (5) Mr. Ranlett, the libr

TOWN HALL ON CAPE HILL—Set high and overlooking the Cape waters is the town hall at Truro.

uthor with War Novel into the public eye as an au- of Let's Go. (2) A photograph n of a French church, after its peared in the days with which ruins of a beautiful 15th cen- n, in a recent photograph.

CARLO D. FINNI IS DEAD AT 78

12-12-28

Well Known Italian-American Here Dies After Three Months' Illness

Was Former Fruit Dealer and Saloon Keeper; Came to City in 1880

Carlo D. Finni, 78, for many years one of the foremost Italian-Americans of New Bedford, died at 3 this morning at his home, 328 Acushnet avenue. Mr. Finni had been ill three months, a complication of diseases causing his death.

Mr. Finni was born in Filattierra, Tuscany, Italy, and came to the United States in 1872. He traveled about the country at first, living all over New England, and even in Kentucky at one time. Later he came to New Bedford in 1880, and lived here since.

CARLO D. FINNI.

Ran Retail Fruit Store.

Mr. Finni was for many years in the fruit business, running a retail fruit store at the northwest corner of Purchase and Union streets. After many years in the fruit business, Mr. Finni ran a saloon, from which he retired in 1918.

He was twice married, first to Catherine Cavaganaro, who died in 1905, and later, in 1908, to Theresa Caprara.

Mr. Finni is survived by his wife; three sons by his first marriage, Charles D., Ernest A., and Dr. Joseph N. Finni; and two daughters, the Misses Mary and Theresa Finni, and two sons, John and Lawrence Finni, all by the second marriage. He also leaves one grandson, Francis B. Finni, and a brother, Dominick Finni.

He was a communicant of St. Lawrence's church until last June, when the Italian Catholic church of St. Francis of Assisi was founded, since attending the latter church. Mr. Finni was a member of Holy Name society at the church, the Sippican tribe of Red Men, and was a charter member of the Italian Mutual Aid society. Mr. Finni was president of the latter society in 1909.

FASCINATING GLIMPSES OF NANTUCKET'S FAMOUS M

The Wishing Well
With Misses Mary Killen and Lucille Ring.

Mesdames E. S. Tirrell, S

Buying a Flower
John W. Cook, 93, and Miss Sarah Milk of Chicago.

AIN STREET FETE

Quaker Dresses

Sawyer, Miss Sarah Maynard and Mrs. William C. Brock.

OWL CAPTURED IN FAYAL

March 18-28

MRS. JOSE G. CORREIA SHOWS PRIZE

Mrs. Correia and her husband, who make their home here, have just completed an ornithological expedition in the Azores.

Fete Day Saunterers

Carolyn Nicholson, Everett V. Crosby, Virginia Nicholson, Austin Strong, Ann Cutler, Miriam Clark.

Two Peggies

Misses Peggy Warner and Peggy Little.

DIRECTS SCOUTS

Sept. 24, 1929

MISS SARA D. COOK.

GIRL SCOUTS HEAD CHOSEN

Miss Sara D. Cook, Formerly of South Dartmouth, to Be Director---Has Worked in Other States

A COOKING CLASS IN 1895—More than 30 years ago these girls learned some cooking secrets at the New Bedford High school. They are, left to right, first row: Mrs. Clara Phinney Besse, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen Desmond, Mrs. Abbie Sherman Dodge, and Mrs. Bessie Twiss Bertram. Second row: Jeanette Fuller, Mrs. Maria Holcomb Rich, Maud Metcalf, Susan Haskins and Mrs. Florence Howland Brown. Third row: Mrs. Melvetta Harding Stiles, Mrs. Helen Covill Bowie and Lucy Cushing. Fourth row: Mrs. Stella Bolles Lent, Mrs. Florence Bliss Hathaway, Lucy Garner, Miss Greenwood, teacher; Mrs. Mabel Smith Gifford, and Carolyn Jones. 1928

—Photo by T. Whittle

VIOLIN MAKING HIS HOBBY—Romeo Lemire, 875 Shawmut avenue, pattern maker, repairs and makes violins in his leisure. His interest in violin making is self-acquired and he is self-taught.

S-4 HERO TO SPEAK

apr 29. 28

THOMAS EADIE.

KIWANIANS TO HEAR DIVER

Thomas Eadie Will Speak Tuesday; Women to Be Luncheon Guests

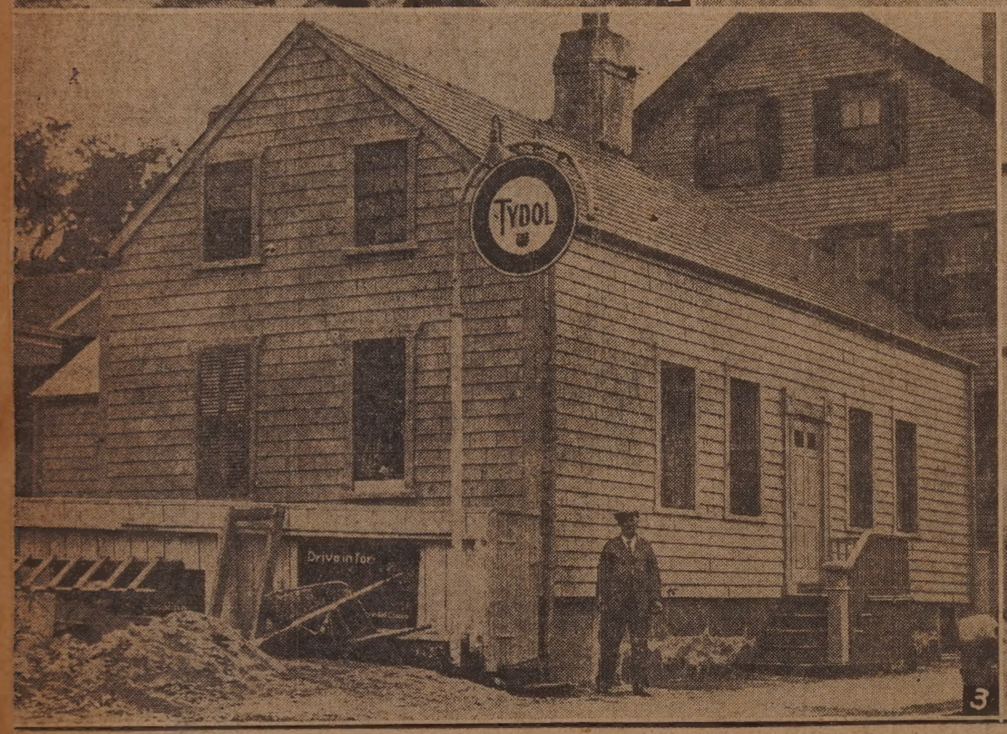
Hero of S-4 Operations Received Congressional Medal; Saved Two Lives

EARLY RESIDENCE, TRACED BACK TO 1785, HOLDS OLD TREASURES

Aug-28-27

1

2



3

4

Home of Willis C. Underwood

(1) An antique platter owned by Willis C. Underwood retired police lieutenant, who believes it to be fully 200 years old (2) The old fireplace in the Underwood home, torn out in 1902 to make room for a kitchen, bathroom and modern chimney. (3) The Underwood home as it appears today located just north of Mill street on the west side of Pleasant. (4) Mr. Underwood in his latest photograph.

BECOMES PEMAQUID MILL PROPERTY DEC. 1

11/28-27-

Part of Fairhaven Mills

This two story, 4,000 square feet structure facing on Coggeshall street, and the land behind, of which there are 27 rods in all, was formerly the office building of the Fairhaven mills. Frederick W. Thomas, treasurer of the Pemaquid, announced this week his organization had purchased it and would use it for offices. The building is assessed at $7,200 and the land around $1,100.

NEW OFFICE EQUIPMENT INVENTED

11/27/27-

Machine Takes Place of Sponge

Robert Astley, 218 Whitman street, above, here demons trates his machine for the sealing of envelopes. The sealer was developed over a period of 12 years.

JANUARY GRADUATING CLASS—About 120 seniors at the New Bedford High school are in the January graduating class. The class officers in the front row are, beginning fourth from left: Kenneth Campbell, treasurer; Arnold Powell, president; Miss Dorothy Kuechler, secretary, and Howland Sargeant, vice president. Eddy P. Howard, science teacher, to whom the class year book is dedicated, stands next to Mr. Sargeant. 1928.

WANT TO GO FOR A BUGGY RIDE?—F. W. Andrews, 15 Brock avenue, photographer here many years ago, took this picture of the product of Forbes and Sears, carriage makers, 33 Elm street, in 1875. Sept 29, 1929

WESLEY M. E. CHOIR—Left to right, front row: James Holden, Nellie Collinge, Eva Harris, Mrs. John Stewardson, Mrs. Fred Greenfield, Miss May Waddington; second: William Bottomley, Mrs. James W. Holden, Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. Walter Taylor, Mrs. Robert Ripley, Miss Clara Ashworth, Miss Lucy Shaw; third: William Bottomley Jr., John Waddington, William Poulton, the Rev. A. M. Bruce, Alfred Wilde, Ernest Collinge, and John Powell. June 10, 1928

—Photo by Theodosia P. Chase

DARTMOUTH POLICE FORCE—Grouped in this photograph are the men who enforce the law in the town of Dartmouth. Left to right, front row: David Morrison, Benjamin T. Dunn, Ernest Faulkner and Oliver Ashton. Second row: Manuel Correia, John J. Moore, William Reynolds and John C. DeMello. Third row: Samuel Dunn, Charles Christie, Edward M. Freitas and John Medeiros. Last row: Joseph E. Christie, chief; Arthur Slocum and Henry Potter. March 25 1928

ST. JAMES'S EPISCOPAL CHOIR—Left to right, seated: Alice M. Seddon, Annie Krantz, Mrs. Howard Lomas, Miss Mary Abrams, Miss Hannah Louise Seddon, Mrs. G. B. Krantz Jr., director; Miss Helen Roberts, organist; Miss Mabel Critchley, Miss Lily Cutting and Miss Eliza Burton. Standing. the Rev. G. B. Krantz Jr., Albin Taylor, Robert Weaver, Randolph Taylor, G. B. Krantz 3d, Charles Rogers, Joseph Roberts, Arthur S. Babbitt, George F. Wilde, Mrs. Isabella Hill, Miss Alice Hall, Miss Edith Bartle and Mrs. George F. Wilde. April 29, 28—Redfearn Photo.

—Redfearn Photo.

ST. ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL CHOIR—Left to right, seated: the Misses May Whitehead, Elsie Whitehead, Mary Shelford, Edith Rushworth, Annie Hartley, Annie Ward, Isabel Turner, Alice Gardner, Clara Sykes and Irene Whitely. Standing: the Rev. F. Taylor Weil, Edwin Turner, organist and choirmaster; Howarth Taylor, Arthur Rawcliffe, Ernest Hall, lay reader; Lloyd Hemenway, Edward Wilson, head usher, James Dearden, James Waring, Winifred Ridgway, Winifred Boothman, Grace Hemenway, Ruth Greenhalge, Hazel Hunt and Mrs. Edwin Turner, choir mother. April 29, 1928

—Redfearn Photo.

NORTH BAPTIST CHURCH CHOIR—Seated, left to right: Mrs. William Dixon, Mrs. Samuel Griffiths, Martha Handy, Mrs. George Hutchinson, Miss Anna Johnson and Mrs. William Hersog. Standing: Thomas Bradley, George Hutchinson, Albert Airey organist; Allison Isherwood and Ezra A. Judson. April 29, 1928.

GEORGE A. CHAMBERS.

Jan 22-28

LETTER CARRIER GETS EXTENSION

George A. Chambers, Beyond Retirement Age, Permitted to Continue Duties

Serves Since 1892; Now Oldest Employe at Post Office Here

LUNDS CORNER LOSES LANDMARK

THE OLD TOBEY HOUSE Sept. 18, '29

The Dartmouth club back in 1913 was another semi-pro outfit that drew crowds to contests in this vicinity. April 29-1928.

April 29-28.

—Boehler Photo.

New Bedford's New England league baseball club, in the days when Walter "Rabbit" Maranville and Tom Griffiths played with the team here.

April 29-1928.

St. James's Episcopal team in 1908.

New Bedford High school team in the 1908 season. April 29-1928.

April 29-1928

Players on the Y. M. C. A. nine 20 years ago.

April 29-28.

One of the fast junior teams in 1908 was the Hosea M. Knowlton school players.

GREETING FROM THE CAPETOWN

12-20-28

CRUISER'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Several New Bedford residents have received Christmas greetings from officers or members of the crew of H. M. S. Capetown, which visited here in October, 1927. A. Farnham Dunham, court officer of Third District Court, has received one from Chief Scribe Jack S. Mathias, and Earle D. Wilson of The Standard has received one from Captain R. MacDonnell of the Royal Marines aboard the vessel. The Capetown is now at Bermuda but expects to visit Boston before long, according to Chief Scribe Mathias, in which event, he writes, both officers and crew will renew acquaintances in New Bedford.

SMITH MILLS COTTAGE, 150 YEARS OLD, RESTORED

March 1925

The Cape Cod type house as it looked before restoration.

The cottage as it appears after Mrs. Estelle C. Peirce made its 150 years of existence a charming place again to live in.

The living room fireplace, with its wide panel door and latch. Note the H. hinges on the cabinet door above the book-case.

The dressing table group in the downstairs bedroom. Observe the beam in the corner by the window and the chintz effect wall paper.

A front angle view of the quaint home in Smith Mills.

An inviting kitchen dooryard.

In the kitchen—a Dutch door with hardware, both decorative and old.

Low ceilings and exposed oak beams add to the quaintness and cozyness of the living room furniture.

Mrs. Estelle C. Peirce, at home, enjoying the comfort of the little house she recreated.

Even the pantry is charming. A glimpse of the back parlor is seen through the door.

The dining room alcove, as seen through the back parlor. The only modern article in sight is the radio.

June 3, 1928

PRESIDENT — Theodore Carlson heads the graduating class.

Textile School

With the Y. W. C. A

Mar 25-1918

PAUSING AT THE ENTRANCE—Still another activity of the Y. W. C. A. is to provide an atmosphere of ho[me] the several who live at the Y. W. residence, 14 South Sixth street. Mrs. Sara W. Darrow, residence se[c] stands in the open doorway.

CANDLE LIGHTING CEREMONY—With the lighting of the circle of candles new members are initiated into the Girl Reserves, another branch of Y. W. C. A. work. This photograph, taken in the Board room, shows left to right, Emily Bury, Miriam Owen, Mabel Roundseville, Betty Hatfield, president; Ellen Meal, the initiate; Marion Mil hench, Eleanor Coe. Esther Wilson and Charlotte Terhune.

Mar 25. 1918.

7/24 27

March 25-1928.

TEA IN THE FOYER—One of the comforts of home life is found in the "Y. W." lounge room, where tea is served before the fireplace and where one may idle among books.

Major John A. Stitt, New Bedford;

Mar 25-1928

HELEN HUGHES CLUB—Publicity circulars and letters for the club activities are sent out by this group of the Business and Professional Girls' club. Left to right they are the Misses Rosamond Howland, Marion Craig, Alma B. Cook, Bernice Chase, Helen Douglas, Elizabeth Davidson and Grace A. Smith, club secretary.

MARRIED FOR 40 YEARS

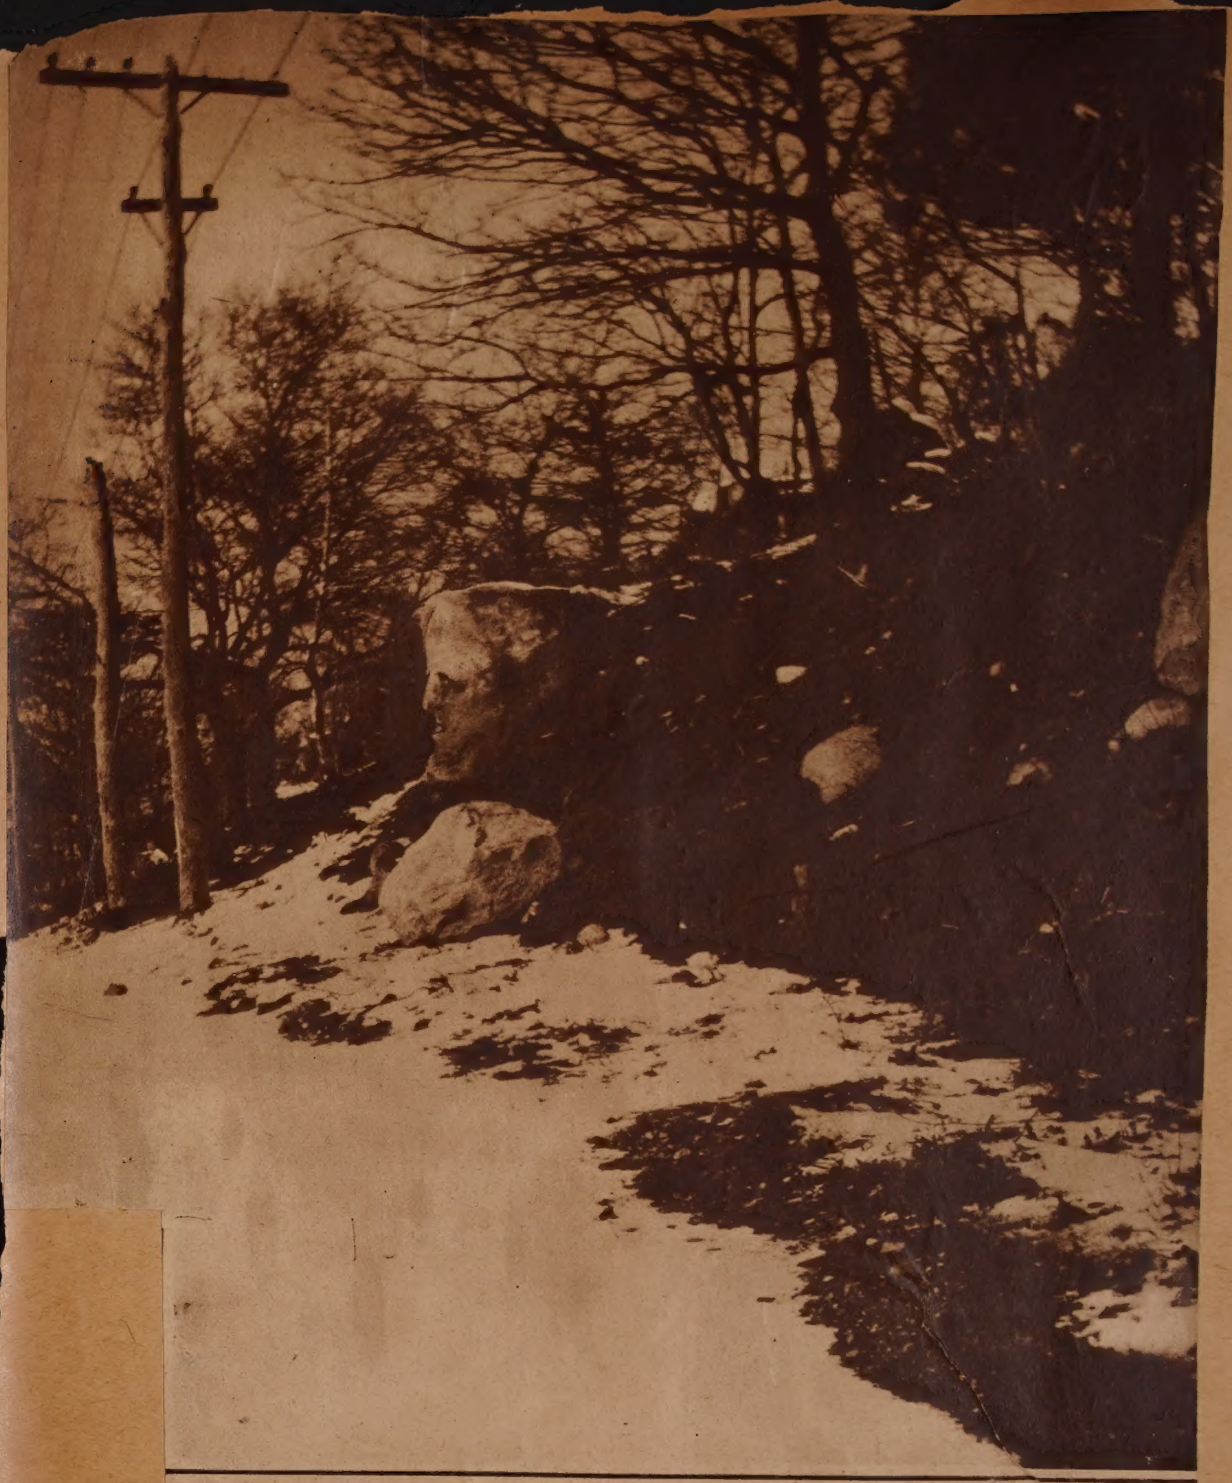
1929 — Jan 17

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM L. ASHLEY

RECEIVES GIFTS ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ashley Observe 40th Wedding Date with Reception at Couple's Home

AMORA DA PATRIA CLUB—Among the many groups active in the work of the International Institute at the Y. W. C. A. are these members of the Portuguese club. In the group are the Misses Juliette Sylvia, Olive Mello, Delia Teixeira, Adeline Teixeira, Mrs. Mary C. Souza, the Misses Frances Rebello, Elvira Fonseca, Luiza Santos, Elvira Freitas, Sophia Pacheco, Virginia Teixeira, Mrs. Mary Bettencourt, Mrs. Virginia Dias, Mrs. Mary Costa, Mrs. Mary Rego, Mrs. Julia Perry and Mrs. Mary Julio. Mar. 25-1928.



PROFILE OF A POET IN STONE ne outline on this rock found on the side of the road at Quissett is said by Cape residents ble the profile of John Greenleaf Whittier. Mar-1128

IN QUEST OF FORTUNE

May 11-28

JOHN V. CUNNIFF AND FAMILY

Several New Bedford relatives will share in the fortune if John V. Cunniff, Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of New Bedford, is able to establish that a $75,000,000 estate of Lady Blake, England, should pass to his relatives as the nearest heirs.

HULL IS OF WHALE IVORY

Dec-4-27

Frank Freitas and Model

FORMER WHALEMAN MAKES MODEL OF BARK WANDERER

Frank Freitas Shapes Hull of Whale Ivory and Masts of Ebony

After three months of painstaking effort, Frank Freitas, veteran whaleman, 727 Washington street, East Fairhaven, has completed work on a model of the bark Wanderer. The hull is made of whale ivory. It has ebony masts.

Mr. Freitas had only a file and plane for tools. The model is approximately 16 inches long, overall, 3½-inch beam, and measuring 14 inches from bottom to top of mainmast. Pictures of the historic craft and personal knowledge of it, gave Mr. Freitas the foundation for the plan of work.

Mr. Freitas spent 25 years whaling, first shipping as a hand on the Grey Hound, and making cruises on the Alice Knowles, Morning Star, Margarett, Woodruff, Charles W. Morgan and Ellen Swift. Early in his career he became mate and held that berth for the remainder of his seafaring experience.

Mr. Freitas states he acquired the pieces of whale ivory used in the model in the trips he made.

OLD SANDWICH HOUSE RENOVATED

May 6-28

Fireplace Bears Date of 1740

The old Dr. Robert H. Faunce house on the main highway, Sandwich, has been renovated by E. F. Kelliher. A hot air heating system has been installed, and the house may be used for a home the year round. The new owner is Mrs. E. C. Baker, Brooklyn, N. Y. The east wing contains the kitchen, the butler's pantry, and a room with bath for the maid. In the living room the old fireplace and oven have been left intact. The bricks are marked with the date 1740. There are also fireplaces in the dining room and the sitting room. All the floors of the house have been left with the original wide boards. The hardware used in the house is of antique design.

BISHOP AND CLERGY IN PROCESSION

Oct 30-27

United Mission Opens

Bishop Charles L. Slattery, members of the New Bedford Episcopal clergy, and representatives of the Church Army are shown as the procession formed at Grace church. Bishop Slattery is in the foreground. From left to right are the Rev. F. Taylor Weil, the Rev. Linden H. White, the Rev. John M. Groton, and Willis Ramsden, crucifer at Grace church. The two clergymen in the background are the Rev. George B. Krantz Jr., and the Rev. Forest Nichol. At the left, behind Mr. Weil, is Captain B. F. Mountford. Beside him is Sister Annie Horner, only woman member of the Church Army on duty in the United States.

AN ART NOT OVERSHADOWED BY POLITICS—A hankering to grip the butcher's knife and cut a steak to suit his tastes finds Mayor Charles S. Ashley once a week at his favorite market, at his old trade. Political life has failed to take the mayor's interest away from a craftsman's skill.

Feb-26-1928

BOWLING ON THE WARD ONE GREEN—Old timers will recall this photo taken in 1911 while the Staly Bridge Chickens played the Lancashire Ducks team on the green conducted by the late Peter Tomlinson at Acushnet and Coffin avenues. In the background is Bowditch street, now Ashley boulevard; to the left Deane street, and the right, Coffin avenue.

BIRD PUZZLES FISHERMEN

FLIES ABOARD SCHOONER AT SEA.

When the fishing schooner, John and Mary, came into this port yesterday, she brought back this strange bird which flew on board on Georges banks. Members of the crew are uninformed as to what species it is, but are confident that it is uncommon hereabouts. The bird was exhausted when it landed on the wrench box of the schooner, and was secured by Terrance Boudreau and Ronald O'Reilly, members of the crew. Mr. O'Reilly, a brother of the schooner's captain, John Boyle O'Reilly, has taken the bird to his home, 95 Richmond street. Ronald O'Reilly on board the schooner John and Mary is shown shown holding the captured bird.

JOHN P. ROONEY SINGS JAN. 22

Jan 15
1928

Baritone Will Give His First Public Recital at Duff's Hall

Former Choir Director Active in Musical Life Nearly Half Century

With almost a half century of experience as singer, vocal teacher, and conductor of choir, chorus, glee club, band, and orchestra behind him, John P. Rooney, 259 Bates street, is to give his first public song recital at Duff's large hall, Sunday, Jan. 22, at 2:30 P. M.

Mr. Rooney, a baritone singer, whose voice improves with his added years, according to those who hear him, will be assisted by Irene L. Mulick, pianist, Providence.

JOHN P. ROONEY.

Gave Radio Concerts.

He is known to a wider audience than New Bedford, however, through radio broadcasts from station WLSI, Providence, where he was on the air on alternate Wednesday nights all of last spring and summer. Mr. Rooney was for many years director of the choir at St. John the Baptist church, and has been actively connected with theatricals and musical entertainments here throughout all of his life.

Won Prizes for Dahlias.

In 1912 his part in the Messiah at the New Bedford theater for the benefit for Sassaquin sanitarium, was highly praised and drew three long encores at conclusion of the Hallelujah chorus. Aside from his musical ability, Mr. Rooney has won numerous prizes with exhibits for his dahlias at flower shows.

Massachusetts State Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs: (1) Miss C. Melissa Tasker, New Bedford, second vice-president of state federation;

AS OF OLD THE PILGRIMS CROSSED THE SEA—Whittier's tribute to the Kansas emigrants is brought to mind by this unusually beautiful study of a covered wagon train facing the west as storm clouds gather. This scene is taken from a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie. H 2/28

OLD TIME BARBERS — Henry Moquin's barber shop at 1526 Acushnet avenue in 1912. Mr. Moquin is at the left. Alfred Brodeur, standing beside him, is manager of the barber shop at 1136 Acushnet avenue, and Patrolman William Gregory, extreme right, is still doing duty out of the North End station. Sept 29, 1929

ATTACK KILLS R. F. LANGLEY

Jan 1 — 4 — 1928

City Milk Inspector Dies Soon After Stroke of Digestive Malady

Served in World War and Became Well Known for Boxing Here

Stricken ill suddenly with an attack of acute indigestion while sitting in his home at 180 Richmond street early last evening, Robert F. Langley, a city milk inspector, died less than two hours later.

Apparently in good health, Mr. Langley first complained of pains Friday evening. Arising early Saturday, however, he reported as usual at his work in the municipal building and remained there throughout the day.

ROBERT F. LANGLEY.

TO ASSUME DUTIES AT Y. W. C. A.

Jan 22 1929

MISS ETHEL I. CAIRNS

The new assistant manager of the Y. W. C. A. dining room, Miss Ethel I. Cairns, is to assume her new duties tomorrow. She comes here from Fitchburgh, where she has been manager of a tea room. She is a graduate of the Fitchburg High school and following her graduation she attended a business school for two years. She later entered Simmons college and graduated last June from the School of Household Economics with a bachelor of science degree. Her experience in her chosen field of work has been varied but confined chiefly to summer positions. For one summer she was employed in Fairlie, Vt., and another summer was in charge of the cooking at the Bournedale Girl Scout camp. Last summer she was in charge of a tea room in Stowe, Vt., but returned to Fitchburg, her home town, last September.

VIEW OF CAPE WATERFRONT—This photograph taken from the belfry of the Congregational church at Wellfleet shows the shoreline of Wellfleet looking toward Massachusetts bay across to Brewster, Dennis and Barnstable. April 29-28

FISHING INDUSTRY PROMISED CO-OPERATION BY MAYOR

Nov 6-27

Fleet at City Pier

Activities of the New Bedford fishing fleet at the City pier are shown in this photograph. It is estimated that fishermen and their families spend approximately $1,000,000 a year in this city. At a hearing held at the Municipal building Friday night, representatives of the fishing industry urged improvements on the city wharves. Mayor Ashley has promised the fishing industry his co-operation.

C. T. BOSWORTH IS DEAD AT 62

Feb. 6-28

Former Druggist Expires After Shock; Was Born in New Bedford

Wife Survives Realty Man Who Served Seven Years on School Board

Calvin T. Bosworth, for many years a well known druggist, at the corner of County and Katherine streets, member of the school board for seven years

CALVIN T. BOSWORTH.

OLD RESIDENCE CHANGES HANDS

4/8-1928

Home at 706 County Street

The sale of the former residence of Everett B. Sherman at 706 County street, adjoining the common, to Dr. Harrison T. Healey is of interest in that it is one of the old residences in this section. Mr. Sherman had owned the property for about 25 years, living there until he and his family removed to Padanaram. Previous to the time that Mr. Sherman acquired the property, it was the home of Lemuel T. Terry, and some time prior to that a Mr. Patterson lived there. In 1870 the property was owned by Benjamin Cummings, grandfather of the present Benjamin Cummings. It was in his ownership that the mansard roof was added and the house conformed to what was then considered quite the best in the line of dwelling house construction.

50

THESE PICTURES OF POSSESSIONS OF THE VETERAN FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION TRACE THE EVOLUTION OF A MODERN FIRE DEPARTMENT APPARATUS

RELICS OF A CENTURY AGO—Compared with modern long lines of hose and gallons of water pumped through every minute, firefighters of a century ago must have found romance and some excitement working with the bucket brigade. Photo at right shows foremen's trumpets. When the roar of flames or shouts of people drowned the sound of their voice, foremen of the old hand engine crews used these trumpets to make their orders heard. The helmet is one won by an Engine No. 5 member.

RETURNING FROM THE FIRE—This is a picture of the days when Purchase street was very narrow and when the whole community turned out to help firemen draw the apparatus to the scene of a blaze. To the right of Young Mechanics No. 6 station stands the present North Congregational church and site of the house across Elm street is now occupied by the Olympia theater.

WORN ON DRESS PARADE—These belts and the helmet them helped to give the fireman of yesteryear a smart dress parade and inspection. At the left of the picture are HEIRLOOMS—Like a collection of antiques are these momentos of the New Bedford and Fairhaven fire departments hung on the association walls. The horse harness chains were those used on dress parade occasions.

THE FIRST FOUR WHEEL HOSE—More than 55 years ago this four wheel hose reel was newest piece of apparatus in the New Bedford fire department. Compared with the modern hose truck, what advantages the firemen today have! In the group are Clafus van Sant, Pliny B. Sherman, William K. Wagner, Henry S. Meigs, David L. Howland, James L. Hathaway, Thomas Rowe and Peter Nelson.

lds between earance for ner helmets.

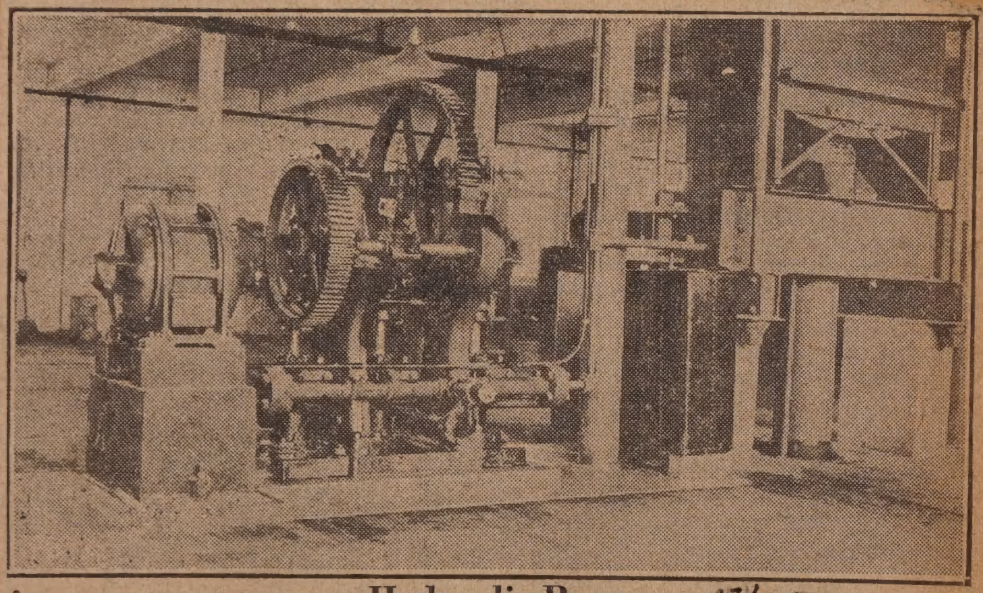
BEFORE THE OLD ENGINE HOUSE—Many a boy's heart jumped with glee when this brightly polished steamer a generation ago sped across streets, belching smoke, on its way to a blaze. This crew of the Steamer Onward, No. 1, include left to right, front row: Charles Brown, Julien Sweet, Captain Allen Tinkham, Clerk Eben Milliken and William J. Marr. Standing, Charles Stratton, stoker; Michael Lee, reel driver; Mr. Wilson and George H. Tripp. James L. Bryant, driver's seat and George Parker, engineer.

DEVELOPS PRESSURE FOR BALING WASTE



Sunday Paper 12/25-27

Hydraulic Pump

One of the pumps made in this state which Hill and Cutler use to operate their bale presses. A pressure of 3,000 pounds to the square inch is developed by this unit for squeezing cotton waste into compact cubes weighing 500 pounds or more.

Oct 30 - 27

"There is no question but that Herman Melville got his idea of writing Moby Dick from the earlier story, Mocha Dick, which The Standard is reprinting," George H. Tripp, librarian of the New Bedford Free Public Library, states.

"Mocha Dick was first published in England and republished in the Knickerbocker Magazine, New York, in May, 1839, twelve years before Moby Dick was written. Melville was living in New York at the time. He started on the whaling voyage in which he acquired the knowledge of whaling displayed in Moby Dick, in 1841.

"There is no way of proving that reading the story Mocha Dick inspired him to make his voyage; I think it more likely that it might have spurred him on, if it had anything to do with it. But unquestionably it suggested the story of Moby Dick to him.

"J. N. Reynolds, the author of Mocha Dick, describes a white whale similar to the one afterwards described by Melville, an enormous whale nearly white. Like Captain Ahab of Moby Dick, there is a strange character in Mocha Dick, the first mate of the whaling vessel, who had the same animus against the monster, the same determination to kill him, that Captain Ahab had towards Moby Dick. And of course there is the similarity between the names Mocha and Moby Dick.

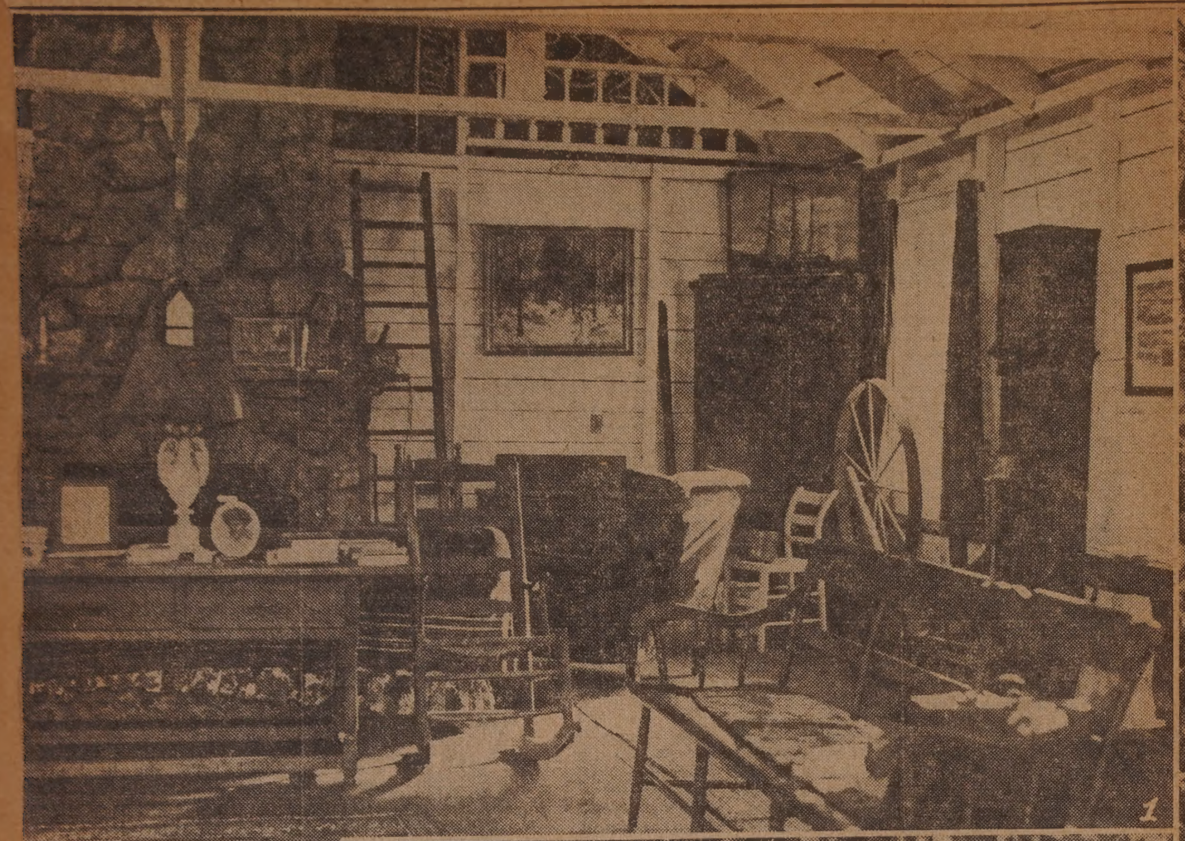
"There is such a place as Mocha, off the coast of Chile, opposite the Imperial River. There had unquestionably been a tradition about a white whale for a great many years. In writing of the whale, Reynolds showed a considerable knowledge of the sea and whaling. But whereas Reynolds's story is a well-told narrative, it lacks the spiritual force, the symbolism, the literary quality and vigor of Melville's classic. It is, however, certainly well worth reading, and the admirer of Moby Dick will find it extremely interesting to draw comparisons between the two."

The White Whale

Oct 30-27

MARION SUMMER RESIDENT PRESENTS CASE FOR DEBT REVISION

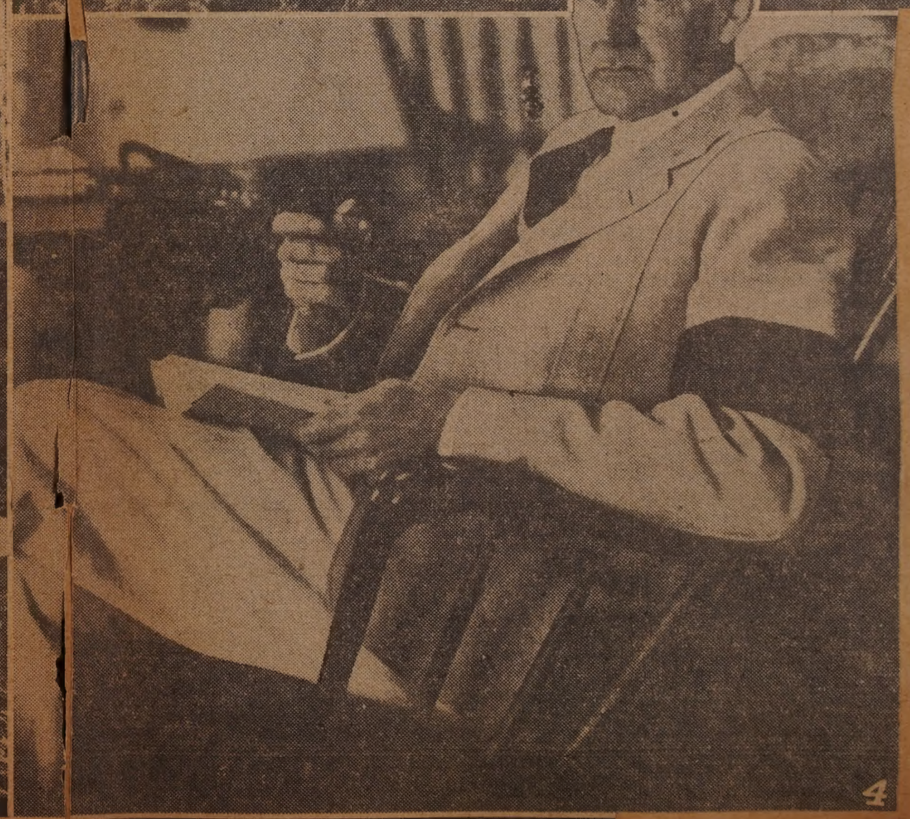
Oct 20-27



1

2

3



4

Oct 6, 1929

HERBERT E. DAVIS.

Herbert E. Davis "Knows His Street Cars"; Has Worked on All Kinds

RECALLS TROUBLES OF HORSES AND SNOW

Native of Westport, at 70, Looks 50; Active in Church Work

—Photo by Oppenheim

ALSTON H. GARSIDE.

Sept. 29 '29

EXCHANGE ADDS COTTON SERVICE

A. H. Garside, Formerly of New Bedford, Stays as Director of Reports

Converted Boat House — Scenes at Oswald Chew's home, adjoining the Marion Tennis Club in terior of the living room, showing part of the large stone fireplace. Right, c Mr. and Mrs. Chew among the birches just outside the house. Lower ri

Comfortable Home — with the owner and his wife in the grounds. Upper left, in ew of the house, looking d Chew, author d trave

56

NORTHLAND SERVICE BRINGS DELIGHTS AND THRILLS

11/20-27

SIR WILFRED AND LADY GRENFELL TO HONOR MISS CUSHMAN'S SALE

Former Resident Finds Life Among Labrador Folk Full of Outdoor Delights and Thrill of Service---Went to Mission for Two Months, but Stayed 16

By MINNA LITTMANN.

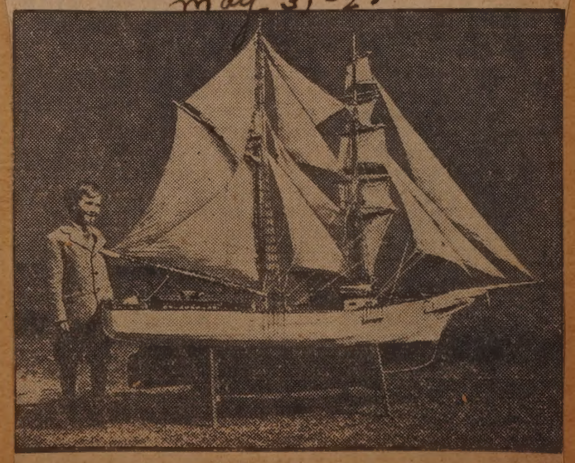
Furry dogs whirl sleds over the ups and downs of a snow-buried, bleak northern landscape; icebergs gleam even in midsummer; sturdy fishermen of Scotch and English stock haul great catches of cod ashore from icy waters and dry them on wide-spread flakes; fishermen's wives and children scurry down to the edges of rugged coves to greet the weekly mail boat in seasons of open weather, when Miss Eleanor Cushman, formerly of New Bedford, talks of the Grenfell mission in Labrador in the interests of which she paid a flying visit Wednesday to her old home.

Miss Eleanor Cushman Tells of Grenfell Mission

Left, a portrait of Miss Eleanor Cushman, formerly of New Bedford, now secretary to Sir Wilfred and Lady Grenfell, who have a home in Brookline. Right, above, buildings of Grenfell mission at St. Anthony, Newfoundland, where Miss Cushman was a worker for 16 months. Below, a typical Labrador fishing village, home of the people to whom the mission brings medical aid, educational opportunities, and, through its industrial department, remunerative occupation.

REPLICA OF FAMOUS CRAFT

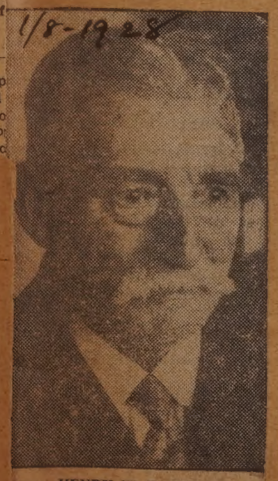
May 31-28



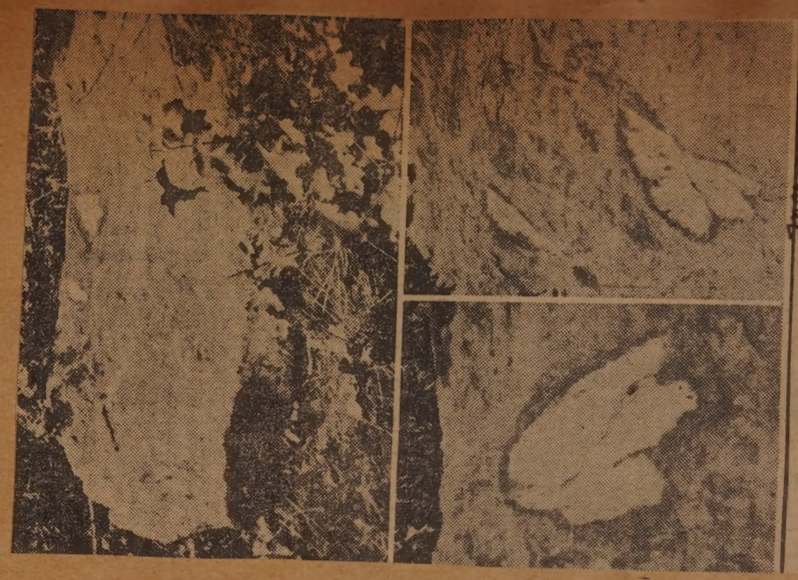
KENNETH BEAN AND MODEL

The Sorroca, a model of the once famous brigantine, is in the possession of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Bean, 464 Court street. The model was made by their grandfather, who once sailed on the ship. One of the Bean boys, Kenneth, is shown standing at the stern of the model.

1/8-1928



HENRY W. TABER.



TRACK OF DEVIL OR DINOSAUR?

Three photographs of the Devil's Footprint in Lakeville, showing unusual mark from three different angles. It was painted white for the purposes of the pictures by Dr. A. L. Shockley, who is investigating it. Note the three distinct toes in the lower left photograph. The second mark, heel impression only, shows in the top picture. The boulder bearing the mark is on Highland road, on Shockley hill.

FRUIT OF ONE NEW BEDFORD MAN'S HOBBY

1/8-1928

Articles Carved by Henry W. Taber

INSIDE AND OUT OF HILL AND CUTLER COMPANY'S NEW STRUCTU

COTTON WASTE FIRM ADDS TO FACTORY HERE

12/25
12/27

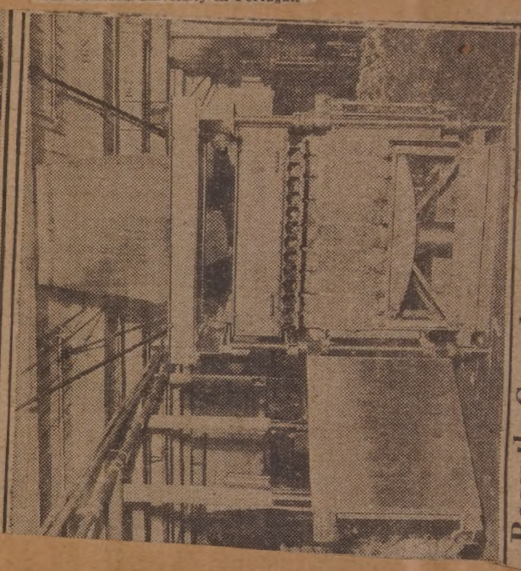
Hill and Cutler Build Addition and Increase Capacity to 175 Bales Daily; Need No Southern Branch

A new addition has been completed and put into operation recently at the plant of Hill and Cutler company. Announcement of the addition is accompanied by a statement to the effect that the company can more economically bring waste from the South and handle it in New Bedford than it could operate a small branch plant for that purpose in some one of the cotton growing states.

TO CONTINUE STUDY

Feb-19-28

MISS ELECTA R. TAVARES.
Miss Tavares, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tavares, Acushnet, has recently graduated from Harvard university, completing the course in three and a half years. She plans to enter the Coimbra university in Portugal.



Recently Completed and Occupied

The upper picture shows the exterior of Hill and Cutler's new structure whose three stories hover over a shipping platform, protecting operations there against inclement weather. In the blank-walled third story with its saw tooth roof admirable lighting facilities have been provided for grading and sorting the cotton waste which this company handles. The lower picture shows a corner of this room, which catches and distributes the maximum of natural light by day and by night is so illuminated by artificial light as to approximately reproduce daylight for its operations. The smaller picture shows one of the 100-ton steel baling units such as has been recently installed as a part of the company's new equipment.

WIN HONORS IN HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

Feb-12-28

MISS PAULINE SLOM. MISS PAULINE GOLDFARB. MISS BARBARA HERSEY.

Miss Slom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slom, 62½ Washington street, is the valedictorian of the High school's June graduating class. Miss Pauline Goldfarb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldfarb, 589 Union street, is the salutatorian. Miss Hersey, daughter of Mrs. Ida Hersey, 468 Pleasant street, won fifth place on the honor list.

WHERE ORLEANS YOUNGSTERS LEARN TO SPELL

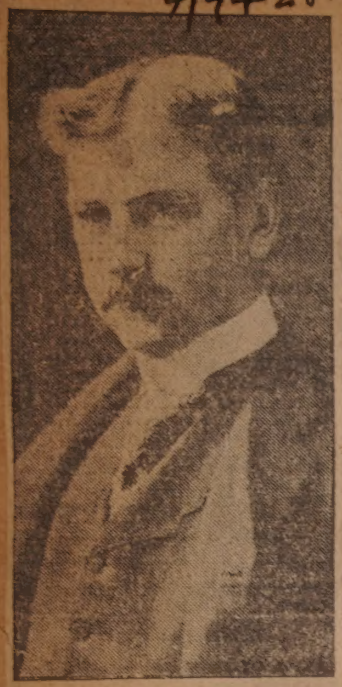
Feb-12-28

School and Principal

The Orleans school, 'way down on Cape Cod, has two classes working for spelling honors in The Standard's Southeastern Massachusetts spelling bee. The portrait shows Principal Otto E. Nickerson of the Orleans school. Orleans will send its champion to New Bedford April 19.

PUBLIC SERVICE ENDS

4/4-28



DR FRANCIS M. KENNEDY.

HEALTH BOARD MEMBER DIES

Dr. Francis M. Kennedy, 65, Succumbs to Illness of Less Than Week

Served on School and Library Boards; Long Active in Civic Affairs

Dr. Francis M. Kennedy, a member of the Board of Health, died at his home, 1107 Pleasant street, last night, after a short illness. Heart disease was given as the cause of his death. He was taken ill Thursday and little hope for his recovery was held from the first. He was 65 years of age.

Dr. Kennedy was a conspicuous figure in the civic life of the city for many years. A graduate of the elementary schools, he continued his studies under a private tutor, spent five years in business, later studying dental surgery with Dr. F. B. Nesbett and then was graduated with high honors at the Baltimore School of Dental Surgery. He was a brilliant student, obtaining his dental degree in 1887, in which year he returned to practice dentistry in this city. He continued to practice his profession for many years.

Dr. Kennedy found the time to devote a good deal of energy to civic affairs, and he always continued a student of affairs, interested in many pursuits outside his profession. He served for 26 years as a member of the board of Free Public library trustees, beginning his service as a trustee of this institution in 1898. He served continuously until in January, 1924, he was appointed a member of the Board of Health.

Interested in Pure Milk.

Dr. Kennedy first became a member of the Board of Health in 1907 and served continuously until 1915, serving as chairman during the last five years in this period of service. Dr. Kennedy was again appointed a member of the health board in 1924, and since continued as a member. He was greatly interested in the work of his board, particularly that phase of it having to do with providing a pure milk supply for the city.

Dr. Kennedy, the son of Michael F. and Ellen (Ahern) Kennedy, was born in New Bedford Feb. 11, 1863. In addition to his active interest in the affairs of the library and the Board of Health, Dr. Kennedy was for a number of years a member of the New Bedford School committee. He was first elected a member of the board in 1888, when he was but 25 years of age, and he continued a member of the board until 1897. It is of interest that as a member of the board he served during the mayoralty administrations of Mayors Rotch, Clifford, Ashley, Brownell, Brock and Parker.

As Political Candidate.

His interest in civic affairs led Dr. Kennedy to seek office on several occasions. He was an active member of the Democratic party, even in periods when party affairs in the city were at a low ebb. He was mentioned as the possible selection for postmaster of New Bedford in 1913 during the time that Congressman Thomas Thacher represented this district in Congress. Dr. Kennedy was himself a prospective candidate of his party for Congress. He offered himself as a candidate for mayor in 1926, and in the three-cornered contest in that year, when Charles S. Ashley was elected, Mr. Kennedy polled 828 votes, running third with Arthur N. Harriman in second place.

His long service as a library trustee was recognized when the then Governor Coolidge appointed him as one of the delegates to represent the state at the New England Conference held in 1920, an appointment that was sponsored by the American Library association. During the Spanish-American war he served as executive secretary of the war service committee of the American Library association in the interest of supplying the soldiers with books.

Fraternal Affiliations.

Dr. Kennedy was a charter member of the Sippican Tribe of Red Men, charter member of the Plymouth club and a member of the Wamsutta club. He was a past exalted ruler of the New Bedford lodge of Elks, being made a life member of this organization. He was a member of McMahon council, Knights of Columbus.

On Nov. 14, 1893, he married Miss Mary A. Donaghy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Donaghy. There were born of this marriage three daughters, Helen Sara Kennedy, Mrs. Thomas Glennon, Mary Paula Kennedy, and four sons, John Charles Kennedy, Francis M. Kennedy Jr., Thomas Hudner Kennedy and Andrew James Kennedy. In addition to his wife and these children, he is survived by two brothers, Joseph P. Kennedy, this city, and John C. Kennedy, Boston, and a sister, Mrs. M. T. Hudner, Fall River.

GEORGE F. GRAY.

MRS. A. C. COLBY, AGED 87, DIES

2/8-28

Oldest Known Graduate of High School Unveiled Tablet on Boulder Last Year

Mrs. Almira C. Colby, 37 Hill street, died yesterday in her 88th year from an attack of the heart with which she was seized on Wednesday. The aged woman partly recovered from the attack, but was seized with another attack yesterday and died about 5.

Mrs. Colby was the daughter of the late Jonathan and Lucy Hatch and was born in Falmouth on March 20, 1841. She came to live in New Bedford when four years old and had lived here ever since. She married the late Philip E. Colby, who, for many years, kept a periodical store on Purchase street. She was a member of the New Bedford Horticultural society and the Y. W. C. A. She attended North Congregational church.

MRS. ALMIRA C. COLBY.

Mrs. Colby last year, as the oldest known graduate of the New Bedford High school (1857) was invited to participate in unveiling the boulder tablet on the Sylvia Ann Howland school grounds, which she did. Mrs. Colby was graduated in 1857. She attended High school when John F. Emerson, the first principal, was still in charge.

Mrs. Colby is survived by a number of nieces.

SERVED IN CIVIL WAR

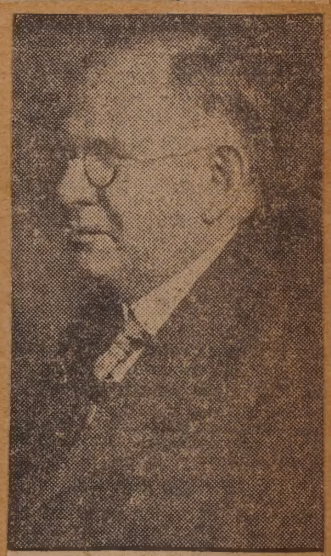
2/25-28

STEPHEN VIGNERON WEAVER.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES

Stephen V. Weaver, Native of City, Passed 88th Birthday Feb. 22

Was Enthusiastic Sportsman, Proved Prowess with Gun at Age of 75



WILLIAM B. PERRY.

Feb. 27, 1928

ATTORNEY HERE 30 YEARS DIES

Illness of Months Ends in William B. Perry's Death at 60

New Bedford Native Made His Progress Despite Eyesight Handicap

HENRY H. CRAPO BUYS OLD HOME

Once Lived in House He Will Make His New Bedford Residence

Structure at Maple and Irving Streets Part of Forer House on Orchard

Henry H. Crapo, who has purchased from Mrs. Josephine G. Rotch the house at the southwest corner of Maple and Irving streets, will make this his New Bedford residence. It is of interest that in purchasing this residence Mr. Crapo will be returning to the home in which he once lived.

The house now standing at Maple and Irving streets is a part of a former larger house that stood near the present site, standing well back from Orchard street and with a circular driveway in from Orchard street. The house stood on rising ground and surrounded by trees, it was one of the imposing residences of the city.

Residence of Former Mayor.

It was for some years the residence of William J. Rotch, who was mayor of New Bedford in 1852. Mr. Rotch later removed to the mansion on County street, the former home of James Arnold, and following this his former residence became the home of William W. Crapo, who removed there from his former home on Elm street. Mr. Crapo resided in the Orchard street house until he removed to his later home on Hawthorn street, the present residence of John Duff.

William J. Rotch's son, Morgan Rotch, who was mayor of New Bedford in 1885, '86, '87, and '88, made his home in this Orchard street house, for many years, living there at the time Maple street was cut through, following the developments that ensued when the Jonathan Bourne mansion next north was razed. This development made it necessary to move the Rotch house to its present location, southwest corner of Maple and Irving streets, while a part of the house was cut off and moved to the east side of Cottage street, south of Maple, and is the present home of Andrew Raeburn.

Continued Residence.

Mrs. Josephine G. Rotch continued to reside at the Irving and Maple streets house following the death of her husband. Mrs. Rotch was the daughter of Joseph G. Grinnell, who at one time resided on the north side of Hawthorn street, next west of the present residence of John Duff. This Hawthorn street house was for many years the home of Dr. Arthur G. Grinnell, a son of Joseph G. Grinnell and a brother of Mrs. Rotch. Mrs. Rotch now plans to make her home in this former home of her father.

OLD ROTCH HOUSE HAS NEW OWNER

Jan 22 28

Residence Bought By Henry H. Crapo

FORMER TEACHER

Miss Janet Hunter, Who Taught Here 53 Years, Dies at 89

Jan 23 28 - 1928

Miss Janet Hunter, to whom many of New Bedford's best known men and women went to school nearly a half a centry ago, died at 12:35 this morning at 280 Reed street, the home of Henry B. Parlow, where she lived since the death of her sister some years ago.

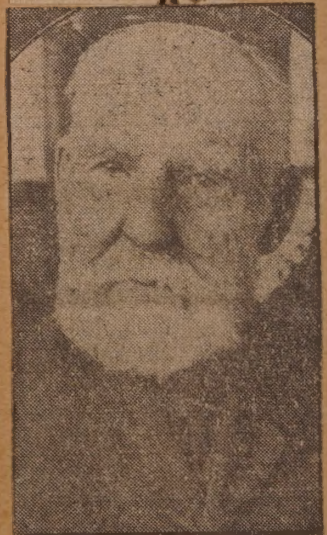
She was born 89 years ago, Jan. 20, 1839, in Edinburg, Scotland, had lived in New Bedford since 1853, and taught 53 years in the New Bedford public schools, retiring in 1911.

Miss Hunter had been an invalid for several years. Her condition became serious four days ago and she failed rapidly until the end came this morning.

OLDEST WHALING MASTER DIES AT VINEYARD HAVEN AT 96

Captain Gilbert L. Smith Served in Town Offices for Many Years—Voyaged to Arctic—Brought Home $250,000 Cargo in Ship Northern Light of New Bedford

2/16 28



CAPTAIN GILBERT L. SMITH.

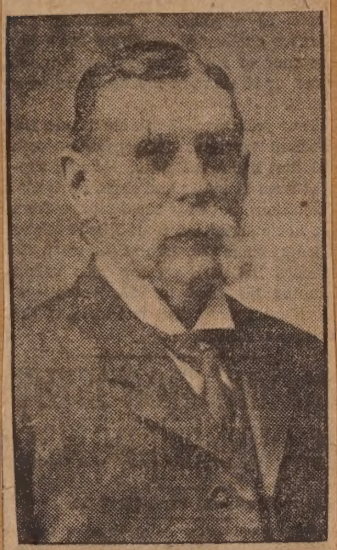
JOHN T. BURBANK DIES OF SHOCK

June 24, 29

Former New Bedford Resident Active Churchgoer for 58 Years

Body Will Be Brought Here from West Roxbury for Funeral

John T. Burbank, 87, a native of this city and resident here until his removal to West Roxbury six months ago, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John R. Jackson, 67



JOHN T. BURBANK.

Manthorne road, West Roxbury. He was stricken with a shock Thursday afternoon.

Reputed Oldest Churchgoer.

Mr. Burbank was born in this city Sept. 14, 1840, and lived in New Bedford practically all his life. In 1868, he was married by the Rev. T. C. Moulton, then pastor of North Christian church, and from that time until two years ago when he was confined to his home by ill health, Mr. Burbank had been a member of North Christian church. He held the record of being the oldest churchgoer among the men who attended the church with an active attendance of 58 years. In his last few years in New Bedford, Mr. Burbank was senior deacon and a member of the board of trustees at North Christian church. His wife, Mrs. Mary R. Burbank, who was also an active member of the North Christian church, died in this city, Dec. 5, 1927, after a year's illness.

Relatives Here Survive.

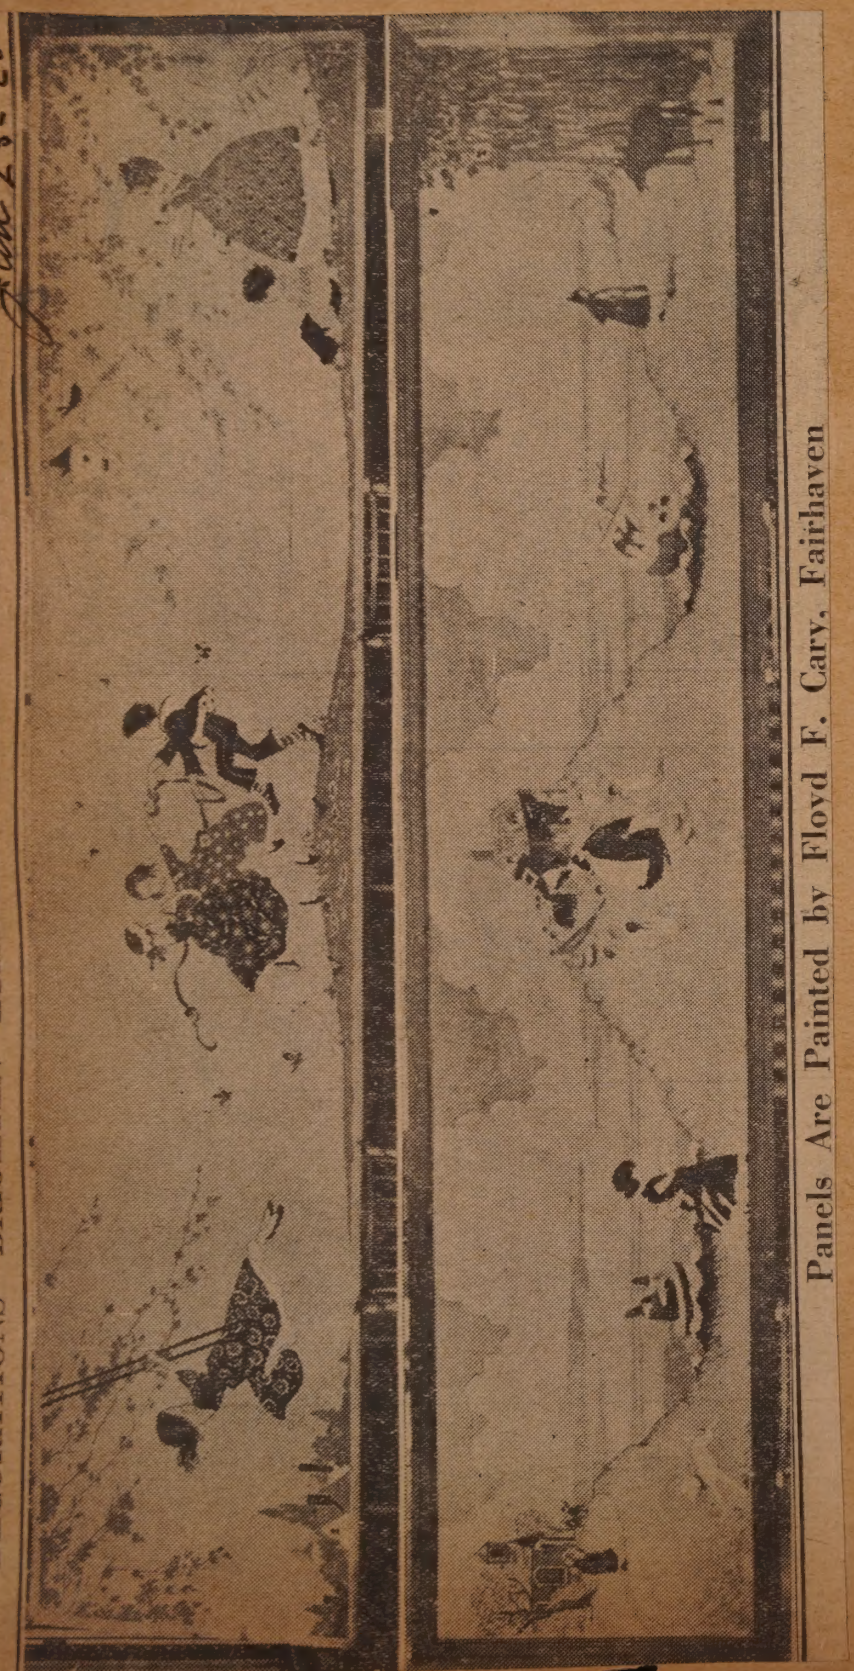
Mr. Burbank was employed as a bookkeeper for the old Nathaniel Soule lumber company and later for the Blossom Brothers planning mill in this city, before retiring many years ago.

Surviving him are a daughter, Mrs. John R. Jackson, 67 Manthorne street, West Roxbury, with whom he made his home; a son, William C. Burbank; a brother, J. Frank Burbank, Parker street; a step-daughter, Miss Mary A. Snow, this city; two grandchildren Miss Marion Burbank, and Erick Burbank, and a great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held from North Christian church, Tuesday at 2 P. M.

DECORATIONS BRIGHTEN LUMBARD WARD SUNROOMS AT ST. LUKE'S

June 28



Panels Are Painted by Floyd F. Cary, Fairhaven

Latest Book by Arthur Cleveland Bent Reveals Knowledge of Feathered Migrants — Has Studied Tiny Flyers Since Boyhood

Jan 22-28

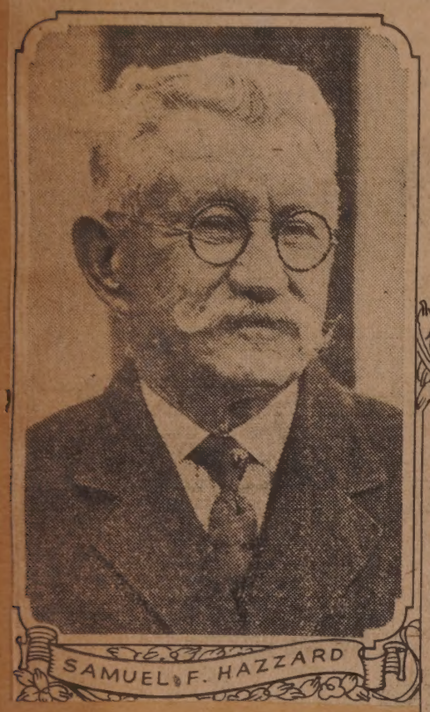
This Man Knows 750 Kinds of Birds

(1) A new portrait of Arthur Cleveland Bent, Taunton ornithologist, by Bachrach. (2) Mr. Bent, Mrs. Bent (seated) and a friend, on Mr. Bent's bird hunting expedition in Arizona in 1922. (3) One of their Arizona camp sites. (4) The ornithologist setting out with his only "weapon," a camera.

FOUR OF WHALER'S LAST GREW HOLD REUNION

12/4 27 12/4-27

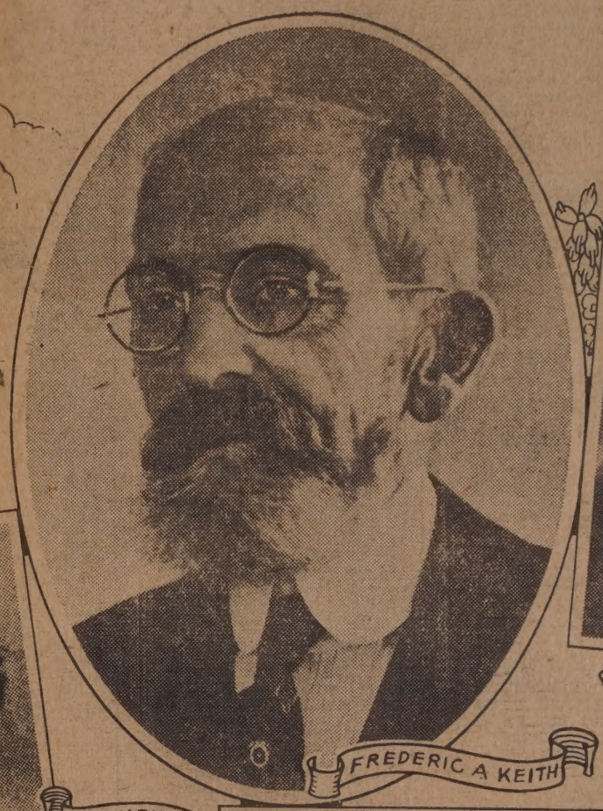
Fall River Man, Nephew of Cleone's Captain, Engineers Gams Which Recall to Fairhaven, Myricks and Buzzards Bay Residents Incidents of Whaling Voyage Made 50 Years Ago



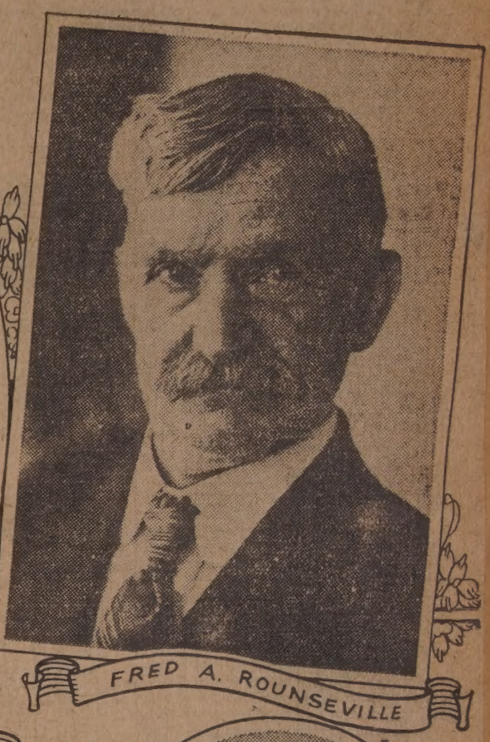
SAMUEL F. HAZZARD

FREEMAN C. KEEN

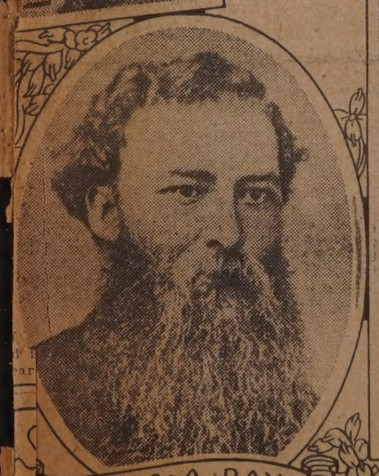
MR. KEITH AT NINETEEN



FREDERIC A KEITH

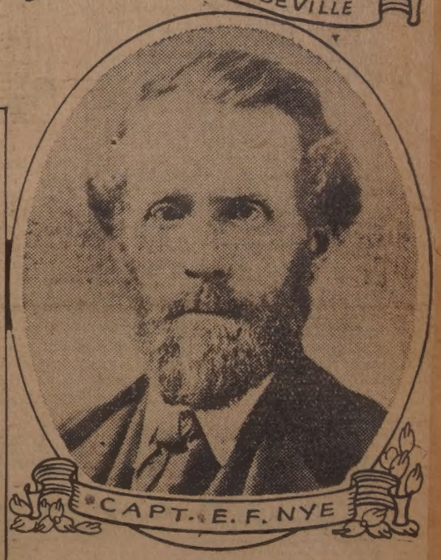


FRED A. ROUNSEVILLE



JAMES A. DAY

CHARLES HATHAWAY



CAPT. E. F. NYE

Whaling Shipmates Meet Again

Samuel F. Hazzard, Westport born and resident of Myricks; Freeman C. Keen, native of Mattapoisett, now of Buzzards Bay; Frederic A. Keith, born in Cataumet, now resident in Fall River, and Fred A. Rounseville, Fairhaven, are surviving shipmates of the whaling bark Cleone, lost in the Arctic 50 years ago. They met recently in a reunion.

James A. Day was first mate of the Cleone when she sailed from New Bedford. He assumed command of the ship at Fayal, Aug. 23, 1876, when Captain James E. Stanton, New Bedford, who was to have taken her to Hawaii, had to return home. Charles Hathaway was Mr. Keith's chum on the Cleone voyage. Captain Ebenezer F. Nye commanded the Cleone. Captain Nye, Mr. Day, and Mr. Hathaway were lost three years afterward with the Mt. Wollaston.

66

Jest 4-28 NEW PICTURES FROM FALL RIVER FIRE A

Typical Scenes After Fall River Fire

Upper left—Bedford street looking west with post office on left. Upper right—A first aid incident. Lower left—Captain John H. McDonald and a relief crew from the New Bedford Fire department. Lower right—Ruins back of the Metacomet bank.

REA

STRUCTURE TO BE OF BRICK

May 6-28

SALVATION ARMY'S PROPOSED HOME.

SMITH BANNERS MADE HERE

June 10.28

ON NEW BEDFORD MADE CLOTH

Fabric banners and hat bands bearing photograph of Democratic presidential candidate similar to that shown herewith are being made by the thousands in New Bedford factory by new photo-fabric process.

PATIENTS READ THEIR WAY BACK TO HEALTH

Jan 18-28

New Bedford Public Library Extends Friendly Offices to Convalescents—Women Like Romantic Novels Best

St. Luke's Hospital Where 500 Volumes Are Available for

The Public Library Bra

Left, Public library branch headquarters at St. Luke's h at her desk. Right, Miss Cabral. Above, how the books are larium of the men's ward.

St. Luke's

h Miss Anna Cabral, librarian, d to patients, a scene in the so-

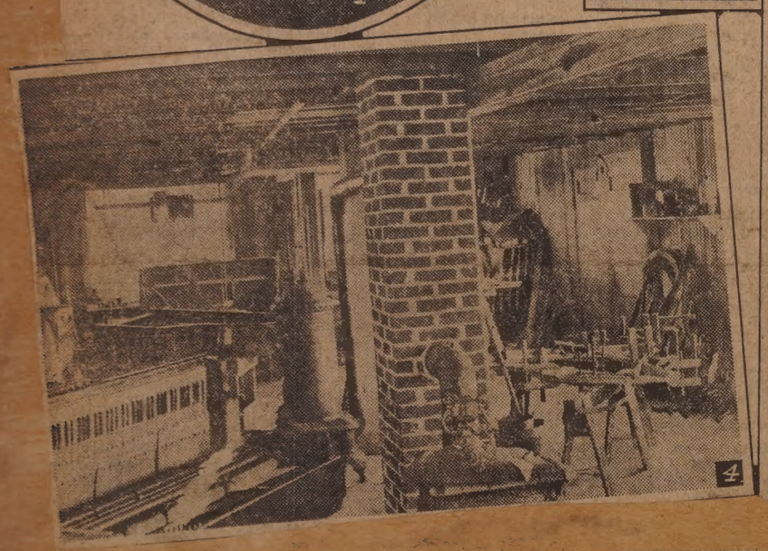
May 20, 1928

GOING TO THE FIRE —Was it as thrilling to the boys in the days when this apparatus answered the fire alarms to hear the clang of the bell and the clatter of hoofs as it is to those of today to hear the siren and the roaring motor? Just ask one and see.

CAPE PLANT TURNS RAW

Rochester Father and Son Dispose of Instruments as Fast as T for This Year, with Employment of Additional Workmen -- Sh

1



4

Sponsor Unique Industry in Rochester

Birds in the Rochester forests have melodious accompaniment to their singing right in their own habitat. A piano factory has sprung up in the woods.

(1) Leon F. Anderson, the son in the concern of F. T. Anderson and Son.
(2) Frederick T. Anderson at work on a baby grand sold before its completion.
(3)—Frederick T. Anderson, veteran piano maker.
(4) A view of the workshop in the Anderson factory.
(5) Father and son at work on a pattern.
(6) A part of the showroom.
(7) The Anderson home, where the family has summered for 16 years.
(8) The factory, remodeled from an old barn on the property.

LUMBER INTO PIANOS

Jun 18 '28

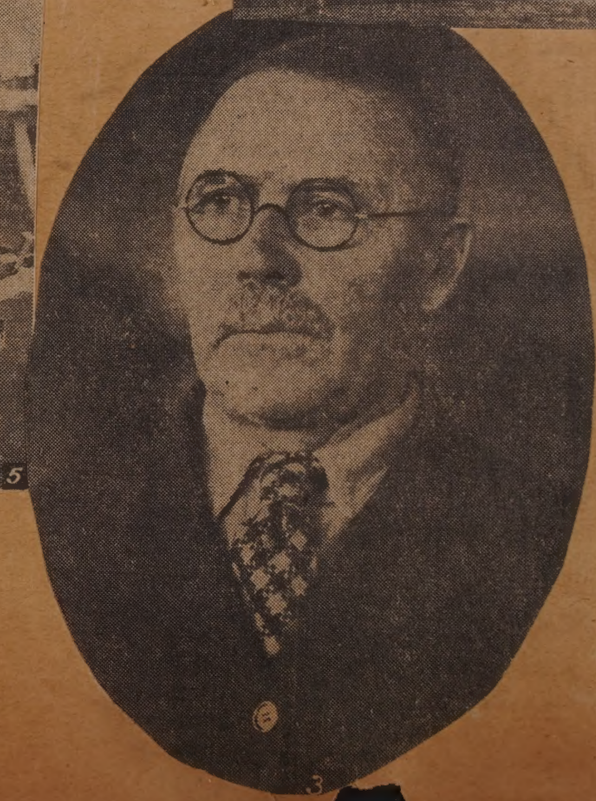
They Can Be Manufactured--Increased Production Planned p Located in Center of Woods on Little-Frequented Road

2

6

7

5

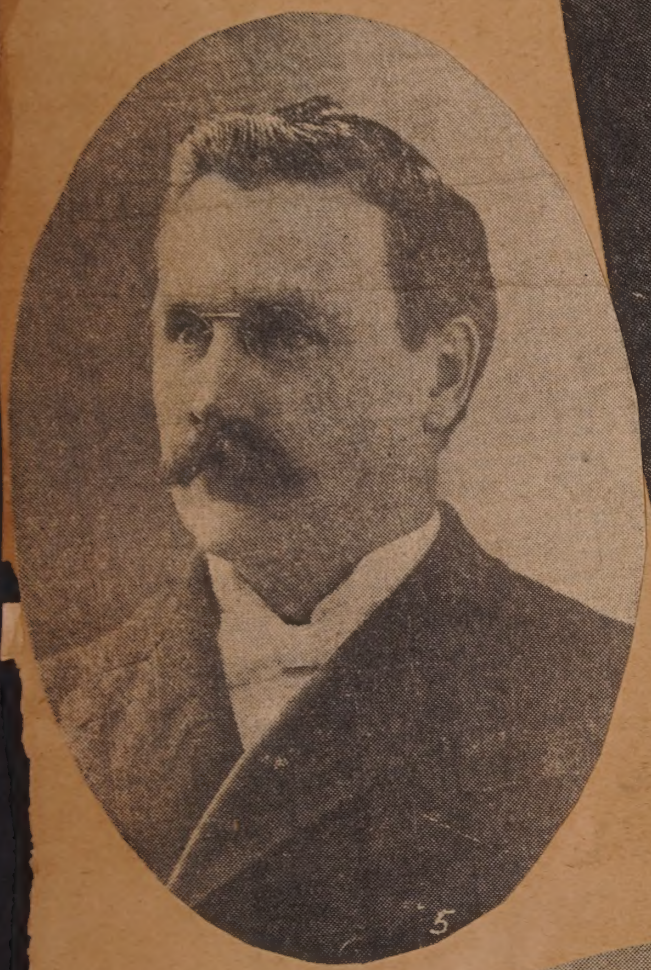


3

8

FRIENDSHIP DOMINATES 2

The Rev. Frank E. Ramsdell Treasures Contacts with Catholics
Ashley Into Accord — Lifel



4 YEAR MINISTRY HERE

Jan 18-1925

, Jews and Negroes — War Work Brought Him and Mayor ong Devotee of Sports

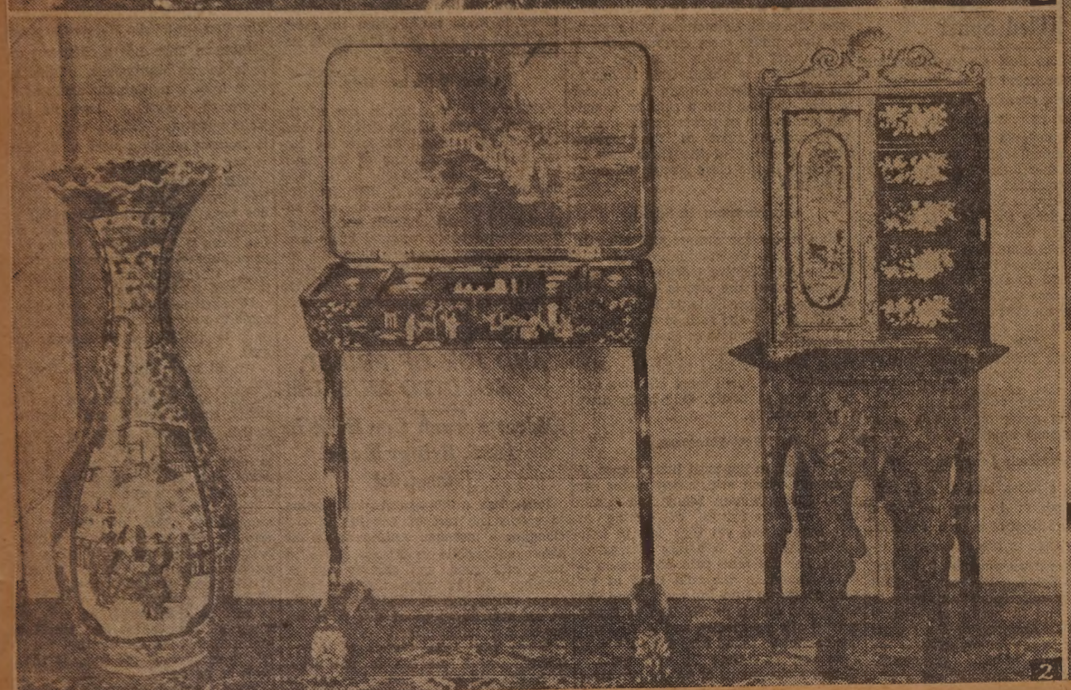
Clergyman Keeps Pace with Changing City

(1) The Rev. Frank E. Ramsdell, as he looks today, and
(2) The North Congregational church, which he has served for more than 24 years, as it appeared before its tower was removed in the widening of Purchase street in 1912.
(3) Mr. Ramsdell in his uniform as a lieutenant in the Massachusetts State Guard during the World war.
(4) Mr. Ramsdell as he looked during his college days.
(5) The veteran pastor at 40; and (6) at 50.

PUBLIC NOW INVITED TO VIEW ANTIQUES AND ART OBJECTS

Coggeshall House Colonial Club Feb 5, 1928

1



2

Coggeshall House (Colonial Club

3

FOUND CHILD FACE DOWN IN SWAMP

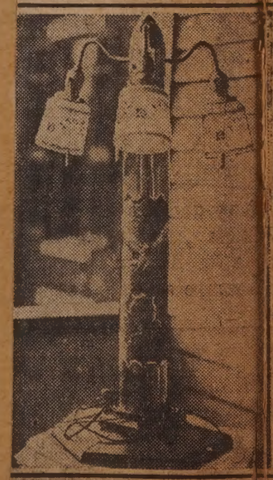
June 27, 28

They Ended Hunt for Child

Three volunteer searchers who yesterday found the body of Charles Gajewski, missing since Monday night in Mt. Pleasant swamp. They are (left to right) Henry Souza, Richard W. Donnelly, and Wilfred Veira.

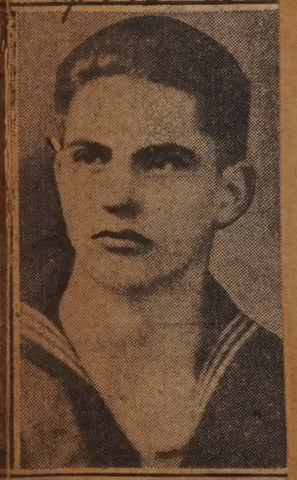
MAKES LAMP FROM SHELL

Apr 15. 28



JAMES [illegible]

Artistic lamp made from [illegible] battleship Nevada, and James [illegible] sented the lamp to his mother, [illegible] Fairhaven.



CASWELL

anti-aircraft shell shot from the Caswell, Fairhaven, who has pre- Arthur G. Caswell, 40 Main street,

PARK KEEPERS DON NEW UNIFORMS

Apr. 22-28

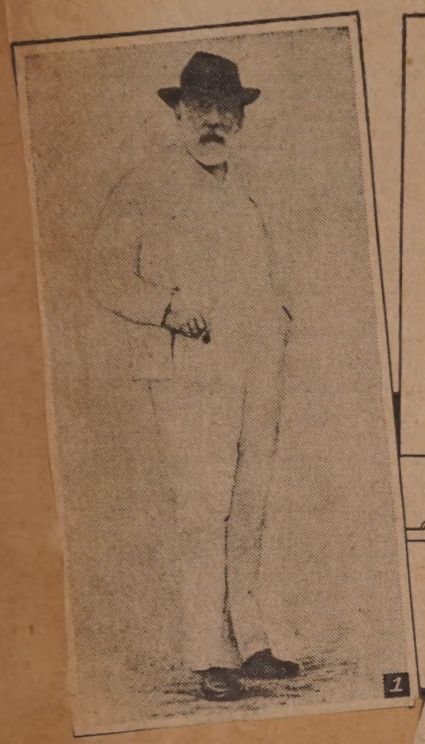
Officials in City's Recreation Spots

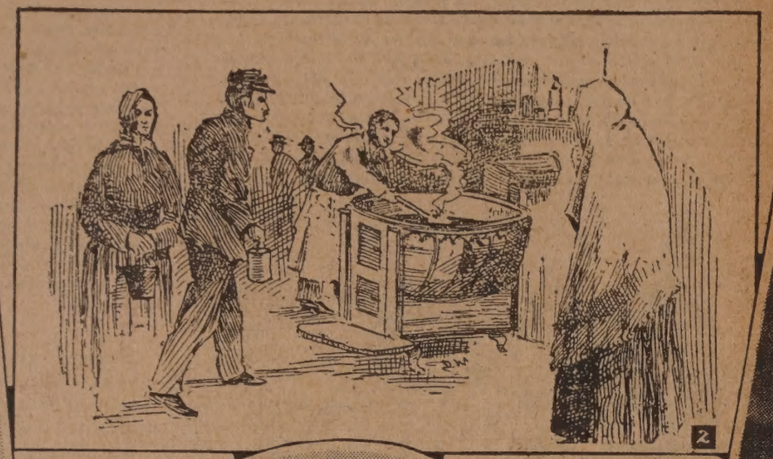
Keepers at the New Bedford parks are now wearing uniforms for the first time. In the picture, left to right, are, George M. Dayton Jr., keeper at Buttonwood park; Charles H. Negus, Brooklawn park; Thomas E. Halliwell,

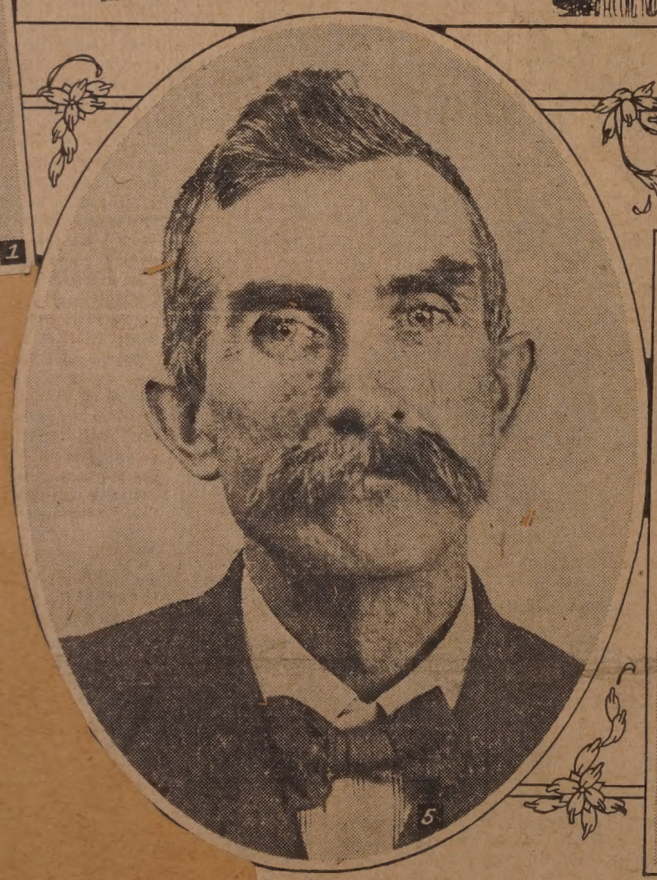
COLORFUL FIGURES MARK RECORD OF 1898 STRIKE

May 6-1928

Operatives Resentful of Exaggerated Stories Reported by "Yellow Journals"—Prototype of "Sob Sister" Seen in Women Correspondents—Ashley, Ross, Remington, Mrs. Green, Gompers and Debs Play Roles in Contemporary Accounts





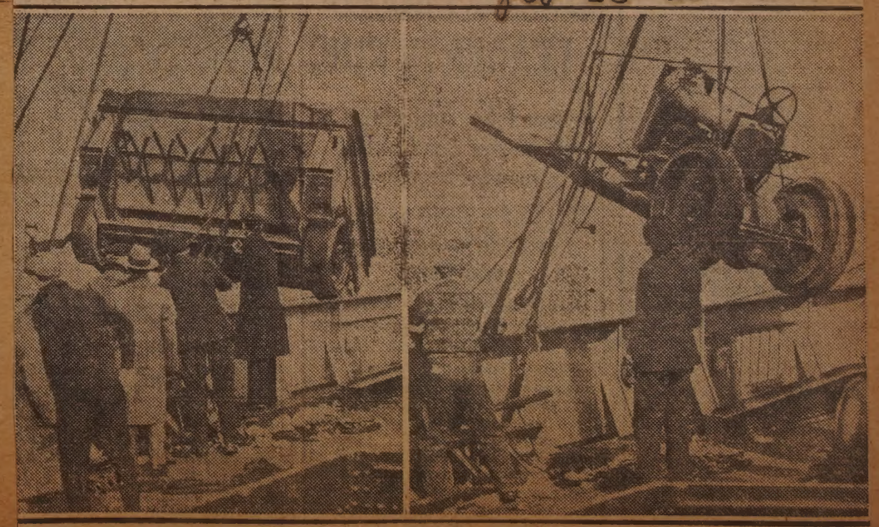


Played Their Part in Labor Struggle of '98

(1) Daniel DeLeon, Socialist Labor party chief who assailed the New Bedford union leaders.
(2) Soup kitchen as sketched by the late E. A. DeWolf for The New York World.
(3) Miss Elizabeth L. Banks, who had won fame in English newspaper life before she came to New Bedford as one of the original "sob sisters."
(4) Norman Ritchie's (Boston Post artist) conception Wamsutta mill girls when they were paid off.
(5) William Cunnane, secretary of the Textile council, who resigned because of strife in the strikers' ranks over collection of funds.
(6) Mrs. Harriet Pickering, "The Joan of Arc of the Strike."

LOADING SAND MACHINE FOR TEXAS

Feb-26-28



Texas Buys New Bedford Equipment

Pictures show big sand-spread[illegible] manufactured by New Bedford compa[illegible] State Pier [illegible]

STEAMER NEW BEDFORD IS LAUNCHED IN QUINCY AFTER CHRISTENING

may 6 - 28

SUPERINTENDENT KEITH AWARDS SILVER CUP

June 10-28

Captain McGowan Is High Scorer

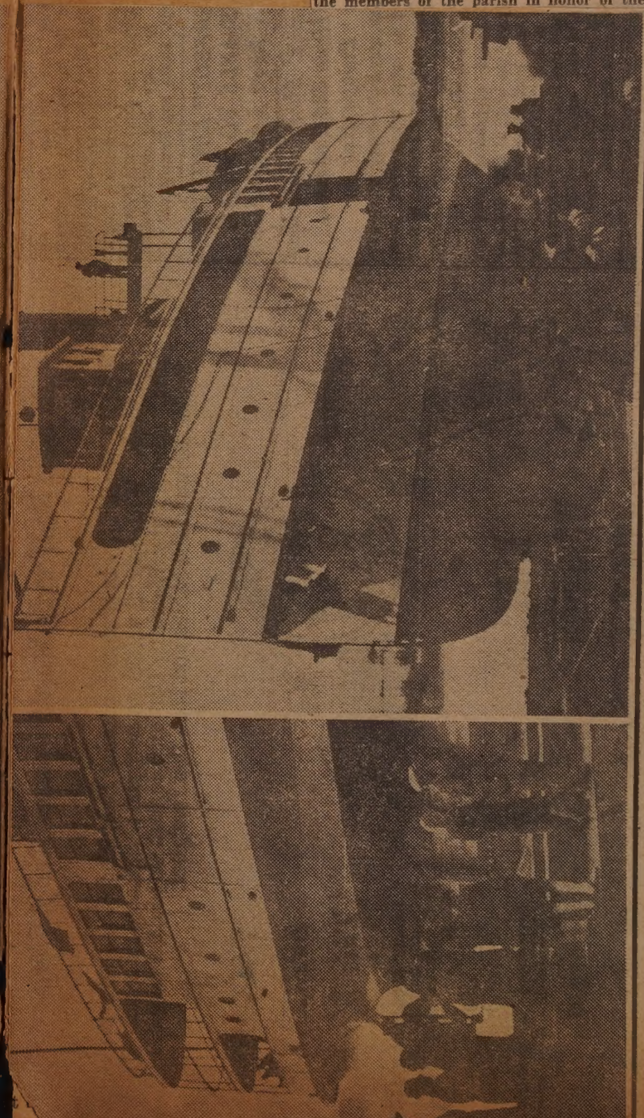
Superintendent of Schools Allen P. Keith presents Captain "Pop" McGowan of Fairhaven the silver cup he earned as high individual point scorer of the day's program, while Principal G. Walter Williams, New Bedford High school, looks on and smiles.

OLD ORGAN HAS NEW PIPES

may 23-28

View in Methodist Center Church

The old organ in the Methodist Center church which was recently repaired, the money being provided by the members of the parish in honor of their Mothers. The offering was made on Mother's Day.

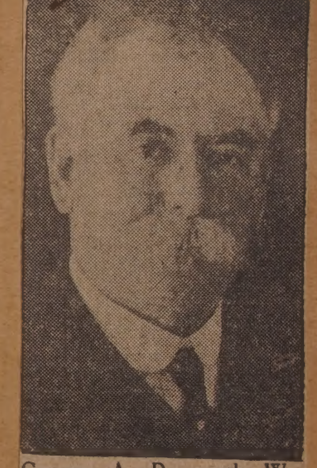


Steamship Officials Witness Ceremony

Top, at left, first minute afloat; top, at right, full length view of the New Bedford on her way to the dock; middle, left, Director Charles G. Norton and Captain F. M. Hamlen; middle, center, Miss Alice C. Seaver christened her with a smile; middle, right, James Swan and A. F. Haas, superintendent and assistant superintendent of marine construction of the New England Steamship company, W. A. Smith, New Bedford agent, and Frank J. Wall, assistant to the vice-president of the New England Steamship company; bottom, left, a last look at her bottom; bottom, right, sliding into her new home.

CONTRACTOR DIES

June 2-28



George A. Bosworth Was Unaware of Daughter's Burial Last Sunday

George A. Bosworth, 65, a building contractor here for the past 30 years, died at his home, 397 Cottage street, Friday night, following an illness which had confined him to his bed since Jan. 23. Mr. Bosworth's illness began with a nasal infection and developed into general poisoning.

Born in New Bedford, April 26, 1863, Mr. Bosworth engaged in the carpentry trade when a young man and made this his life work. He built many homes in all sections of New Bedford and in Fairhaven.

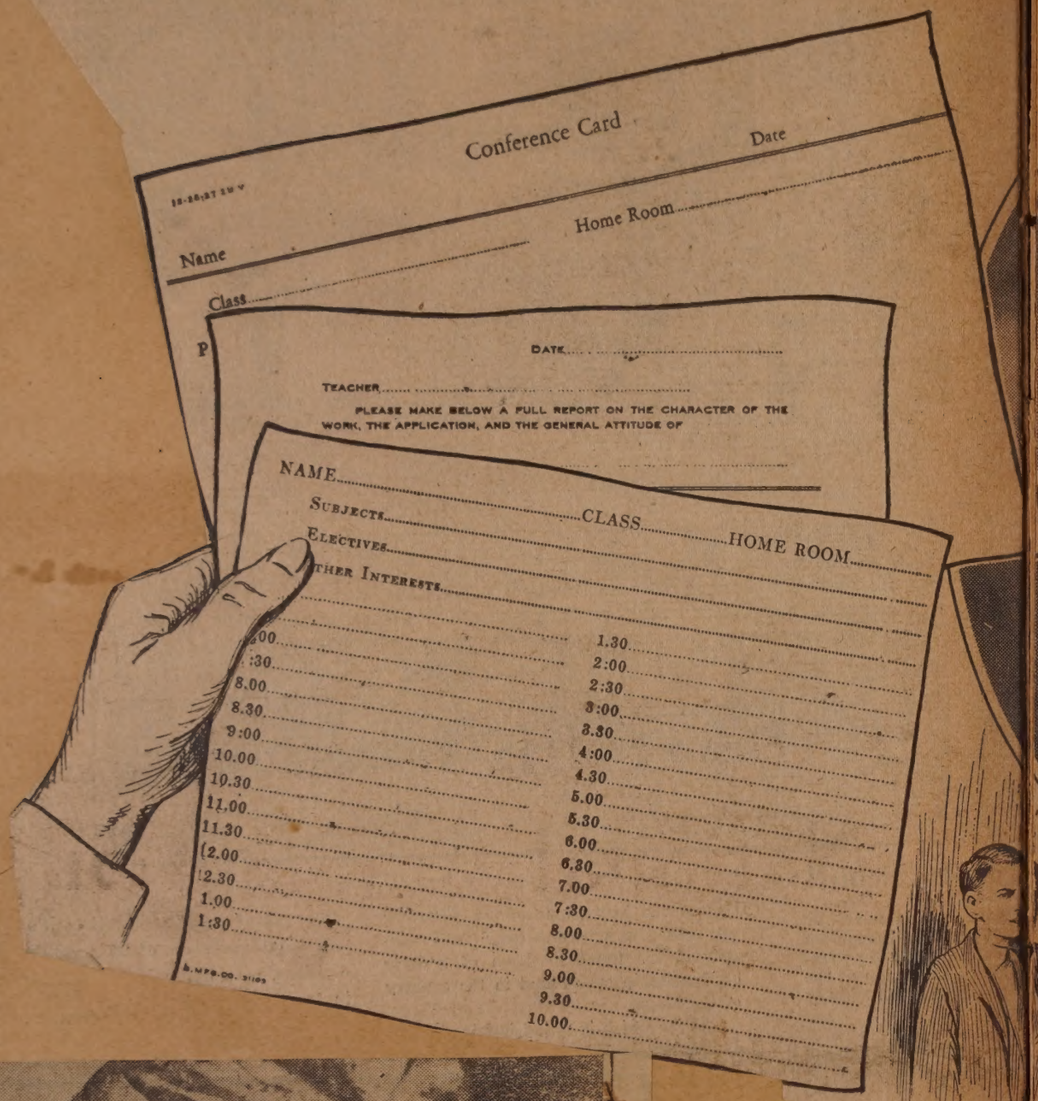
The surviving members of his family are two daughters, Mrs. Alice Gibson, who lives at the father's home, and Mrs. U. L. Cannell, Taunton. A third daughter, Mrs. William C. H. Smith, New Bedford, was buried last Sunday, a loss of which Mr. Bosworth was unaware in his last illness. There are also a brother, Charles Bosworth, Boston, and two sisters, Mrs. Martin Blanchard and Mrs. Susan Howland, New Bedford, who survive.

Mr. Bosworth was a member of the Pacific lodge, Odd Fellows.

COUNSELORS SHAPE FUTURE LIFE OF PUPILS

June 15 - 28

Miss Marion E. Lord and Miss Susan E. Shennan Conduct "Guide, Philosopher and Friend" Bureau at High School—First Year of Existence Proves Value of New Service



OFFICE OF THE COUNSELORS

_____ 192_.

_____:

The case of _____, reported by you on _____, has been investigated by this office.

The following facts have been discovered:

Suggestions:

Kindly keep this office informed of any further developments in this case.

Signed:

Note to Teacher: Please sign and return this sheet at once.

_____ of Teacher

Mrs. Rebecca H. Weeks

Oct 18, 1928

READS STANDARD DAILY

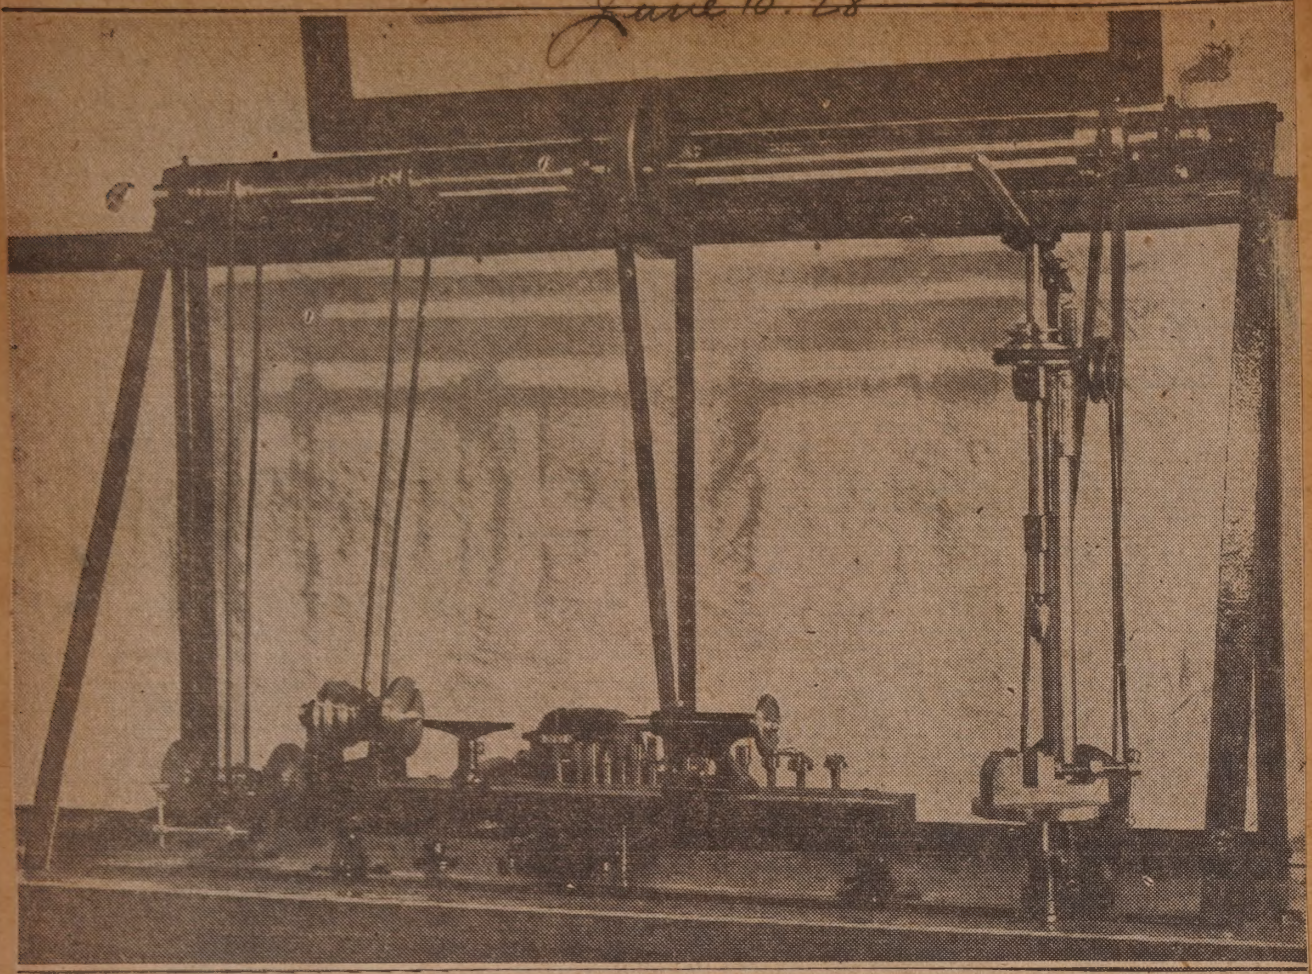
Center photograph, Miss Marion E. Lord, social counselor at the New Bedford High school; left, Miss Susan E. Shennan, educational counselor.

At left, specimens of forms used by the counselors. That at the top is used to file away notes about conferences with pupils, for reference if needed later. The small slip just below is sent to teachers when it seems advisable to obtain a condensed report from each teacher with whom a pupil has classes. The third slip helps pupils budget their time.

At right, form used by the counselors in reporting to a teacher findings concerning a pupil the teacher has referred to them. There is no red tape, however, about the relations between the counselors and pupils they seek to help.

CYNOSURE OF NEW BEDFORD TEXTILE SCHOOL ANNUAL EXHIBIT

Standard 10-28

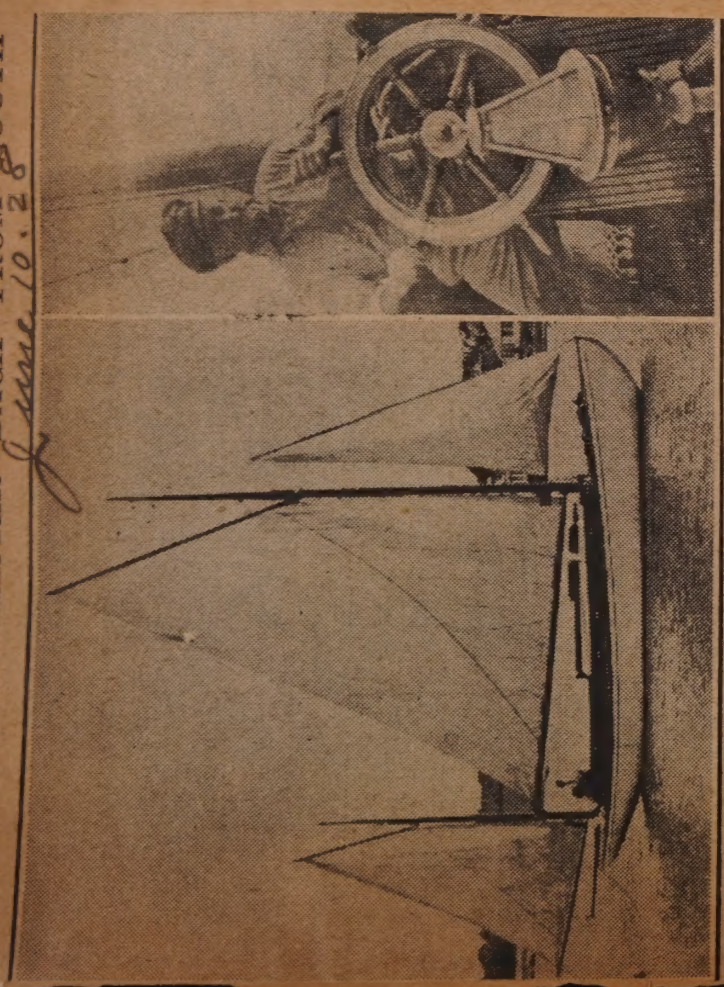


PRODUCT OF STUDENT SKILL

These practical devices, operated by an electric motor through shafting made by students, hold the limelight in the annual exhibition of student work at the New Bedford Textile school. The layout, part of the mechanical department's display, comprises, left to right, a bench grinder, lathe and drill press, all designed and produced by students whose handiwork will thus be exposed to public gaze until next June.

CHIPPEWA AND MASTER BACK FROM SOUTH

Standard 10-2



Well Known Falmouth Mariner Returns

Captain Charles H. Borden, Falmouth, has just completed a cruise of 1,750 miles, mostly in canals and inland waters, in his 50-foot schooner yacht, the Chippewa, shown above, from Stuart, Florida, to Falmouth. Captain Borden, right, posed at the wheel of his craft.

TO TELL OF ALBANIA

Apr. 15. 1938

MRS. ELIZABETH C. MILLER.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cleveland Miller, who will lecture on Albania at the Free Public library, Monday. Mrs. Miller is the daughter of the Rev. E. H. Cleveland, a former rector of St. Martin's church.

PHILATELIST AIDED AND ABETTED BY FAMILY

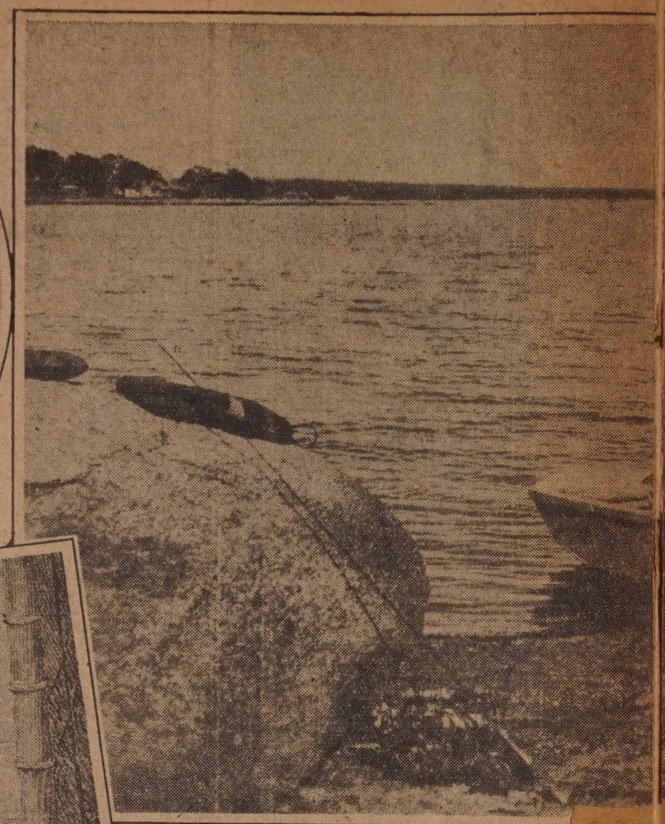
2/5 1928

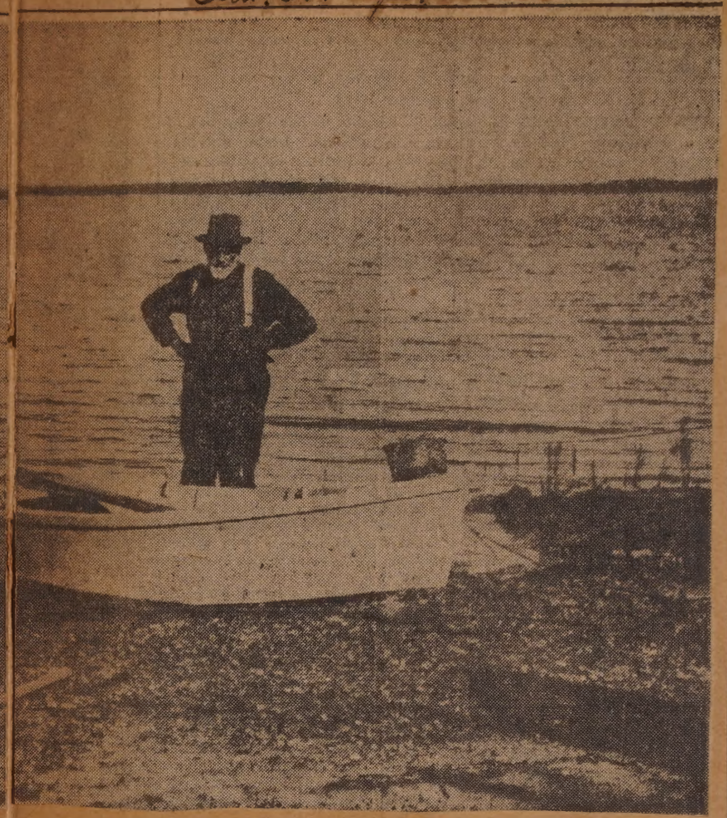
Mrs. Stiles Says Hobby Is Litter—Y

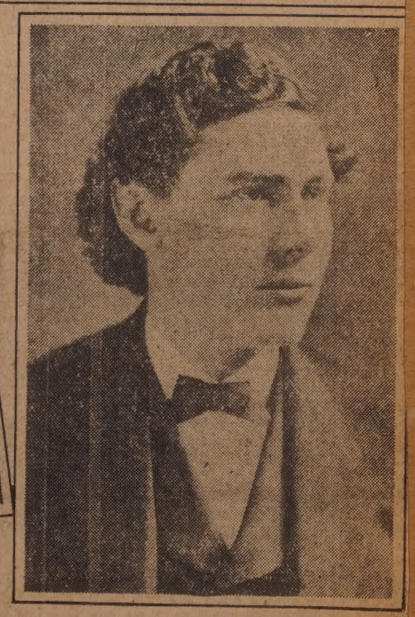
The Misses Louise, Doris and Lora Stiles do not appear jealous of the stamp collecting hobby of their father, Curtis H. Stiles. Stamps arrive continually in sheaves and bundles, says Mrs. Stiles. Just look at them.

rish in Marion Waters—Sacred Cod, Bluefish of Traditional Colo[r], Eels Caught by Pilgrims, Bait Swapped with President, Views to Delight Artist Occupy Mind While Boa[t] Fills with Catch

Sun. St. Apr. 8, 1928







E. P. Haskins Recalls Bygone Days

Upper right, E. P. Haskins ready for Gammons ledge; at left, Mr. Haskins. Below, at the age of 16. Left, President Cleveland goes fishing in Buzzards Bay, from a drawing by T. de Thulstrup in Harper's Weekly.

FAIRHAVEN POLICEMEN SHINE

May-29-28

CHARLES V. EDDY WEARS NEW UNIFORM.

Left, Mr. Eddy in the new style uniform adopted by the Fairhaven Police department. Right, Mr. Eddy wearing an old style uniform.

Sun St, May 20, 1928

EDITORS IN CONVENTION—George A. Hough Jr., news editor of The Standard, left, is shown talking with C. W. Morrison, of The Philadelphia Public Ledger, at the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington. —Henry Miller Photo.

86

ART BEAUTIFIES THIS HUMBLE HOME

Feb-19-28

Mrs. Couture Loves Her Work

Upper left, Mrs. Anna Couture at her work; right holding a squirrel she has stuffed. Below, Mrs. Couture's present home.

TAKES ALONG HIS SAXOPHONE

5/18-1928

WALTER F. MIDURSKI GOES TO FORT ADAMS.

Here is Walter F. Midurski, 284 Cedar Grove street, leaving for Fort Adams where he was assigned after enlisting in the United States Army as a tenor saxophone player. Captain Walter Gilbert, recruiting officer, has bid him farewell. Midurski is to serve in the 10th Coast Guard artillery. He was the fifth man from New Bedford to enlist in the Army Wednesday.

Thomas Rayner

Street
Railway Employe Recalls Days of Coxey

May 13, 1928

the w

apr-1-28

DEVELOPS TALENT

ALFRED GONSALVES.

MILL WORKER STUDIES ART

Alfred Gonsalves Completes Enlargement of Doyle Portrait

Youth, Third Hand at Dartmouth Mill, Paints in Spare Time

Working all day in the spinning room of a cotton mill does not seem to be the place for a young artist to develop his natural talent, but nevertheless that is what Alfred Gonsalves is doing. He is 21, the son or Mr. and Mrs. Antone Gonsalves, 19 Kane street, and is employed as third hand at the Dartmouth mill.

In his spare time Mr. Gonsalves has drawn and painted a number of pictures. One of the best of his pictures is a charcoal enlargement of the late Representative Andrew P. Doyle. Using a photograph as a guide Mr. Gonsalves made the enlargement about seven times the size of the original. The finished picture hangs in a place of honor in the drug store of James A. Murphy at Rivet and Bolton streets. It was made for Mr. Murphy who was a lifelong friend of the late Mr. Doyle.

Studied at Swain School.

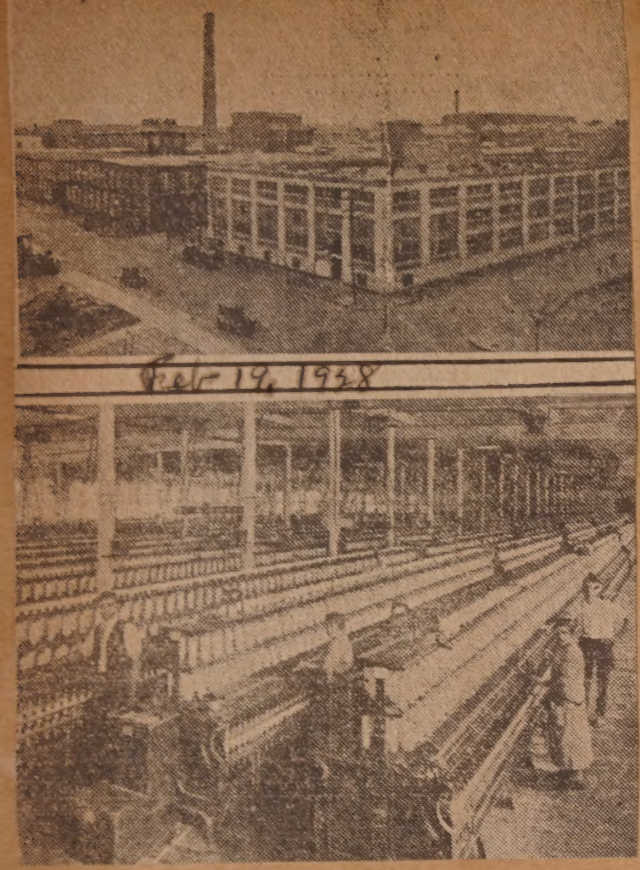
Mr. Gonsalves was born in this city and has always lived here. As a child he attended the Ingraham and the Knowlton schools, and at 14 started to work at the Dartmouth mill. He had no special schooling in art until he entered the Swain School of Design a year ago last September. In the meantime he had steadily advanced at the mill, becoming a third hand two and a half years ago. He has spent much of his spare time drawing, painting and with amateur photography.

He took just 10 minutes to paint a small scene on a scrap of wallboard, in colors, showing a point of land with a lighthouse, and several boats in the water. This picture is also at the Murphy drug store also. Another of his best sketches is of the Canfield birthplace, which he copied from an old photograph.

A plaster bust, left uncompleted by Manuel B. Aguiar, when he died last April, was finished by Mr. Gonsalves. He has also modeled other subjects in clay.

88

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.



Feb 19, 1938

NOW LIEUTENANT COMMANDER

June 10-28

DR. THOMAS H. TABER

NEW BEDFORD MAN WINS PROMOTION IN NAVY MEDICAL CORPS

Dr. Thomas H. Taber Receives Commission as Lieutenant Commander

Dr. Thomas H. Taber, Medical corps, United States Navy, formerly of this city, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant commander and has received his commission. He is now in Washington with Mrs. Taber and their three children awaiting an assignment to sea duty.

Dr. Taber was born in this city and was graduated from the New Bedford High school and from Bowdoin Medical school in 1918. He immediately enlisted for service in the World war and was assigned to the Medical corps of the Navy. Subsequently, he was given a commission in the regular service by President Wilson, with the rank of lieutenant.

After the armistice, he was on duty aboard transports bringing disabled and insane soldiers from France, later being stationed at Parris Island, S. C., San Domingo and Portsmouth, N. H.

May 13, 1938

A SPORT IN OLD AGE—Although George H. Randall, a veteran of the Civil war, passed his 85th year, he spends a few hours every morning in the North Rochester woods chopping trees to keep active and incidentally provide fuel for the hearth.

NAVY CLUB HEAD ONCE LED G COMPANY

Feb-26-28

George N. Gardiner—Then and Now

Special Justice George N. Gardiner, Third District Court, recently elected president of the newly organized New Bedford Navy club, is shown, left, in his latest photograph and, right, as he looked when he was a lieutenant in the Massachusetts Naval Reserves, commanding G company of New Bedford, back in the '90s.

IN HER PALMY DAYS—The old New Bedford, Marthas Vineyard and Nantucket steamer Gay Head when she was one of the regular boats on the Island line. She is shown at Woods Hole wharf. Sept 29, 1929

FAIRHAVEN SQUARE NAMED FOR WORLD WAR HERO

March 11-1928

Private Ernest J. Benoit and His Parents

The junction of Main and Adams streets, North Fairhaven, was named Benoit square by vote at the annual town meeting held in Fairhaven last month. The town voted thus to honor Private Ernest J. Benoit, insert, who was the first man from Fairhaven to be killed in the war. On the left is Private Benoit's mother, and on the right is the Fairhaven hero's father.

TANTALIZING FOR THE THIRSTY—It wasn't so many years ago that this haven for dry throats was doing business on North Front street. Bill Thomas, proprietor of the German Castle, as it was known, is standing in front of the bar. Behind it are the bartenders, Mal Cotton, Calixte Lefrancois and Jimmy Forrest. Sept 29, 1929

CRACK RIFLE TEAM—New Bedford cadets won high honors this year in rifle competitions. The team, left to right, front row: Sergeant George Osterman, coach, and Lieutenant William B. Macy, captain; second: Ralph Metcalf, Herbert Wordell, William Beardsworth, Frank White, Walter E. Butler, Malcolm Wordell, and Leon Ciezpiel; rear: Charles Wellington, John Brightman, Raymond Dunn, Eusele Choquette, and Manuel Mello.

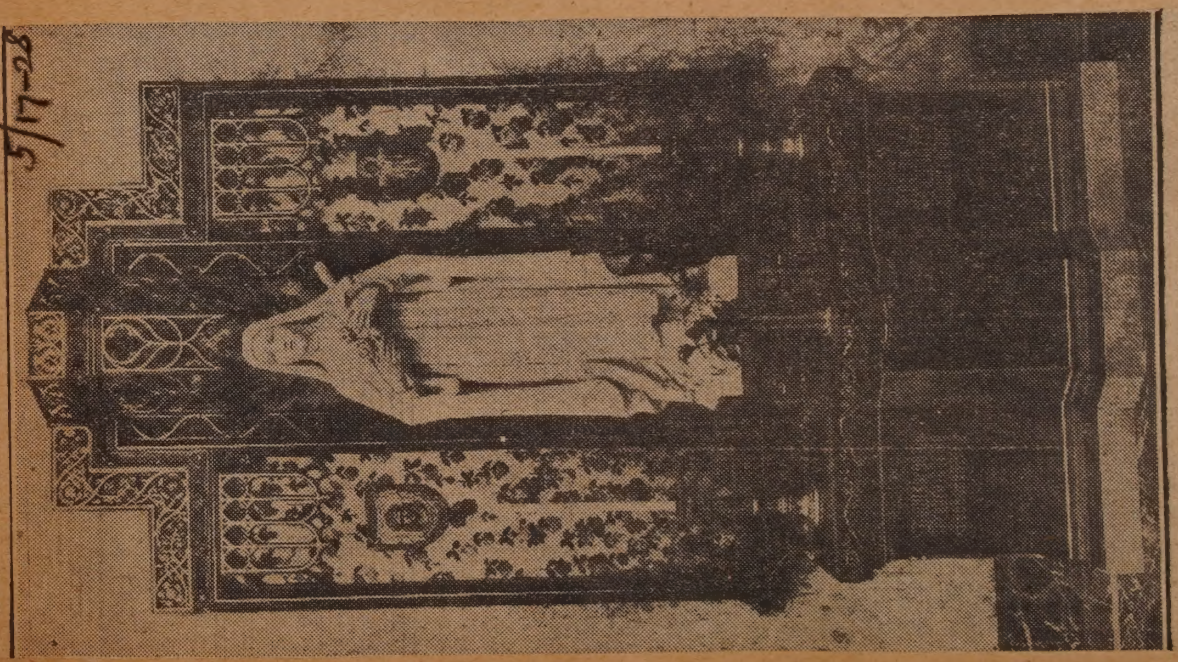
May 20, 1928

TO THOSE WHO SERVED—The war memorial tablet, unveiled on Yarmouth common a year ago, is the work of John Francis Paramino, Boston. It is dedicated to the 66 who went to the World war from the town.

July 11 1938

SHRINE TO BE DEDICATED

5/17-28



AT ST. LAWRENCE'S CHURCH.

The shrine of St. Therese of the Child Jesus, placed in the north alcove of the sanctuary of St. Lawrence's Catholic church, will be dedicated at 7:30 P. M. today. The sermon will be by the Right Rev. Msgr. James E. Cassidy, D. D., V. G., Fall River. At the close, there will be a solemn benediction and the veneration of the relics of St. Therese.

The shrine, pictured here, is of carved oak, polychromed. The statue of white Carrara marble was executed in Pietrasanta, Italy.

92

VETERAN AND YOUNGER MEMBERS OF HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY

This group of the New Bedford High school faculty was taken at the final faculty party Thursday evening. In the first row are from left to right: Ralph P. Dow, head of the English department; Ralph H. Tukey, head of the Latin department; Eugene P. Dupin, head of French department; Edwin W. Whitmarsh, head of history department; G. Walter Williams, principal; Charles T. Bonney, history teacher retiring this June after 49 years of service on the High school staff; Allen P. Keith, superintendent of New Bedford School department; Edmund D. Searls, assistant principal and head of mathematics department; Allison R. Dorman, assistant principal and head of commercial department; Sumner E. Marvel, head of science department; and George T. Ferguson, head of the department of physical education. On the left of the second row is Miss Helen L. Hadley, mathematics teacher who retired last June. On the left of the third row is Miss Lucretia N. Smith who retired in June, 1922, after 48 years of service. Third from the left in the third row is Mrs. Lydia M. Sargent, who retired last June. Sixth from the left in the third row is Miss Susan E. Shennan, educational counselor and Latin teacher. Next to Miss Shennan on the right is Miss Marion E. Lord, social counselor and argumentation teacher. Fifth from the end in the sixth row is Miss Mabel Cleveland who retired last January from the high school staff as a commercial teacher.

Group Honors Charles T. Bonney Who Retires After 49 Years of Service

June 10, 1928

Sept 29, 1929

TURNS TO CRANBERRY PICKING — Congressman Charles L. Gifford tries his skill at picking cranberries with a new device.

OLD FINAL PARTY

DELTA KAPPA PHI—This is Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Phi fraternity. June 3, 1928

CIVIL WAR VETERANS ARE GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

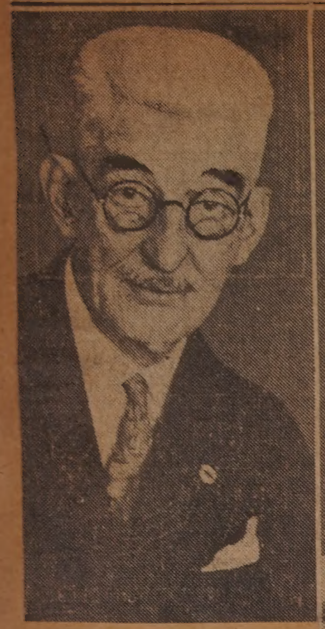
May 24 28

Members of Two Posts Attend Luncheon

Members of the William Logan Rodman Post One, G. A. R. and of R. A. Peirce Post 190, G. A. R., were guests of the Rotary club at its luncheon yesterday at the New Bedford hotel. The post members are: Post one—Nahum F. Nickelson, commander; Joseph B. Alton, William H. Bryant, George H. Carpenter, Henry W. Clair, William H. Dunham, John J. Holmes, Albert W. Mantins, John Shea, Benjamin F. Suther, Theodore Tripp, George D. White, John E. Wilbur, and George R. Wixon. Post 190—George N. Alden, commander; Lloyd W. Austin, Benjamin F. Barnes, William F. Caswell, Harry Costello, Theodore P. Crowell, Charles H. Hathaway, Isaiah King, Peleg P. Lawton, George P. Macomber, Henry W. Mason, William H. Perry, Otis B. Phinney, George H. Randall, George W. Randall, Fayette E. Randall, George Reynolds, S. Bartlett Simmons, James H. Sowle, John V. Spare, Abraham L. Teachman, George Thomas and George F. Winslow.

QUITS TRAIN CALLING AFTER QUARTER CENTURY

May 13 28



Edward Mead Palmer

Veteran railway employe, who retired this month after 47 years' service. Standing in uniform on Taunton platform. Right, when he began his railroad career in 1881.

May 13, 1928

F. G. Howard Photo.

AN OLD FALMOUTH WHALER—This reproduction of an old print shows the Commodore Morris sperm whaling in the North Atlantic in July, 1865, just after she was sold by her Falmouth owners, where she was built, to New Bedford persons. On this voyage Captain Jacob A. Howland was in command.

LEADS UNIVERSALIST PARISH

Nov. 8nd-28

THE REV. LESTER L. LEWIS

BLACK FISH CALLED PILOT WHALE FOR ABIT OF FOLLOWING LEADER

Dec-12-28

School Ashore on Cape Cod

At left—Black fish (pilot whale) on the shore ape Cod. They run in schools. When one goes ashore sometimes a ow. The oil in head case and jaw is used in watches. It is the xpensive lubricant known. At right—Cutting up finback whale whaling station in Norway.

May 20, 1928

BEGINNING OF THE END—In 1910, when this picture was made, the automobile was only a rival of the trolley on the streets of Oak Bluffs, but now the trolley has disappeared. The building formerly occupied by the Treat school is at the left.

May 13, 1928

SAND BUFF ROOM EMPLOYES—Twenty years ago these were the men who worked in the sand buff room at the Pairpoint corporation. In the front row are Joseph Jason, M. Kearney, M. Dutra, F. Gonsalves, Olimpio Caton, foreman, T. Summons and G. Caton. Second row: F. Rogers and J. Purcel. Third row: J. Rogers, J. Sylvia, J. Baptist, H. Dexter, G. Clapp, M. Sylvia, M. Frates and C. Paull.

May 20, 1928

ABOARD THE COMET—At 5 one Sunday morning in July, 1888, this picture was taken aboard the New Bedford Yacht club sloop Comet, at anchor in Onset harbor. Left to right, sitting: Arthur Snow, William P. Covell, Robert A. Terry, and Captain Daniel Ricketson; standing: Arthur Schuman, Henry K. Snow, Charles S. Baylies, and Gideon D. Gifford Jr.

May 20, 1928

FAIR SPONSORS — Left to right are Miss Barbara Hersey, honorary captain and battalion sponsor; Miss Hazel Ricketson, honorary lieutenant and Company A. sponsor; Miss Mildred Sullivan, honorary lieutenant and Company B. sponsor; Miss Edna Birtwistle, honorary lieutenant and Company C. sponsor.

THE WELL—A picturesque touch is achieved here. Salters Point

VETERAN CAPTAIN AT HELM OF NEW STEAMER

May 22 - 1928

MAYOR AMONG GUESTS.

Captain Francis J. Marshall and Mayor Charles S. Ashley shaking hands at the start of the maiden voyage of the steamer New Bedford. Standing, from left to right in the group: Joshua B. Ashley, Charles M. Carroll, Captain Marshall, Charles L. LeBlanc, Mayor Ashley, J. Chester Moncrieff, Harry B. Turner, Representative Arthur W. Jones, Nantucket; Thomas P. Payne and Samuel Kaplan. Lower picture: Arthur J. Robinson, pilot, and Captain Marshall standing on the bridge.

May 27, 1928

35 YEARS AGO—Marion veterans, left to right, David Faunce, B. A. Conro, James Dexter, Mr. Gammons, Everett T. Waters, now a dentist here, Alfred Parker, Joseph Davis, Alphias Lane, T. J. Tripp, now 84, Mr. Slaughter, William Potter, Oliver Cobb, James Wittet, Nathan Phinney, and Charlton Wing.

May 27, 1928

NEIGHBORHOOD BOYS—On Bonney street near Cove road this quartet is building a "camp" from discarded beds, sheet iron, and oil cloth. Left to right. Joseph Botelho, eight; Manuel Almeida, nine; John Alves, eight; and Albert Santos, eight.

May 29, 1928

THE CAVALRY GOES BY—Cavalry in an Army sham battle held here in 1910 is shown riding through Acushnet, in this photograph taken by Acting Inspector Max F. Boehler, Police department.

LEADS NAVAL ACADEMY JAZZ BAND

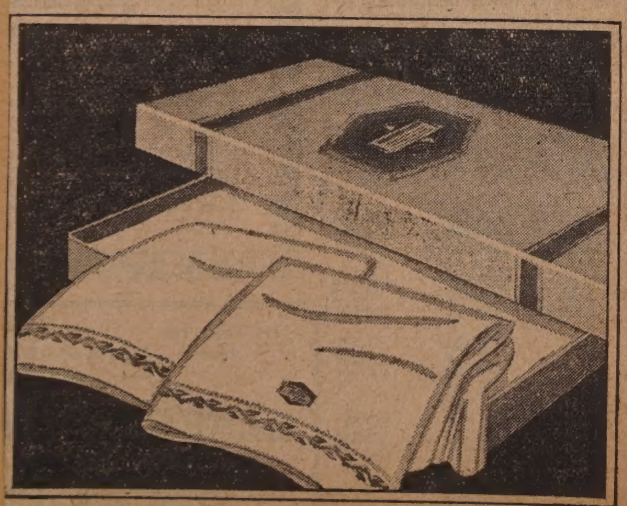
May 27-28

BARON J. MULLANEY AND SYNCOPATORS

Midshipman Mullaney and the jazz orchestra of the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis, led by the New Bedford young man, shown at piano in picture.

WAMSUTTA COLOR WOVEN SHEETS

June 3-28



DESIGNS AND PUT-UP

The upper picture shows a corner of three different Wamsutta color-woven sheets, illustrating the three different designs in which the borders of the sheets are woven.

Lower picture shows the way the sheets are put up for the retail counters in attractive green and gold boxes.

July 1, 1928

—Oki Seizo Photo

MRS. WILLIAM C. PRESCOTT, the former Miss Simonne B. Cote, shown in a bridal portrait, was married May 19 at the Prescott home in North Dartmouth.

REFUELING IN SIX DAY BIKE RACE

Jan 19-29

ALBERT CROSSLEY JR.

New Bedford entry in New York's six day bicycle race which ends tonight.

FOOD LINE USES 2,000 LOAVES OF BREAD

June 7, 1928

Children Also Take 250 Gallons of Stew

About 2,000 loaves of bread and 250 gallons of stew are needed to feed the line of children which gathers at the Washington club three times a week to receive the free rations. A recent contributor is The Jewish Daily Forward, which has promised the club 3,000 loaves, to be delivered in installments. The upper picture shows members of the club committee and some of the children who turned out Tuesday to welcome the first delivery. On the lower left a smiling mother hugs one large loaf and one small boy, and at the lower right is a typical group leaving the basement, where the food is distributed, with their shares.

WILLIAM E. KERN IS DEAD AT 96

aug 31-28

One of Oldest Residents of City Was Native of Sandwich

Superintendent of Cape Cod Glass Company Before Coming Here

William E. Kern, 25 Lincoln street, died at his home late last night. He was in his 97th year, being one of the oldest residents of this city. He had enjoyed the best of health up to one year ago, when he was a victim of pneumonia. He never fully recovered from this attack, although up to that time he had been very active, walking to the center of the city daily.

Born in Sandwich.

Mr. Kern was born in Sandwich, February 8, 1832, and when a young man he entered the employ of the old Boston and Sandwich Glass company. Later he became superintendent of the Cape Cod Glass Co.

After leaving that concern he came to New Bedford to the Mt. Washington Glass works, later merged with the Pairpoint corporation. At the time of his retirement, about 15 years ago, Mr. Kern was one of the oldest glass makers in the country.

In 1896, when the National Association of Glass Manufactuers were holding their annual meeting at Atlantic City, they invited Mr. Kern to address them on the history of the old Boston & Sandwich, the third oldest glass manufactory in the county at that time.

WILLIAM E. KERN.

Mr. Kern was one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the city, being a member of Acushnet lodge.

Mr. Kern is survived by one son, William E. Kern Jr., treasurer of the Taber mill, with whom he made his home, and three daughters, Mrs. James B. Schwall and Mrs. William S. Wilbur of this city, and Mrs. Frank B. Hadley of Fall River. His wife, who was Miss Henrietta Lovejoy of Sandwich, died in 1902.

May 20, 1928

DOWN ON THE POINT—A good many years ago this view might be had from the site of Fort Rodman, looking north across the old Point road, now Rodney French boulevard, toward the almshouse and the town.

DIES AT AGE OF 82 IN ACUSHNET

Dec 28. 28.

Charles L. Spooner Born in This City, Removed 46 Years Ago

At One Time Conducted Restaurant with Brother on William Street

Charles L. Spooner died at his home, Long Plain, Acushnet, this morning at the age of 82 years, 1 month.

Born in this city, Mr. Spooner had made his home here until he moved to Acushnet 46 years ago. He attended New Bedford public schools, and later, with his brother, Andrew, conducted a restaurant on the south side of William street, between Purchase street and Acushnet avenue.

CHARLES L. SPOONER.

Since his residence in Acushnet, he had for a number of years been employed by Richard Davis, a grocer.

He retired from the grocery business about 20 years ago and for a time was employed driving an Acushnet school bus. Later he became employed as caretaker of the old New Bedford reservoir.

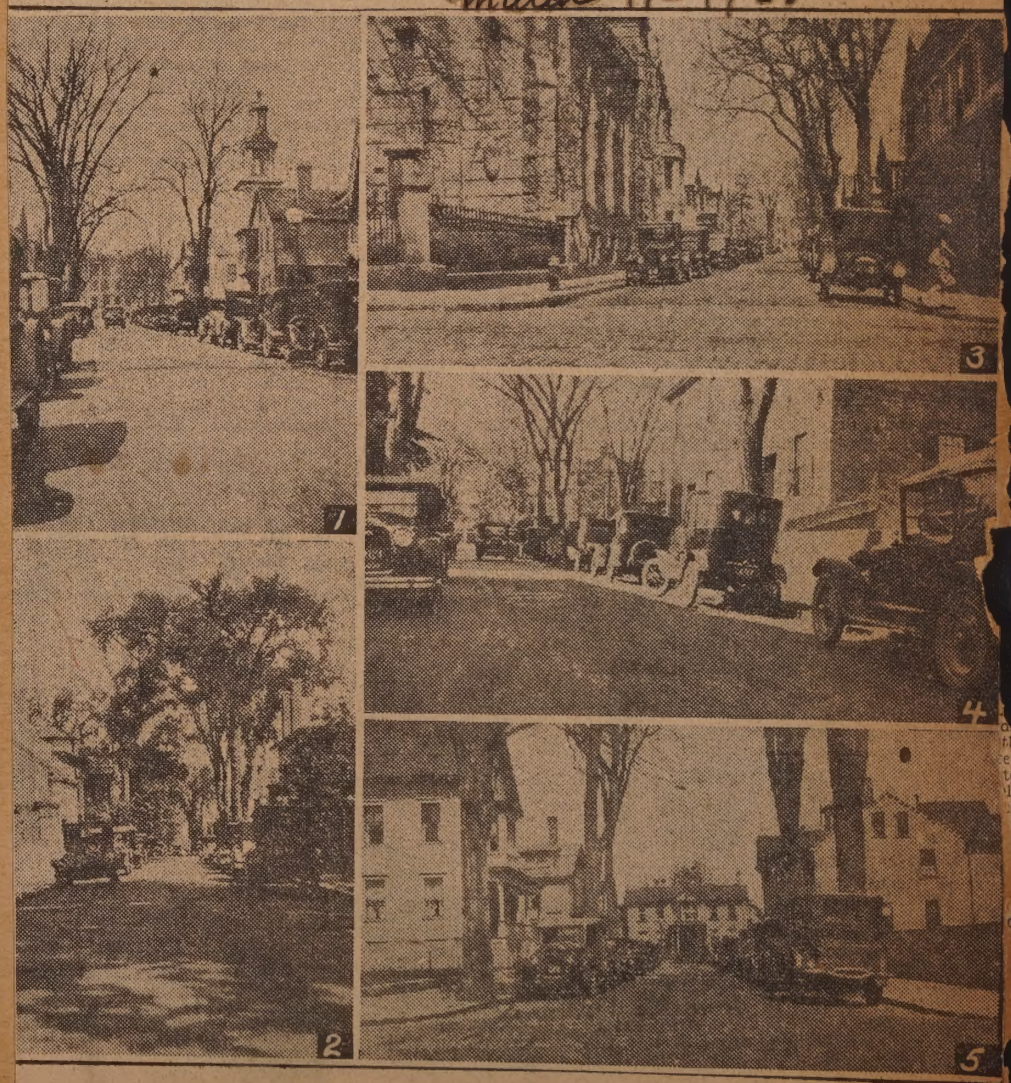
He was married 59 years ago to Georgie W. Cushing, the couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary in 1920.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. T. B. Norris, Keene street, this city, and Mrs. Frank W. Morse, Fairhaven; one brother, Zachary T. Spooner, Swansea, and three grandchildren. He also leaves one great grandchild.

Mr. Sooper was a member of the North Rochester grange, and attended the Long Plain Methodist church.

WHEN PARKING AREAS CARRIED NO RESTRICTIONS

March 11-1928



New Bedford Streets

(1) Looking up William street. (2) A common scene on School street. (3) On Eighth off Union. (4) Seventh street was crowded, and (5) continued so block after block.

CRACK SHARPSHOOTERS AT GUN CLUB MEET

1928 May 20-28

Contestants for Honors

Marksmen who competed yesterday afternoon in the first registered shoot sponsored by the Amateur Trapshooting Association of America ever held at Oesting farm. Members of the association from many parts of New England were present.

J. L. Snow, Boston, shown at the upper left in the photos above, was high gun with a score of 95 targets out of a possible 100. On the right of the photo at the top are shown others who competed. They are, reading left to right, H. C. Randall, Falmouth; F. R. Richardson, G. L. Osborne, and W. F. Clarke, Boston. In front, kneeling, is W. G. Hill, Boston, a professional who shot an exhibition score of 97, highest of the day. In the lower right picture, Dudley Shallcross, at left, two years junior national champion and state champion, and J. Haslam, with score of 95. At lower right, reading left to right, Phil Letendre, Fall River, and Frank J. Morris, New Bedford, score keepers.

YES, THEY SAW ANIMALS AND EVERYTHING

May 26-28

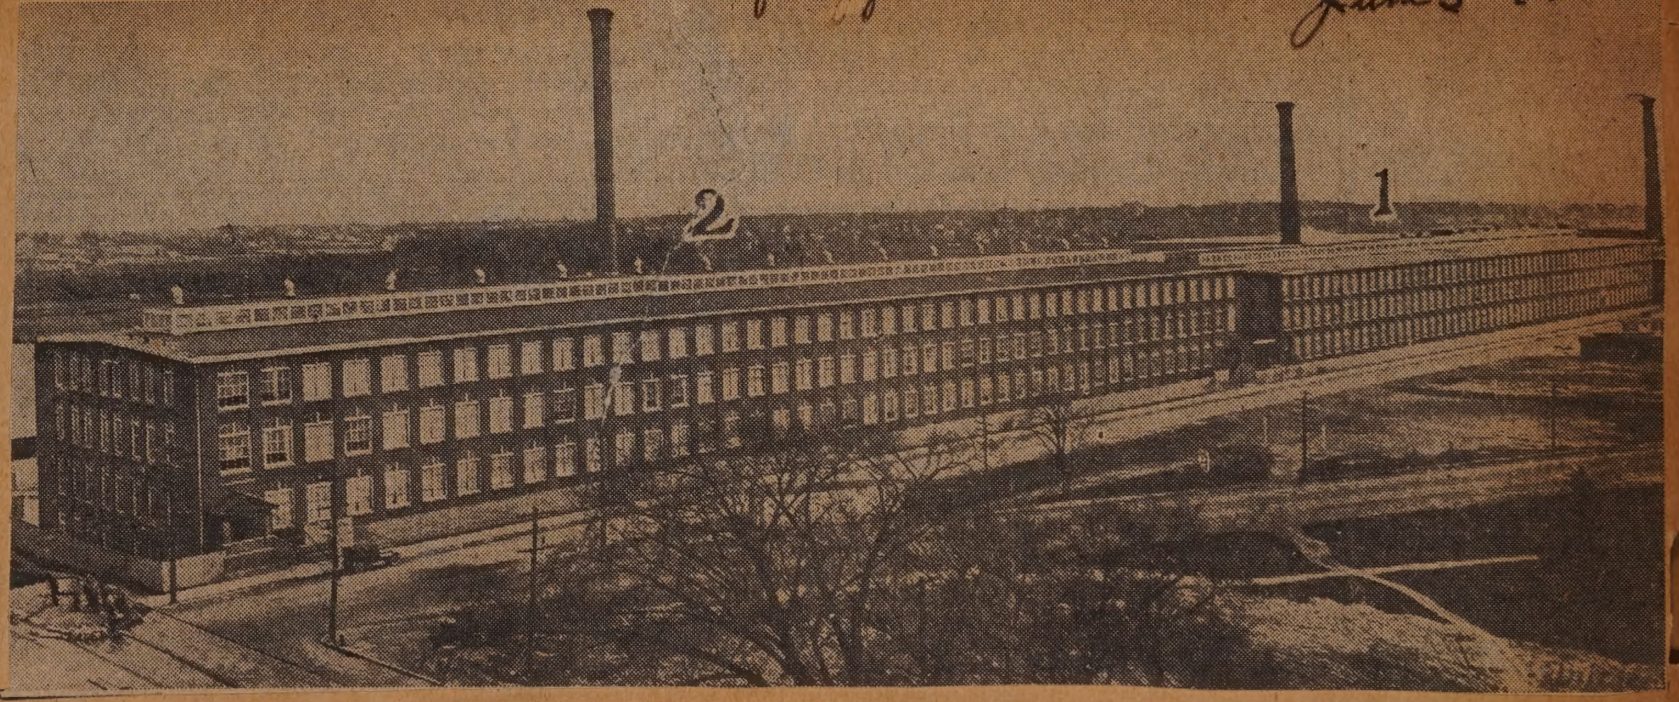
Standard Newsies Get Their Tickets

More than 400 Standard-Mercury newsboys attended the Sells-Floto circus yesterday as guests of these newspapers. Here are a few of the boys receiving their tickets.

WHERE DELAWARE RAYON CO. PLANS TO LOCATE NEW BEDFORD PLANT

formerly Manomet Mills

June 3-28



July 8, 1928

A FOUR-LEGGED CHIMNEY in the old Norton homestead, near Norton's pond, south of Oak Bluffs. One leg is for each fireplace in the four rooms downstairs.

—Photo by Howard M. Wood.

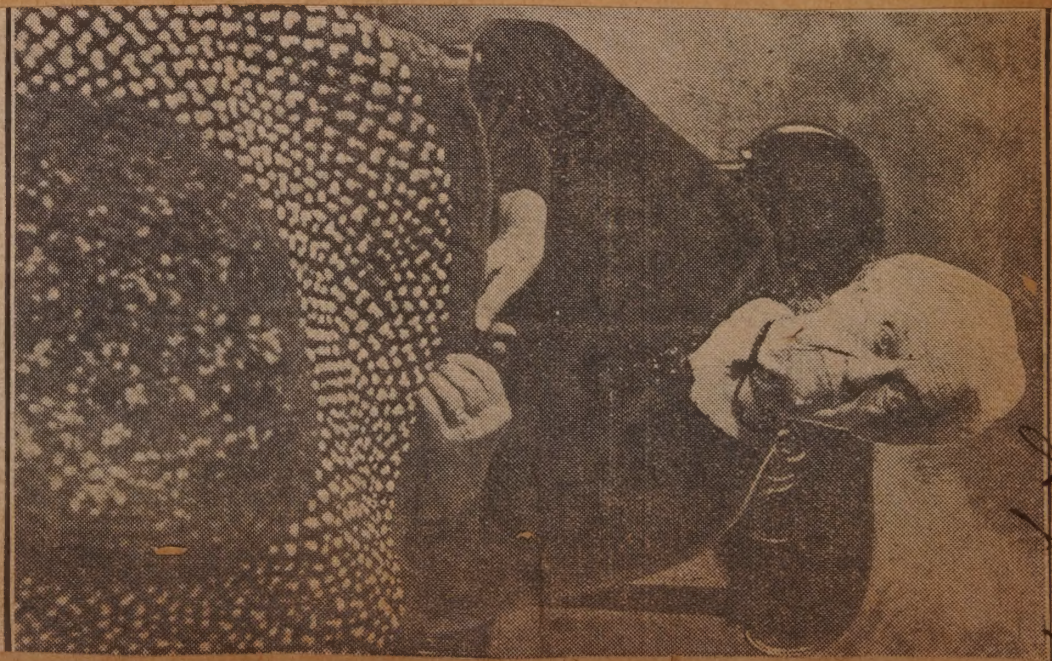
ENJOYS RUG MAKING AT 85

July 22-1928

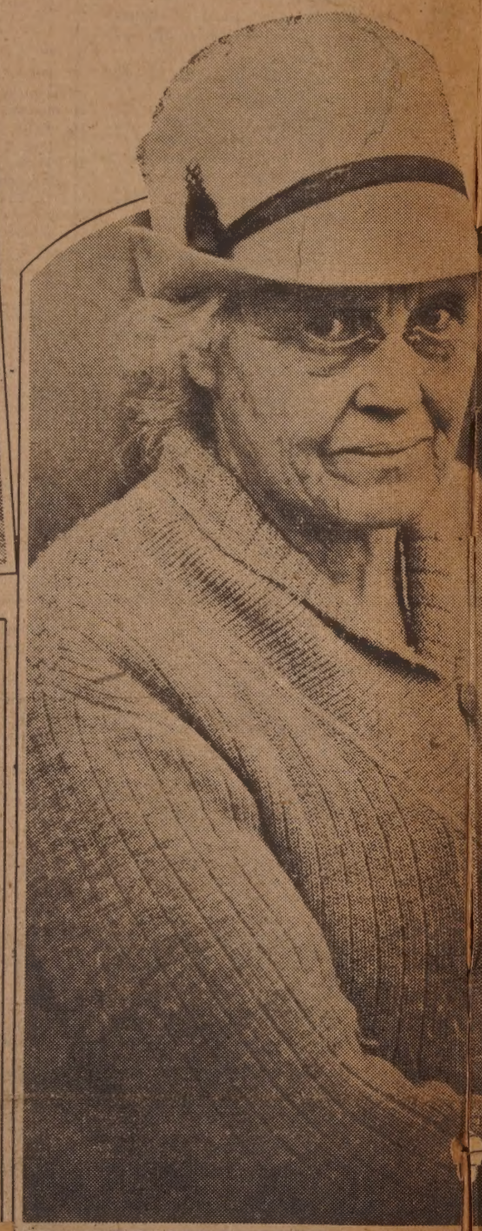


MRS. SARAH E. GIFFORD

...IRD BANDING REVEALS ROMANCE AND HABITS

January 29- 1928

Mrs. George E. Burbank, Sandwich, Keeps Daily Record of Feathered Visitors for 30 Years -- Only Cape Resident with U. S. Authority to Affix Aluminum Tags to Birds' Legs



Birds Do Not Fear Mrs. Geo...ge E. Burbank

There's little for birds to fear when Mrs. George E... Burbank, Sandwich, handles them, and they seem to be well aware of it. ...One shown in her hands here has visited her traps 24 times since being b...nded five years ago.

(1) Transferring a captive from one of her large ...raps to a small gathering cage from which he can be more readily removed.

(2) These are some of Mrs. Burbank's numerous ...aps scattered about the yard in the rear of her home.

(3) The Sandwich ornithologist is here holding ...own the door of a pull string trap into which she has enticed a chickadee.

(4) Mrs. Burbank holds a captive in the manner ...proper for banding.

(5) This little visitor has been in her hand 24 ti...es and doesn't seem terribly frightened to be held prisoner again.

OLD COSTUMES WORN—Lillian Sherman, left, with Marjorie Gifford, illustrate the old fashioned costumes worn.

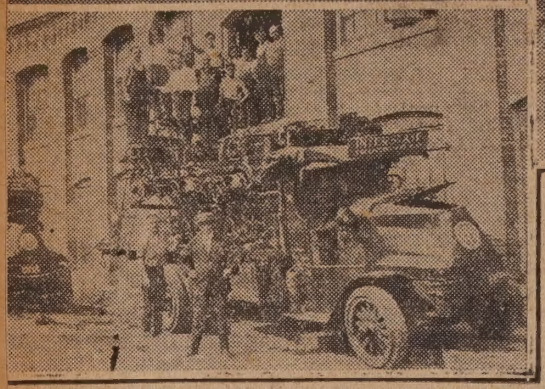
AT COLONIAL TEA—Marjorie Gifford, left, and Mary Wing, right, are shown at a recent Colonial tea held at Allens Neck.

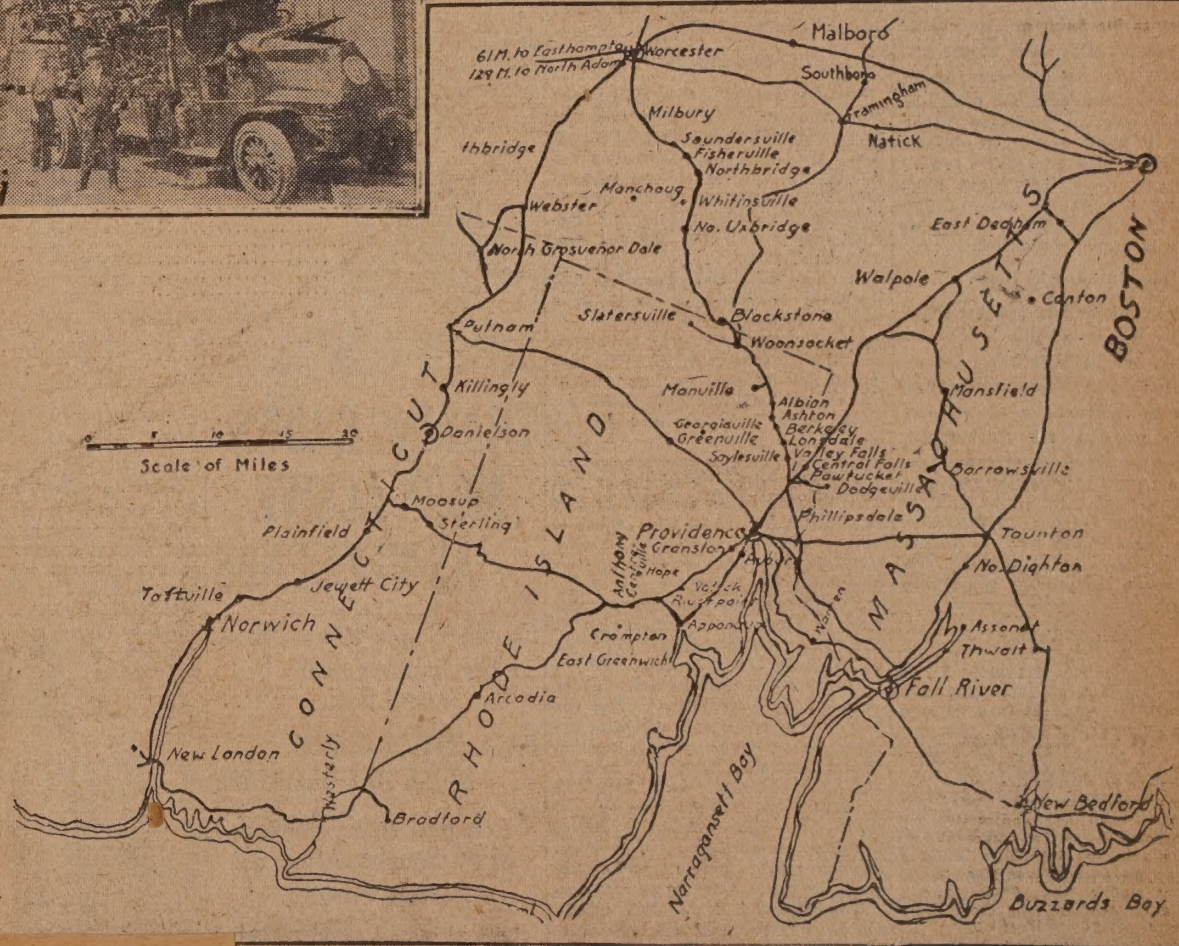
A COLONIAL COUPLE—An impersonation by Gladys Gifford, left, and Anne Gifford, guests at the affair.

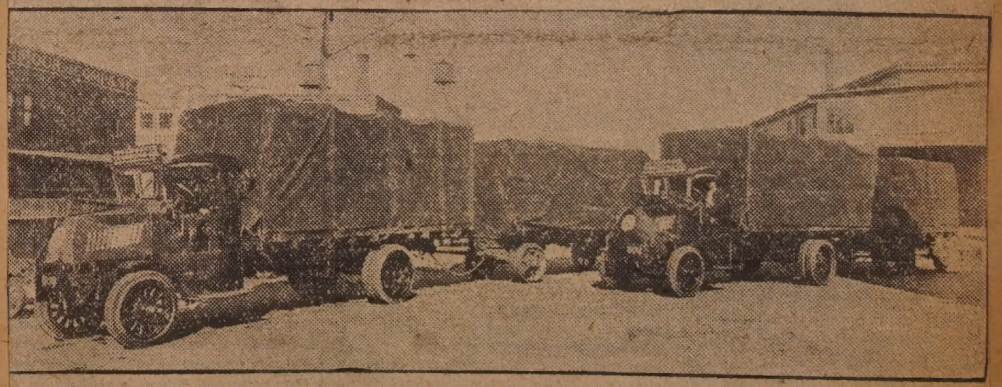
Sun St. June 10, 1928

NETWORK OF DAILY TRUCK LINES FROM NEW BEDFORD

March 18-28





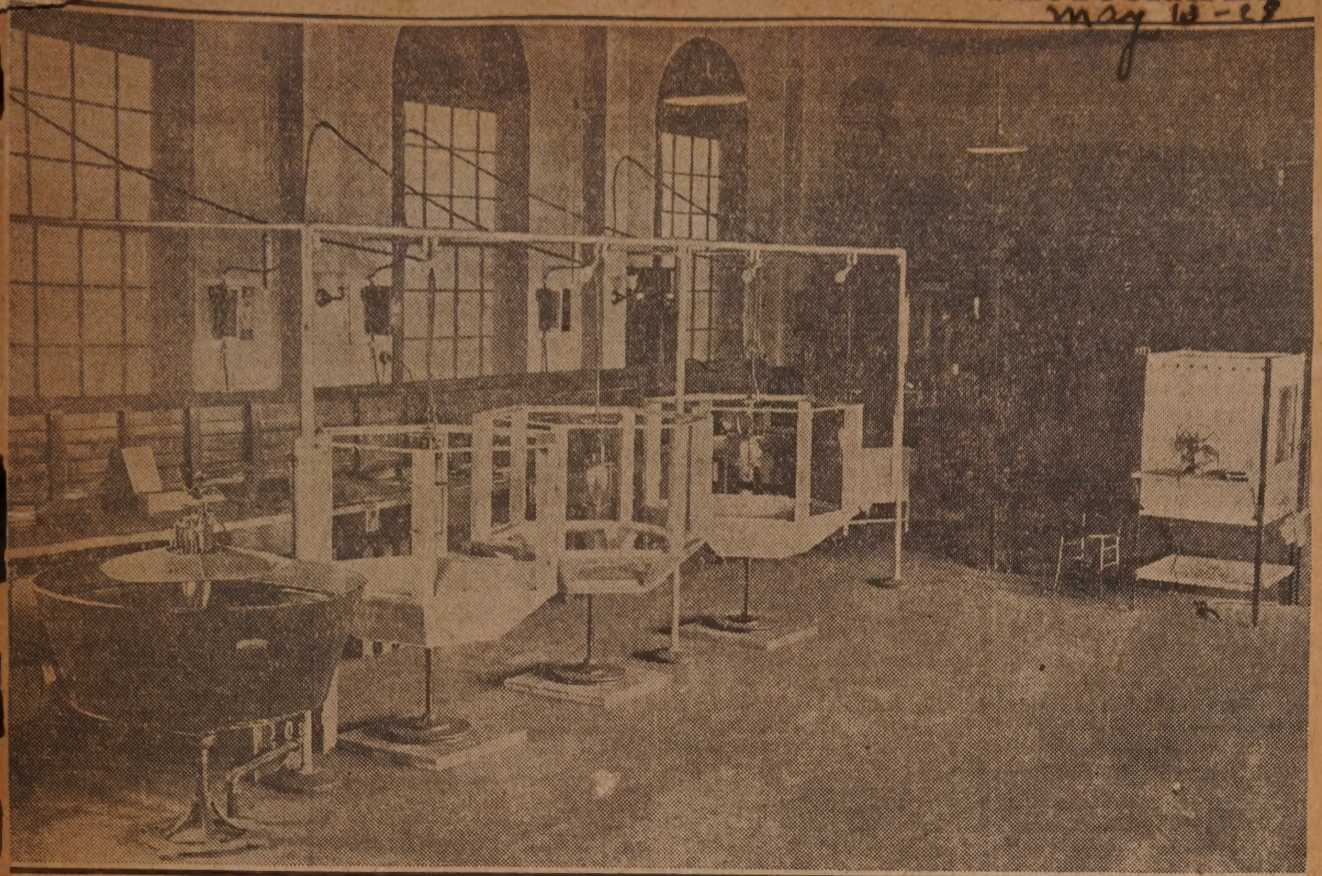


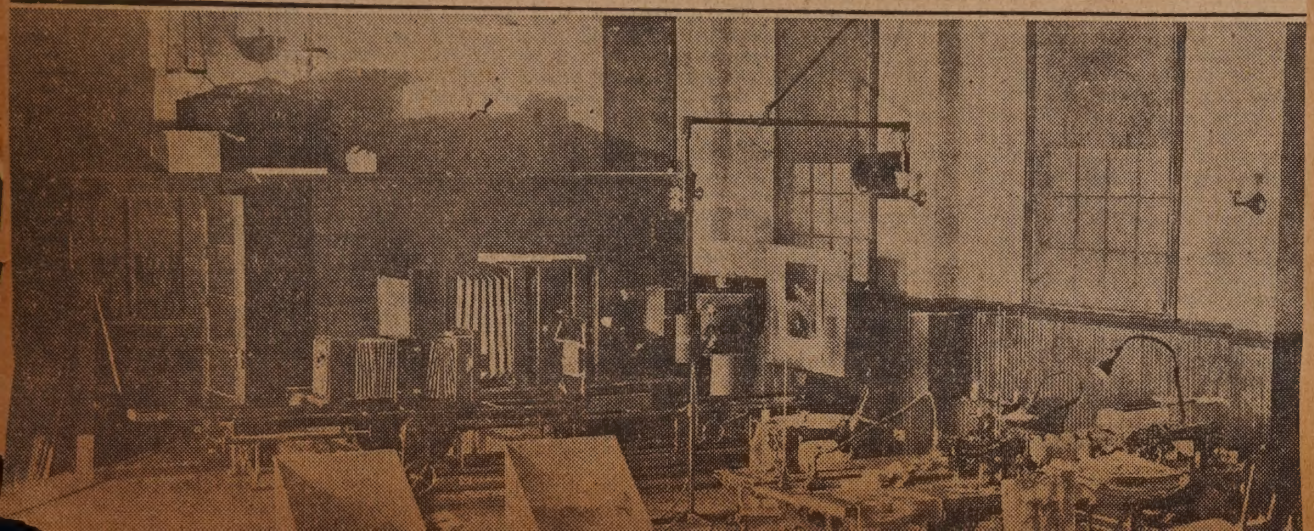
Linking Industries Closer

Upper left—Load of cotton bales on one of Hemingway trucks. Upper right—Type of covered van used by Andrews & Pierce. Center—Routes travelled daily by trucks linking southeastern New England communities. Daily service is also maintained to Lowell and Lawrence, and also to Cape Cod points as far down as Chatham and Orleans. Center left—Moving mill machinery on one of Interstate trucks. Lower right—Type of covered truck and trailer used by Interstate Trucking Co.

DECORATING NEW BEDFORD FABRICS BY PHOTOGRAPHY

May 13-28





NEW MILLICENT LIBRARIAN

May 8-28

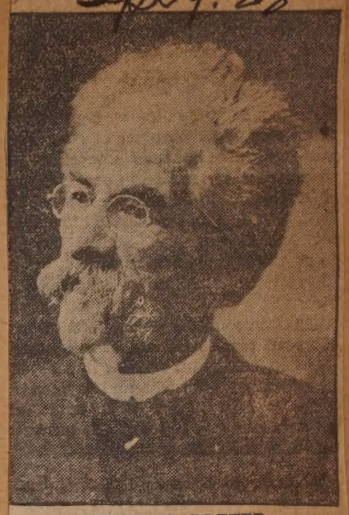
MISS AVIS M. PILLSBURY

June 24, 1928

FREQUENTLY IN DEMAND—Erward Dargis and his merrymakers, Roosevelt Junior High school students, furnish music on varied occasions. Left to right: Edward Dargis, Cecil Stevenson, Arthur Gonsalves, Gordon Handler, Lenard Francis, Herman Baptista, Louie Gent and William White.

SUCCUMBS AT 84

Sept 29, 28



DANIEL C. POTTER.

CIVIC LEADER IN FAIRHAVEN DIES

Daniel C. Potter Active in Projects Undertaken by Town for Years

Served as Captain of Militia in 1870; Daughter Survives

Daniel C. Potter, long prominent in civic affairs in Fairhaven, died at his home on Sconticut neck, Fairhaven, yesterday afternoon, following an illness of more than a year's duration. He was 84.

Living practically all his life in Fairhaven, Mr. Potter owned a large farm on Sconticut neck and was well known as a landscape gardener. He was active on his farm until within the last few years.

Was Militia Captain.

Mr. Potter was also quite active in the state militia many years ago and served as a captain of the militia in Fairhaven in 1870. He was chosen a member of the advisory board of the Bristol County Agricultural school in January, 1914.

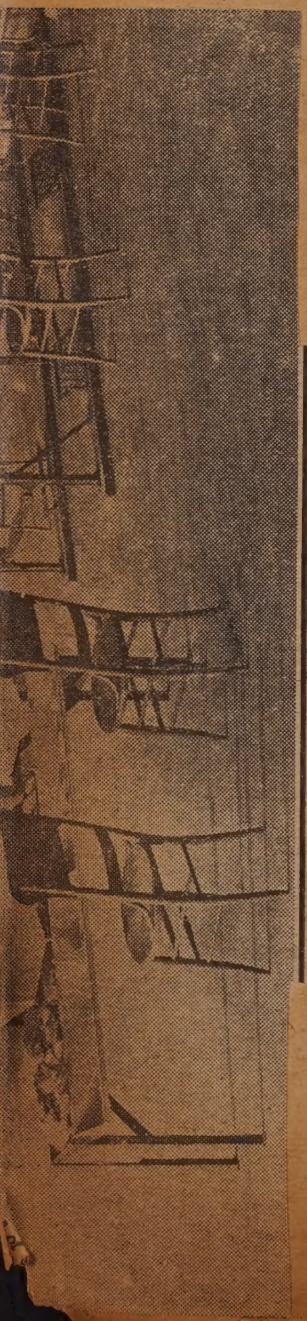
He also served as chairman of the Fairhaven finance committee for a number of years, still holding the office at the time of his death.

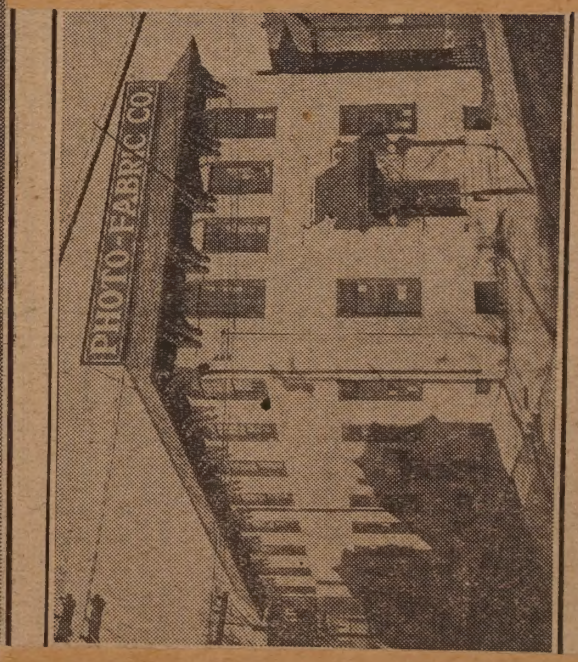
Daughter Survives.

During the past half century, Mr. Potter has been active in practically every civic project undertaken in the town.

In June, 1919, he was painfully injured when he fell 20 feet from a roof to the ground at his home, suffering a fractured verterbra of the neck.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Mabel Potter, Fairhaven.





ONE OF CITY'S NEW INDUSTRIES

Top picture shows battery of four revolving exposure tables. In the foreground the tub-shaped table is for receiving small printing frames, while the three white tables are for large sized printing frames, each table accommodating six of these at once, stood on end. In the background is a drier and the dark room. Middle picture shows view of the sewing tables and also a temporary table for stuffing pincushions. Further back are the projecting cameras and the flood lights. The door at the rear leads into the sensitizing room and the drying room. At the bottom is a picture of the exterior of the factory, which is at Purchase and Penniman streets.

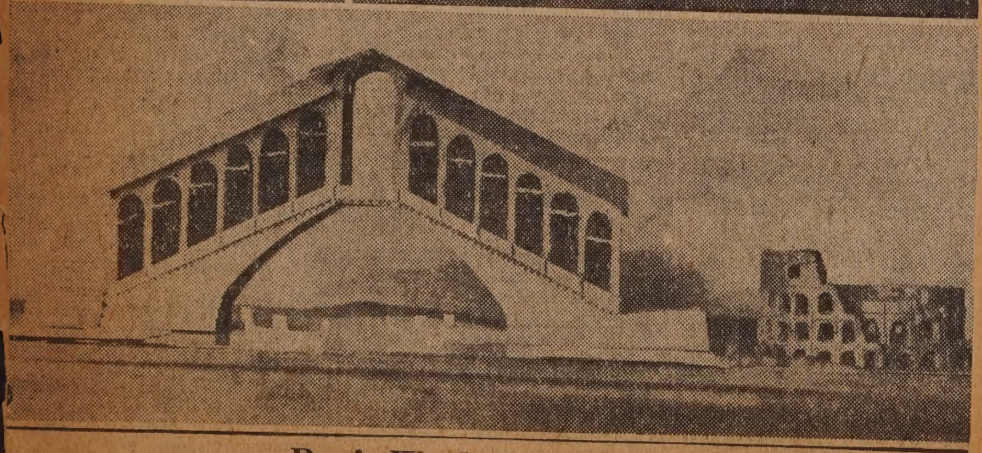
Memories of New Bedford Historian

Left—A glimpse at the favorite book case which with its contents now goes to the public library. The picture is a corner of the studio at 10 Anthony street showing the Thoreau bust and the painting of Walton Ricketson by Ipsen.
Right—Daniel Ricketson, New Bedford's early historian.

RECENT GRADUATE—
Last year Miss Elizabeth Pratt was a graduate student at Pine Manor school, Wellesley. Previously she attended Friends and Concord academies. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pratt.
-Photo by Bachrach.

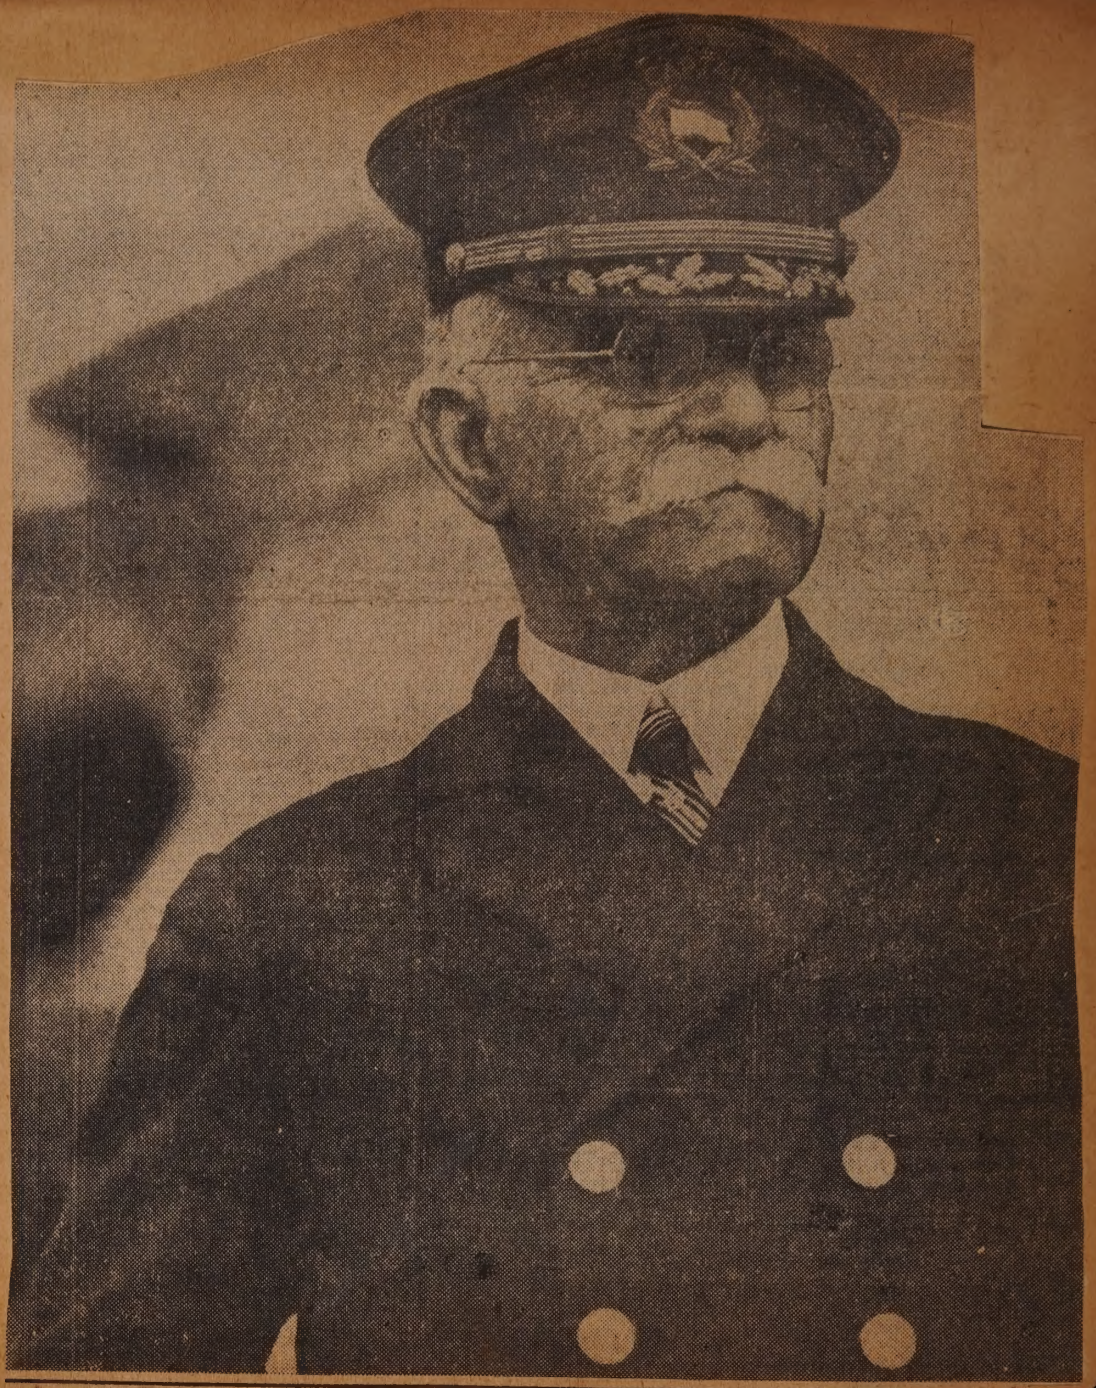
HISTORIC PLACES COPIED IN MODELS

March 18-28



Boy's Work Wins Praise

Holmes Hurll used cardboard, toothpicks, matches, felt and rubber balls in his model of the Taj Mahal, upper right. The Venetian bridge in the lower picture is a model of the Rialto. The Coliseum, lower right, is fashioned in modeling wax.



June 3, 1928

Leaves Sea Home of 26 Years

Captain Francis J. Marshall feels genuine regret in leaving Uncatena for propeller type of steamer.

PICTURES WITH KNIFE

Signs in Parlor Along with Water Color and Oil Studies-f Nature Is 82

March 25th-28

STEAMER RAMS PIER HERE

Aug 8-28

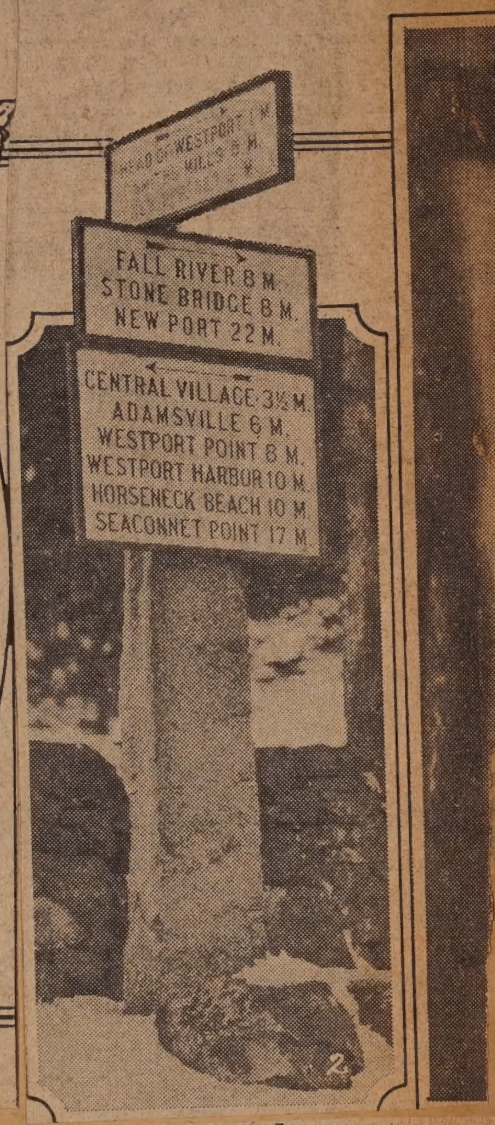
NANTUCKET'S BOW SPLINTERS TIMBERS

How the bow of steamer Nantucket splintered the pier end this morning.

Below, the Nantucket at the dock with the dredge outside of her. Picture shows how steamer's landing was hampered.

WESTPORT PAINTER CUTS

William R. Brightman Lives in Atmosphere of Art—Paints Roac
Lifelong Observer



All Is Art for William R. Brightman

The works of William R. Brightman, 82 year old Westport resident.

(1) Ferns and woods flowers created through a combination of splash work and water colors.

(2) Several of the more than 200 signs which Mr. Brightman has completed for the Town of Westport.

(3) The artist exhibiting an oil color scene of a Westport landscape.

NANTUCKET TOWN CLERK HAS RECORDS OF COLONY'S BEGINNING

May 13. 28

6

Whereas Jacob Barney of Newport in the Colony of Rhodeisland (&c) and Dorcas Barnard of Nantucket in the province of the Massachusets Bay in New England Daughter of Nathaniel Barnard and Anna his wife (deceased) having declared their intentions of taking each other in Marriage before several publick meetings of the people called Quakers on Nantucket according to the good order used among them whose proceedings therein after a deliberate consideration thereof (with Regard unto the Righteous Laws of God & Example of his people Recorded in the Scriptures of truth in that Case) were approved by the said meetings; and they appearing Clear of all others: and having Consent of parents and others Concerned

Now these are to Certifie all whom it may Concern that for the full accomplishing their said Intentions this Twenty Eight day of the Seventh month Called September in the year according to the English account One thousand Seven hundred & twenty and six they the said Jacob Barney & Dorcas Barnard appeared in a publick assembly of the aforesd people & others met together for that purpose at Nantucket in the house of Judith Willcock and in a solemn manner he the said Jacob Barney taking the said Dorcas Barnard by the hand did openly Declare as followeth Friends I desire you to be my witnesses that I take this my friend Dorcas Barnard to be my wife promising by the Lords assistance to be unto her a true & loving husband during this Relation and then and there in the said assembly the said Dorcas Barnard did in like manner Declare as followeth friends I desire you to be my witneses that I take this my friend Jacob Barney to be my husband Promising by the Lords assistance to be unto him a true and loving wife during this Relation and the said Jacob Barney and Dorcas (according to the Custome of Marriage now) Dorcas Barney as a further Confirmation thereof did then and there to these presents set their hands and we whose names are hereunto subscribed being present among others at the solemnizing of their said Marriage & Subscription in manner aforesd as witnesses hereunto have also to these presents subscribed our names the day and year above written

Jacob Barney
Dorcas Barney

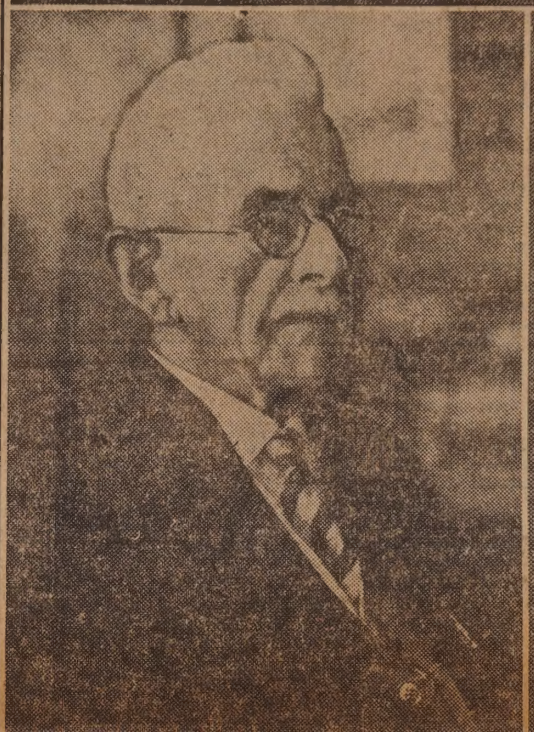
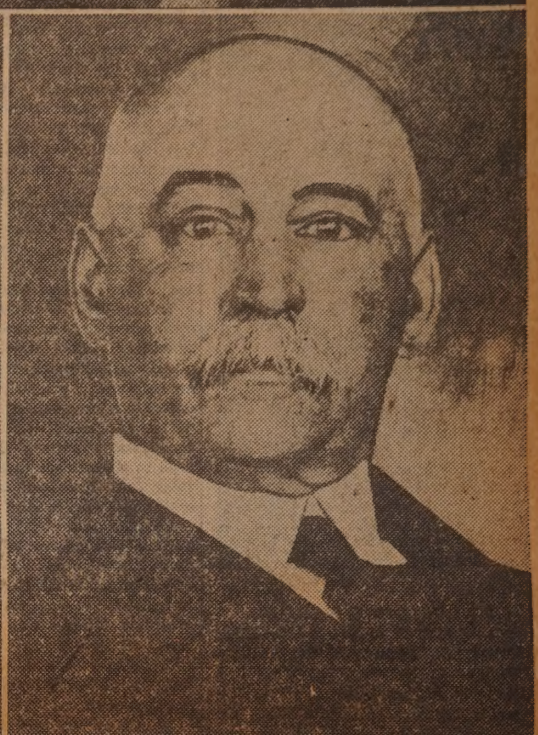
Benj. Barney
Jethro Starbuck
Nathaniel Starbuck
Daniel Folger
Benjamin Barnard
William Manning
William Starbuck
Peter Folger
Jabez Macy
George Bunker Justice peace
Benjamin Starbuck
Benjamin Coffin
Richard Hussey
Nathaniel Coleman
Sarah Barnard
Rebe Coleman
Mary Folger
Jinah Starbuck
Priscilla Coleman
Dorcas Starbuck
Experience Coffin
Abigail Hussey
Jinah Stubs
Hannah Gorham
Elizabeth Barnard
Eunice Pinkham
Judith Barnard





BOOK SHOP AMONG

ARMY OFFICER INSPECTS HIGH SCHOOL R. O. T. C.

May 29-39

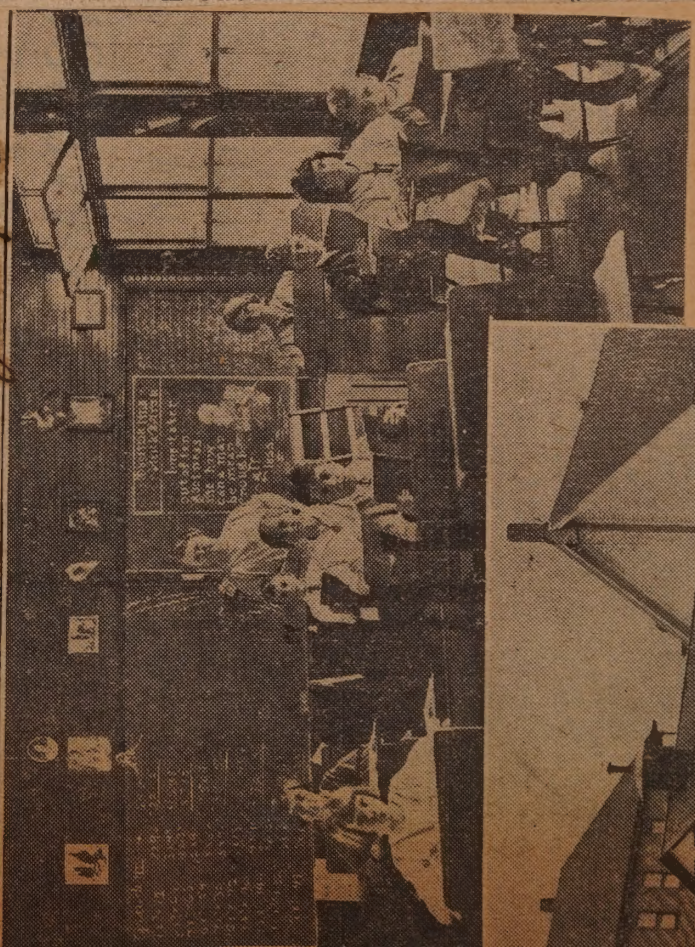
Lieutenant Colonel R. J. Herman Visits Unit

FIGURE IN OFFICIAL LIFE OF ISLAND

An early Nantucket marriage license, attesting the union of a Quaker couple, is reproduced at the left above. Upper right is Lauriston Bunker, veteran town clerk and registrar of deeds. Henry Riddell, lower left, is judge of probate. Orison V. Hull, lower right, holds eight town offices.

PUPILS HAVE DAILY BIBLE LESSON

June 9-39



SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST SCHOOL.

Above: Classroom during regular session; below, school building in rear of church.

18

LEADERS OF FOUR BALL LEAGUE AND OPPONENTS

May 29-28

GOLFERS AT COUNTRY CLUB

In the upper picture are the members of the Country Club of New Bedford four ball team, leaders in the Bristol County league and winners yesterday over the Reservation club of Mattapoisett. From left to right—Floyd Cary, George Converse, P. C. Young, Elliot C. Taber, Dana Gillingham, Dave Whiteside, Charles E. Ryder, John S. Fallow. In the lower row is the Reservation team, from left to right being J. H. Beswick, M. W. Lane, R. G. Ferguson, H. W. Stevenson, G. C. Sylvia Jr., Dr. C. E. P. Thompson, M. W. Sawyer, A. P. LeClair.

NEW DEPUTY CHIEFS

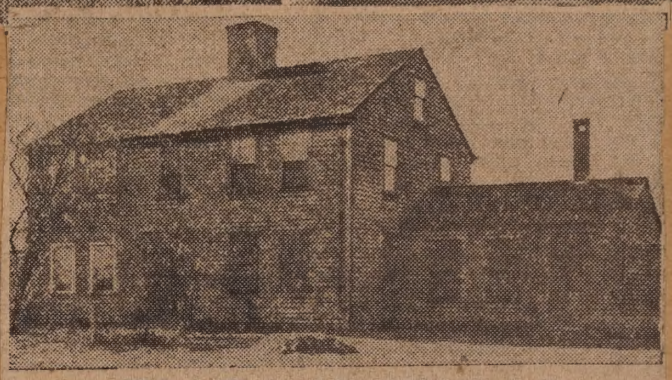
July 25, 1928

DEPUTY CHIEF CHASE.

DEPUTY CHIEF PIERACCINI.

THREE OF OLDEST HOUSES IN TOWN OF MARION

March 18-28



TWO DATE TO REVOLUTIONARY DAYS

Three of the oldest houses of Marion. The Bates homestead, upper left, is thought to be the first two-tenement house built in the vicinity. At the upper right is the home of Robert Dexter, Marion, where five generations of the Dexter family were born. The Nye homestead, below, is known to be at least 168 years old and is thought to be the oldest house now standing in Marion.

July 1, 1928

—Photo by Howard M. Wood.

LOOKED AT THIS WAY, the Pilgrim monument at Provincetown is hardly recognizable. The camera is looking directly up from the lower landing, inside the tower.

WHITTLES TO RECALL OLD DAYS

Sept 30-28

OTIS L. BRIGHTMAN MAKES MODELS

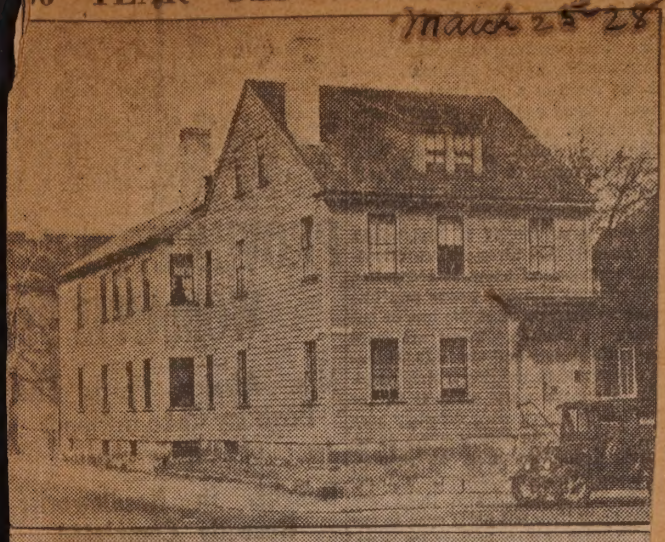
CITY HONORS LIVING WAR VETERANS AND HEROIC DEAD

may 31-28

Glimpses of the parade as it passed the reviewing stand yesterday afternoon and a few of the veterans. (1) Miss Nellie Jenney, past department patriotic instructor of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary and Commander Nahum Nickerson, Post One, Grand Army of the Republic. (2) Civil war veterans who left their automobile to salute as the flag was raised at the Fairhaven High school. Left to right, Willard Burleigh, George H. Carpenter, John Shea, Benjamin F. Luther and Joseph Alton. (3) George D. White, Post One, G. A. R. and [illegible] daughter of [illegible] (they marc[illegible]

0 YEAR OLD HOUSE TO PASS

March 25-28



ORIGINALLY IN KEMPTON ESTATE

The picture at the top was taken last week, showing the house as it has been for a number of years. The picture at the bottom was taken in 1886 when James L. Sherman and his family lived there. The pictures indicate the changes made in the exterior appearance of the house. The dormer windows on the Mill street side of the house are new, and it will be noted a window was added in the Pleasant street jog. Standing on Mill street in the lower picture are George B. Dunham and next to him is Mrs. Dodge, when she was a little girl, while at the left is her sister, Miss Elmira Sherman, now dead.

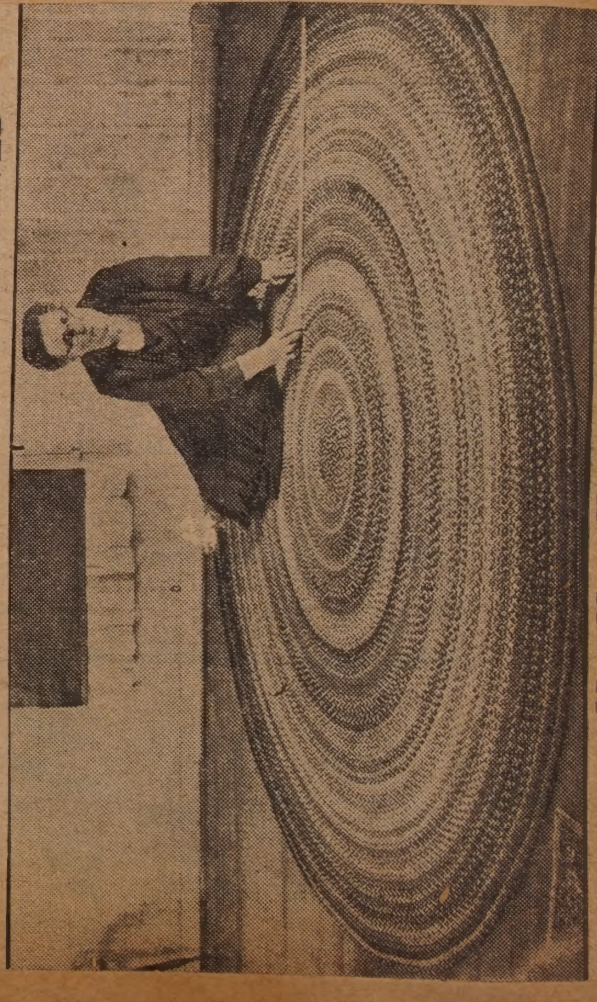
NEW GATE IS MONUMENT TO DEAD PASTOR

May 19, 28

Memorial at St. Lawrence's Church

One of the most artistic improvements at St. Lawrence's Catholic church is the bronze center gate to the communion rail recently installed at the church. The rail is of marble executed and carved in Italy and is the gift of the men of the church in memory of the Right Rev. Msgr. Hugh J. Smyth, former pastor of St. Lawrence's.

OLD FASHIONED ART IS REVIVED



Mrs. Mary King at Work

Lucky 1-28

Teaching Continuation Students Care of Children

A LUNCHEON PARTY—Miss Mercedes Arruda is shown at the Howland school supervising a luncheon of pre-school age children, as a part of second year Continuation school work.

June 10, 1928

READ ME A STORY!—Little Irene Pacheco finds Miss Carolina Lewkowicz obliging. The picture illustrates instruction given Continuation school girls in child training.

WATERING THE FLOWERS — Blanche Rose, left, and Suzanne Luaczenski are being taught how to care for house plants. These children and others shown, are brought from the homes of students or their friends.

TEACHES UNUSUAL COURSE—Miss Mary Bettencourt, shown with Edwin Kiluk, teaches the child care course. New Bedford is one of the few cities in Massachusetts offering this training.

COMES HOME
Today 1.1929

COLONEL EDWARD H. R. GREEN, Master of Round Hills as he posed for Standard camera on arrival at New Bedford railroad station this morning.

GIFTS FROM ABYSSINIA—Dr. John P. Nickerson, West Harwich, shows a ceremonial shield presented him by his majesty, Ras Tafari, on a recent trip to Abyssinia. The shield is of rhinoceros hide and gold, while a necklace given Mrs. Nickerson is of hammered gold.

July 8, 1928

Tug John Duff and lighter bring land end of cable out to the Field from south shore of Marthas Vineyard.

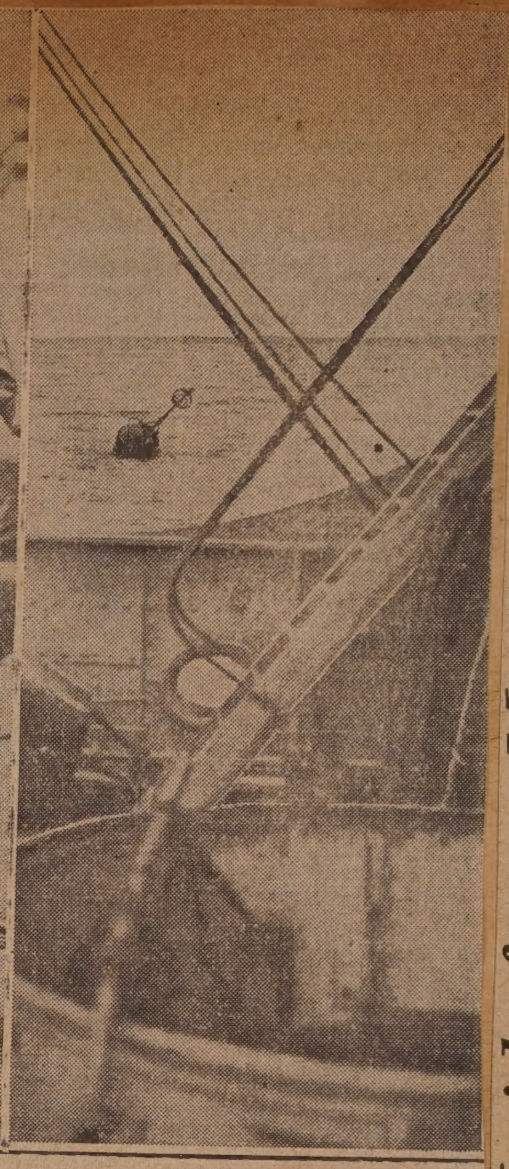
Captain M. H. Bloomer of the Cyrus Field on the bow where he is stationed as cable is laid.

Hauling Aboard a Land End

Jointers Fuse the Two Cable Lengths.

Telegraph Cable Is Laid from Marthas Vineyard to Nantucket

Splicing the coverings of the land end of the cable to those of the sea length laid by the Field.



A buoyed cable end later to be spliced to the Nantucket shore end.

The Ocean Cable Layer, Cyrus Field.

Controls on bow of the Field from which movement of the ship and its machinery is directed as cable is laid. Note the grappling iron.

A cable worker very busy below the Field's bow.

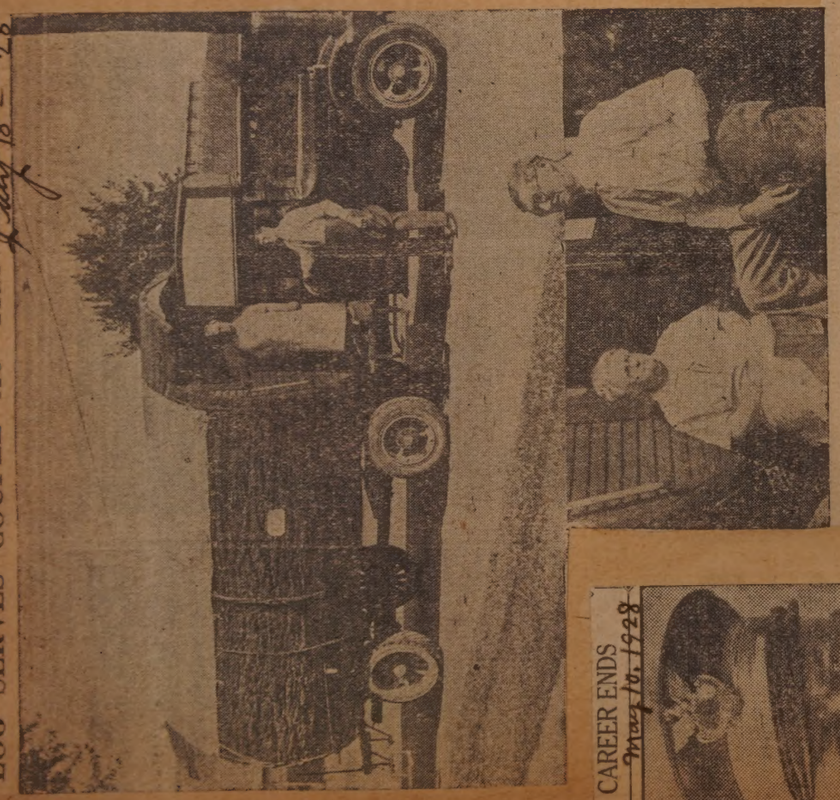
Chief Electrician E. J. Hamilton with a section of double armored cable.

Giants drums equipped with breaks which regulate the paying out of the cable.

(Photographed on the Western Union Steamer Cyrus Field by A. F. Packard of The Standard Staff)

LOG SERVES COUPLE AS TRAVELING HOME

July 18



WILL BE EXHIBITED IN CITY.

A hollow Douglas fir log, 16 feet long and eight feet in diameter, mounted on a two-ton truck and trailer, which serves as the traveling home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wade, is to be exhibited in this city Thursday, under the auspices of the forestry committee of the New Bedford Board of Commerce. Mayor Ashley has designated the northeast corner of the municipal parking lot as the place where the huge log will be shown. Benjamin F. Howe, of the Acushnet Saw Mills company, and James H. Miskell, of Greene and Wood, obtained the exhibit for this city.

CAREER ENDS

May 10, 1928

FREMETTE

POLICE CHIEF WILLIAM T. COLE

S-4 HERO WELCOMED HERE

May 2-28

Diver Eadie Calls on Mayor Ashley

Just before he addressed the Kiwanis club at the New Bedford hotel yesterday, Diver Tom Eadie, hero of the S-4 disaster, called on Mayor Chares S. Ashley. The mayor is here greeting Mr. Eadie on the steps of the municipal building. Left to right: Mr. Eadie, Dr. Harold E. Kerwin, President of the Kiwanis club; Mayor Ashley; D. Howard Nolan, a member of the Kiwanis club; and J. Clifford Sherman, ex president of the club.

THREE MEDALS WON BY BRITISH VETERAN HERE

March 18-28

Service in Bloody Dardanelles Engagment and in France Seen Thr[ough Four Years by Robert Hewitt—of 60 in His Outfit, Street Railway Conductor Is Sole Surviv[or—Met Turk Face to Face

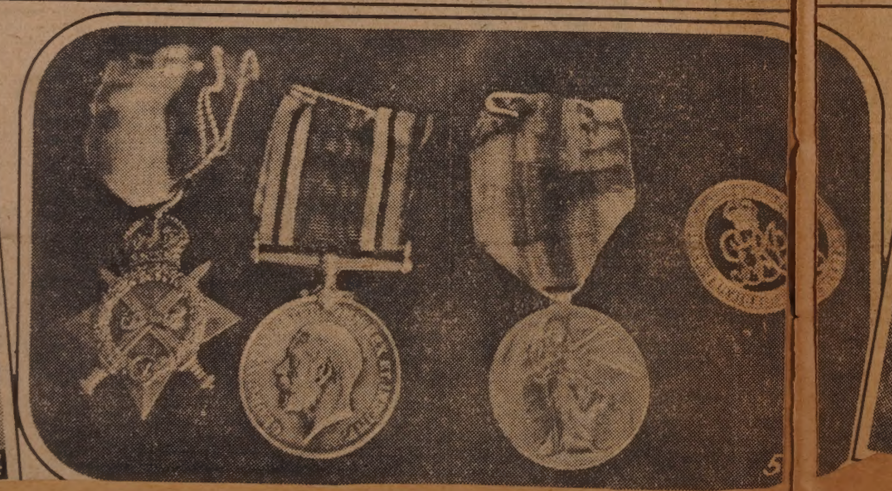
1

2

3

4



5

6

Soldiers of Dardanelles Now Man Street Cars

(1) Fred Witherington, 400 Hersom street, street car motorman, who fought in the same division with Mr. Hewitt and was at the Dardanelles.

(2) A part of the company in which Mr. Hewitt fought. Mr. Hewitt is next to the left end of the last row. This picture was taken in Egypt just before the outfit went to the Gallipoli peninsula. Mr. Hewitt is the sole survivor. The colonel of the regiment is seated in the middle of the second row. He lost his life shortly after.

(3) Robert Hewitt, 13 Studley street, street car conductor, whose memory of the hottest fighting in the World war is strengthened by 14 gunshot wounds in his left leg and other scars of battle.

(4) Mr. Witherington, taken at the Weld square carbarn in his uniform. His latest photograph.

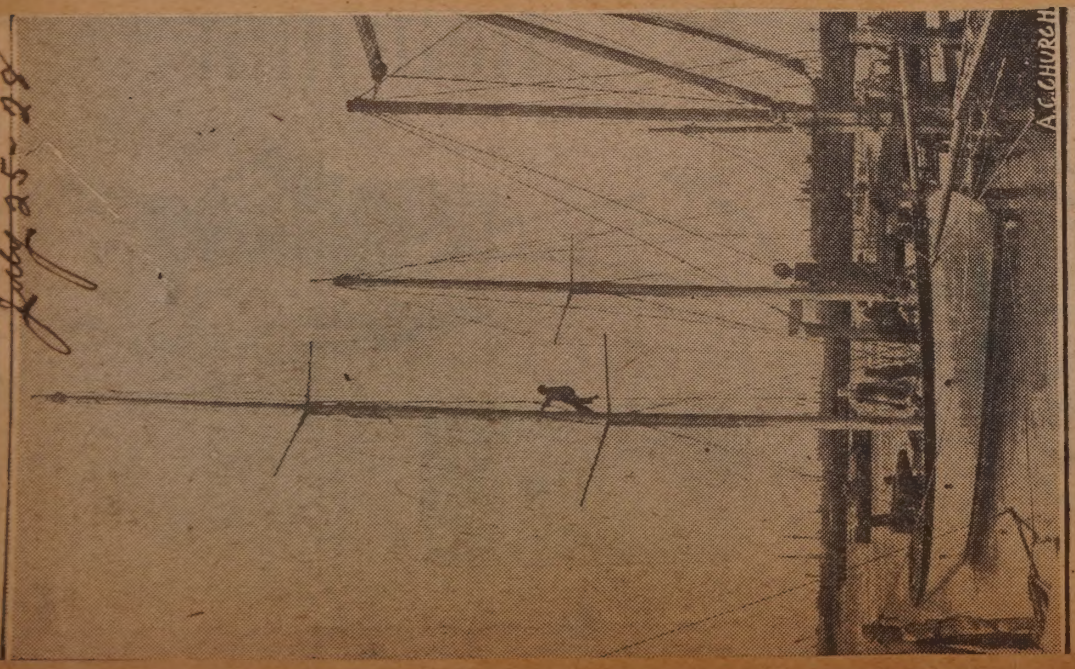
(5) Mr. Hewitt's British service pin and decorations, which include the Mons Star, the General Service Medal for the Dardanelles and the General Service Medal of the Great War for Civilization.

(6) At the hospital camp at Ripon, England, recuperating from a severe battering in Flanders. Mr. Hewitt is seated at the left end of the first row, next to the smiling nurse.

(7) Mr. Hewitt in his conductor's uniform, taken recently at the carbarn.

(8)—Map showing the Dardanelles, the Gallipoli peninsula, the Turkish fortifications and the disposition of the British fleet at the start of the big naval attempt to force the straits.

CROSSES OCEAN IN 24 DAYS



THE AMERICAN YACHT NINA.
This schooner, winner of the Queen of Spain's cup for a race to Santander, is pictured as she appeared at Fairhaven. Her mainmast was stepped there.

MRS. GODDARD DIES, AGED 61

Wife of Insurance Broker Succumbs After Attack of Apoplexy

Former Teacher, Native of Maine, Was Ardent Student of Nature

July 25-28

Succumbing to an attack of apoplexy which she suffered a week ago today, Mrs. Ida M. Goddard, wife of Alvano C. Goddard, insurance broker, died Monday at her home at 24 Larch avenue, Fairhaven.

Mrs. Goddard, suffering a similar attack several months ago, had been in constantly declining health. She was also bothered with nervous attacks for the past 20 years. She was in her 62d year.

She was greatly interested in nature study throughout her life, and was known among her friends as a botanist. She could readily recognize nearly every species of plant life which grows east of the Mississippi.

MRS. ALVANO C. GODDARD.

She was born in Union, Me., where she spent her girlhood. She was a graduate of the Oak Grove Seminary, Vassalboro, Me., where she also taught the year following her graduation. The following year, Mrs. Goddard went to Glen Elder, Kan., where she taught and where Mr. Goddard was then serving as principal.

Coming East in 1895, Mr. and Mrs. Goddard lived at Fort Fairfield, Me., until 1906, when they came to this city. Mr. Goddard is now a member of the insurance concern of Goddard, Case, and Borden.

Though active in church work before coming to New Bedford, Mrs. Goddard was obliged to give this up because of her health. She was a member of Friends' meeting.

She is survived by two sons and one daughter. They are Arthur Herbert Goddard, an architect, New York city; Myron Charles Goddard, an electrical engineer, also New York City, and Miss Helen M. Goddard, who lives at home.

GLIDERS READY FOR FLIGHT AT TRU

July 22-19

Replica of Record Winner Used

Above, a glider ready on the slope of a Cape Cod hill. Below, Miss Jane Underwood of Detroit in a replica of the motorless craft which established a gliding world's record by staying aloft 14 hours and 23 minutes.

PLAYWRIGHT'S PIANO TRAVELS 12,000 MILES

July 15-28

Mrs. Jack Green Plays Instrument

Mrs. Jack Green, Provincetown playwright, is seated at the piano which recently took a 12,000 mile trip from Melbourne, Australia, to Provincetown. This instrument was the first at which Mrs. Green studied in her girlhood [illegible]

SCENES AT SHARP MILL RANGE FROM DIGNITY TO HYSTERIA

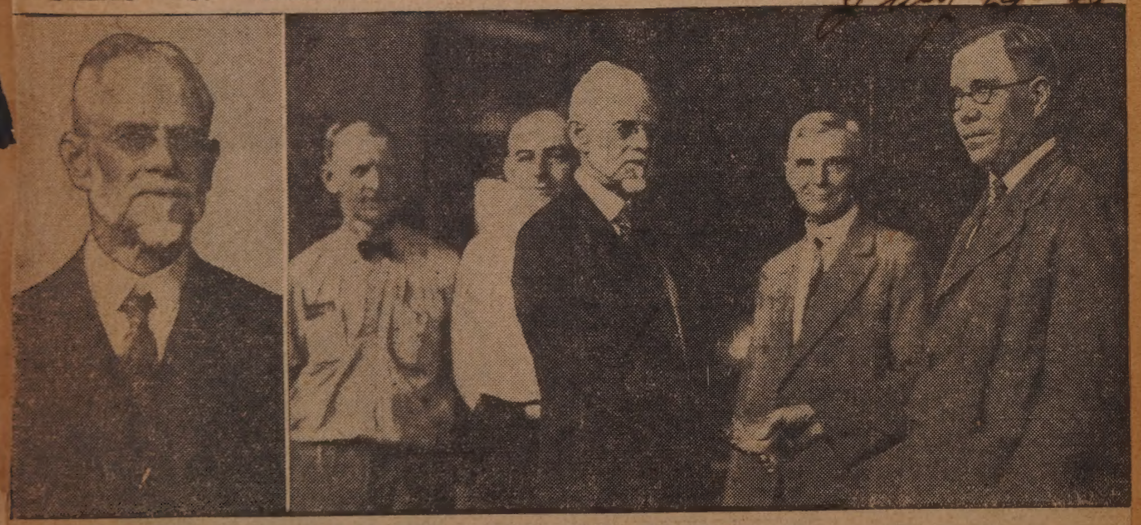
July 25-28

Police of Two Cities Join in Dispersal

A wide variety of incidents ranging from legal dignity and friendly greetings between New Bedford and Fall River police to hysteria on the part of some of the prisoners marked the dispersal of pickets at the Sharp mill last night. Left, Deputy Chief of Police Raymond Chase as he addressed a crowd of spectators at Dartmouth street and Cove road, ordering them to disperse. Center, Sergeant George A. Wilson, New Bedford, and Lieutenant Daniel Killeen, Fall River, exchange greetings for the police of two cities. Right, a dramatic incident following the arrest of a woman who lingered too long after being ordered to leave. She screamed and fought as patrolmen took her to a police car.

SILAS S. TABER VISITS HERE AFTER NINE YEARS

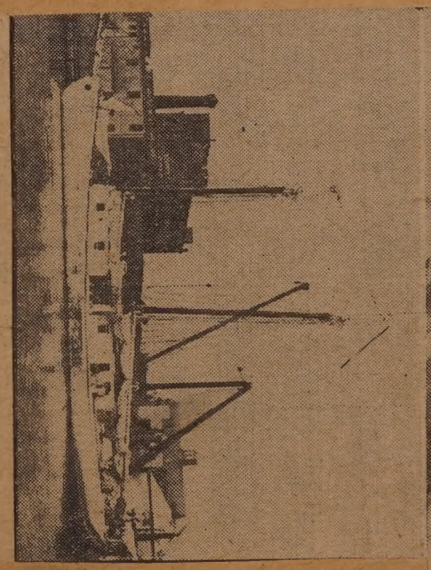
July 25-28



Welcomed Back to Post Office

Silas. S. Taber, left, former superintendent of mails at New Bedford post office, and the group of present officials who greeted him yesterday, Dennis A. Shea, W. J. Frawley, Frederick T. Almy, and Stanley G. Akin.

SCHOONER CARRIES 17 ON UNUSUAL CRUISE



TO START FROM NEW BEDFORD

Included in the crew (top) of the schooner Carma, which is scheduled to set out from this port on an indefinite cruise are, left to right: Edwin Ferguson, E. R. Carlson, Sidney Hegh, F. M. Catino; William N. Davis, chief officer; Charles F. Sherman, Alexander McLeod, Dana Carter and Charles Varney. The craft (below) is a former rum runner.

"MORNING AFTER" PICKETS DEFY STIFF RAIN

July 11, 28

At the Kilburn Mill Today

Rain scattered spectators but failed to daunt the pickets who this morning continued last night's long vigil at the Kilburn. Pickets with umbrellas and pickets with newspapers over their hats were numerous. Leaders in the lower picture are Casimero Lameiras and Cesar Barbose.

HOW I. L. D. APPEALS FOR FUNDS

June 20. 28

Defend New Bedford Textile Strikers No. 806

TEXTILE STRIKERS in New Bedford, Mass., are being beaten and clubbed on the picket lines. Five militants, four of them women, have already been arrested and face long jail terms. Three hundred special police have been imported from Boston with the intention of terrorizing the strikers and forcing them back into the mills. Many more arrests are expected. Rally to the defense of these strikers. Keep Labor's prisoners out of jail.

25c INTERNATIONAL LABOR DEFENSE 25c
113 Dudley Street, Boston
Robert Gelaud, Secretary

Brutality Allegation Repudiated By Murdoch

BROKEN WINDOWS ARE DEMONSTRATION TOLL

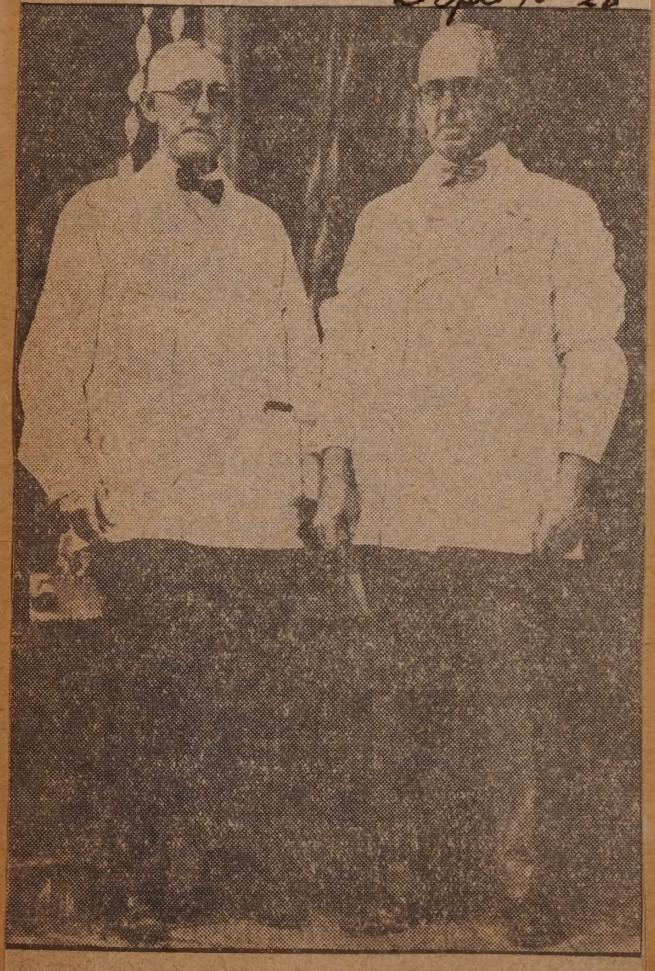
July 11. 28

DAMAGE AT NONQUITT MILL

The upper picture shows a section of the north end of the mill on Belleville avenue. The lower picture is of the office door.

VETERAN CLERKS HEAD FIRM

Sept. 18-28



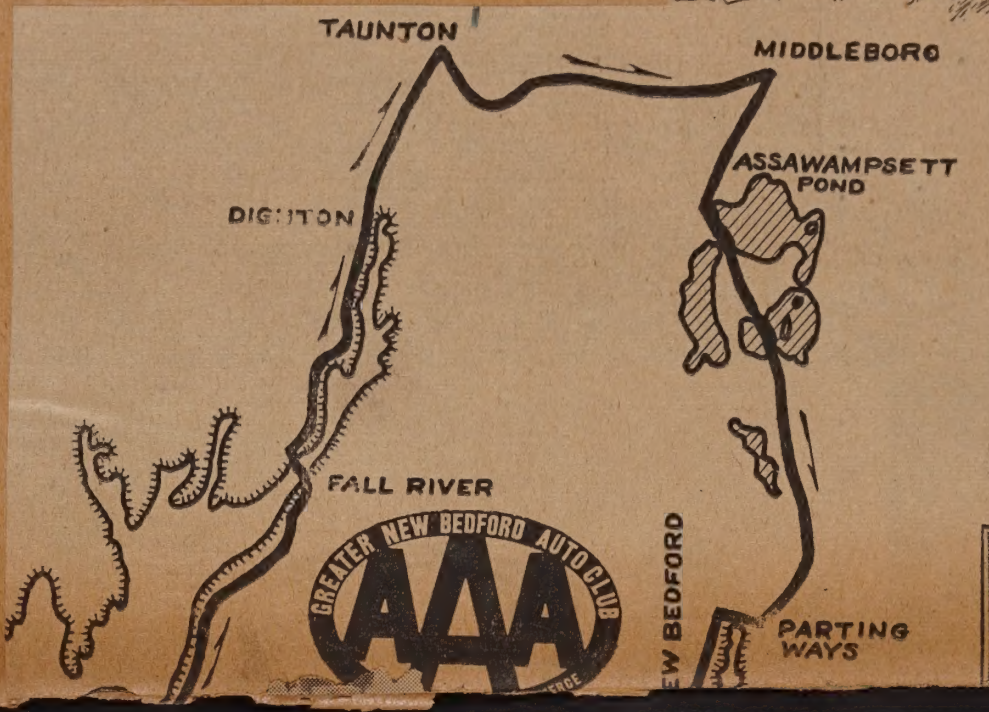
NEW PROPRIETORS OF CUMMINGS STORE

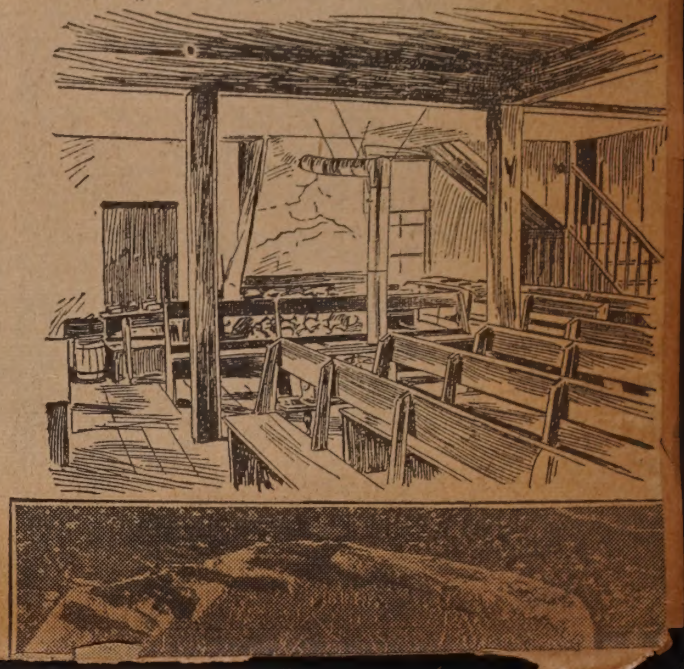
Arthur M. Chace (left) and Edward D. Baker (right) yesterday announced their acquisition of the grocery business of Cummings and Cummings. They have been associated many years with the firm they now head.

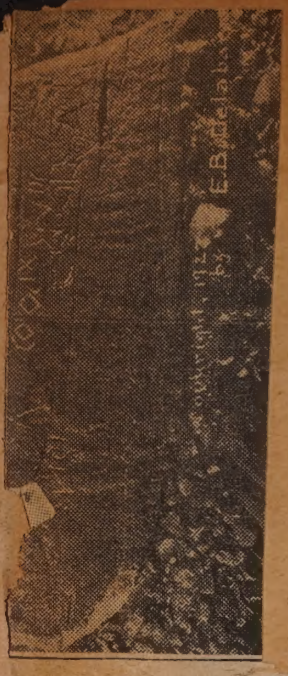
OYILA BRAULT EXHIBITS HIS WORK

BUILDS MODEL BIPLANE

WHERE SUNDAY STANDARD TOUR LEADS







SHOWS METHODS OF HOLDING TENNIC RACKET

July 15-28

Action Pictures as Guide to Beginners

Richard Knowles is shown in action on the courts. Photographs demonstrate correct methods of holding the racket, and correct foot stance for the player. An article for tennis beginners, written by Mr. Knowles, appears on this page.

July 22-1928

BOYHOOD DAYS IN BLACKBURN RECALLED

June 21-28

Chief Almond Welcomes English Visitors

Left to right: Edward Jenkins, Chief Inspector Walter Almond shaking hands with Richard Byrne, his cousin. On the right of Mr. Byrne is William Wilson.

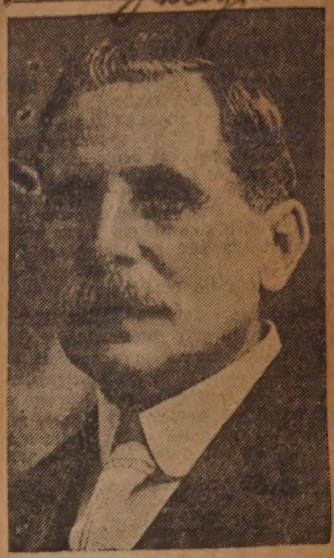
Products of New Toy Company Here

July 22 1928

Amusingly garbed and beribboned in brilliant yellows, blues, purples and reds, these strange animals have begun to emerge by the hundreds from private homes in New Bedford. They are, of course, soft toys, products of the Giff Toy company, New Bedford's newest entrant in the business of creating entertaining articles for children and, perhaps, adults. The animals' anatomy is built up piece by piece in residences scattered throughout the city. (1) Embroidering features upon a rabbit. (2) Sewing bodies; feet, legs and torso [illegible] (4) Bobby Bunny and his junior counter-

DIES AT LONSDALE

July 22 1928



THE REV. ELIJAH HUMPHRIES.

DEAN OF P. M. PASTORS DIES

The Rev. Elijah Humphries, 75, Served New Bedford Church Twice

Remained in Ministry for More Than 50 Years; Began at 14 are all one piece. (3) Tying ribbons [illegible] part, sitting. (5) Peter Poodle and Peter Poodle Jr. [illegible] Kitten and younger sister. (7) Buddy Bear and Buddy Bear Jr.

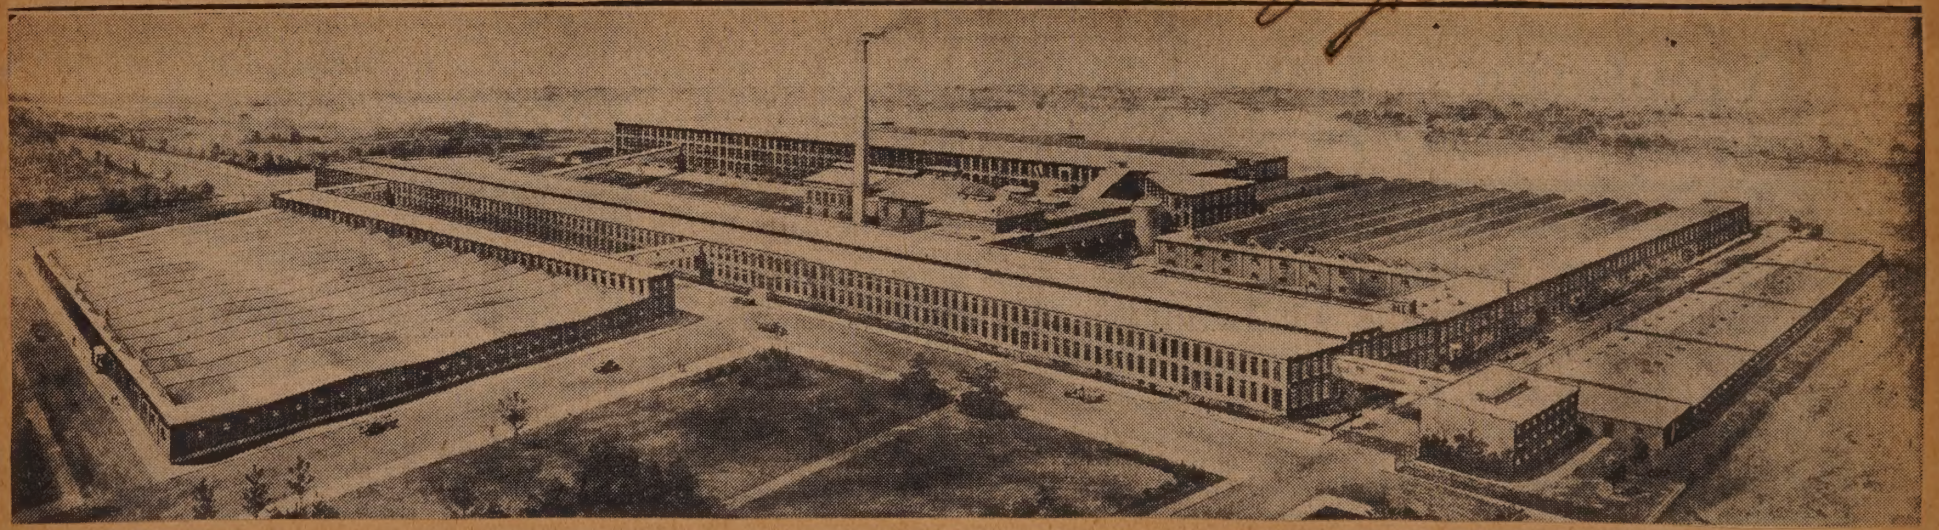
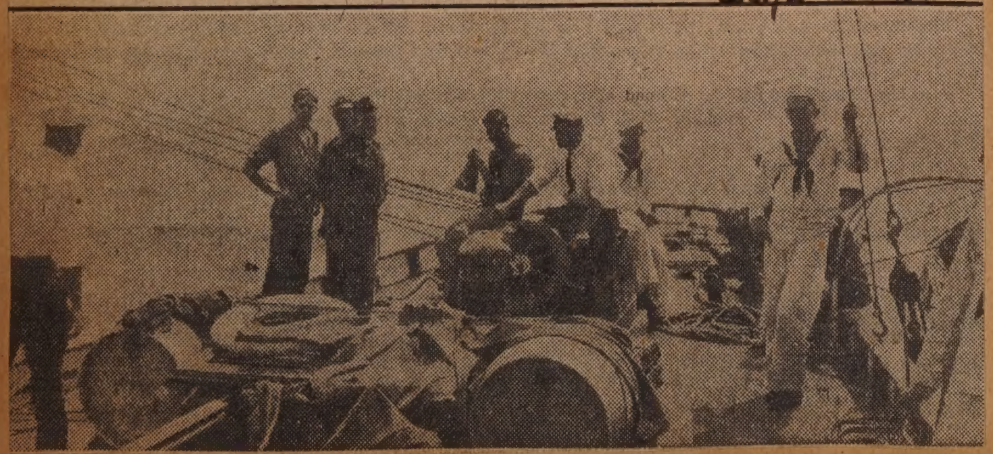
WHERE WHITMAN MILL STOCKHOLDERS EXPECT TO BRAVE STRIKE PICKETS

July 15-28



WHEN SEA SCOUTS CRUISED IN TABOR BOY

Sept 2-28



Two Memories of Summer Cruise

Sea Scouts from Dartmouth and the Wanderer crew from New Bedford cruised on the Tabor Boy in August. These pictures were taken on the cruise.

TOURING CABIN DRAWS CROWDS

July 2 - 1928

WADES VISIT NEW BEDFORD

Clyde Wade, on platform of traveling log cabin, his father, E. A. Wade, below, and Miss Celia Moran, one of the many New Bedford folk who looked the cabin over inside and out today. The senior Wade is owner and builder of the outfit, in which he tours with his son under auspices of Pacific coast lumber associations.

BROWN ALUMNI OF '76 AND '81 HAVE REUNIONS

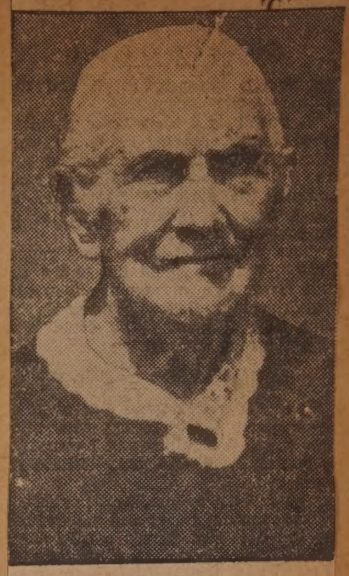
June 17-28

EDMUND WOOD AND FRANK H. GIFFORD HOSTS

The upper picture is of the members of the 1876 class of Brown university holding the 52d annual class reunion at the residence of Edmund Wood, 63 Ash street. Those in the group are: front—row, left to right—Webster Knight, Providence; Henry Leprelate Aldrich, Providence; Charles Howard Poor, Haverhill; Willard Combes Parker, Flemington, N. J. Those in the rear are Edward Aborn Greene, Providence; Charles Reuben Heath, Mystic, Conn.; Dr. Henry Allen Whitmarsh, Providence; Cromwell Turner Schubarth, Boston; Dr. George Carroll Smith, Boston; Dr. Eugene Pride King, Providence; Dr. Arthur Morey Round, Norton, Mass.; Frederic Taber, New Bedford; Dr. Charles Value Chapin, Providence; Richard Hoadley Tingley, Portchester, N. Y.; Edmund Wood, New Bedford.

The lower picture is of the class of 1881 gathered on the Wamsutta club lawn. Those in the group standing, from left to right, are: Paul C. Gifford, Providence; George F. Bean, Boston; Prof. Morgan Brooks, University of Illinois; Henry B. Rose, secretary of the Providence school board; Thomas G. Hazard, civil engineer, Narragansett Pier, R. I.; Howard C. Jewett, Haverhill. Seated, left to right, are: John R. Gladding, Thompson, Conn., and Frank H. Gifford, New Bedford.

DIES AT 95 7/6-28



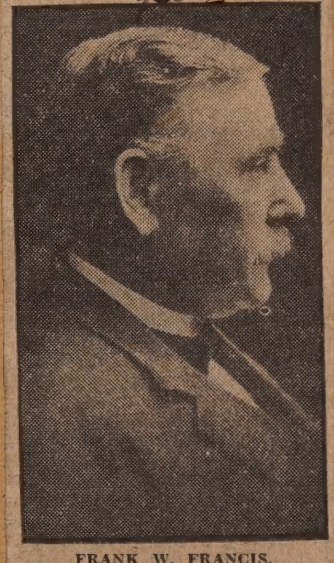
MRS. JULIA ANNE JOHNSON.

AGED ASSONET WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Julia Anne Johnson Celebrated 95th Birthday July 3

Honored at Golden Anniversary of County Neighborhood Convention

DIES IN 71ST YEAR 8/15 7-29



FRANK W. FRANCIS.

FATAL ILLNESS CLOSES CAREER

Frank W. Francis Had Been State Legislator and City Alderman

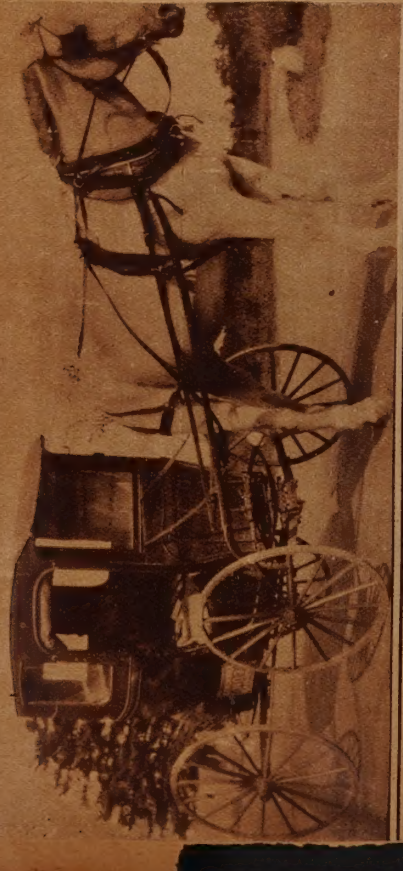
Born in This City, He Long Was Engaged in Tobacco Business

Frank W. Francis, a former member of the state Legislature and of the Board of Aldermen, here, died last night shortly after 11 at his home, 55 Campbell street.

JUNE GRADUATE 1928 June 13

THOMAS M. D. CHASE.

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Chase, 9 Anthony street, is one of the June graduates of the Staunton Military academy, Stanton, Va. He was adjudged the best individually drilled cadet in the school two years ago.



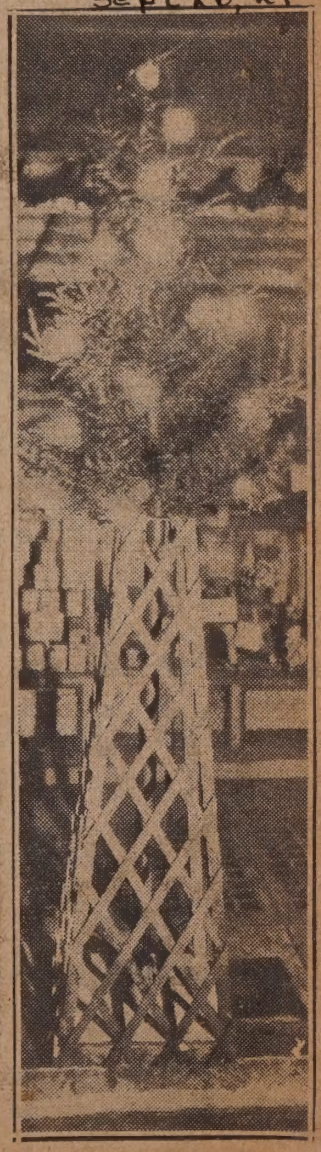
THOSE CHARMING RIDES—In a carriage perhaps half a century old, the Harwich milkman makes his daily rounds. A cluster of books upon the seat indicates he cares little for the fretful rush of this automotive age. Dec 23 1929

July 8, 1928

CLEARING CAPE AIRPORT — Robertson Ayling, right, manager of the Hyannis airport, and Arthur T. Ormsby, Boston, one of the directors, are shown clearing stumps from the Cape Cod landing field. Mr. Ayling is the son of Charles L. Ayling, Centerville and Brookline.

TO BRIGHTEN CENTER

Sept 26, '29



Many Merchants Endorse Tree Plan; Mayor Asks $1,200 for City Use

PINES GUARD GRAVES OF EARLY SETTLERS

June 17-28

Blankinship Cemetery, Marion

July 9, 1928

How Military Spent the Morning

Left, Misses Milly Hormick and Jean Bozak pet the horses of Corporals Joseph Dutra and Joseph Fernandes on reserve near Weld street police station. Right, National Guardsmen awaiting the alrm that did not come lounging in lumber yard at Weld street.

Cheers When the Gates Closed

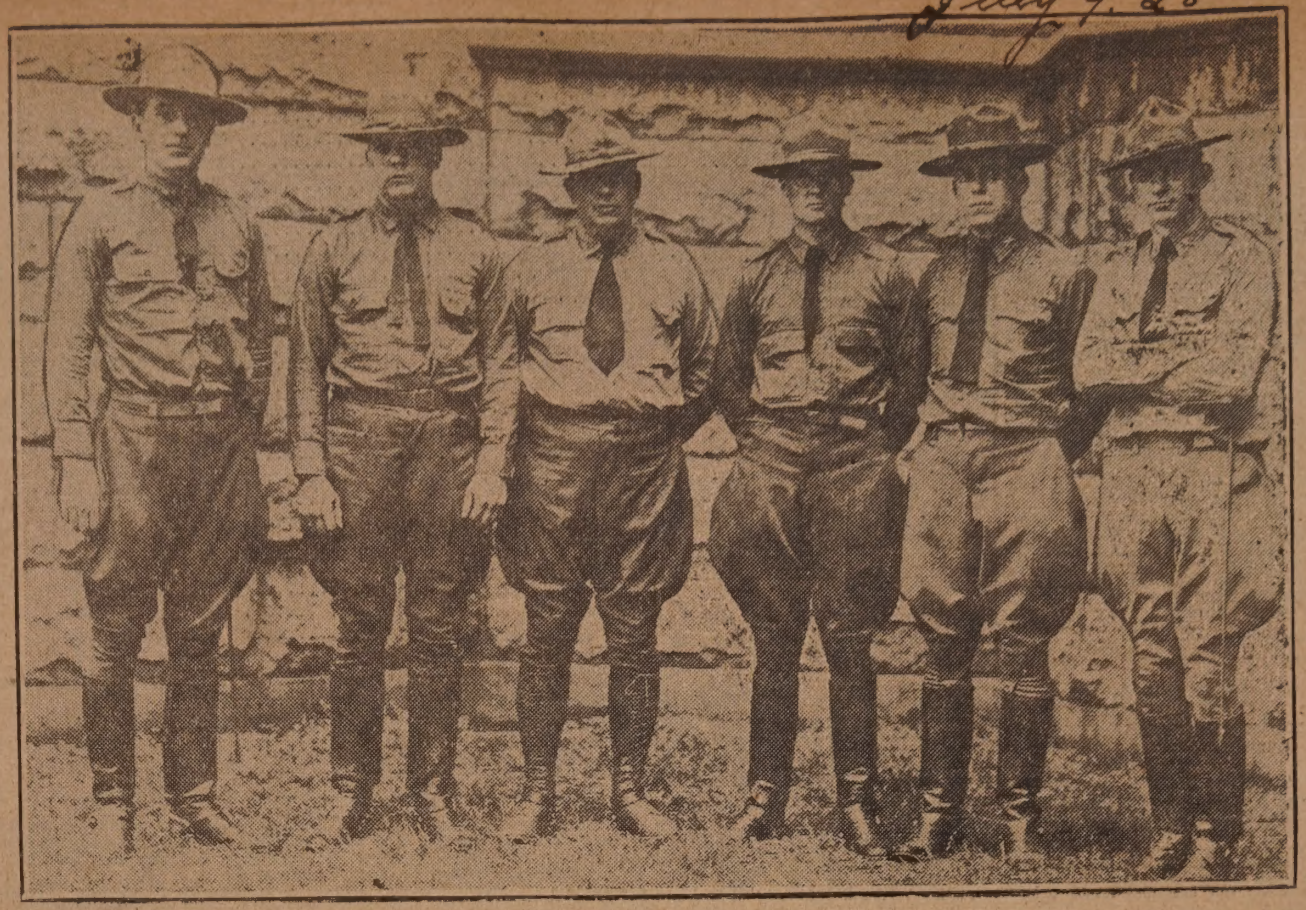
This throng at the Wamsutta mill cheered and waved as the gates were closed after an unsuccessful invitation to worker to return this morning.

ON DUTY

FIRST SERGEANT MURRAY.
George Murray of Battery D is typical of the National Guardsmen on strike duty today

COMMANDERS OF NATIONAL GUARD DETAIL

July 9. 28



Officers Who Waited Riot Call

Left to right—Captain Charles F. Perry Jr., Lieutenant Charles A. Stanley, Lieutenant E. L. Lucas, Lieutenant H. C. Mandell, Lieutenant James Lawlor, Lieutenant E. F. Lindstrom.

GUARDING ARMORY

ON POLICE DUTY.
Private Zachary Spooner in charge of first military police relief at the armory yesterday.

PETITION WHICH GOES TO NAVY SECRETARY

July 14 - 28

The citizens of the City of New Bedford, Massachusetts, through their Mayor, the city government and various organized bodies, respectfully asks that the name of New Bedford be given to one of the cruisers of the United States Navy now authorized by Congress.

No seaport in the United States has carried the flag to such far corners of the globe as has New Bedford, whose ships cruised every sea.

The ship Dartmouth built in 1767 in New Bedford, gained fame as the leader of the ships carrying tea to the Boston Tea Party.

On May 14, 1775, only twenty-four days after Concord and Lexington, a group of patriots from this port fought the First Naval Battle of the Revolutionary War, capturing two British cruisers.

During the Revolution, over five hundred local men served in the army, besides a large number of seamen, and the Port of New Bedford swarmed with privateers which preyed on British shipping. In retaliation for the damage done by these privateers, a great British fleet and force invaded New Bedford on September 5, 1778, burning seventy privateers and other ships, besides buildings and stores.

John Paul Jones, after a battle, put into New Bedford, his ship's scuppers running blood, to bury his dead seamen on New Bedford soil.

The ship Bedford, owned in New Bedford, with a cargo of whale oil, arrived off London, February 6, 1783, being the first vessel to fly the American flag in any British port.

In the War of 1812, scores of New Bedford ships were captured by the British, while many of our seamen were impressed or were confined in British prisons. Again the Port swarmed with privateers, while local men defended the Port from invasion.

Whaling, an important business of New Bedford at the time of the Revolution, grew in importance, reaching its peak in the Fifties, when over seven hundred vessels, manned by over sixteen thousand seamen, hailed from the Port of New Bedford. Over 320 of these were whaling vessels, which, on their three to five years voyages, sailed every ocean of the globe, touched at every port, charted unknown seas, and carried the name and fame of the United States all over the world.

New Bedford sent 3,200 men to the Civil War. During the Civil War, New Bedford suffered heavily. Confederate cruisers burnt twenty-five of our whalers. New Bedford furnished twenty-four whalers for the Stone Fleet which was sunk to blockade the port of Charleston.

After the Civil War, our intrepid whalemen pushed farther and farther into the frozen north, losing between 1871 and 1888 fifty ships crushed in the ice.

With the decline of demand for whale oil, New Bedford turned to cotton manufacturing. Starting in 1846 to manufacture cotton goods, New Bedford is today the Fine Textile Center of the World. New Bedford is the fourth city in Massachusetts in size and in value of manufactured goods.

Many New Bedford men served in the Spanish War, while in the World War, over five thousand men went from New Bedford, many hundreds to serve in the Navy.

We believe that the record which New Bedford men and ships have made on the sea, as well as its present position as a great manufacturing center, make the name New Bedford worthy to be given to a cruiser of our Navy.

The City Government of New Bedford

by Chas S Ashley Mayor

New Bedford Chapter, S. A. R.
by Arthur W. Forbes

New Bedford Chapter, D. A. R.
by Mrs G. J. Lodge Regent

Fort Phoenix Chapter, D. A. R.
by Mariana N. Richmond Regent

New Bedford Board of Commerce
by [illegible]

Rotary Club of New Bedford
by [illegible] President

Kiwanis Club of New Bedford
by Nawed Eberuse President

Chambre de Commerce
by [illegible]

North End Merchants Association
by Dr J C Moncreiff President

South End Merchants Association
by Thomas P. Vaz ... President

Old Dartmouth Historical Society
by George H. Tripp President

Battery E. 241st C. A. C.
by 1st Lt Jeremiah F. Mahoney

Headquarters Co. 101st F. A.
by Chas. A. Hardy Com Officer

British War Veterans
by Robert Halstead Pres.

Navy Club of New Bedford
by George N. Gardner Pres

7th Fleet Division, U. S. N. R. by Milton E Borden Lieut USNR Commanding Officer

American Legion, Post 1
by Laurence Russell

Grand Army of the Republic, Post 1
by Nahum F. Nickelson

Grand Army of the Republic, Post 190
by Geo H. Aldenl Commander

Sons of Union Veterans, Camp 150
by George W. Fuller

Sons of Union Veterans, Camp 35
by Charles H. Boynton, Commander

Spanish War Veterans, Camp 46
by George H. Walker Adj

Veterans of Foreign Wars
by Joseph A. Sanders, Commander

2nd Battalion, 101st F. A.
by Major 101st F. A. Mass. N. G. Commanding

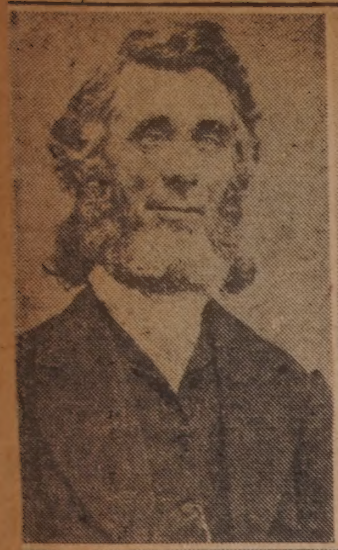
Battery D, 101st F. A.
by Chas D. Peery Capt. Commanding

Battery F, 101st F. A.
by Sydney B. Burrell Capt. 241. C. A.

Boys Scouts of New Bedford
by Jamus H. Mahoney President

LONG POND CHURCH CELEBRATES 40TH ANNIVERSARY

July 25-28



Leading Figures, Past and Present, in Work

On July 1 the little church at Long Pond in the Plymouth woods a few miles from Sagamore observed its 40th anniversary with appropriate exercises. Shown here are: Upper left, the Rev. William Faunce, first preacher at Long Pond, who began his work 94 years ago in the little red schoolhouse. The present chapel was built by his son, William T. Faunce, Boston. Upper center, the church, variously known as Faunce Memorial Union chapel and the Church in the Wildwood. Upper right, the Rev. Oliver W. Bell, present pastor. Below, the Long Pond choir, well known radio broadcasters, left to right, first row: Ellen Manter, Eva Manter, Frances Small; center row, Agnes Douglas, Alice Douglas, Ethel Randall, organist, Jeannette Douglas and Amy Sampson; rear row, Bernard Douglas, Grace Smith, the Rev. Oliver W. Bell, Alfred Douglas, Percy Douglas.

ILLNESS FATAL
12-23-28

Frederick W. Martin, 57, for 25 Years in Insurance Business, Dies

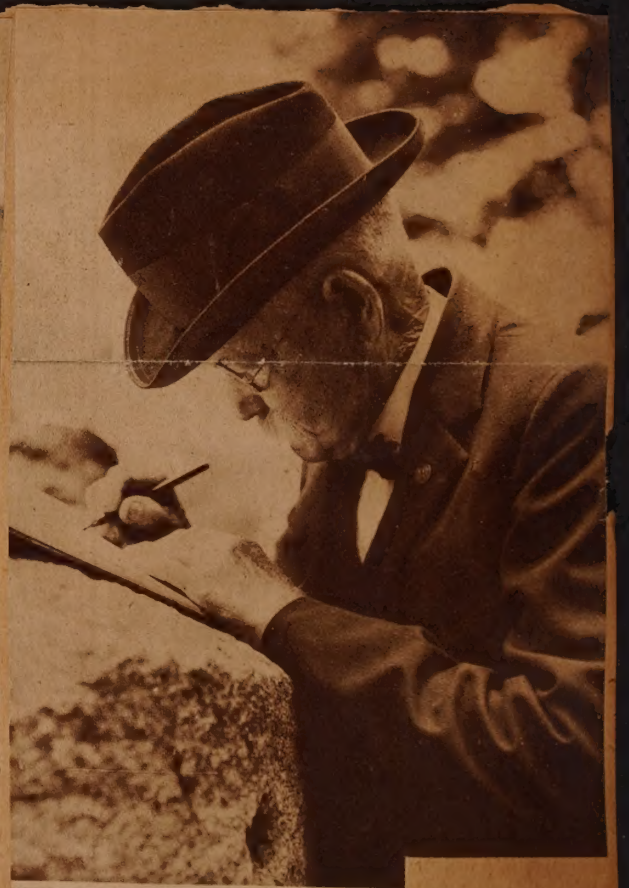
Frederick W. Martin, for more than 25 years connected with the Prudential Life Insurance company in this city, died at his home, 444 Park street, early last evening after a short illness. Mr. Martin had been a resident of this city since 1905, having moved here at that time from New Britain, Conn. He was 57, being born in Albert Mines, New Brunswick, April 2, 1871.

Mr. Martin was very well known in and about this city as a representative of the insurance company, and at the time of his death was a 25 year member of the Prudential Old Guard, an honorary organization of the company. He was also local commander of the Knights of Malta at the time of his death. Mr. Martin attended the First Baptist church.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Jessie G. Martin, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Gertrude W. Dean; two sons, Frederick A. and Irvin M., all of this city; three brothers, Judson Martin, Nashua, N. H., and William Martin and Edmund Martin, New Brunswick; and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Lambert, Seymour, Conn., and Mrs. Seymour Steeves, New Brunswick.

—Photo by M. Grecnan

NANTUCKET HARBOR —A colorful scene along the wharves of the island port. Sept. 16, 1928



Sept 2, 1928

SIGNS AT CARVER—George W. Thomas, 85, last Plympton G. A. R. member, registers at the Carver Old Home day celebration.

VETERAN DIES
Nov. 27, 28

DR. HENRY A. SHURTLEFF.

END COMES TO DR. SHURTLEFF

Retired Physician Succumbs to Failing Health in Mattapoisett

Native of Town, Who Practiced in Brockton, Leaves Brothers Here

Dr. Henry A. Shurtleff, 84, retired physician of Mattapoisett, died yesterday at noon at his home on Fairhaven road. He had been failing in health for the last year.

Native of Mattapoisett.

He was a native of Mattapoisett and attended the public schools there. In the Civil war, he enlisted with a Mattapoisett company, with which he served until the close of the war. He then returned to Mattapoisett and opened a dry goods store, which he conducted for a number of years. On his retirement from that business he attended Dartmouth college and Baltimore Medical school and was graduated in 1893. A few months after his graduation he went to Brockton and opened a practice in that city. He lived in Brockton for 30 years and on his retirement returned to Mattapoisett where he had liver ever since.

Leaves Daughter.

Dr. Shurtleff was the son of the late Alvah and Johanna Burges Hammond Shurtleff. In June, 1873, he was married to Miss Sarah M. B. Washburn, Mattapoisett, who died in 1916. He was a member of St. George's lodge, A. F. and A. M., Brockton, and of the Brockton Medical society. He attended the Universalist church in Mattapoisett and was at one time a member of the G. A. R.

Surviving Dr. EShurtleff are one daughter, Miss Alice H. Shurtleff, Mattapoisett; an one brother, Israel H. Shurtleff, New Bedford, druggist.

14

POLAR BEAR VISITS MARTHAS VINEYARD

SEPT 18-28

Entertainment for the Home Folks

Lieutenant Commander Edward H. Smith's first port of call when he brought the Coast Guard cutter Marion back from his summer study of Arctic ice conditions was Vineyard Haven where this week grownups and children of his home town flocked aboard to see the live polar bear captured by the expedition. Above, Marion (as the bear was named) is seen just after her capture off Cape Dier, Baffin land on Aug. 15. Three bears were sighted eating a seal on a cake of ice. Two were shot. The third was roped from a dory. Below is Marion being hoisted aboard and not liking it a bit. Boatswain Krestensen has wound a temporary muzzle about her snout and has his hand on her fat neck.

EARNS NEW DEGREE

June 15, 1929

Miss James to Receive B. A. from Boston University Next Week

Miss Miriam E. James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. James, 80 Willis street, will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree at the commencement exercises at Boston university next week.

Miss James graduated from the university last June and at that time received the degree of Bachelor of Science She enrolled in the graduate school at the university last summer where she studied for a few months. She has completed her thesis this year while teaching at the Knox school for girls, Cooperstown, N. Y., a position she accepted last September.

GETS DEGREE

June 23, 1929

Antoine Lagasse Graduated from Bates College, Lewiston, Me.

JUNE 23, 1929

STANISLAUS BENJAMIN.

SELF MADE MAN RUNS VARIETY STORE 25 YEARS AND LIKES IT

HORSENECK BEACH FIRE BURNS BUILDINGS TO GROUND

Sept-17-28

Only Foundation Posts Remain Standing

Rows of concrete foundation posts like tombstones in a soldiers' cemetery mark the site of buildings destroyed by fire at Horseneck beach, Westport, early yesterday morning. These included The Breakers bowling alley and skating rink, the Horseneck hotel, and Brightman and Howland's garage. At the extreme left is seen the vacant A. and P. store, which suffered serious fire damage. The road clearly shown in the right half of the picture is the route to Gooseberry neck.

GEORGE F. WINSLOW DIES AFTER ILLNESS OF SEVERAL MONTHS

Retired Rear Admiral Saw 42 Years' Active Service in Medical Corps of U. S. Navy—Record One of Steady Promotion — Was Father of Postmaster

9-5-28

Rear Admiral George F. Winslow, M. C., U. S. Navy, retired, died at the New Bedford hotel Monday noon after an illness of several months. He had spent practically his whole life as a medical officer in the Navy, several times being cited for meritorious conduct—twice by foreign governments for aid given to their subjects.

ENDS LONG CAREER

GEORGE F. WINSLOW.
Rear Admiral, U. S. N., Retired.

W. C. T. U. HEADQUARTERS

Nov 11-28

HOUSE IS LEASED.

The house at 271 Pleasant street, where the New Bedford chapter of the W. C. T. U. will make its headquarters in the future. For many years the union met in the vestry of the North Christian church, and for some time has planned to establish a home for its activities. At a meeting last week, it was voted to lease this house for that purpose.

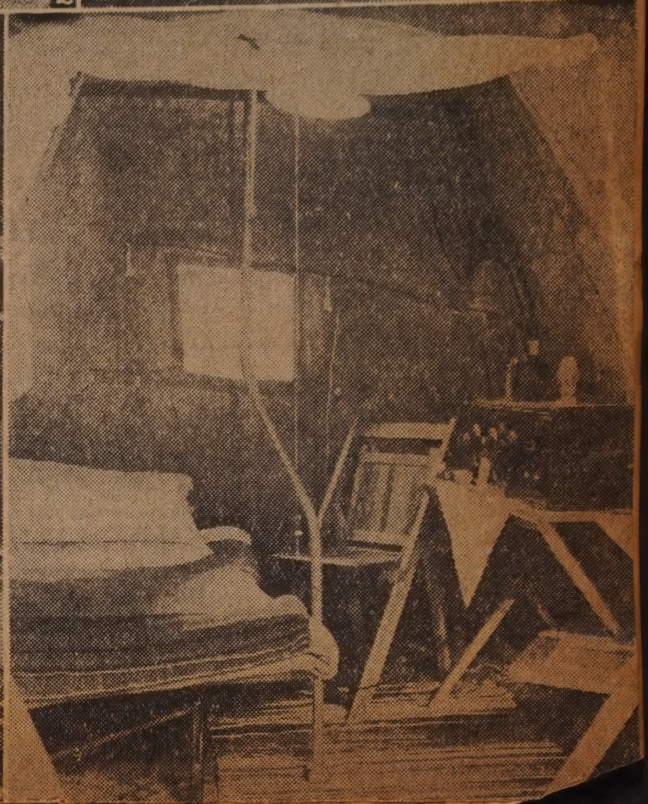
HONEYMOON CAMPING TRIP PROLONGED AT HATETOQUITIT

Sept 16-28

1

2

3



Mr. and Mrs. Howe Lovers of Outdoors

The scenes above show Mr. and Mrs. Allan R. Howe at Camp Hatetoquitit.

(1) Meals cooked over a gasoline stove in their living tent's storm porch and eaten in the sunshine describe the gastronomic phase of their camp life.
(2) The Standard and Mercury keep them in touch with doing of the outside world. Close to the living tent, with its stove and ice chest, stands a storage shed, on one side of which Mr. Howe dug a well, put in a pump and work bench, sheltered with a storm fly.
(3) This view shows the source of the woodsman's serenity. It comes from self-communion over the smoldering logs of the camp fire.
(4) From oak and birch growth about the spot the campers built a rustic fence and arch. The title board, Hatetoquitit, to them means more than some signs they have seen—and this view suggests they've no intention of quitting it for a while.
(5) The camp is equipped with a comfortable folding bed, provided with springs and pillows. Nearby is a radio, complete with loudspeaker. The furnishing crowded the umbrella tent at first, but Mr. Howe solved the difficulty by putting a bend in the central support, leaving plenty of room.

FRIENDSHIP OF 10 YEARS AGO RENEWED

9-18-38

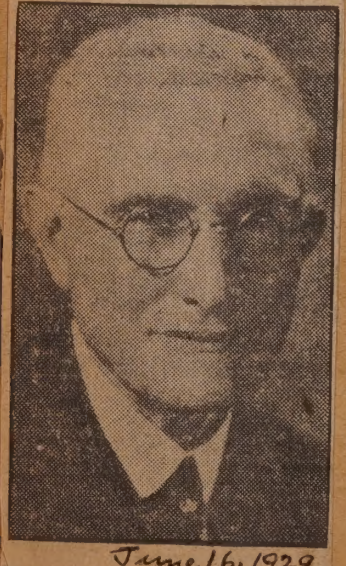
Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Frommell

SANDWICH DEDICATES $200,000 BUILDING

Sept. 4. 38

The Henry T. Wing School

WEDS AT 75



June 16, 1929

Robert Woodland Marries Mrs. Jane Hogue, Also 75, of Danville, Ky.

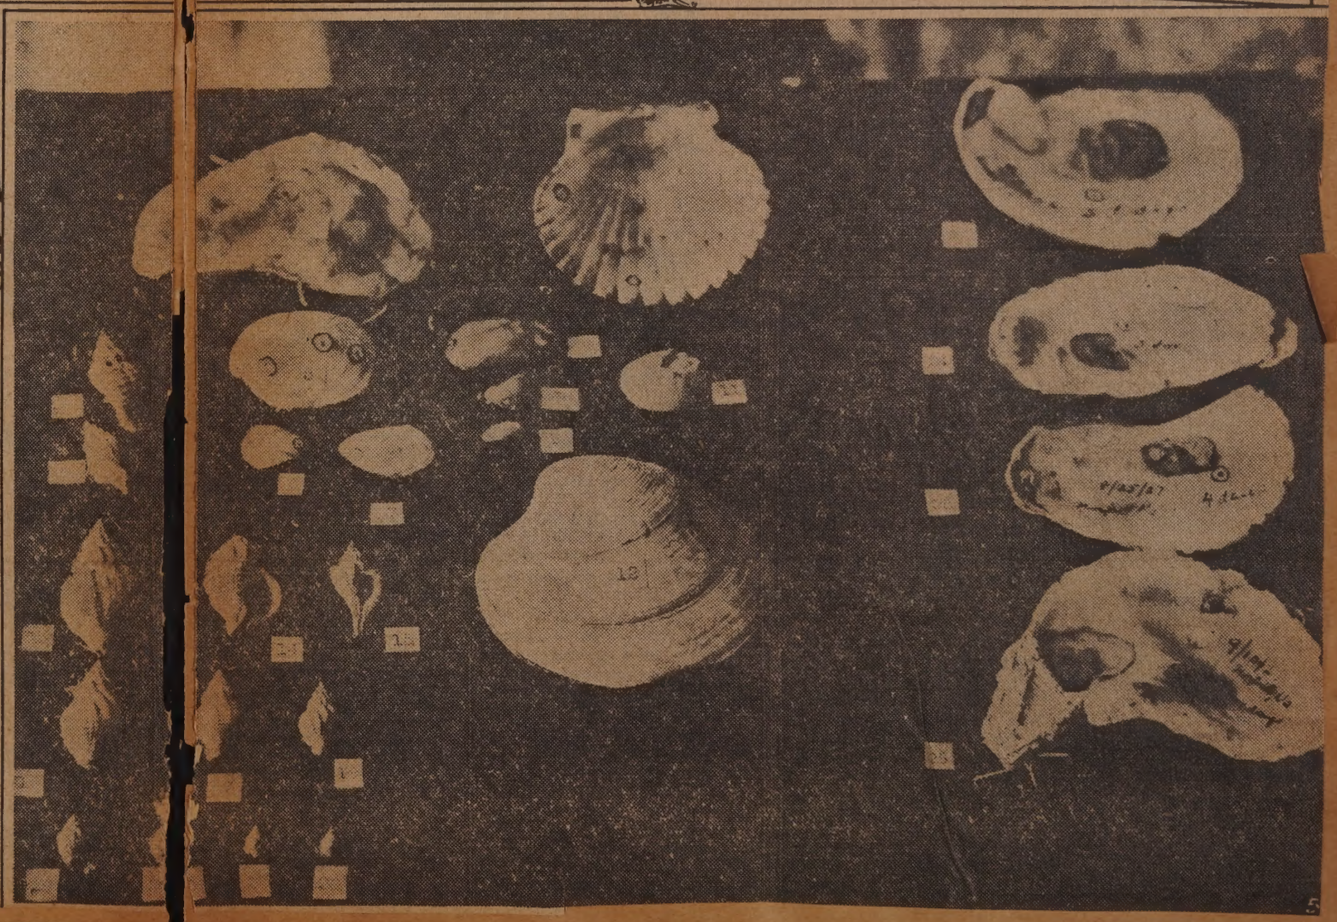
June 14, 1929

MISS DOROTHY C. LINDSAY.

PONDS TO RIVAL FIELDS IN YIELDING FOOD CROPS

Sept-16-28

Director of Bureau of Fisheries Laboratory at Woods Hole Declares Fish Husbandry Has Become an Actuality and Farmers Will Soon Take Harvests from Streams—Oyster Forecasts Prove Valuable



Here and There at Woods Hole

(1) Exhibit prepared by Dr. Paul S. Galtsoff of the Bureau of Fisheries to show the destructive work of the drill that attacks oysters and other shellfish. The encircled dots are holes bored by this species of snail. The big shell at the bottom shows a ... action.

(2) E. W. Bailey of the U. S. Bureau of Fisher... mackerel, the first step in a statistical study ... tion of mackerel.

(3) Drifts of clematis bloom under the willow... the sights enjoyed by the scientists who re...

(4) Woods Hole is proud of the new dormitori... finished late last summer.

...s staff measuring proportions of a ...which may throw light on the migra...

...verlooking Little Harbor are among ...n late at Woods Hole.

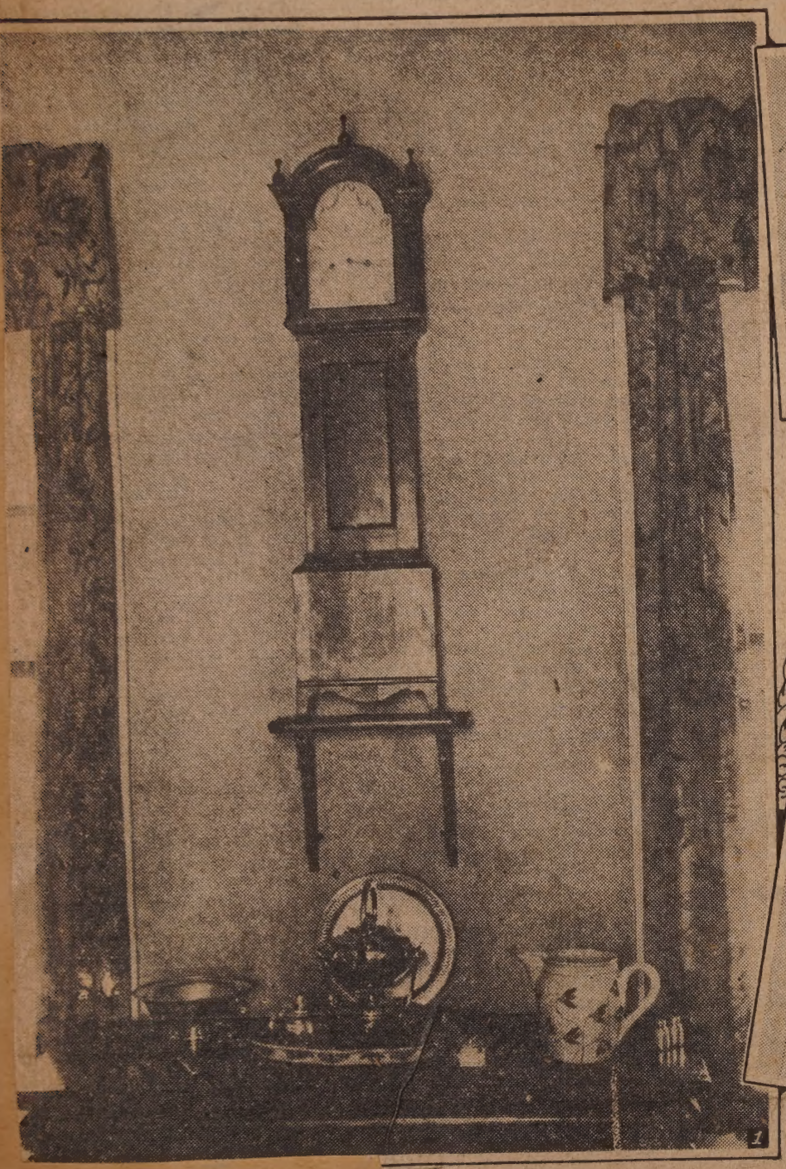
...f the Marine Biological Laboratory,

(5) Left, an exhibit of the drill in various stages. Right, the growth of oyster spat from day to day illustrated in the circled areas.

S. TABER IDENTIFIED AS

Memorandum and Clipping from The Standard of 1885, Conta

Work, Done in Exchange



Fine Old New Bedford Timepieces

(1) Grandmother clock owned by Mrs. Horatio C. Allen, 11 Eighth street, the work of John Bailey, Hanover—about 115 years old.

(2) and (5) Memoranda that accompanied a Stephen Taber grandfather clock, the first made by Taber in New Bedford, bequeathed to the Old Dartmouth Historical society by the late Walton and Anna Ricketson.

(4) and (6) Face and full length view of the Taber clock now in the Old Dartmouth museum. This clock is 130 years old.

(3) Work of another oldtime New Bedford clockmaker, Alanson Gooding, who had a shop on the south side of Union street, two doors west of First street, many years ago. This handsome mahogany specimen, with twisted columns, filigree carved top and marine scene above the face, is owned by Miss Elizabeth K. Howland, 95 Madison street. It is more than 100 years old, and it has been handed down in the family from Ephraim Kempton, great-grandfather of Miss Howland.

(7) A fine inlaid mahogany case and fluted columns made this David K. Akin clock, age unknown, too elaborate to be acceptable to the Quaker great-grandfather of [illegible] Horatio C. Allen, present owner.

LD CLOCKMAKER HERE

July 15-28

ed in Back of Ricketson Timepiece, Tell Story of Valued or Board and Lodging

This clock, made in 1798, is the first one made [illegible] New Bedford, by Stephen Taber, for my great grandfather, Daniel Ricketson, — descending from him to his only son, Joseph Ricketson; from Joseph Ricketson descending to his eldest son Daniel Ricketson, and from Daniel Ricketson to me, his eldest son.

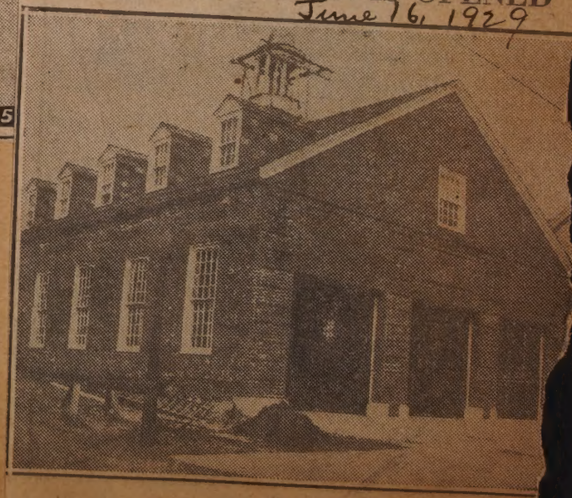
Arthur Ricketson

5

See next page

NEW FIRE STATION IS OPENED

June 16, 1929



NANTUCKET'S MODERN QUARTERS

July 15. 1928 S. Taber's

END COMES AT 68
Aug 5-28

MRS. SUSAN C. MILLIKEN.

FIRST GOLD STAR MOTHER IS DEAD

Mrs. Milliken, Born in City, Succumbs After Four Month Illness

Was Eastern Star Chapter Past Matron and Led Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Susan C. Milliken, who became New Bedford's first Gold Star mother in the World war, when her son, Lieutenant Alfred S. Milliken, was killed in battle, and who also was the first president of the Women's auxiliary of the American Legion post here, died yesterday at 87 Chestnut street.

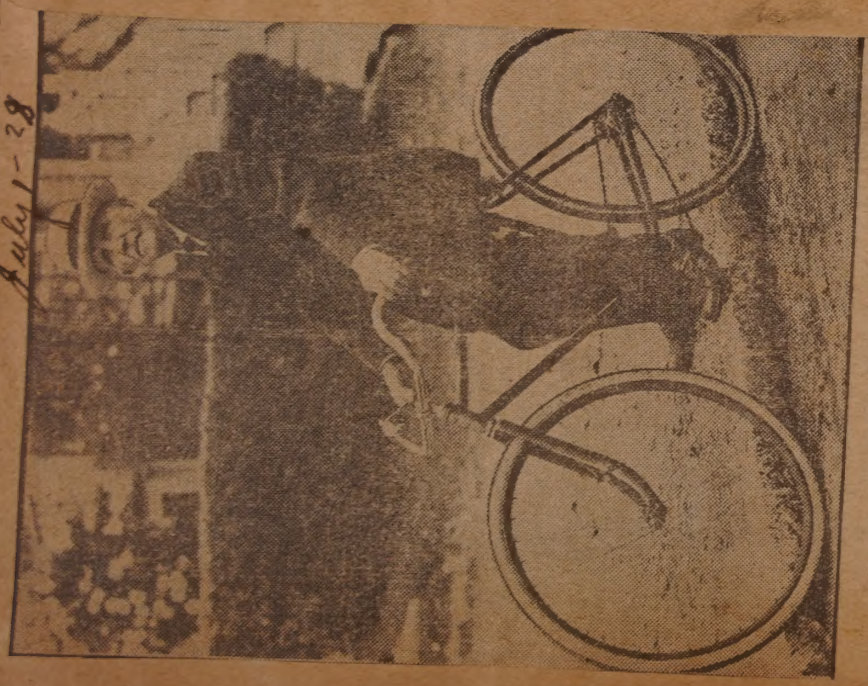
Born in New Bedford nearly 69 years ago, she had been a resident of this city all her life with the exception of three years in Providence. She was a member of the North Congregational church, and was a past matron in the Order of the Eastern Star chapter.

Mrs. Milliken's election to the presidency of the Women's auxiliary of the American Legion was unanimous when that organization was organized here in February, 1920. At this time Mrs. Milliken said: "I think that the formation of the auxiliary is a splendid move, for whatever interests our boys is surely of interest to their mothers, their sisters, their wives, and their daughters, and I think, too, that the affairs of the Legion will be all the more enjoyable because of the efforts of the auxiliary."

Mrs. Milliken was the widow of Frank Milliken. They were married in New Bedford in 1881. She is survived by one son, F. Wellman Milliken, Providence, and a sister, Mrs. Charles E. E. Mosher, 109 Chestnut street.

Mrs. Milliken had been at the rest home, 87 Chestnut street, for the last six months. She had been ill four months, during which time she suffered from a shock. Mr. Milliken died in July, 1922.

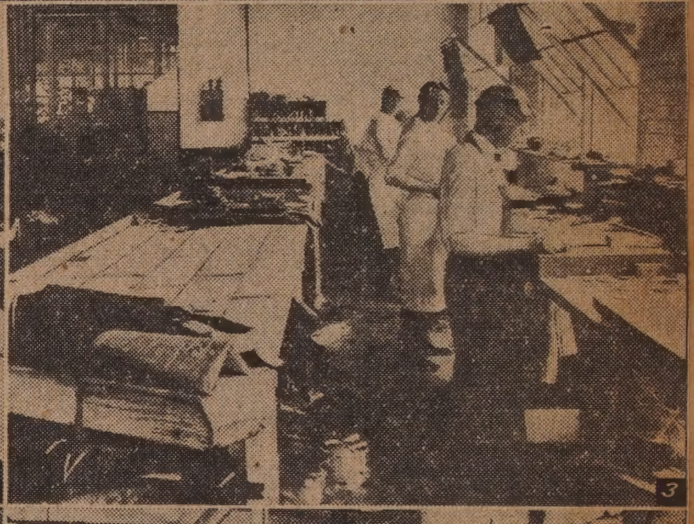
BICYCLE AT AGE OF 90
July 1-28

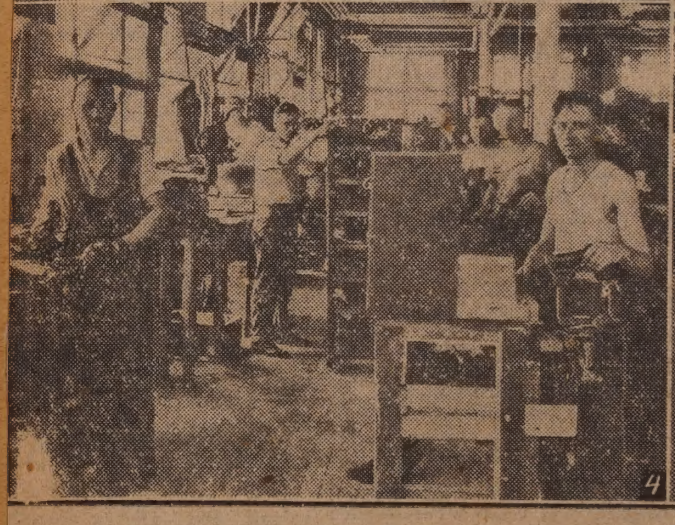


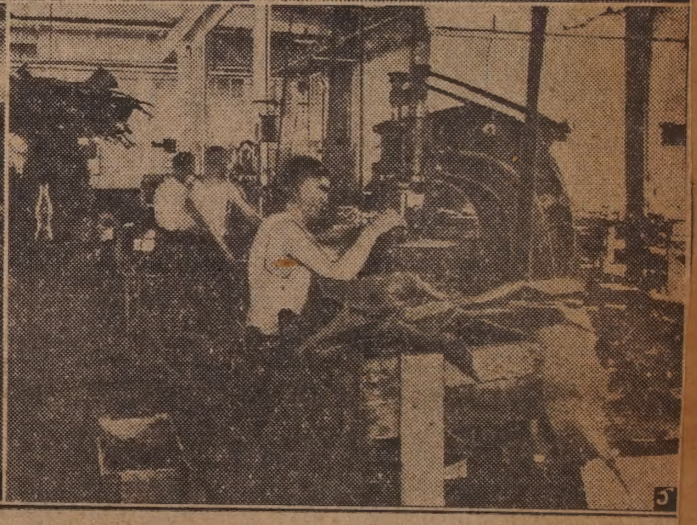
THOMAS DENTON
Mr. Denton, 37 Edna street, will celebrate his 90th birthday July 3, riding his bicycle, on which he takes rides every pleasant day.

WHERE OFFICERS AND WORKERS PULL TOGETHER

Sept -2- 28







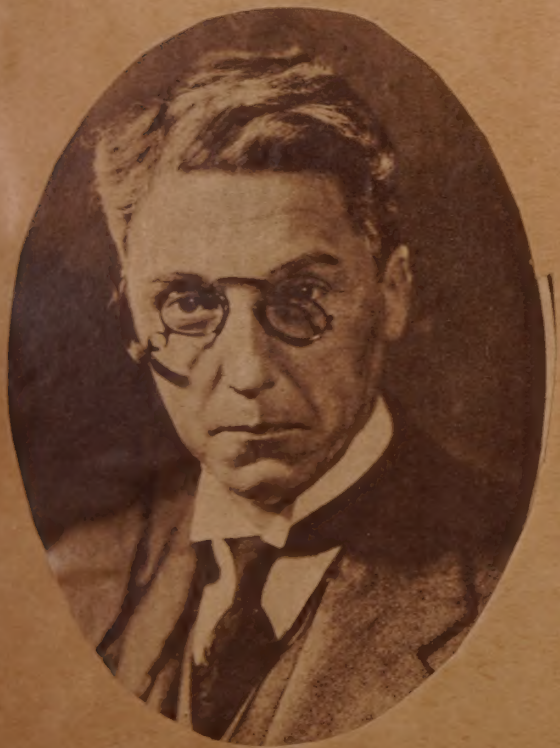
Scenes in Lefevre-Oatman Shoe Plant

(1) Officers of the company, standing, left to right, Charles Oatman, treasurer, Joseph Lefevre, president, Israel Blume, director, Miss Yvette Rouillier, office manager; seated, William O'Connor, secretary and clerk. (2) In the quartermaking department where the uppers are assembled and sewn. (3) Cutters at work. (4) Where the shoes are lasted, shaped and made ready for soling. (5) Stamping out soles.

July 29, 1928

—Photos by Harper

IN COSTUME—The Fairhaven Players closed the season with Lightnin', the title role played by Alfred Nye. Here is the cast. The photograph at left shows Jack Harper in role of the judge, Lemuel Townsend.



Aug 12, 1928

—Edelrach Photo

JOSEPH R. GLENNON—A recent photograph of the chairman of the Board of Health.

Aug 12, 1928

A BUSY CHIEF—Ever since he assumed office as the head of the New Bedford Police department, Samuel D. McLeod has found plenty to do. He is shown at his desk, going about his work with characteristic determination.

—Bachrach Photo

Aug. 12/1928

PUTS CAPE INTO STORY — Joseph C. Lincoln, native and resident of Cape Cod, is famous for his stories and poems interpreting the people among whom he has spent the most of his life.

OLD STONE BRIDGE— A scene near the herring run in Mattapoisett.

Sept 16, 1928

Aug. 30, 1928

NAT P. SOWLE WITH GRANDSONS

Former State Senator Sowle is seeking the Republican nomination for the upper house of the Legislature this year in opposition to Senator Alfred M. Bessette. Mr. Sowle is shown here with his two grandsons, Robert Vincent Tessier, five, and Paul Conrad Tessier, nine. The boys are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Conrad C. Tessier.

Aug 28 1928

MILTON JR. AND L. T. WOOLFENDEN

Representative Lawrence Theodore Woolfenden with his grandson, Milton Woolfenden Jr.

Aug. 28. 1928

ALBERT A. BAKER.

HOLDS TITLE AS COFFEE DRINKER

Albert A. Baker, Native of City, Says He Is World's Champion

Returns After 10 Years; Aids Crash Victim on Fall River Road

Albert A. Baker, son of Zoel Baker, Sconticut Neck road, Fairhaven, says he is the champion coffee drinker of the world.

After an absence of 10 years from this vicinity, where he was born and raised, he has returned for a four weeks' vacation. His first act on returning to his native city was to bring an injured man to St. Luke's hospital after an accident Saturday night on the Fall River road.

Tells How He Got Title.

Mr. Baker said that he was following the Providence-Fall River bus, of the Interstate Limited Motor Coach company, when he saw the bus suddenly swerve to one side and then strike a horse and wagon in which were two men, a woman, and a child. One of the men, Michael Horvitz, 40, Westport, was the most seriously injured, and Mr. Baker brought him to the hospital here.

Mr. Baker is a debonair young champion. Since he left New Bedford 10 years ago he has traveled thousands of miles all over the United States, Canada, Panama, Brazil, and Mexico. He left his birthplace here to engage in business in California. In 1925, he met Gus Sevett, who then held the coffee drinking championship, with a record of drinking 86 cups in six hours. Mr. Sevett opened an international championship contest, and Mr. Baker entered, with the result that he improved on Sevett's record by 10 cups. He was then proclaimed the world's champion.

Eats 500 Feet of Spaghetti.

The following week Baker drank 157 cups of Sevett's 50. "I then began to see prospects in entering the profession of coffee drinking," says Mr. Baker. "Since then I have accepted all challengers, and as yet have not ben defeated. I always have challengers examined by reputable physicians to determine if they are responsible parties, physically fit to undertake the task.

"I have been examined 150 times by different physicians, and have had X-ray examinations, all of which have shown me to be absolutely normal

Mr. Baker's records are: 86 cups in one hour, an endurance test; 25 cups in two minutes, a speed test; and 280 cups in 4½ hours, the world's record established in Milwaukee, Jan. 6, 1928. Besides these coffee drinking records, he has records of eating 10 quarts of ice cream, drinking five gallons of water, drinking 150 bottles of near beer, eating 18 dozen eggs, and eating 500 feet of spaghetti.

Interested in Law.

He didn't count the number of cups of coffee he drank in 1926, but he estimates that since he started drinking coffee for records he has consumed 30,000 cups, 15,000 in 1927, 10,122 thus far this year. He has represented 372 coffee concerns, faced 52 opponents, and still remains undefeated. "The closest I ever came to defeat," he says, "was when one challenger drank 157 cups to my 280."

Mr. Baker is booked to take pare in the Chicago Food show, which begins Sept. 22. Then he will appear in Washington, D. C., and York, Pa. After this year he is going to retire from coffee drinking, as he is much interested in law. He has found time during his extensive travels to study law with the LaSalle Extension university, from which institution he has a diploma, and he hopes to pass the Massachusetts Bar association examinations.

"Many may consider my performance unnatural and unusual," says Mr. Baker, "and may think it entails physical punishment. However, it is a known fact and verity of human experience that the human body may be so trained as to meet any desire or need. To that end, through systematic physical training and care, I have developed my God given organs to contain without injury an abnormal amount of food and fluid."

CHARLES T. RIPLEY, TAUNTON, PASSES BY 92D MILESTONE

aug. 17. 28

Provincetown Native Was Twice Colonel of G. A. R. Staff and Saw Fighting with Union Army—Captained Navy Yard Police at Charlestown for Years

Taunton, Aug. 18—Charles T. Ripley, twice appointed colonel on the staff of the national commander of the G. A. R., a native of Provincetown, and for several years a resident of Taunton, on Aug. 10 observed his 92d birthday quietly at the residence of his son, Charles F. Ripley, 180 High street. Many friends of the veteran dropped in to pay their respects and discuss the topics of the day with him.

Served at Charlestown.

Colonel Ripley, who is still in remarkable health with the exception of his hearing, enjoyed a thrilling tour of duty in the Civil war, serving with both the Army and naval forces. His varied experiences also included work at the Charlestown Navy yard, where he was for 50 years the captain of the Navy yard police.

Colonel Ripley was born in Provincetown, Aug. 10, 1836, but left there while very young and went to Boston. After attending night school and clerking in a Boston store, he started for California shortly after the gold rush, to join other members of his family who made the perilous trip at the height of the rush. When he reached New York in the winter of 1861, he enlisted at Franklin square with the New York Zouaves, a crack regiment. He subsequently became adjutant of his outfit, which was at first stationed on Staten island.

Orders came to the Zouaves while they were at their Staten island camp, awaiting their start of active duty, for the outfit to join the 61st New York infantry and be mustered in for service. The company refused to serve with the 51st and thereby lose its identity, and a small sized rebellion loomed when a non-commissioned officer refused to obey the orders to transfer. After Adjutant Ripley had given the men a short talk upon their duties and obligations, the men in a body all obeyed the order to join the 61st. Using a musket ramrod for a saber, he marched his men, in their gaily colored uniforms, to Fort Thompson, about four miles away on the island, to be mustered in for service.

Colonel Ripley later went to Washington with a brigade consisting of the Fifth New Hampshire, 81st Pennsylvania and 61st and 64th New York infantries under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Barlow. Colonel Ripley then was a captain of the 61st.

Camps at Alexandria.

Ordered to relieve General Burnside, the Fourth Rhode Island and 61st New York and the brigade went to Alexandria shortly after their arrival in the South, under command of General O. O. Howard. The units went into camp about four miles outside of Alexandria, unsupplied with ammunition excepting the Fifth New Hampshire, which had some artillery and shot. The rest of the brigade had only the bayonets for use in case of an engagement. The outfit was soon recalled shortly to Alexandria and then sent to camp at what was later known as Fort Worth, a couple of miles away, for a four months' stay, until March, 1862.

The brigade soon was sent to McClellan's Army and went to Newburne and Harrisons landing, North Carolina, on the James river, and participated in the seven days' engagement on the peninsula with McClellan's Army. The 61st New York lost six of its 10 captains in this period of fighting.

CHARLES T. RIPLEY.

In 1862 Colonel Ripley resigned his captaincy in the 61st New York and left the brigade to be transferred to the naval flotilla in the South, taking command of the gunboat Huzzah. The Huzzah, a 900 ton craft, was under orders to patrol the North Carolina coast and the James river district to prevent smuggling to the besieged southern sea coast cities by foreign steamships. Colonel Ripley was given a roving commission in charge of this district. In 1864 he was mustered out of service and returned to Boston.

Checked Treft of Stores.

Colonel Ripley, after his service ended, became a bookkeeper for three years before making application for the captaincy of the Charlestown Navy yard police.

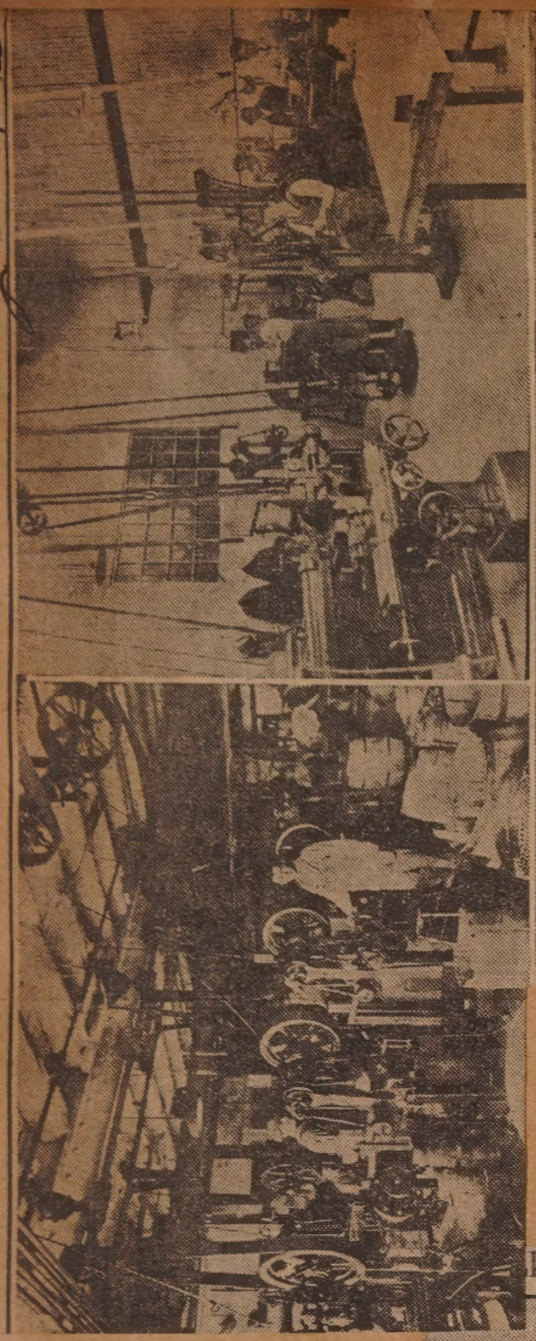
Charlestown at that time was one of the wildest sections of Metropolitan Boston, especially during political campaigns. For 50 years Colonel Ripley held the post of captain of the police, and was instrumental in cleaning up the district and preventing stealing of government stores from the Navy yard storehouses. He held the office of deputy marshal of the Navy yard, and was the only marshal it ever had. He still holds the position, never having resigned or been discharged.

Charles T. Ripley has one son, Charles F. Ripley, a member of the firm of Ripley and Glavin. He is a member of the Odd Fellows, and a past grand of a Charlestown lodge. He was formerly a member of Mt. Taber lodge of East Boston, A. F. and A. M.; a past commander of Abraham Lincoln post, G. A. R., of Charlestown, and a member of Bunker Hill camp, No. 5, of Charlestown. In 1917 he came to this city to make his residence with his son.

Colonel Ripley was a close friend of General Barlow until the general died on Barlows knoll, Gettysburg. Barlow was first lieutenant colonel of the 61st New York when Colonel Ripley enlisted in that unit.

WHERE MILLIONS OF WIRING DEVICES ARE MADE ANNUALLY

June 17. 28



In John I. Paulding, Inc., Shops

Top left: Stamping machines which bite out the metal parts of electric wiring devices from ribbons of steel, brass and copper running swiftly between their jaws. Top right: Machinists at work making dies and tools for the porcelain molding plant which has just been added to the John I. Paulding factory. This machine shop is but one of two in the big Kings highway plant; it operates exclusively for the pottery division, the other for the metal working and assembling departments. Bottom: Girls assembling and inspecting switches. The heap of switches before the girl in the left foreground are being inspected on a contact and bulb device at her fingertips. Failure of the bulb to light at each turn of the switch sends the piece back to be reassembled and corrected.

EADERS OF FAST GROWING CONCERN

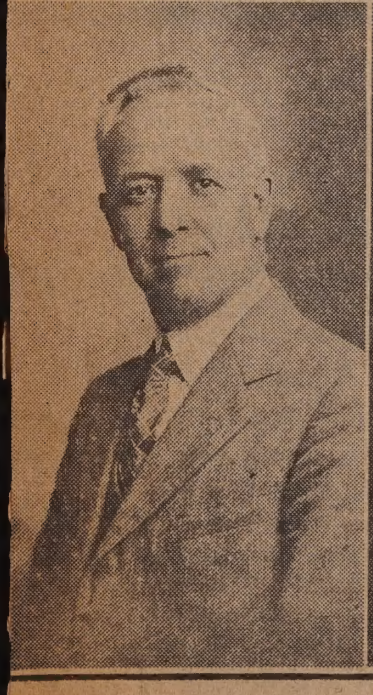
June 17-28

Paulding Company Management

Seated, left to right, Ruth J. Nelson, Gustaf A. Johnson, Arthur A. Johnson. Standing, William A. Ross, [illegible]apol[illegible] Bourgeois, Emory E. Wallace, Carl A. Johnson, and Henry P. Carrier.

ASPIRANT FOR CLERKSHIP HAS SEVEN CHILDREN

Aug. 17, 28

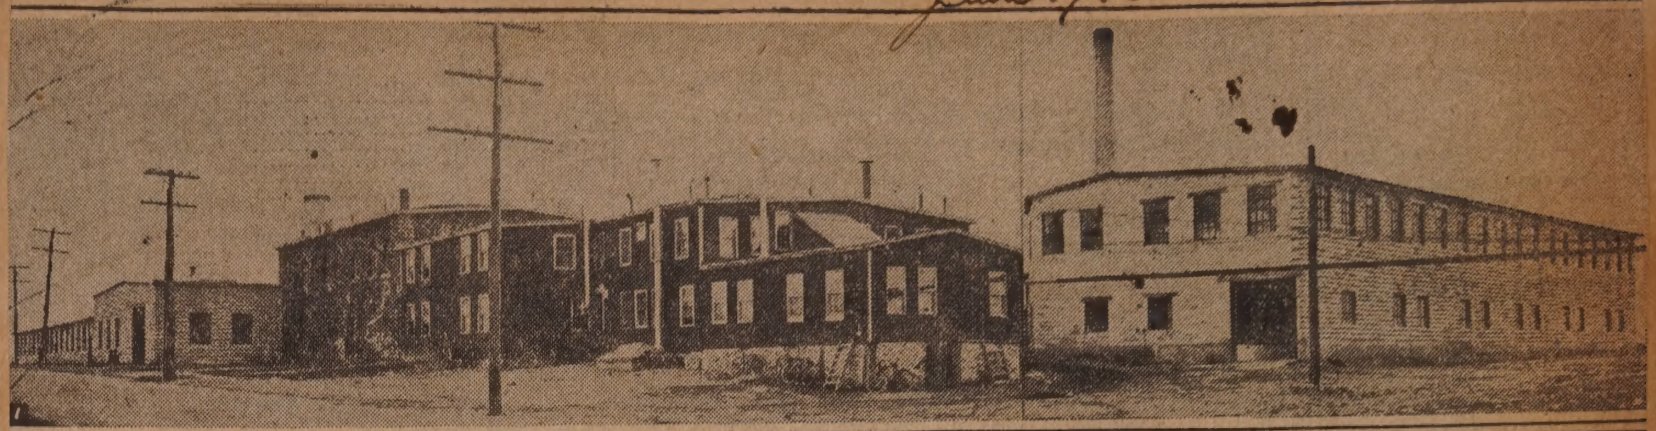


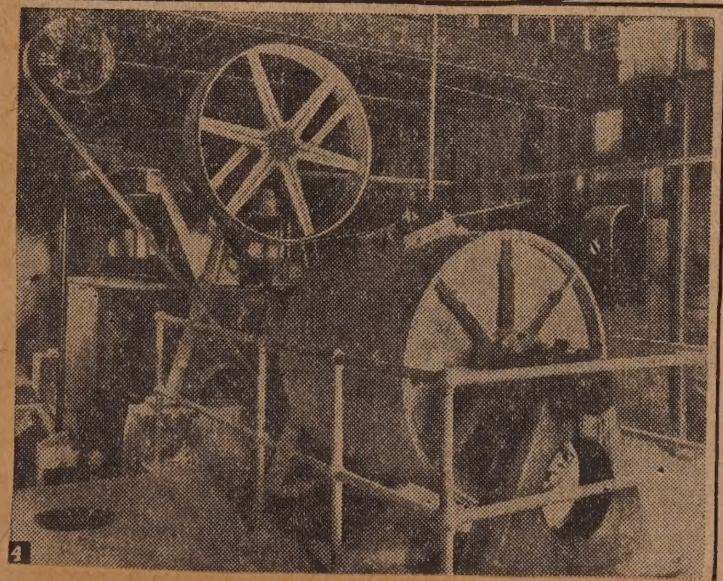
Guy A. Senesac and Family

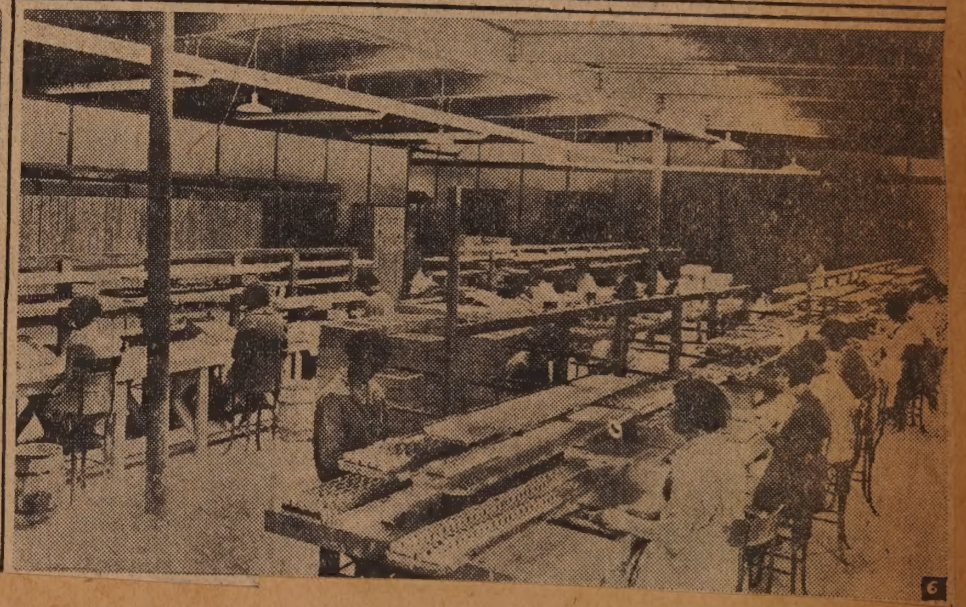
Here is the family of Guy A. Senesac, one of the aspirants for the Republican nomination for clerk of Superior Court. Charles L. Senesac, two, is at the head of the line; Jean M., eight, comes next; the Jacqueline Peabody, nine; Barbara Blanche, 11; Guy Jr., 10; Edmond E., 14; Mrs. Senesac and Mr. Senes A daughter, Ruth, 13, was out of town when the picture was taken. Lower left, a recent photograph Senesac, and lower right, Mrs. Senesac with baby Charles. Mr. Senesac is an instructor of French Bedford High school. The family lives at 136 Central avenue.

FAST GROWING PLANT ADDS TO DIVERSITY OF NEW BEDFORD INDUSTRY

June 17. 28







SCENES IN CITY'S FIRST PORCELAIN FACTORY

(1) The John I. Paulding, Inc., plant as it looks to those who pass it on Kings highway. The gray buildings at the extreme right and left have just been added. That at the right houses the company's box factory, warehouse and shipping room. The other contains the porcelain manufacturing departments by the addition of which the company brings one more industry to boost the total of diversity New Bedford can boast. (2) A view of the presses on which are molded the clay parts that heat will later turn to porcelain. (3) The slip house's big horizontal press in which excess moisture is squeezed from the clay, fresh from the mixing machines on its way to be almost dried out and ground. (4) Some of the big mixing machines. The cylinder in the foreground is used in combining the various ingredients of the glaze which will be sprayed upon pieces before they are fired so that they will be smooth and shiny on coming from the kiln. (5) Workers loading a kiln. They are carrying saggers, which are clay boxes that hold the pieces of porcelain while they are being baked. (6) A view of the cleaning room in which girls inspect the pieces as they come from the drying room and clean off any rough edges or excess of clay. Rolling doors at the left conceal the drying room.

ASSISTANT MINISTER WEDS

aug 26-28

THE REV. AND MRS. NELSON D. GIFFORD JR.
The Rev. Nelson D. Gifford Jr., assistant minister at Grace Episcopal church, and his bride, formerly Miss Elizabeth Brewster, niece of Miss Ellen R. Hathaway, who were married at Grace church at 1 P. M. yesterday.

Sept 16, 1928

—Photo by Doris E. Wright

SCENE IN ROCHESTER—Awkward lambs bleat after their mothers in this orchard-pasture view, photographed in Rochester

PATTERNS BESPEAK TRADITION INHERENT IN INDUSTRY HERE

aug 12-1928

Fabrics Testify to Skill of Old School Textile Designer

Such fabrics as the photographs here show were created by the agile imagination and ngers of Alfred Jennings, old school British textile designer, whose descendants lend their inherited craftsmanship to the American text stry. (1.) A woman's scarf woven on a swivel Jacquard hand loom in lavender against a black background, and a bit of cotton ribbon, a te Jacquard in white on black. (2.) The draft sheet for the medallion in the center of a Jacquard handkerchief, woven on hand looms ich Jennings commemorated the building of a new church in Ashton under Lyne, England. (3.) Another Jacquard pattern with a grai varying shades of gray and black against a silver gray ground; the striping is blue. (4.) Swatch from a man's scarf of a kind popul 30s; the field is orange, the decorations in greater part brilliant green with flowers alternating in yellow and purple. (5.) Most beautif ne silk fabric with a brown ground and repeated floral medallions in black, gray, brown and white, the whole very delicate, each petal ect though almost microscopic. This, too, is a Jacquard fabric. (6 and 7.) Sporty pictorial borders in green, red, yellow, black, and w n for the East India trade whose "ultimate consumers" preferred flowing robes to trousers and waistcoats. (8.) A Jacquard lappet de ver on black.

CAREER AT END

apr 29-28

CAPTAIN JAMES W. SAVAGE.

DEATH COMES TO SOUTH END OFFICER AT 65

Service with Department Begun in 1895 Abruptly Brought to Close

CAPTAIN PLANNED TO RESUME DUTIES SOON

Retained Consciousness to Last, Joking with Attendants Over Ailment

MANY COPIES TO BE MADE

aug 9-28

...Served 21 Years on Board Without Break—Has Seen City's Valuation Grow from $71,279,611 to $222,447,775

Speeches Before State Association on Tax Matters Attract Attention

aug 26-28

Years Bring Changes to Assessors

Members of the Board of Assessors and the staff of the department as shown in a photograph taken a number of years ago. Those standing, left to right, are the late John Hannigan, then a member of the board, William J. Abrams, present member of the board, who was then transfer clerk in the office, Miss Mary L. Finnell, member of present board, who was a clerk in the office at that time, the late John H. Finnell, member of the board, and Joseph H. Handford, present chairman of the board. Sitting at the table are William T. Laughlin and Roland A. Leonard, both of whom are now dead. They were members of the office staff. Below are three photographs of Mr. Handford. The one at the left shows Mr. Handford as he looked when he became an assessor, the center shows his latest photograph, and at the right is Mr. Handford as he appeared as a young man.

PLANE MAKES DAILY FLIGHTS

1928 aug 12

Scenes at Flying Field Here

Daily scenes at the flying field of the New Bedford Air Service company, recently opened on the former site of Evergreen park at Shawmut avenue and Plainville road. In the upper photograph is shown the Travel-Air biplane in which the flights are conducted daily. Below are the three men which comprise the personnel of the air service business venture here. They are, Antonio Bellotti, at the left, and Frank E. Nickerson, on the right, joint owners of the company, and in the center, Captain Philip W. Watson, official pilot. Captain Watson is an officer in the 97th Division Reserve Air service, 332d Observation Squadron, U. S. Army.

LEAVES BUSINESS

apr 22-28

FRANKLIN W. HATCH.

CORDAGE PLANT LEADER RETIRES

Franklin W. Hatch, Mill Manager 14 Years, Will Take Rest

Plans to Go Into Business for Himself; Receives Gifts from Workers

NEW AMBULANCE IS READY FOR DUTY

June 16-28

New Vehicle Is of Latest Type

New Bedford's new ambulance is now ready for duty. This fine vehicle, completely equipped for the service it is to render, is a Studebaker type, recently purchased through J. Clifford Sherman.

gnificent Old Dwelling, with Its Victorianesque Furniture, Is Kept as Family Homestead By Endowment Fund—Four Present-Generation Descendants of Sea Captain Have Won Unusual Distinction

aug. 17-28

1

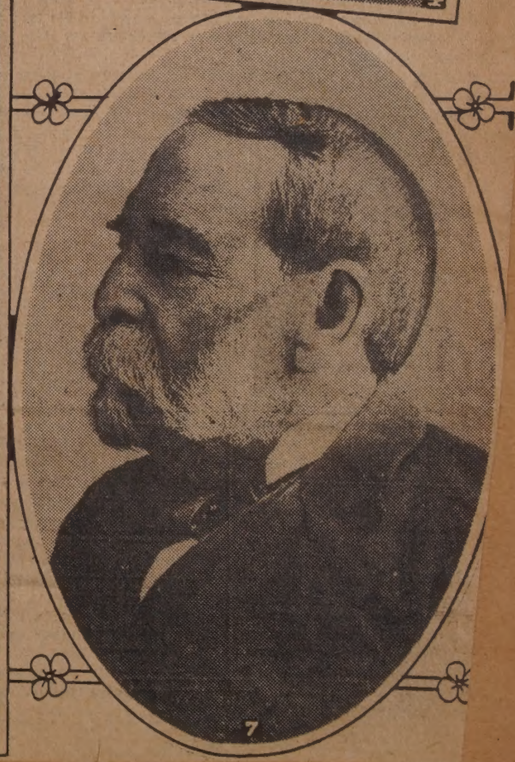
2

3

4

5

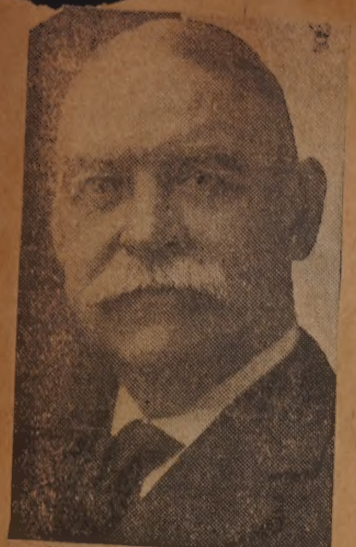
6



7

See page 172

June 26. 1928



THE REV. SAMUEL C. B. BUSHNELL.

8

9

10

SLABS BROKEN IN GRAVEYARD

June 14. 28

OPEN TOMB ATTRACTS CURIOUS

A view of the old cemetery of Hixville Christian church, showing broken gravestones attributed to curious visitors whom open tomb attracts.

Fairhaven Homestead of a Distinguished Family

The Delano homestead, 39 Walnut street, Fairhaven, built in 1835, and some of the descendants of its builder, Warren Delano.

(1) The dining room, practically the same today as it was five generations ago (from a photograph taken a number of years ago.

(2) Warren Delano Robbins, newly named United States minister to Salvador, a great grandson of the first Warren Delano.

(3) Franklin Delano Roosevelt, another great grandson.

(4) Vista of the living rooms, which have been little changed for many years.

(5) Frederic A. Delano, railroad authority and former member of the Federal reserve board, a grandson of the builder of the homestead.

(6) The Delano place.

(7) Warren Delano Jr., son of the first Warren.

(8) Desk used by the first Warren Delano.

(9) Portrait of Warren Delano by John Eliot, which hangs in the homestead dining room.

(10) Coat of arms of Seigneur Jehan DeLannoy, ancestor of Philippe DeLannoy, founder of the family in this country. The original is in the cathedral of St. Sauveur, Bruges, Belgium.

from page 171

FLYING CLOUD SHOWN AT COUNTRY CLUB

Aug 26 '28

LEAVES CHURCH POST

June 15, 1929

MISS MARY E. HUSSEY.

Miss Hussey, church secretary of Unitarian church for the last 2½ years, has resigned, effective July 1. She has no definite plans for the future. She will spend the summer at the family summer home in Barnstable. Mrs. Gertrude S. Thayer has been named as her successor.

MRS. CHARLES M. COLE.

FALL RIVER WOMAN EXHIBITS PAINTING AT COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Charles M. Cole's Favorite Subject Is Vessel Constitution

This painting of the Flying Cloud which is on exhibition at the Country Club of New Bedford is the work of Mrs. Charles M. Cole, 80 Belmont street, Fall River. Mrs. Cole's hobby is marine painting and she has sold many of her pictures. Many of her works have been on exhibition at the Country club. Mrs. Cole's favorite subject is the Constitution, which she has painted so many times that she thinks she could almost paint it with her eyes shut.

Mrs. Cole's work has not been confined to ship painting alone, for she has painted some fishermen and heads which have received favorable criticism. She is a member of the Boston Business and Professional Woman's club and the Fall River Country club and Woman's club. Mr. Cole is retired.

HONORED FOR SCHOLARSHIP

June 21, 1929

CHARLES L. LUNDIN.

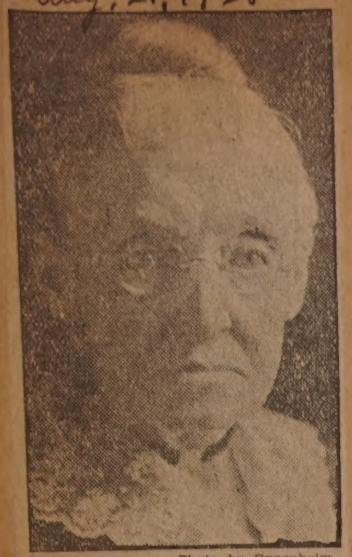
JOHN D. KENNEY.

CITY'S BIGGEST FIRE PUMPER TESTED

July 11, 1928

DIES AT 89

Aug. 21, 1928



—Photo by Oppenheim

Mrs. Catherine E. Morton, Widow of Elbridge G. Morton, Succumbs

Mrs. Catherine E. Morton, 89, widow of Elbridge G. Morton, died Monday at her home, 41 Middle street, Fairhaven, after a three weeks' illness. Death was due to infirmities of age. Mrs. Morton was lifelong resident of Fairhaven, her native town.

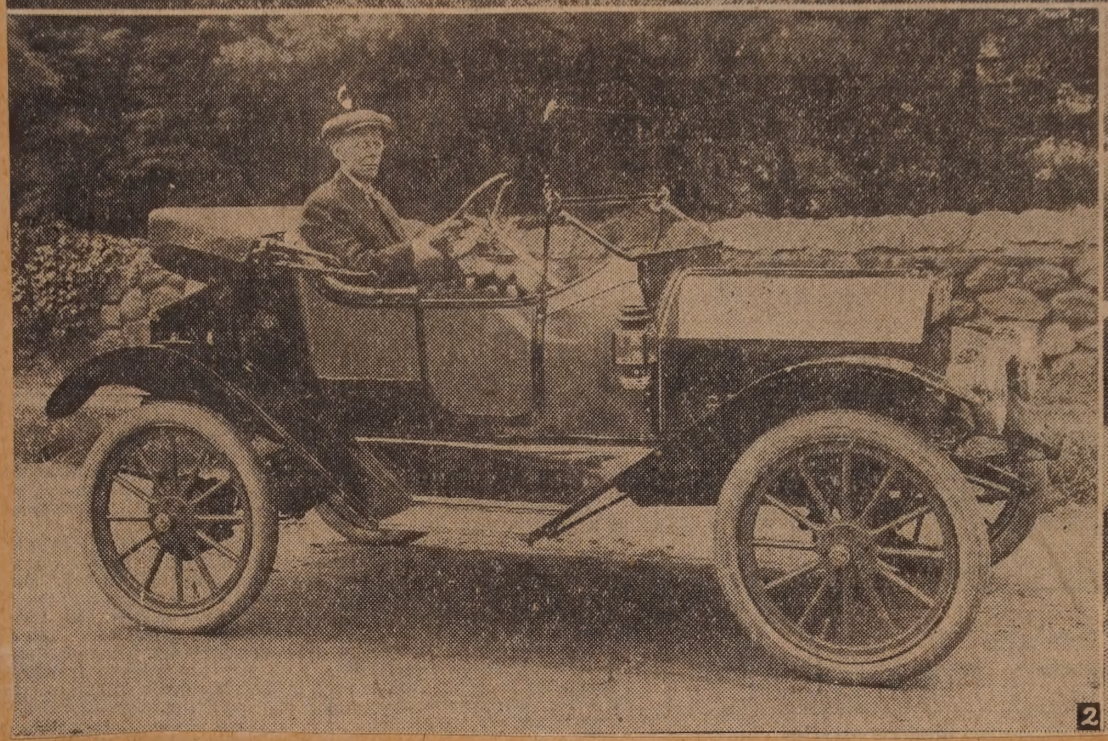
She was a member of the Unitarian church and of the Women's Relief corps of the G. A. R., and was a charter member of the New Bedford chapter of the Eastern Star. Her survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Sarah D. Owen, Lawrence, Kan.; two sons, Edward D. Morton, Wabash, Ind., and Walter P. Morton, New Bedford; and four grandchildren Catherine D. and Barbara J. Owen and Phillips T. and Richard D. Morton.

Elbridge G. Morton, who was postmaster of Fairhaven from 1870 to 1873, died in 1882. He had also served in th state Legislature, in a constitutional convention, and as a county commissioner.

MILL WATCHMAN SKIPS FROM BICYCLES TO AIRPLANES

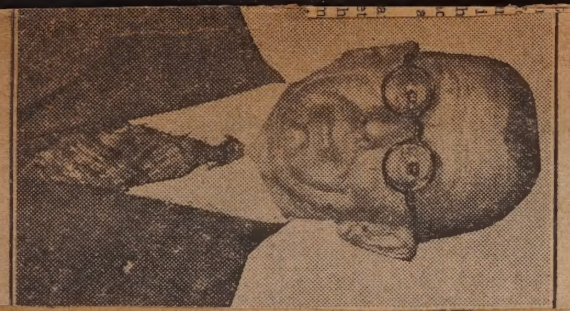
aug 26-28

1



2

3

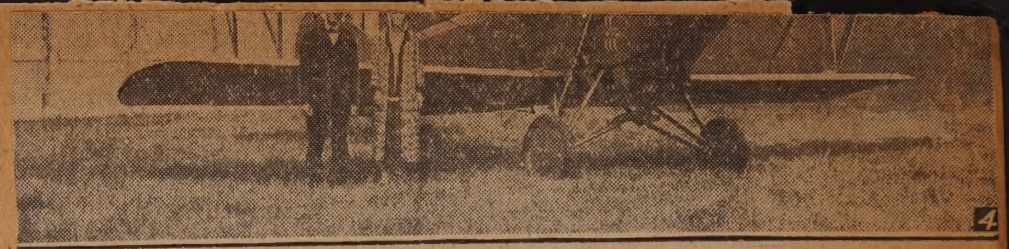


FRANK E. NICKERSON.

JOSEPH E. LEARY.

BRINGS AIRPLANE HERE

July 8. 28



Three Epochs of Transportation Shown

Three epochs in the evolution of transportation with which Alton L. Hazzard, former New Bedford business man, has been closely associated are illustrated above.

(1) A group of bicyclists after a race held in 1888. The man standing sixth from the right is Dr. A. F. Wyman, dentist, who was the first in New Bedford to ride a bicycle of the "safety type", which resembled the modern bicycle. Others in the picture are: Frank E. Weaver, Hoyland Smith, Dr. A. H. Mandell, Crawford L. Dunham, Edgar M. Almy, Charles E. Damon, Allen Briggs, Henry Ellison, Theodore B. Baylies, Howard Eldridge, Captain Frank L. Wing, Waldo Wade, Edgar Lincoln, Henry S. Stanton, Fred Gay, Herbert Palmer, Gus White, and Charles Hathaway.

(2) Mr. Hazzard at the wheel of his Little roadster in 1915. The price of this car was $800. It was purchased through Stephen D. Peirce, who is still engaged in the automobile business here.

(3) Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard dressed for a flight.

(4) The airplane in which Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard have enjoyed their skyward excursions. Captain Philip W. Watson, pilot, is in the machine.

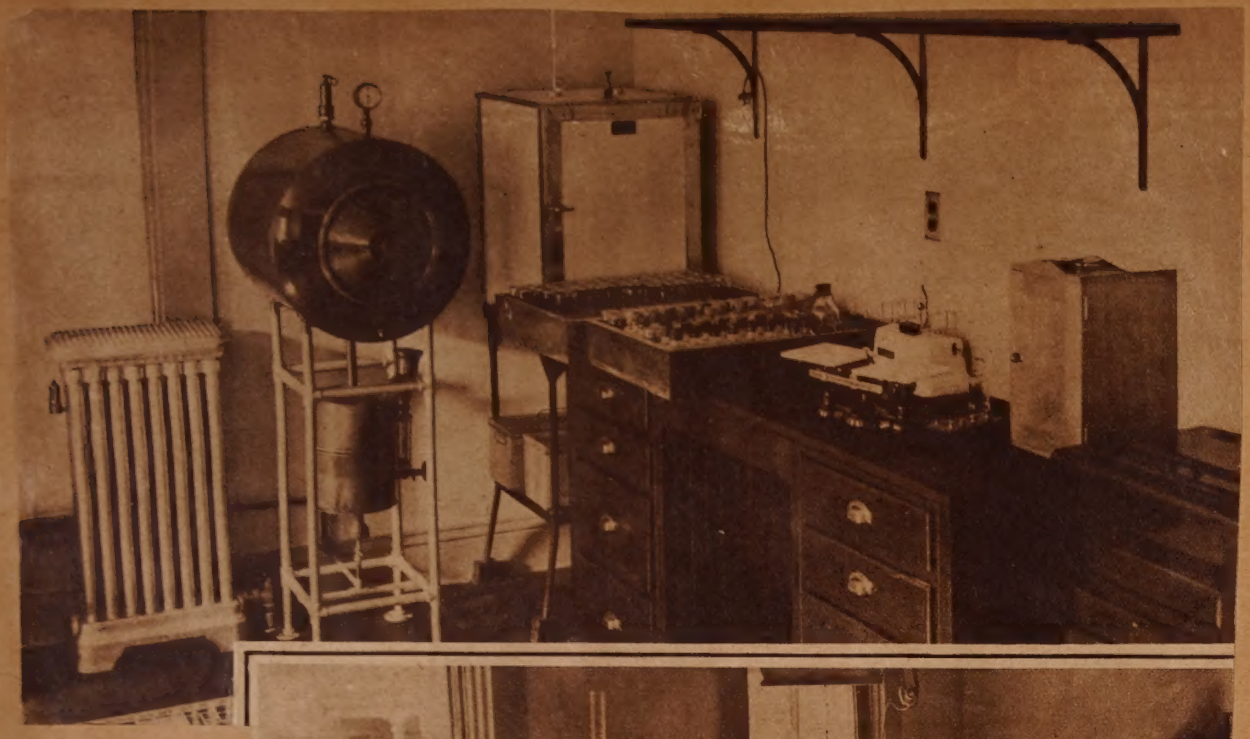
Preparing 256 Court Cases

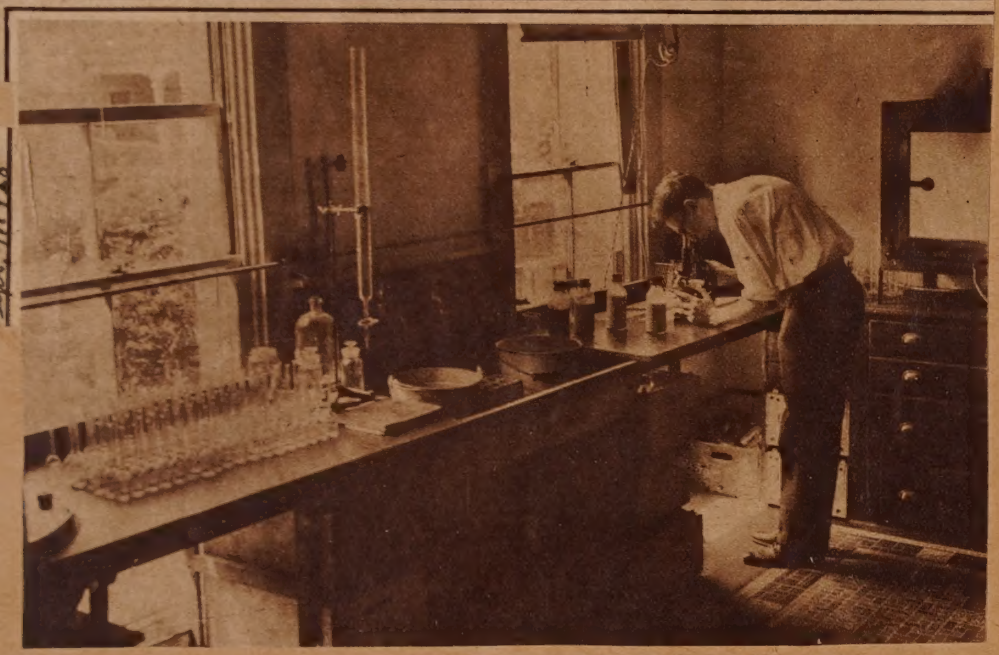
Captain A. J. Violette, Chief of Police McLeod, and Deputy Chief Raymond Chase at work this morning checking on the wholesale arrests last night. All have their hands full of arrest cards.

July 31-28

A Scramble to Be Arrested

One of the moving vans being filled with prisoners at the Whitman mill last night. Police found a new order of things when they had to drive back superfluous volunteers for arrest.





AKING MILK TESTS—Two views of the Union street laboratory of the New Bed- Milk Dealers Testing iation, one showing w L. Pendleton, official ician, at work. Eight Bedford dealers are bers of the organization.

E BARTENDERS BANQUET — 'aried bottles decorate the tables in is photograph of a New Bedford oon keepers' session. It was found cently by Thomas Galligan.

Sept, 30, 1928

FIRE CAPTAIN RETIRES—Captain Frank A. Lewis, 67, for 34 years a member of the Fire department, has just received retirement on half pay. His two good friends are Timmy and Laddie.

June 24 1928

WINS HONORS IN ART—Miss Lurana Wood, who placed highest at the Swain School of Design this year, is the daughter of Cameron Wood, caretaker of the Crane estate on Nomansland.

COUPLE MARRIED 25 YEARS

June 14, 1929

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES A. SAMPSON

ASKS NOMINATION IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

aug 27, 28

Herbert Wing with Grandchildren

Mr. Wing with three of his grandchildren. The little boy on his knee is Herbert Gilman Wing, 2½, son of Dr. Herbert Wing Jr., Carlisle, Pa.; the little girl is Priscilla Alden Wing, six, daughter of Lawrence Wing; and the other boy is her brother, Richard Lawrence Wing.

ON DUTY 35 YEARS

aug 1, 28

Captain Deneen Observes Anniversary of Work in Police Department

Captain Daniel Deneen, in charge of the West End station, yesterday celebrated the 35th anniversary of his first report for duty in New Bedford Police department. He was appointed to the force as a patrolman July 27, 1893 but did not report for duty until Aug. 1. He became a sergeant Oct. 18, 1909, lieutenant April 1, 1912, and assumed his present rank of captain July 7, 1915.

For a time, Captain Deneen was in charge of station five in the North End, but for the last four years, has been at the West End station.

Lieutenant Edmund Foley, South End police, became a member of the force on Aug. 1 with Captain Deneen.

June 17, 1928

SAFEGUARD DARTMOUTH PUPILS—Students in the Dartmouth schools have had the Schick test to determine susceptibility to diphtheria under the direction of Dr. Andrew B. Cushman, left, the school physician. He was assisted by Dr. Richard P. MacKnight, right; Mrs. Helen F. Snell, center, and Mrs. Della M. Dennis, extreme right.

SLATED FOR POST

June 19, 1929

JUSTIN H. EDGERTON.

WEST END MAN'S SON TO BE HEAD OF CREDIT GROUP

June 19, 1928

THE LATEST FOR NURSES—Miss Victoria Sanecka and Miss Stella Bienia, assistants in the operating room at Crary clinic, Dartmouth, find their tasks facilitated in these outfits. It's their own idea.

NAMED GUARD

June 17, 1929

James Davies Receives Post on House of Correction Here

James Davies, 32, has been appointed a guard in the New Bedford house of correction to succeed J. Thomas Daley, who retired Saturday after having reached the age limit. The appointment is one made by Sheriff Isaac E. Willetts, master of the house of correction. Mr. Davies reports for duty tonight.

The new guard is a World war veteran, having served as a member of Battery D overseas. He has been employed as a carpenter for eight years. With his wife he lives at 118 Fern street.

July 8, 1928

ON AN OUTING—First row, left to right: Mayor Ashley, Captain Daniel A. Anthony, Everett B. Sherman, John W. Bannister, Joseph Dawson, Lettice R. Washburn, Andrew G. Pierce; back row: James Bowes, Barnstable village; Louis Arenovski and Louis V. Arenovski, Hyannis; John Neild, Thomas F. Glennon, William E. Smith. Nadote

KNIFE USED TO MANUFACTURE TOYS

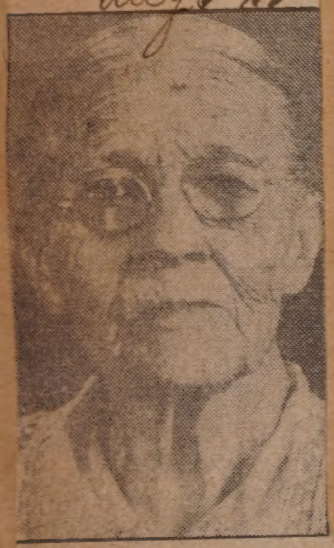
July 28-28

Neighbors Watch Russell O. Steele

Neighborhood boys are interested in watching Russell O. Steele build models of airplanes, boats and cannon. Those in this group are Norman Singleton, leaning against the post, Hobin Thomas, sitting on the banister, Everett Singleton, and Russell, with a piece of wood in his hand, making another model.

GOES UP IN PLANE

aug 6-28



MRS. SARAH C. VINCENT.

WOMAN, 91, FLIES ABOVE VINEYARD

Mrs. Sarah C. Vincent, West Tisbury, Eagerly Accepts Pilot's Invitation

Native of Island Rides in Plane at Air Show While Others Hesitate

WHARF SCENE RESEMBLES ACTIVITY OF WHALING DAYS

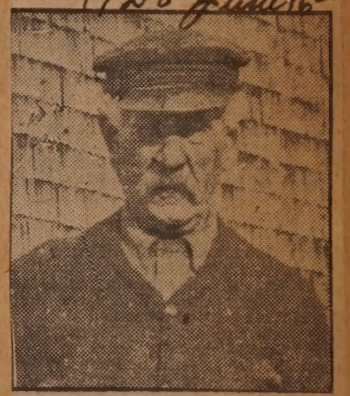
Oct 8.1928

Loading Bark Coriolanus for Cape Verde Voyage

Wharf scene alongside the bark Coriolanus now loading here for passage to the Cape Verde islands, scheduled to sail Saturday with a large passenger list and a $100,000 cargo. The picture, taken from the end of the north wharf of the New Bedford Gas and Edison Light company looking toward the west, shows the miscellaneous cargo going aboard the bark. The inset is a picture of Abilio Monteiro de Macedo, mayor of Praia and the owner of the bark. At the right are William Presnall, a young artist, who sails as one of the passengers, and H. A. Neyland, director of the Swain school, who went out as a passenger on the bark when she sailed from here a year ago.

WAS BOAT BUILDER

1928 January 6



JABEZ D. JENNEY.

Mr. Jenney, 80 year old boat builder of East Marion, who died at his home Thursday night as result of an attack of influenza. Mr. Jenney was ill only one week. He was engaged in the boat building business with his brother, Edgar V. Jenney, also East Marion, for more than 40 years.

BRITISH COUSINS FIND WARM GREETING HERE

June 14 - 28

Mayor Ashley Welcomes English Travelers

The Rev. Ernest Hamson, Sheffield, England, on behalf of 500 Congregationalists who passed through New Bedford last night on the way to New York after a five day friendship tour in this country, received the greetings of Mayor Charles S. Ashley on board the steamer Plymouth. At formal exercises held afterward in the steamer's saloon, Mr. Hamson responded to the mayor's address of welcome.

CORNERSTONE OF ANIMAL HOME LAID

June 14, 28

Mrs. W. P. Covell Places Block

Scene at the site of the new Susan H. Kempton Memorial Rest Home for Animals at Acushnet yesterday afternoon as Mrs. William P. Covell, president of the Animal Rescue league, put the cornerstone of the home in place. She is surrounded by members and friends of the organization. William B. Geoghegan, first president of the Animal Rescue league, gave the address.

POSTMASTER WINSLOW INSPECTS NEW BRANCH

June 14. 28

Lunds Corner Branch Post Office and Staff

Postmaster Harold Winsolw yesterday inspected the new Lunds Corner branch of the New Bedford post office. He posed for this picture with the branch staff. Left to right: Postman Edwin R. Hathaway, Postman E. B. Castino, Mrs. Estelle B. Hambly, clerk, Postman B. J. Smith, Postman James Howarth, Leo T. Jackson, rural mail carrier, Postmaster Winslow, and Frank J. Manning, in charge of the branch.

OLDEST MEMBER HAS PRIDE IN OCCASION

June 16-28

100th Anniversary at Lunds Corner

Plans for the four-day observance of the 100th anniversary of the reorganization of the First Congregational church, Lunds corner, are rapidly rounding into shape, the pastor, The Rev. Elton Kennedy Bassett, announces. The program starts Sunday, June 24, and continues through Wednesday, June 27.

The chief speaker will be the Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell, former pastor of the church, now of New Haven, Conn., who with three other former pastors will give reminiscences of his pastorate at Lunds corner at the service of reminiscence at 2 Tuesday afternoon, June 26.

Among those to whom the anniversary celebration will have a special significance is Mrs. Mary Jane Wilbur, 155 Chestnut street, Fairhaven, the oldest member of the church in years of membership. She is 87. She joined the church in 1866 and has attended regularly since, traveling now by automobile to reach the services so far from her home.

THIS MAN'S HENS MUST WORK OR GO TO THE CHOPPING BLOCK

June 17-28

MISS HATHAWAY ON BROADWA

June 14, 1928

NEW BEDFORD GIRL ON THE STAGE.

Miss Gwendolyn Hathaway, here shown in one of her scenes with Sterling Holloway, star of Get Me in the Movies, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hathaway, 89 Campbell street. Hers is the part of Cicely Arno, in the comedy of Hollywood now having a successful run at the Earl Carroll theater, New York.

FALMOUTH ORCHESTRA HAS 40 PIECES

Senior and Junior High Pupils Are Members

Pupils from the Junior and Senior High schools make up the Falmouth school orchestra of 40 pieces. The musicians are, left to right: Front row, Christine Wright, cello, Robert Gibb, drum, Edward Hall, Ellsworth Head, Edward Studley, Ruth Davis, Carol Phinney and Cora Hastay, violins, Lennert Blomberg, viola, John Marshall, drum, E. B. Albertin, supervisor; second row, Walter Papp, mandolin, Catherine Goffin and Priscilla Bowerman, clarinets, Frances Albertin, bassoon, Prescott Tripp, clarinet, Arnolda Gifford, oboe, Jack Moore, violin, Helen Hall, and Gladys Robbins, piano; third row, George Marks, Ralph Ingram, John Barry, Verna Johnson and Frances Ingram, saxophones, Karl Bohaker, clarinet, Marshall Schlepark, violin; top row, Minot Tripp and Robert McKenzie, flutes, Isabel Jenkins, piano, Delmar Jenkins, euphonium, Frank Fernandes, bass viol, Bertram Rowe, and Harry Handy, trombones, Eva Davis, piano, Frances White, mellophone, Lloyd Bohaker, Robert Goffin and Harold Jenkins, trumpets, Robert Tate, traps.

GROUP TO VISIT ISLANDS AND CAPE

Shellfish Body Photographed Here

Here are members of the state Shellfish commission, who this week go to the islands and Cape. They were pictured today at the New Bedford hotel. Upper row, left to right—Thomas W. Whitfield, Senator Donald W. Nicholson, Representative Willard S. McKay and Senate Messenger Richard Walker. Lower row, left to right—Councillor Mark M. Duff, Representative Ernest J. Dean, Shore Warden Don C. C. Lewis, William Wright.

Flock Guarded by Police Dog

Right, above—With a flock of pedigreed chickens looks like. Each of the hens possesses a long pedigree. The rooster is an unusually fine specimen shipped east from Hollywood, Cal., to better the stock of the Marion farm.

Left, above—Ralph E. Washburn, scientific chicken farmer in Marion, who is building up what he hopes will be the country's most valuable chicken farm, is shown with his police dog, Criqui, whose chief duty is to keep rats away from the chickens.

Lower—A view of the chicken houses which are filled with trap nests so that each egg laid on the farm can be recorded.

St. Nov. 25, 1928

BEFORE THE CHASE—Members of the Rockdale Riding club, left to right: Edward V. Lahey, Fred L. Heyes, Mrs. W. I. Brown, Fred L. Heyes Jr., Mrs. Fred L. Heyes, Fritz Best, Frank McGowan, Edgar L. Demoranville, Hans Best, Clifford W. Higham, Louis P. Roy, Mrs. Louise Cartier, Thomas McDermott, J. Edward Moore, Mrs. Moore, Walter I. Brown, Stephen D. Peirce, president, Harold Dahill, Mrs. Moncrieff and Dr. William A. Moncrieff. Fannie, the mascot, refused to face the camera.

BAR LOSES PROMINENT MEMBER

12/14, 28

HENRY E. WOODWARD.

MEMORIAL TO WAR VETERANS

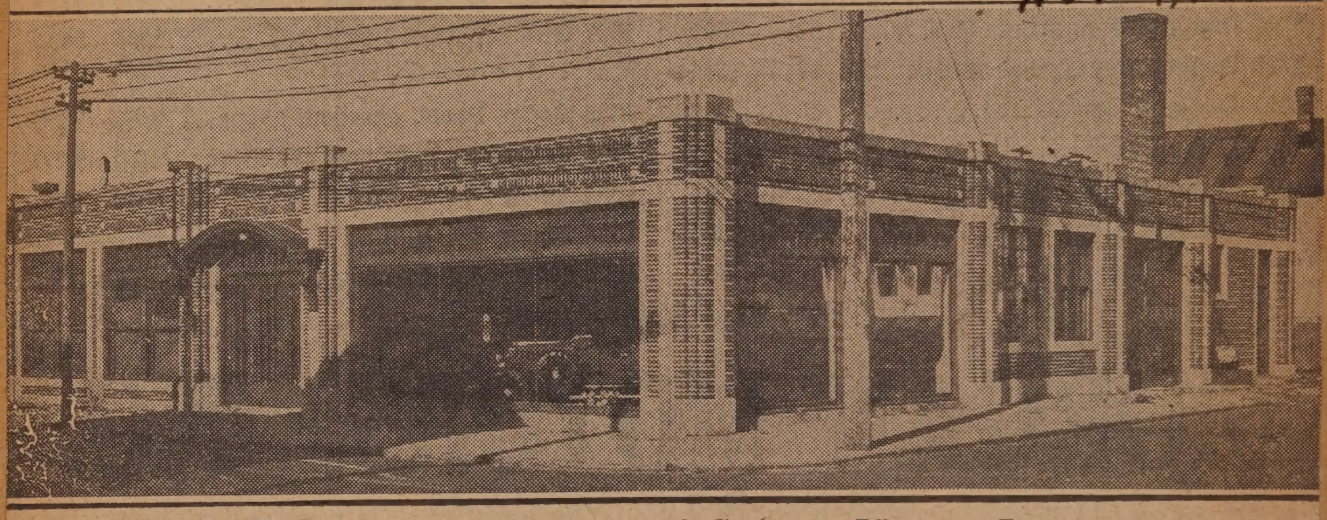
Nov. 23 1928

TO HANG IN TAUNTON HIGH SCHOOL

At exercises in Taunton High school last night this table was dedicated in memory of students of the school who served in the World war. Designed by Louis L. Leach, Taunton sculptor, himself a graduate of the high school, the bronze represents Columbia with symbols of war, victory and the dawn of peace.

HOME OF NEW BEDFORD'S NEW HUPMOBILE AGENCY

NOV 11, 28



Showroom and Garage of Century Motors, Inc.

Here is the building at the corner of Ash and Kempton streets, formerly occupied by the New Bedford Auto Sales company, which the newly-formed Century Motors, Inc., has made its headquarters here. The company will handle sales and service of the Hupmobile line which in the past 13 years has been handled here by H. Roebuck and Son, now Chandler dealers in New Bedford.

CAP'N GEORGE FRED RECORDS ADVENTUROUS CAREER IN BOOK

Seagoing Humor Adorns Narrative — Text Substantially Same as Previously Published Story as Told to Joseph Chase Allen—Addenda Deals with Morgan

For many years the fame of Captain George Fred Tilton has been a great pride of New Bedford. Although Captain Tilton hails from Marthas Vineyard, having been born there in the year 1861, he has sailed out of New Bedford and is claimed as one of the city's own great men of whaling and of the sea. The particular fame of George Fred, of course, lies in the fact that he alone of all seamen went on a whaling voyage and walked home; walked home across Alaska in the face of almost incredible hardships and bound upon a desperate errand. He achieved by this exploit that extreme distinction which attaches to those who do the impossible.

CAPTAIN SPINS LIFE YARN

NOV-18-28

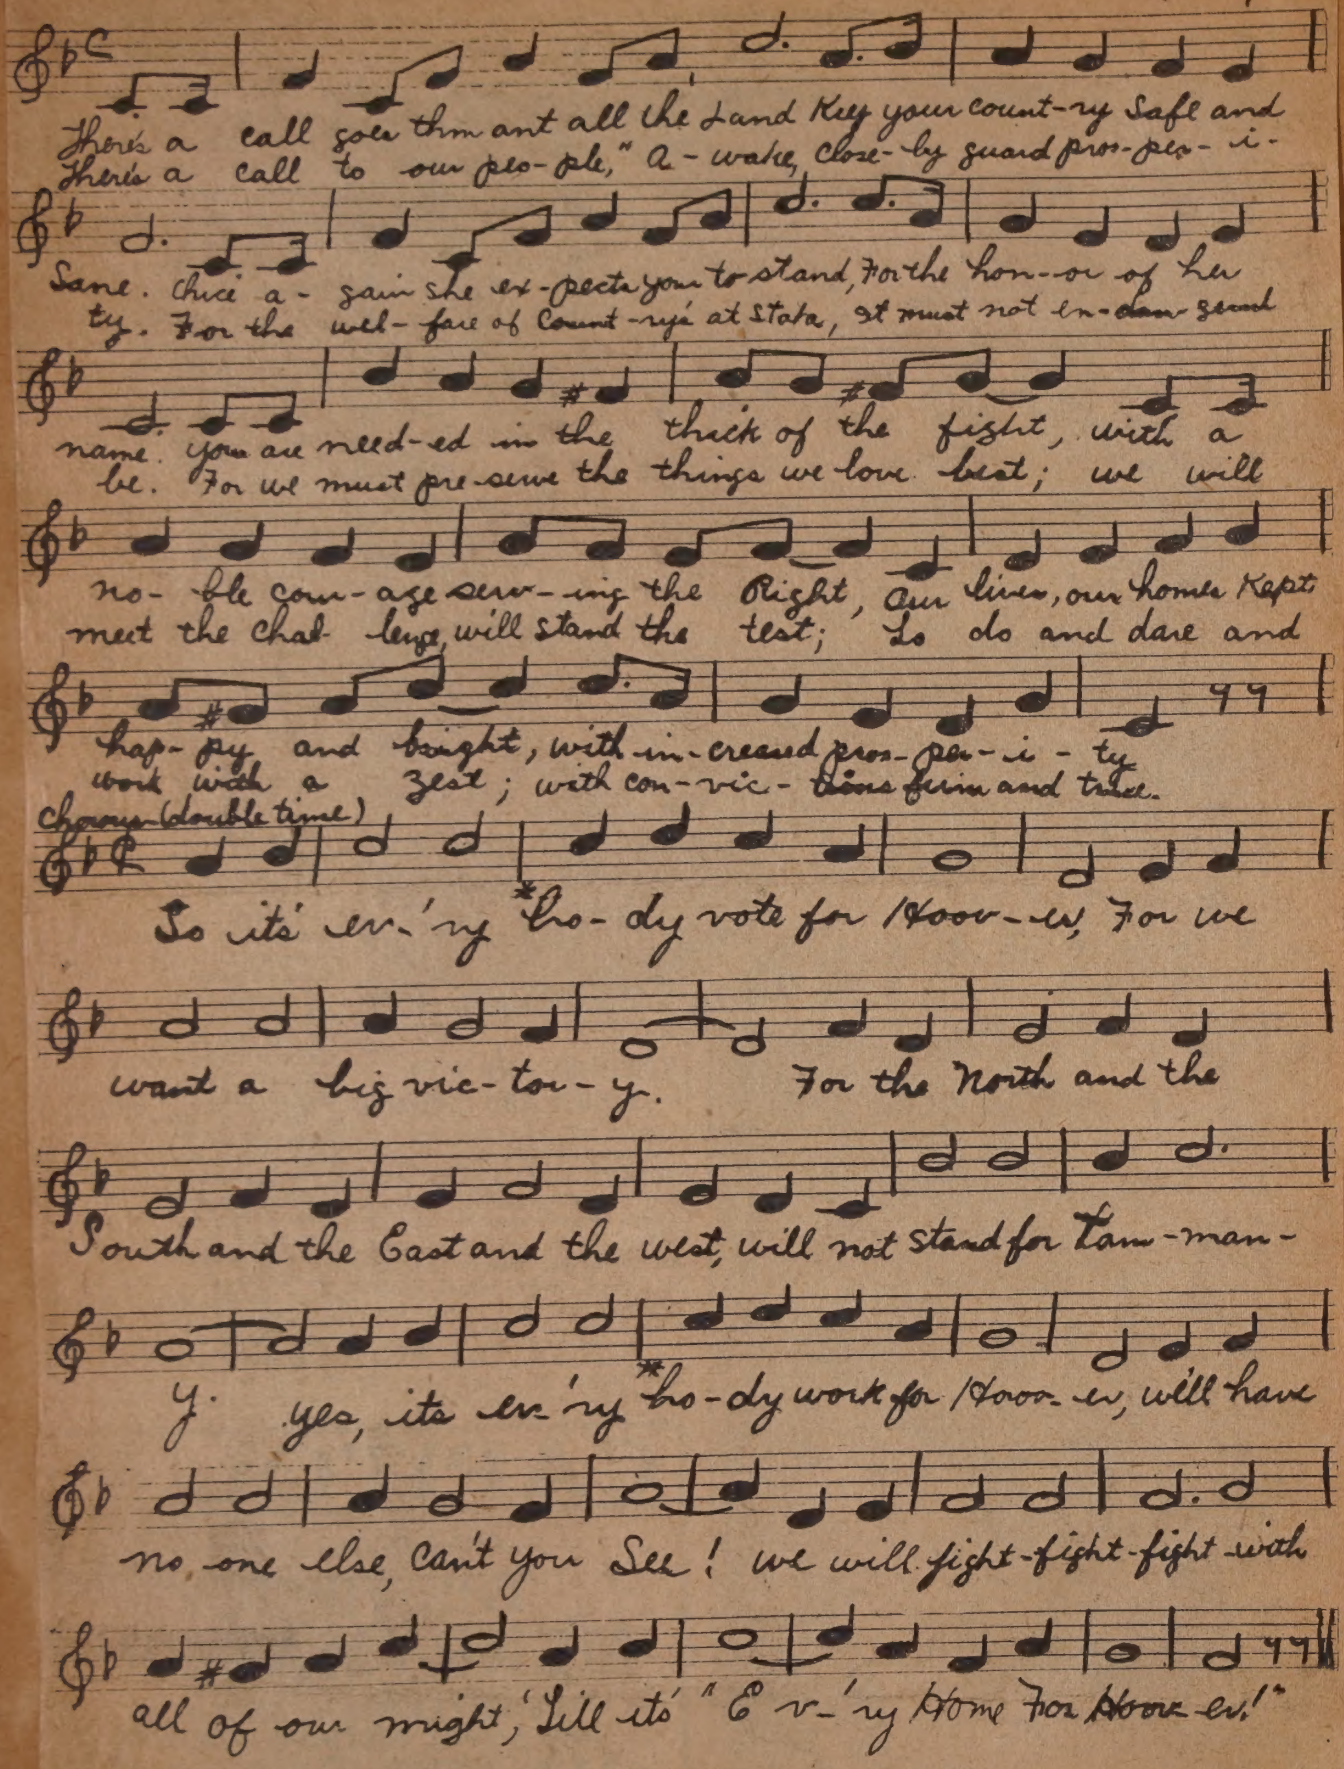
GEORGE FRED TILTON.

JOSEPH CHASE ALLEN.

'EVERY HOME FOR HOOVER' BECOMES CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

—By HOWARD KANTER—

Oct 7. 28



There's a call goes thru out all the Land Keep your country safe and There's a call to our people," a-wake, close-by guard prosperi-Sane. Once a-gain she ex-pects you to stand, for the hon-or of her ty. For the wel-fare of Country at State, it must not in-dan-ger name. you are need-ed in the thick of the fight, with a be. For we must pre-serve the things we love best; we will no-ble cour-age serv-ing the Right, Our lives, our homes Kept meet the Chal-lenge, will stand the test; So do and dare and hap-py and bright, with in-creased prosper-i-ty work with a Zest; with con-vic-tions firm and true.
Chorus (Double time)
So its' ev-'ry *bo-dy vote for Hoov-er, For we want a big vic-tor-y. For the North and the South and the East and the west, will not stand for Tam-many. yes, its ev-'ry *bo-dy work for Hoov-er, will have no one else, Can't you See! we will fight-fight-fight with all of our might, 'Till its' "E v-'ry Home for Hoov-er!"

*For Former Service Men Use "Buddy" Instead.

Song Written by New Bedford Man

Every Home for Hoover is the title of this song as well an axiom of the Republican campaign. It is written by Howard Kanter, who has copyrighted it, reserving all rights.

SMILING MILLS

WORKERS RUSH TO

Oct 8-28

Police Keep Rigid Watch for Interference with Workers

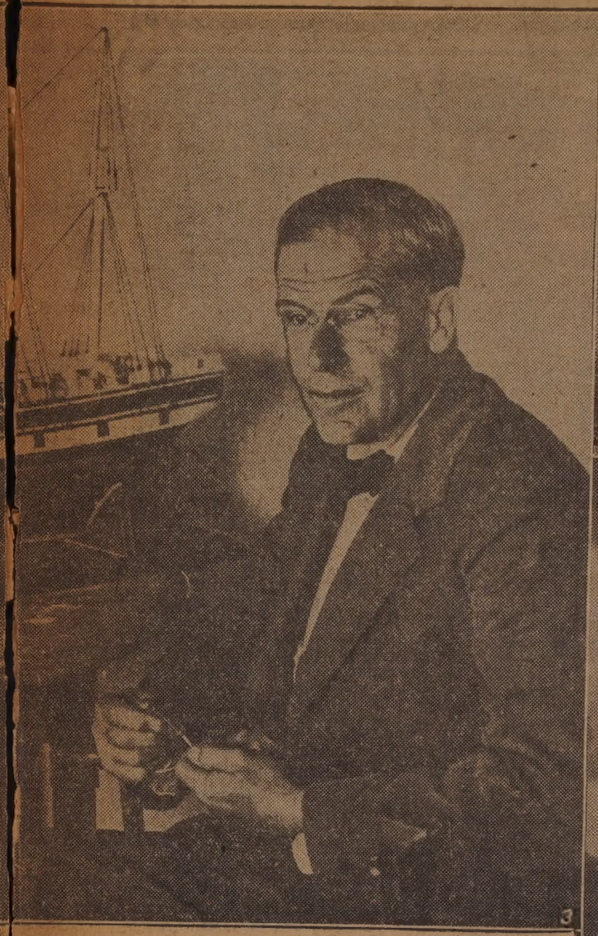
Scenes at New Bedford mills this morning as the gates swung open. At left, Chief Samuel D. McLeod on duty with a riot club; center, smiling workers on their way to the mills; right, Patrolman Henry P. Gero makes an arrest.

The Rev. Robert Russell Wicks, Princeton's New Dean of the Chapel, Intends to Develop Religious Life of University—Will Receive Students in Chancel Office and at Campus Farmhouse

Sept. 23-'28

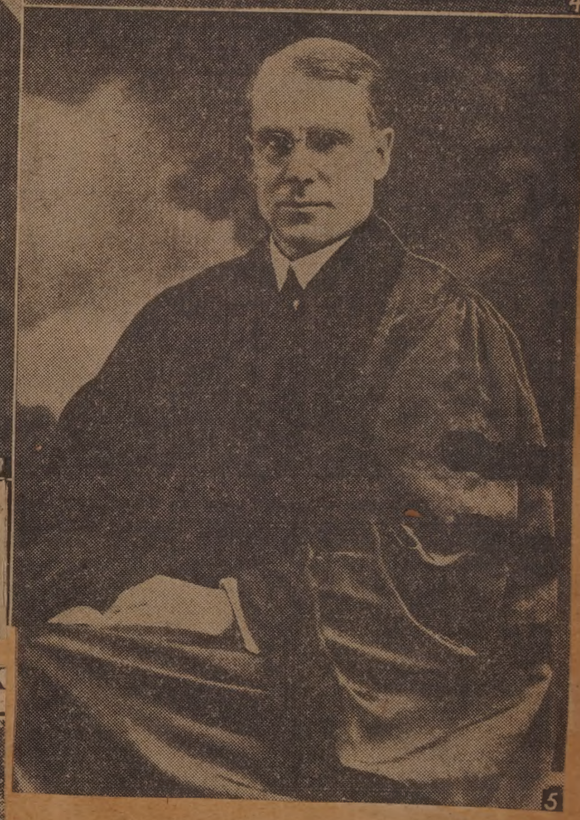
1

2



3

4



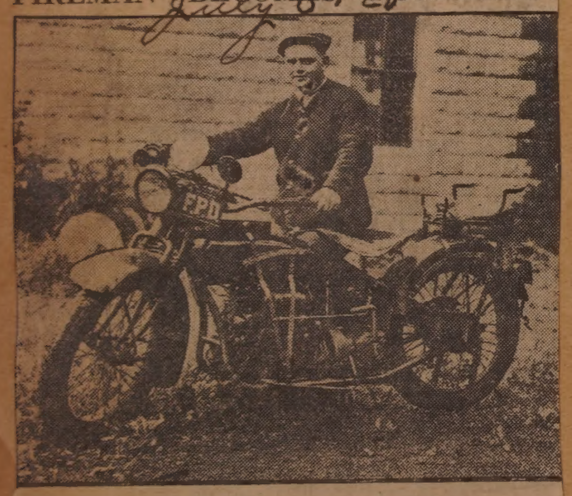
5

(1) Westport Point summer home of the Rev. Robert R. Wicks, D. D
(2) The New England farmhouse Princeton has built for its chapel
(3) All finished except the rigging, a model of the Lagoda the maki
(4) Princeton's cathedral-like new chapel, seating 2,000, architectur by King's College chapel, Cambridge, England.
(5) A formal portrait of Dr. Wicks.

Cuts New Path in Religious Field

ew dean of the chapel of Princeton university.
an.
of which has been a vacation hobby of Dr. Wicks.
y magnificent and surpassed in size among college chapels only

FIREMAN BECOMES, July 8, '28 POLICEMAN



Nathaniel D. Westgate, Chauffeur in Fairhaven Fire Department; Begins Police Traffic Patrol Work on Motorcycle—Will Use Own Machine for Present

Fairhaven has its first motorcycle policeman, Nathaniel D. Westgate, 241 Adams street, a chauffeur in the Fairhaven Fire department, driving hook and ladder one.

Mr. Westgate was appointed by Chief of Police Walter H. Francis. He has never been in the Police department before.

"Automobile traffic in Fairhaven has reached the point where I felt the services of at least one good motorcycle policeman were imperative," Chief Francis said. "I know we have obtained an efficient and reliable policeman in Mr. Westgate."

Mr. Westgate will use his own motorcycle for the time being. His uniform has been ordered. The chief added that several motorists will be summoned to court for alleged reckless driving over the holiday and he will recommend to the registrar of motor vehicles the suspension of the licenses of others.

AGED SISTERS SELDOM SEPARATED

aug. 16-'28

THE MISSES EMILY AND ANNIE TRIPP

Miss Emily Tripp (left) observed her 85th birthday June 12, and Miss Annie Tripp (right) was 83 Aug. 12. The sisters, who have seldom been separated, are making their home with Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, 85 Hillman street. They have always been readers of The Standard

SPEAKS FOR ACUSHNET PARK

June 14/1929 NEW AMPLIFIER AT PARK

GOODWILL OFFERING CONTRASTS WITH STRIKE RANCOR

Sept - 23' 28

Presented to Mr. Charles D. Owen and
Mr. Charles O. Dexter by Napping Dept. Employees

In this little book we present to you
The names of co-workers and friends who are true.
We take this way our thanks to send
For the enjoyable day you helped us to spend
For things like this help us to realize That goodwill and understanding are a wonderful prize
And we hope this friendship so well begun
Will shine on forever as bright as the sun.
Your Employees.

APPRECIATION AT BEACON

Above—Some of the "Thank You" autograph albums presented to the managing executives of the Beacon Manufacturing company by their employes in appreciation of the recent outing tendered by the corporation to its workers.

Below—The hand-lettered first and second pages of the album.

IN TRADE 45 YEARS

Sept 28. 28

Stephen C. Lowe, Veteran Mill Supply Man, Receives Congratulations

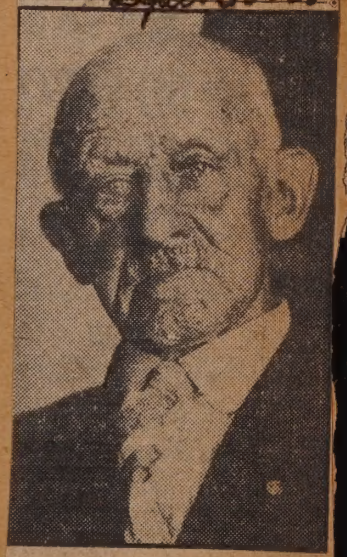
A pioneer in the mill supply business, Stephen C. Lowe, president of the S. C. Lowe Supply company, this week was the recipient of a barrage of congratulations from mill men in New Bedford and elsewhere in the textile trade. Mr. Lowe entered the mill supply business here 45 years ago this week.

The messages, which came from the South as well as from New England, arrived by mail, telegraph, telephone or were delivered personally.

Mr. Lowe is well known to mill executives throughout the nation. He has for years been active in the textile industry and was prominent in New Bedford's expansion in that field. He entered the mill supply business here in September, 1833.

RECORD PERFECT

Sept 30. 28



Henry T. Phillips Has Served 50 Years as School Custodian

Henry T. Phillips, custodian at the Allen F. Wood school, will complete 50 years in the service of the School department Monday. Mr. Phillips has been at the Wood school for 49 years and previously was employed for a year as janitor of the School department headquarters when it was located on the present site of the new part of the municipal building. Mr. Phillips has a record of never having been absent or tardy since he entered

HOUSES NEW BEDFORD'S NEW UNDERWEAR FACTORY

Sept. 23 - 28

Formerly E. E. Taylor Plant

The Harwood Underwear company, a New York corporation, has taken over the entire third floor of what was formerly the E. E. Taylor shoe factory, now owned by Dr. Jacob Genensky, at the corner of Acushnet avenue and North street. The company will cut, sew, finish, package and ship its product, men's woven athletic underwear, from here. Its personnel comprises former employes of the I. L. Marrow plant here, now in receivership. By the end of the year, Hyman L. Green, manager, expects to have 200 sewing machines installed and to be employing around 300. The corporation has no plants elsewhere. Its selling officers are at 350 Broadway, New York.

CONSIDERED FOR GASOLINE FILLING STATION

Oct 14-28

Purchase and Mill Street Property

Here is shown the lot at the southwest corner of Mill and Purchase streets, which is being considered as the location of a filling station. Owners of the property have been approached with a view to selling or leasing of the property, but no definite steps have been taken to determine whether a permit will be granted for a filling station in this location. It meets the requirements of being within the business zone.

The lot is jointly owned with the two buildings next south on Purchase street and the residence next west on Mill street. The entire property has a Purchase street frontage of 64.89 feet, a Mill street frontage of 86.73 feet, with an area of 20.65 rods or 5,622 square feet. The land is assessed for $18,725 and the buildings for $4,050, a total of $22,775. The corner has been vacant a great many years, since the demolition of the old residence that stood there. If a filling station permit is granted for this location, it will be one of the very few filling stations on Purchase street.

ASHLEY WORKER DIES SUDDENLY

Sept 30 .28

James Hankerson Active Many Years in Republican City Committee

Death, Attributed to Heart Attack, Follows Brief Illness

James Hankerson, 59, for many years active in politics, particularly in behalf of the Ashley party, died suddenly at his home, 93 Walden street, at 1 P. M. yesterday. Death was attributed to a heart attack. Mr. Hankerson had been complaining of illness since Sunday.

Native of New Bedford.

Born in New Bedford Aug. 28, 1869, Mr. Hankerson received an elementary education in the schools of this city and went to work when a young man at the Morse Twist Drill and Machine company here. He had been employed there for 30 years as a machinist.

JAMES HANKERSON.

Leaving his position at the drill plant eight years ago, Mr. Hankerson had since worked as a special policeman at the Nashawena mills. He was on duty and apparently well last Saturday.

Active as Red [illegible]

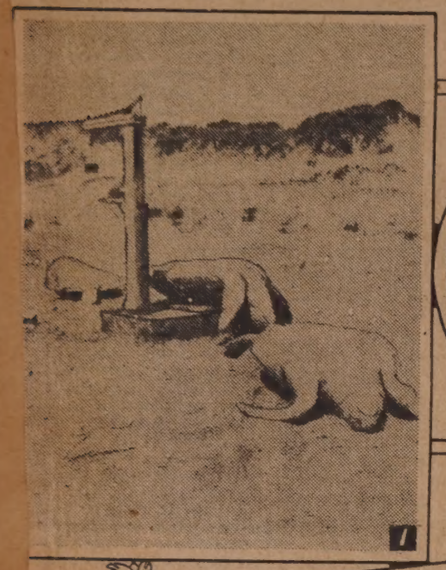
For many years Mr. Hankerson was an active member of the Republican City committee, and figured prominently here in supporting gubernatorial candidates of that party. He was also active in Red Men circles here, having been associated with the organization since its establishment in this city.

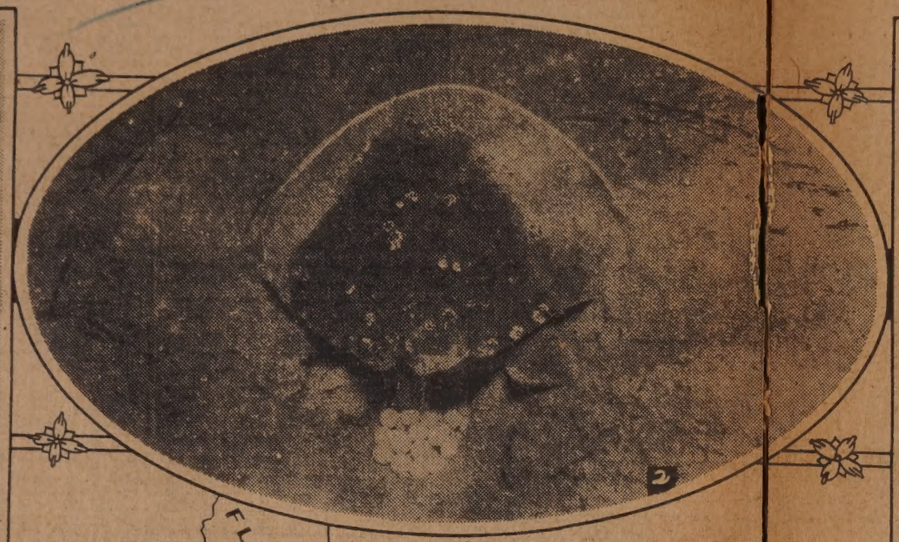
Besides his wife, Lillian (Shaw) Hankerson, Mr Hankerson leaves one brother, Thomas Hankerson, and two sisters. One of the sisters is Mrs. Charles Parsons, this city.

ADVENTUROUS COUPLE FILM TURTLES' LIFE HISTORY

Sept. 30. '28

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson, Ricketsons Point, Will Soon Turn Talents to Underwater Photography of Sharks in Bahama Coral Reefs—Fear Only Swift Barracuda





Unusual Views of Loggerhead Turtles Photographed by the Fergusons

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Ricketsons Point, South Dartmouth, and Cumberland island, Georgia, turn this autumn from hunting loggerhead turtles by night with cameras to underwater photography.

(1) Typical turtle specimens. The male weighs 600 pounds and the female about 300 at maturity.

(2) A loggerhead lays about 150 eggs at a time.

(3) Comedy between dives—Mrs. Ferguson Here one is seen in the act. the Sombrero Key cruise. a diving helmet and a companion on

(4) Mrs. Loggerhead at close range.

(5) Mr. Ferguson shows how his movie camera fits into the heavy metal case with metal tripod made to his order especially for undersea work by the New Bedford Boiler and Machine company.

The waters between Nassau and Eleuthera island directly to the right (sketch insert) will be the scene of the Fergusons' underwater photography.

New Bedford Business and Professional Women Open Clubrooms

Sept 23, 1928

—Bachrach Photo

PRESIDENT—Miss Gertrude L. Perkins.

COAT ROOM—The attractive coat and dressing room.

THE LOUNGE — A pleasant corner of the club's newly opened quarters in the Cushing building.

THE KITCHEN — A conveniently fitted unit of the clubrooms.

THE AUDITORIUM—A light, airy meeting place for the organization.

—Photo by Lynwood M. Chace

AT BUTTONWOOD PARK — The familiar Barnard monument is seen in a strange light when the sunset shadows are deepening and the western sky momentarily holds its peculiar dying glow. Sept 23 '28

—Photo by Kozorek

Dec 30 1928

MARRIED 50 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dexter, Hammonds hill, East Mattapoisett, recently observed their golden wedding anniversary.

Dec. 9, 1938

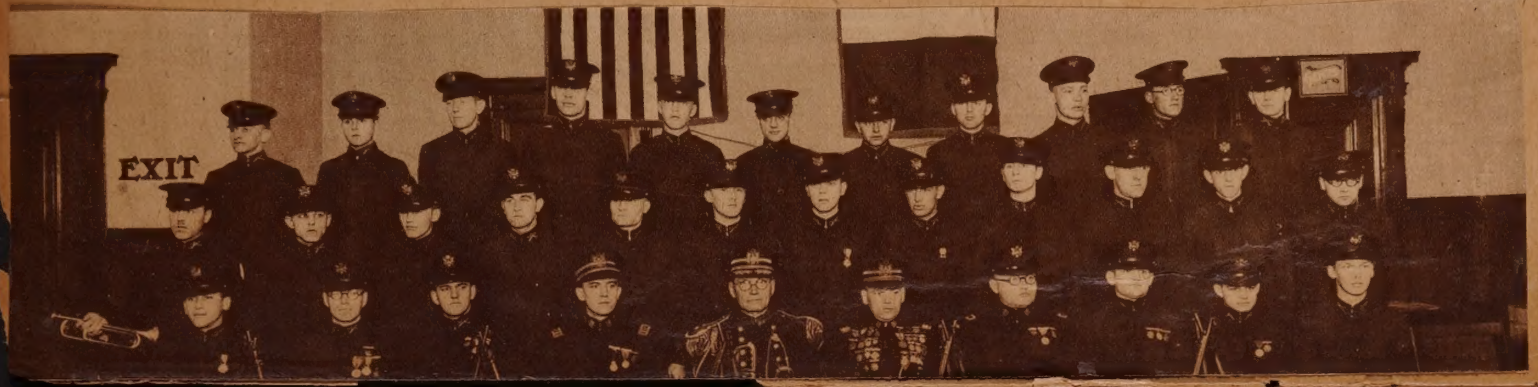
STUDENT IS VERSATILE—Alfred Gonsalves, 19 Kane street, is shown, left, in the role of a pirate, while above is a protographic study of sunset which he made at Kelley's wharf, Fairhaven. He is a Swain school student.

NEAR DEATH CURVE in East Freetown The Standard's photographer recor[illegible]

Dec. 9 19[illegible]

June 17, 1928 —Redfearn Photo.

NORTH CHRISTIAN CHOIR—Front row, left to right: Miss Winifred Brightman, Miss Minerva Gifford, Mrs. E. Maxfield, Mrs. Vernon Whitlock, Mrs. A. K. Brown, Miss Jessie Slater; second row, Miss Gladys Wall, Miss Azuba Cornell, Miss Blanche Squire, Miss Evelyn Spooner, Mrs. Ella Allen, Mrs. Alton Bailey; third row, Alton Tripp, Russell Gifford, Arthur Dreher, Oswald Squire, W. A. Whitaker, A. K. Brown, the Rev. H. M. Hainer; back, Henry Sawyer, Dixon Redfearn, Robert Morse, Musical Director Harold Wall, Nelson C. Morse.



Dec 2 1928 —Redfearn Photo.

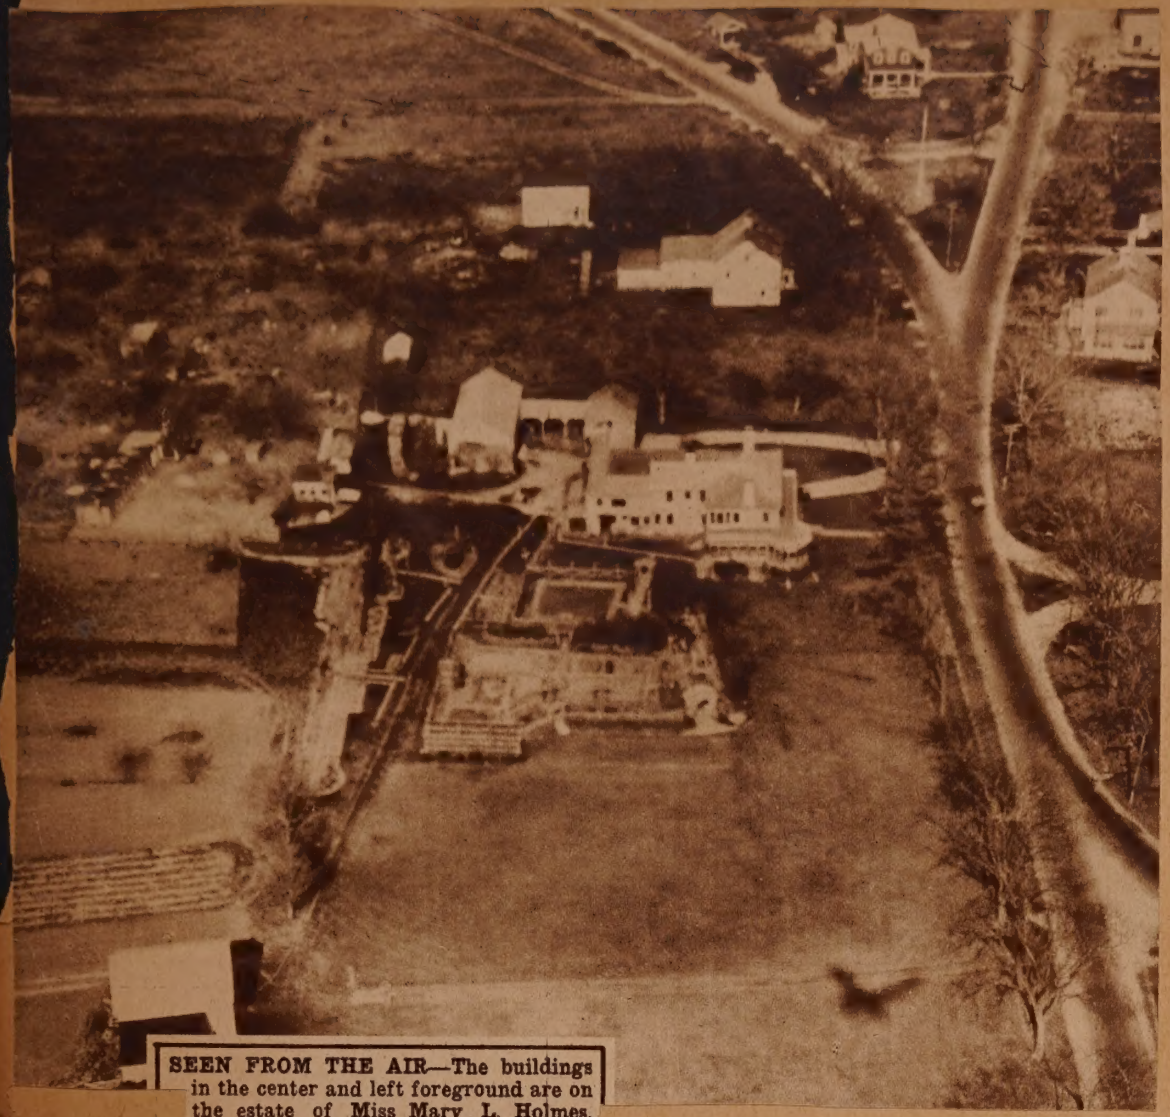
GRACE CHURCH CHOIR—John K. Zorian, organist and choirmaster, is standing just in front of the cross, while at the right of it is the Rev. John M. Groton, rector, and at the left the Rev. Nelson D. Gifford, assistant minister.

June 17, 1928

ENOUGH CUPS TO GO AROUND—This company of Sharpshooters' guard branch No. 2, South End, recently defeated guard No. 1, North End, in a military competition. Left to right: First row, E. Caron Jr., G. L. Breault, A. Choquette, E. Choquette, O. Rousseau, P. Coderre, L. Vaudry, T. Picard, P. Forand Jr., E. Lacroix; second row, W. Bergeron, F. Blanchette, J. Belanger, D. Auger, A. Goulet, G. Couture, G. Brais, H. Coutu, A. Galipeau, E. Millette, N. Leclair, A. Fournier; third row, V. Barabe, A. Morency, A. Landry, Angelo Pelletier, E. Pelletier, E. Picard, O. Monty, Gerard Couture, G. Pelletier, P. Binette, A. Lefevre.

FLAGS ADORN COURTROOM—A view in Superior Court here, showing the new American and state flags which flank the judge's bench. Dec. 30, 1928

THE WATER-TOWER—Middleboro's standpipe rears high above the attractive surrounding foliage.
Oct 28, 1928



SEEN FROM THE AIR—The buildings in the center and left foreground are on the estate of Miss Mary L. Holmes, Rochester. Others are those of Albert Rounseville, Arthur Kirby, E. W. Sherman (store), and Mrs. Louise Nevins. Note the shadow of the plane. Sept 23, '28

Nov. 18, 1928

AT FAIRHAVEN GAME—New Bedford High school's cheering section in action at the annual football game between Blue and Crimson.

—Bachrach Photo.

June 17, 1928

IN NORTH DARTMOUTH — Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Browne Jr., Slocum road, are the parents of these two popular children.

Oct 28, 1928

Photo by Doris E. Wright

THE CAPE COD CANAL — Here is a view of the canal and drawbridge at Sagamore.

Former New Bedford Actors to Be Seen on Broadway

Oct 7, 1928

ROBERT GLECKLER, leading man with the New Bedford Players in 1924, plays John W. Zelli, gambler, in Ringside.

Oct 7, 1928

JOHN MEFHAN, remembered as a member of the Lonergan Players, is Peter Murray, father and manager of Bobby Murray, fighter, in Ringside.

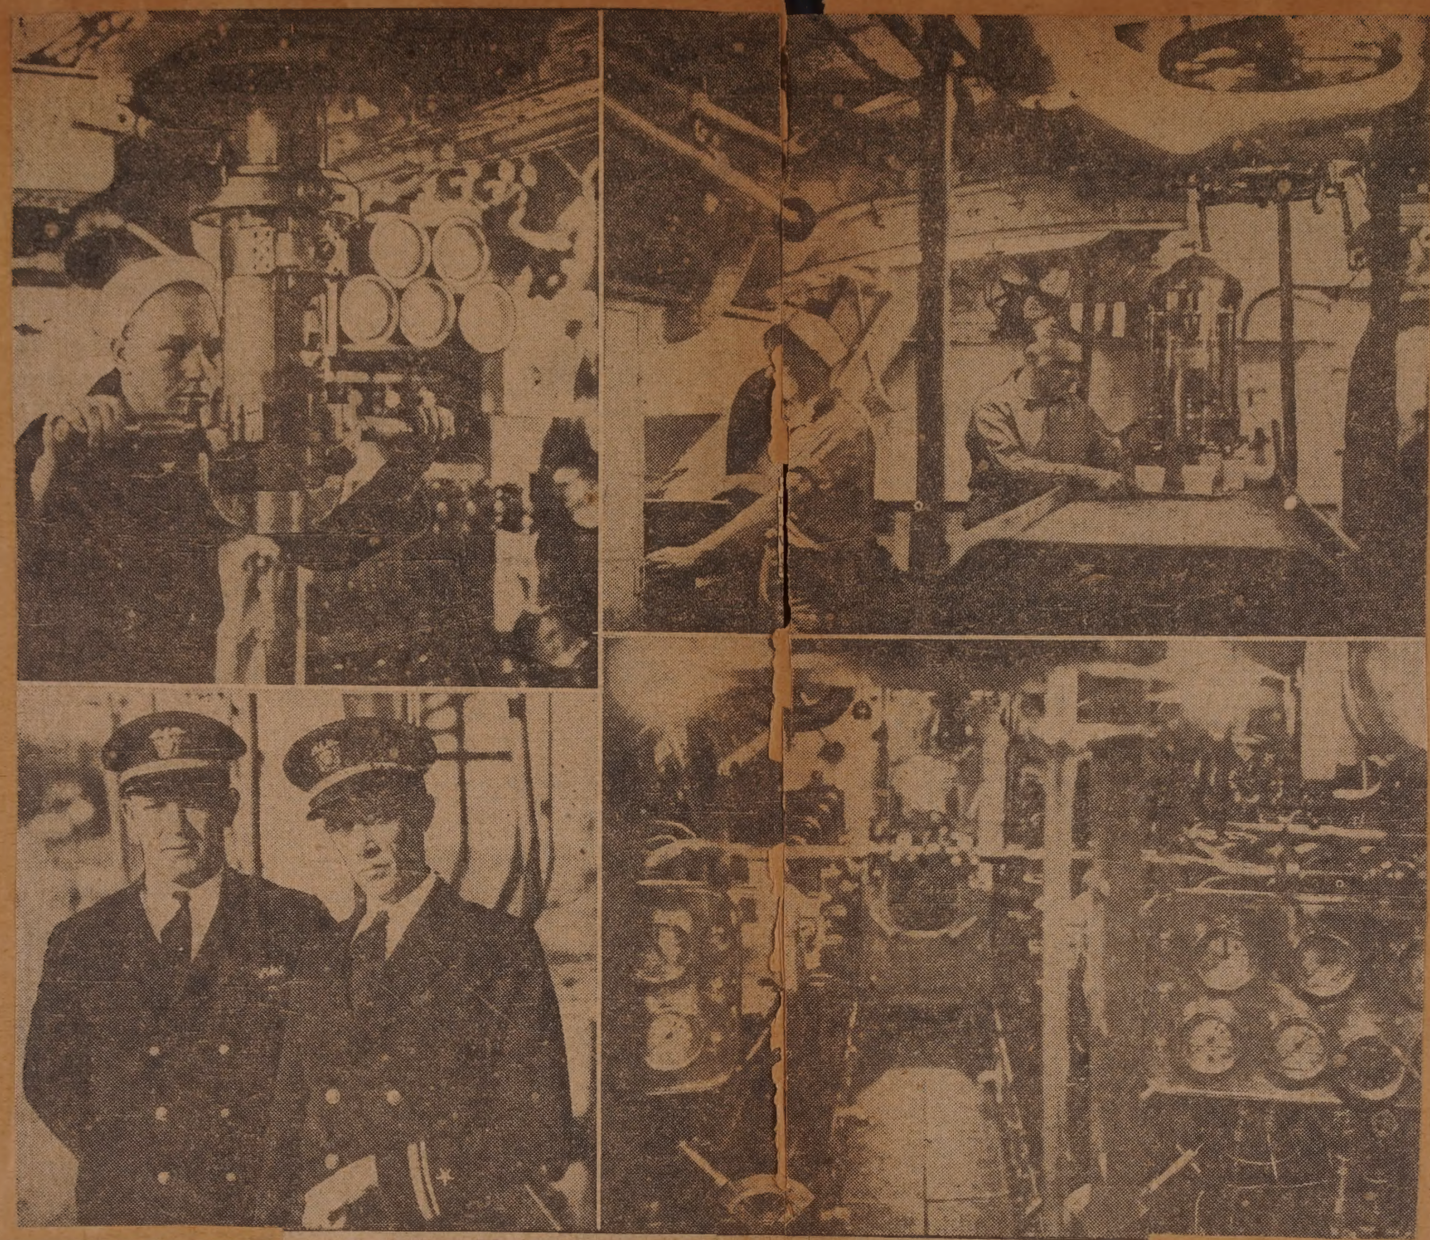
Oct 7, 1928

DOROTHY STICKNEY, who plays Molly Malloy in The Front Page, was with the New Bedford Players in 1922-23.

June 24, 1928

A BIRD'S PARADISE—Summer's songsters have not been forgotten in Miss Jones's garden. In the background of this view is a bird-bath ready for Mr. Robin's daily plunge. A sundial is in the center.

BLOSSOM-DECKED TRELLISES—Flowers above the hea as well as on every side cheer the person who takes th path in the garden of Miss Amelia Jones, 396 Co



Inside Glimpses of Undersea Craft

Oct. 28, 1927.

Quartermaster Haviland (upper left) looks out through the periscope; the galley of the sub (upper right); Lieutenants C. O. Humphreys and K. O. Ekelund (lower left), and looking aft (lower right) at the two 440 H. P. Diesel engines. These unusual photographs were taken in New Bedford this morning by A. F. Packard of The Standard staff.

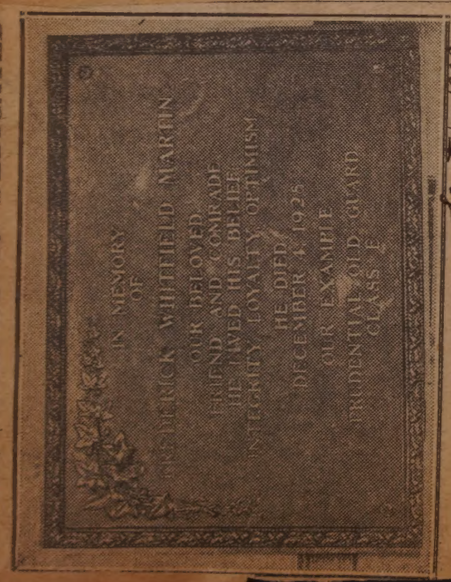
SUBMARINE WELCOMED HERE

10/26-1927

Aboard the U. S. S. O-4

Lieutenant E. C. Bain, U. S. N., commander of the submarine, Mayor Ashley, and Lieutenant William H. Speidel, U. S. A., from Fort Rodman.

MARTIN TABLET IS DEDICATED



Sept 6 1929

MEMORIAL TO INSURANCE REPRESENTATIVE

This tablet was dedicated today by employes of the Prudential Insurance company as a memorial to the late Frederick W. Martin, who for 26 years was a representative of the company. Dedication ceremonies were held following an outing at Remington's, Hix bridge. The tablet was presented by policy holders whom Mr. Martin enrolled, and will be placed in the Prudential company's offices here. Mr. Martin died Dec. 4, 1928.

U. S. S. O-4 DISCOVERS NEW BEDFORD

Oct. 26 1927

WILL VOTE FOR FIRST TIME

1928 Nov 10-28

MRS. MARY A. LAWRENCE

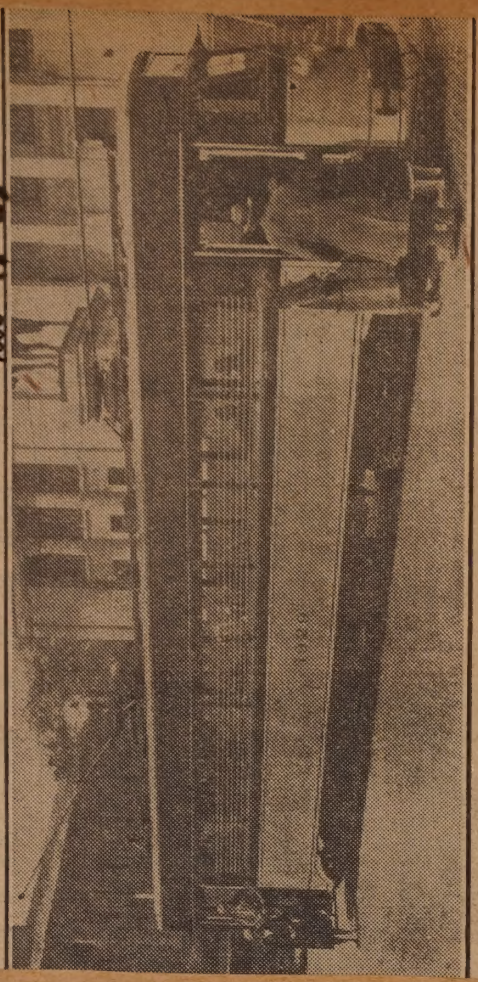
REGISTERS AT 75 AS VOTER

Mrs. Mary A. Lawrence Says She Will Cast Ballot for Hoover

Previously Expressed Belief Politics Should Be Left to Men

STREET RAILWAY COMPANY TESTS NEW CAR

Nov 18-28



Seats Leather Upholstered, Windows Wide

This new type of street car is being tested here by the Union Street Railway company. The body is low with sloping windshield to reduce glare of headlights. Windows are wide with narrow posts, seats upholstered in Spanish leather. Many devices for reduction of noise have been incorporated. The car was constructed in Worcester.

Silver Black Fox Ranch Is Started in North Lakeville

Nov 4, 28

Mrs. Edward Robinson Finds Profit in Breeding Costly Animals

MALE PARENT KEEPS WATCH ON YOUNG

Puppies Sometimes Placed with Cats Who Will Mother Them

MRS. EDWARD ROBINSON AND FOX

HOMELY HUMOR DEPICTED IN ROGERS STATUETTES

Brooks Library, Harwich, Boasts 43 Specimens

mass

June 24, 1928

PRIZE WINNERS IN PEONY-IRIS DISPLAY

Blooms Exhibited in Library Basement

Twenty-five classes were entered in the annual peony and iris show held by the New Bedford Horticultural society in the basement of the Free Public library Wednesday afternoon. Some of the prize winning blooms were: Upper left, German iris raised from a new seedling by Thomas F. Donahue which took second prize in its class; upper right, another entry by Mr. Donahue, "Kukenu Jishi," or Japanese peonies, first winner in the class for best vase arrangement; lower left, one specimen each of six varieties of peonies which brought Mrs. Bancroft Winsor first prize; and lower right, first prize winner for the best specimen of peony, any color, in the show, entered by John R. Pratt.

FIVE ROCHESTER VETERANS ATTEND DEDICATION

Aug 16-28

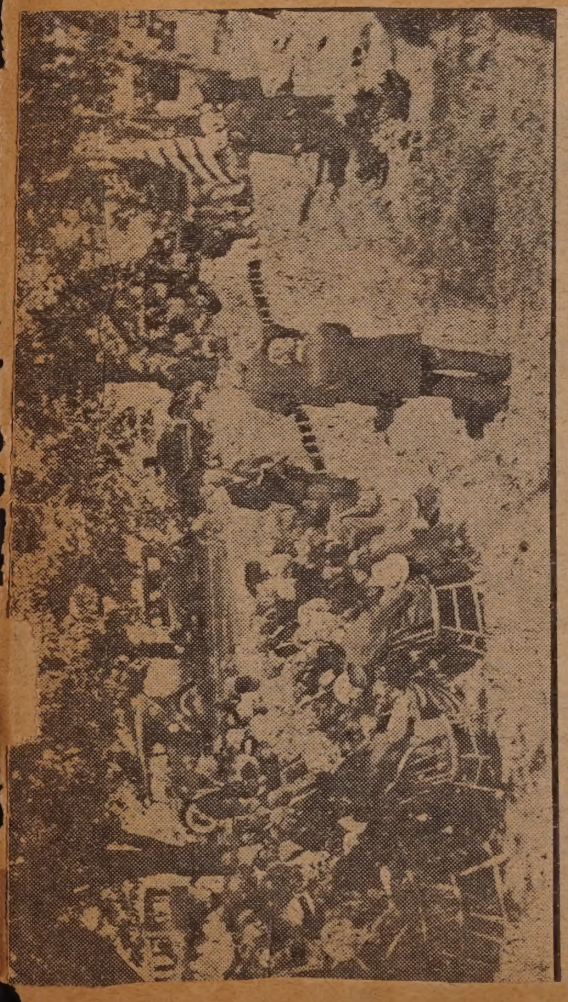
CHILDREN RECEIVE FOOD IN POLISH CLUB BREAD LINE

June 25 1928

Hungry Youngsters Await Rations

A typical scene at the Polish-American United club, 56 Holly street, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday noon when free bread and milk are handed to hungry strikers and their children. During the last five weeks, the Polish club has dispensed more than 600 loaves of bread and as many quarts of milk weekly to strikers. The photograph shows a crowd of children waiting for their ration. Andrew Podsiadlo, president of the Polish-American United club, and chairman of the Strikers' Relief committee, is the man at the extreme right of the group, with Eugene Jaworek, director of the relief committee, at his side. On the left, in the center, is Frank Lach, treasurer of the relief committee.

It was at first planned by the relief committee to give food only to Polish strikers and their children, but since the bread line at the Polish club has been open, no racial distinction has been made and everyone has received bread and milk.



Tablet Honors Civil War Heroes

Rochester dedicated a tablet to its 83 Civil war veterans in front of the Rochester Center town house yesterday afternoon. Outstanding personalities and events as seen by The Standard photographer are shown in the accompanying pictures. Upper left, Rochester school girls who sang To Thee, O Country, under the direction of Mrs. James Hartley. Upper right, leading participants in the exercises were, left to right: Charles W. Maxim, member of the monument committee; William B. Geoghegan, speaker; Chester W. Humphrey, chairman of the committee; George N. Alden, commander in chief of G. A. R. Post No. 190, New Bedford, who was in charge of the dedication ritual; Louis C. LeBaron, member of the committee, who made the presentation of the monument. Center left, hot weather couldn't keep these five surviving Rochester veterans away from the dedication. Left to right, they are: Noah F. Mendall, Thomas B. Bourne, now a resident of Foxboro; Charles M. Maxim, George H. Randall and H. H. Bennett. Center right, George W. Randall, New Bedford, was one of the most active of the veterans present, in spite of his assertion, "Born in '36. Figure it out for yourself." Below, George N. Alden, New Bedford, reads the dedication service. To the right, with their backs to the camera, are Chaplain Oscar A. Hilliard, G. A. R. Post No. 3, Taunton, and Nahum F. Nickelson, commander of Post No. 1.

FOLEY ASKS TO LEAVE POLICE

Aug 15-28

Lieutenant Seeks Retirement on Ground of Ill Health---Appointed Patrolman in 1894

Retirement as an active member of the Police department after 35 years of service is requested by Lieutenant Edmund F. Foley in a letter presented to Chief of Police Samuel D. McLeod yesterday. The chief forwarded the request to Mayor Ashley, who will present it to the Board of Aldermen. Ill health is given as the reason for the request. Lieutenant Foley submits letters from three physicians, Dr. John G. Hathaway, Dr. Thomas B. Horan and City Physician Albert H. Sterns, certifying as to his ill health.

LIEUTENANT E. F. FOLEY.

Lieutenant Foley was appointed a reserve policeman July [illegible] was made a regular member of the police force Feb. 8, 189[illegible] a sergeant three

Sandwich Has Choice Mystery in Green Box Found in Vault

July 17 - 27

Inscription Names July 4, 1976, as Date When Lid Should Be Lifted

SELECTMAN SAYS HE SAW IT 25 YEARS AGO

Speculation on Contents Turns to Old Documents

Selectman Haines and Box

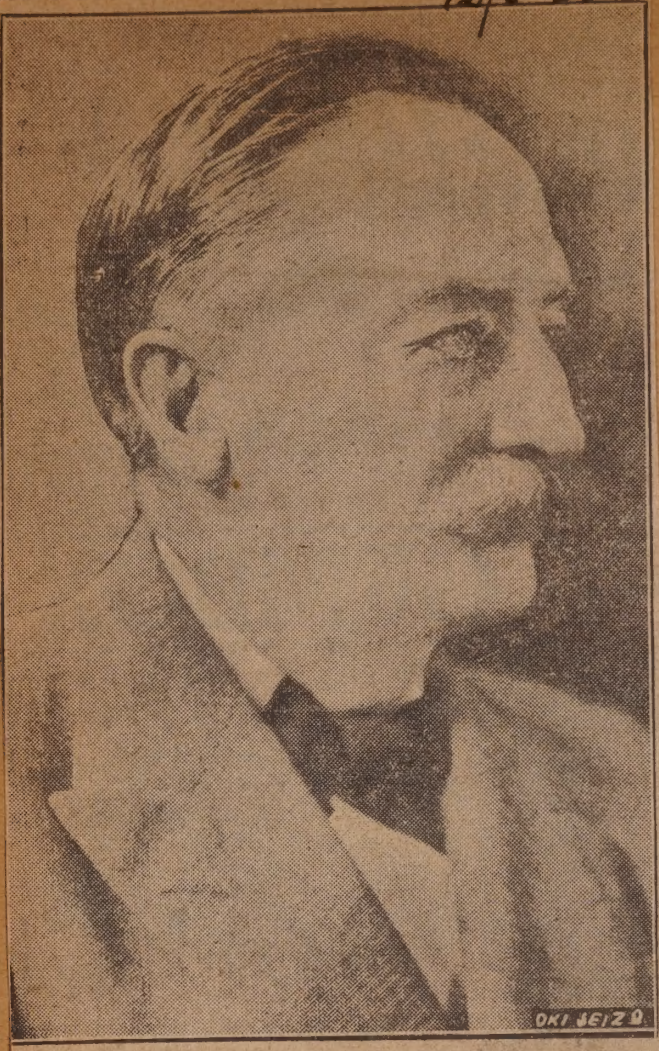
FORMER POLICE HEAD DIES

Dec 31 - 28

HENRY W. MASON.

ETURNED TO MAYOR'S CHAIR

12/5-28



HIS 70TH BIRTHDAY PORTRAIT.

G. A. R. VETERAN IS 88

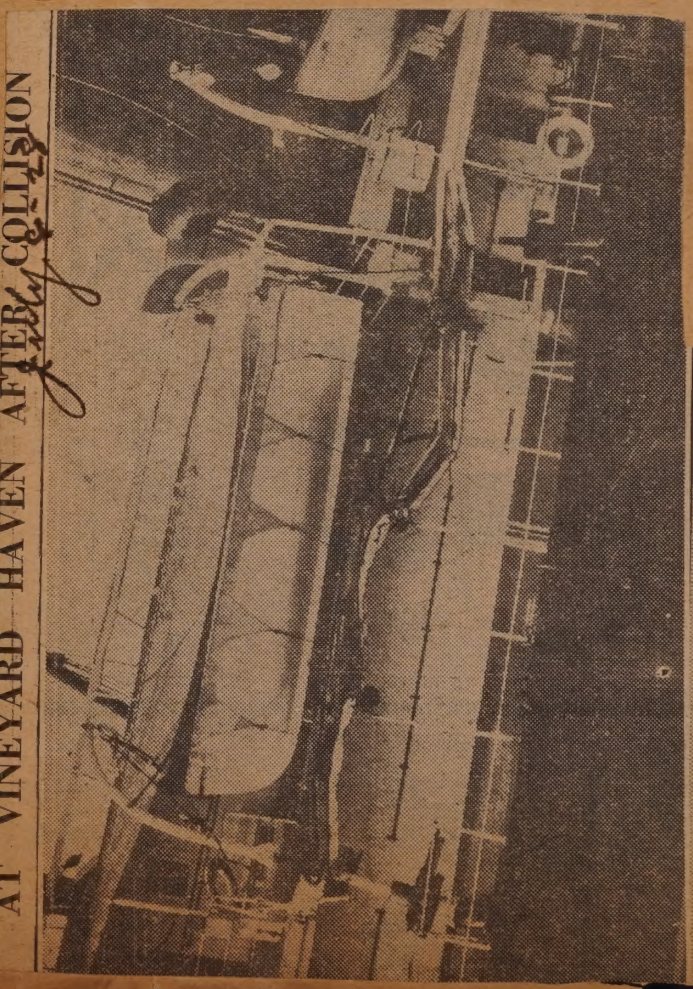
Aug. 10. 28

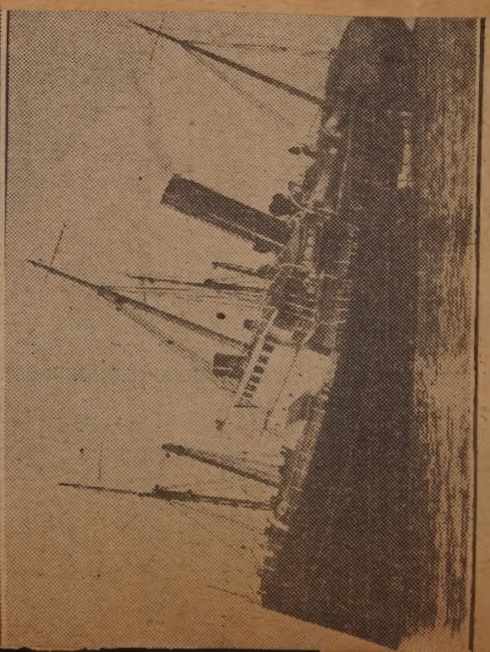
OTIS B. PHINNEY.

Otis B. Phinney, 176 Mill street, will observe his 88th birthday tomorrow. He is a past commander of Post 190, G. A. R. He was in every battle with Sheridan in the Valley of the Shenandoah. He is said to be the only surviving member of Company H, 38th regiment. He is in feeble health and goes out very little. He has just spent a pleasant week at Briarwood beach as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stevens, 263 Palmer street. He will be pleased to meet his friends. Mr. Phinney is shown wearing some of his war medals.

AT VINEYARD HAVEN AFTER COLLISION

July 29-28





DAMAGE TO THE GRECIAN

Pictures taken at Vineyard Haven show damage sustained by the Merchants and Miners line freighter in crash with steamer Evangeline of the Eastern Steamship company off Monomoy Point early Friday.

BELOVED CHOW BURIED IN GRAY CASKET WITH FAVORITE TOYS

12/5-28

Sonny Boy, Pedigreed Canine Friend of Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Smith, Dies of Pneumonia—Chrysanthemums Surround Satin Lined Box Before Burial in Boston

Sonny Boy, pedigreed chow, which for three years was friend and companion to Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Smith, 180 Main street, Fairhaven, died last week of pneumonia. His body was laid in a specially constructed casket, satin-lined, together with his toys and harness, and sent to a dog cemetery in Boston.

Used to Wait at Door.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith obtained Sonny Boy from Framingham kennels when he was a mite of a pup. With him came a long charter denoting his blue-blooded ancestry. As he gained his full stature, his bearing became regal, but his temper retained its youthful buoyancy.

"He was a handsome dog," Mr. Smith mused. "The house seems very empty without him. Every time Mrs. Smith or I entered the front door he used to be there, waiting. He had a habit of jumping upon a chair and leaping into our arms. When I awakened mornings I used to find him curled up on the foot of my bed, like a big furry ball.

Dr. William J. O'Connor, who was next consulted, said the dog had pneumonia. Mr. Smith was unable to explain how it was contracted.

Laid in Gray Casket.

A casket, 2½ feet long, 1½ feet wide and a foot deep was constructed of hard matched boards and surfaced with gray. Inside the walls were quilted and lined with gray satin. One of the best pillows in the house was laid at the head, covered with gray satin and a gray ribbon. Wooden handles were provided at the outside ends.

"Sonny Boy died quickly," Mr. Smith said, "and he lost none of his beauty.

SONNY BOY

"Now when I go home it seems as though I can see him still, all over the house."

Sonny Boy was taken ill about a week ago, and his master finally took him to a specialist in Boston, who diagnosed the ailment as distemper. The specialist gave Mr. Smith medicine for the chow, but Sonny Boy did not respond.

When we laid him inside with his toys—two or three rubber balls, and a few others—and his harness, and put cut chrysanthemums about the box, the casket looked very real."

The cover was sealed and the casket shipped without ceremony to Boston. Mr. Smith said he had not had an opportunity to inspect Sonny Boy's last resting place yet, but intended to do so.

PLAYS WITH LEGINSKA

Oct 21, 28

MISS BETTY WARE

Miss Ware, daughter of Mrs. Laura Ware, will tour with Ethel Leginska's woman's symphony orchestra this autumn. The tour starts Oct. 25 and will include 60 or more concerts. They will be in Washington, Nov. 5, 6, 7 and 8.

GREETING TO VISITING MOTORISTS EXTENDED ON NEW POLICE CARD

June 14, 1929

Greetings! Stranger

NEW BEDFORD WELCOMES YOU

Mayor

THE POLICE wish to be of service to you.
We hope your stay in New Bedford will be pleasant.

As a Courtesy

We offer to overlook your minor auto transgressions
We ask in return

Please Drive Carefully

SAMUEL D. MCLEOD,
Chief of Police.

Hang this card on your steering wheel when you park.

DRILL SQUAD TO APPEAR IN LEGION'S MIDNIGHT SHOW

apr. 15 28

Champions Represent North End Sharpshooters

Crack drill squad of the North End branch, No. 1, Sharpshooters, champions who have been challenged to a competitive drill by the South End Franc Tireurs. This group will give a 12-minute Zouave drill Wednesday night, Patriots' day eve, at the midnight show to be given at the State theater by New Bedford Post one, American Legion.

POST CARD COMES 6,500 MILES ON ZEPPELIN

Oct 19. 28

Received by New Bedford Woman

This post card, brought across the Atlantic from Frankfort-am-Main, Germany, on the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, is the property of Mrs. Herman G. Tetzner, 651 Kempton street. Prices of from $2 for the two mark stamps, on post cards, to $3 for the four mark denomination, on envelopes, are being quoted in New York for canceled stamps borne to this country in the Graf Zeppelin's mailbags, an Associated Press dispatch said today. The Zeppelin carried 15 sacks of mail, containing 28,124 letters and 37,590 post cards, postal authorities said. She will probably carry mail on her return trip, also.

FAIRHAVEN HERO TELLS OF EXPERT CAMOUFLAGE DUTY

Nov. 13-27

Edward C. Westgate, Believed Only American Holder of Italian War Cross, Relates Experiences

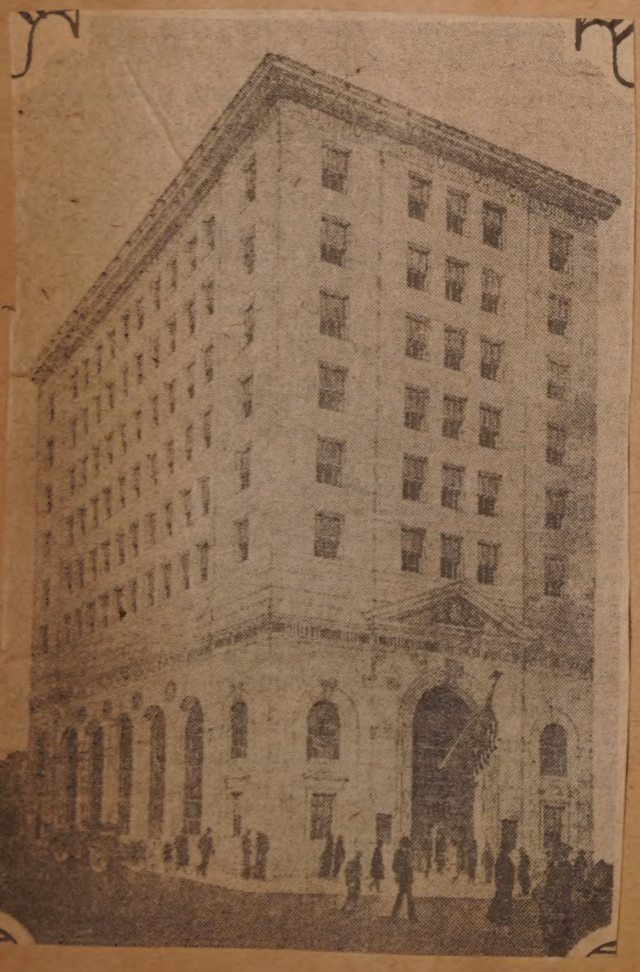
ENEMY FOOLED BY U. S. SOLDIERS

Austrians Made to Think 120 American Infantrymen Were Really Three Regiments ---Air Raid Gave Greatest Thrill

The story of approximately 120 American soldiers who, by moving daily from one part of the Italian-Austrian front during the World war to another, each time changing their uniform, gave the impression to the Austrian enemy that there were three regiments of U. S. infantry on that front, is graphically told by a Fairhaven hero of the conflict, Edward C. Westgate, 34 Rotch street, proud possessor of the Italian War Cross.

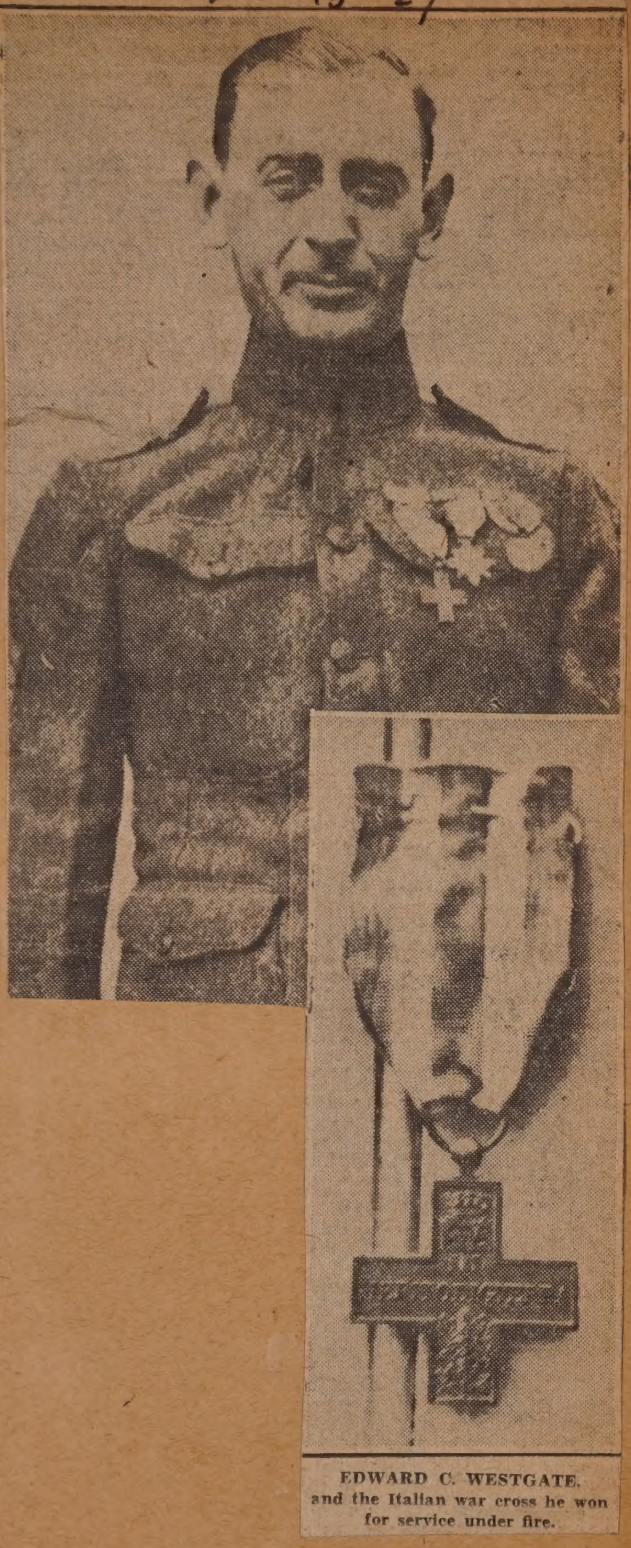
First National Bank of New Bedford

Sept. 15 1927

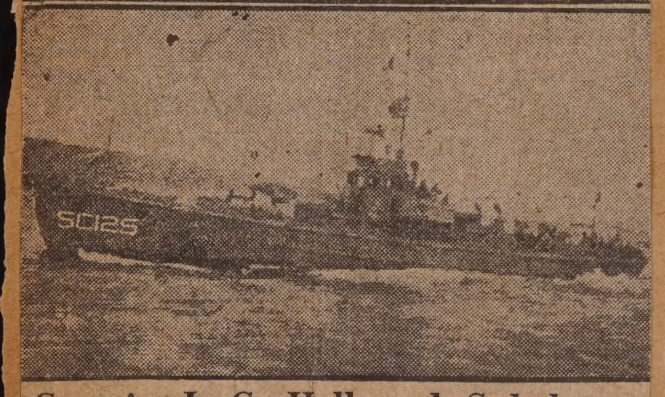


SERVED AT ITALIAN FRONT

Nov 13-27



EDWARD C. WESTGATE, and the Italian war cross he won for service under fire.



Captain I. C. Hall and Subchaser

Ven, Decorated for Part in Otranto Barrage

Oct. 4, 1927.

COMMANDED CHASER BASING ON CORFU

Valiant Services in Perilous Patrol on Tiny Craft Recognized

Nov. 11, 1928

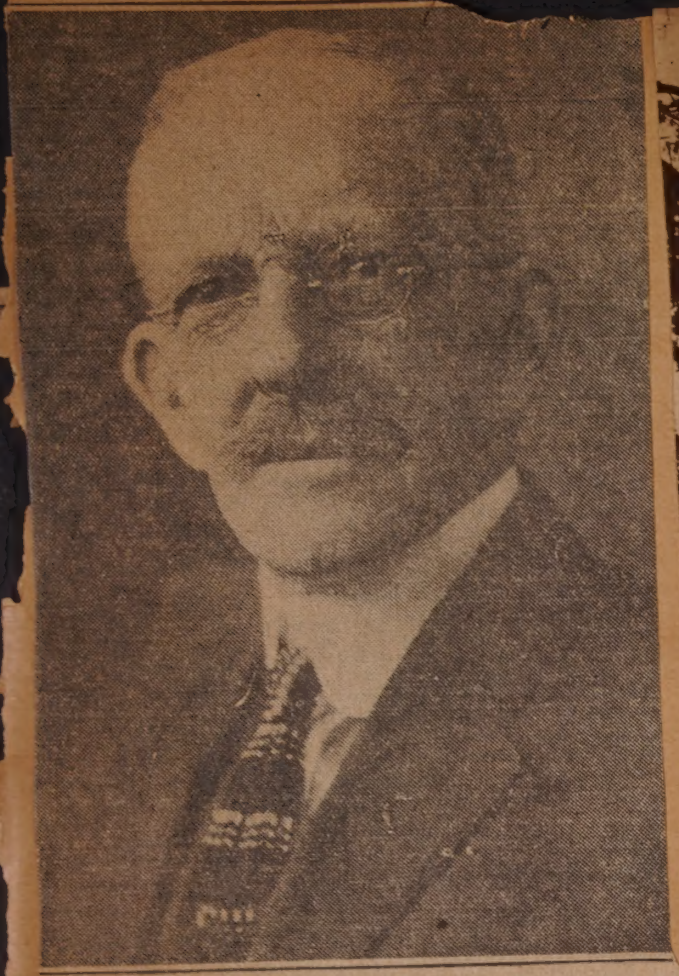
—Photo by Lynwood M. Chace.

AT MERRILLS WHARF—The Misses Laurana Wood, this city, and Charlotte Haskins, North Dartmouth, students at Swain school, find interesting material for their art studies at Merrills wharf.

Dec. 1, 1929

SOPHOMORE—Miss Mary Emmeline Hervey is in her second year at Pine Manor school, Wellesley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Hervey and attended Friends academy and New Bedford High school.

Photo by Bachrach.



Thomas A. Tripp

Vice president of the Pairpoint corporation, celebrated his 70th birthday and 50th anniversary of service with the company, yesterday.

BEACON IS HARBOR GUIDE—A freighter is shown entering New Bedford harbor, opposite the Fort Phoenix beacon which serves as a guide for incoming vessels.

Dec. 16, 1928

FORERUNNER OF BIG GLASS AND SILVER PLANT

Oct 9-27

Mt. Washington Glass Works

Oct. 9, 1927.

Begun in 1867 and later consolidated with the Pairpoint Manufacturing company to form the present Pairpoint corporation. Mr. Tripp, then bookkeeper, stands in the half-open doorway.

—Photo by Lynwood M. Chace
NEW BEDFORD MILLS form the background for study of the Fairhaven shore, the latter suggestive of the "rock-bound coast" untouched. Dec. 9, 1928

BEAUTY OF SH… …ED IN MAST… …GR…

Apr 29 28

Mrs. Gillingham's Hooked Rug Is of Tapestry Dimensions

In this position, the Charles W. Morgan rug executed by Mrs. Dana H. Gillingham, Fairhaven, after a design by Harry A. Neyland of the Swain school, displays its full beauty of line and shading. Mrs. Gillingham stands beside it. The hook-shaped items in the border are the spouts of big black whales which do not stand out in the photograph from their dark green background.

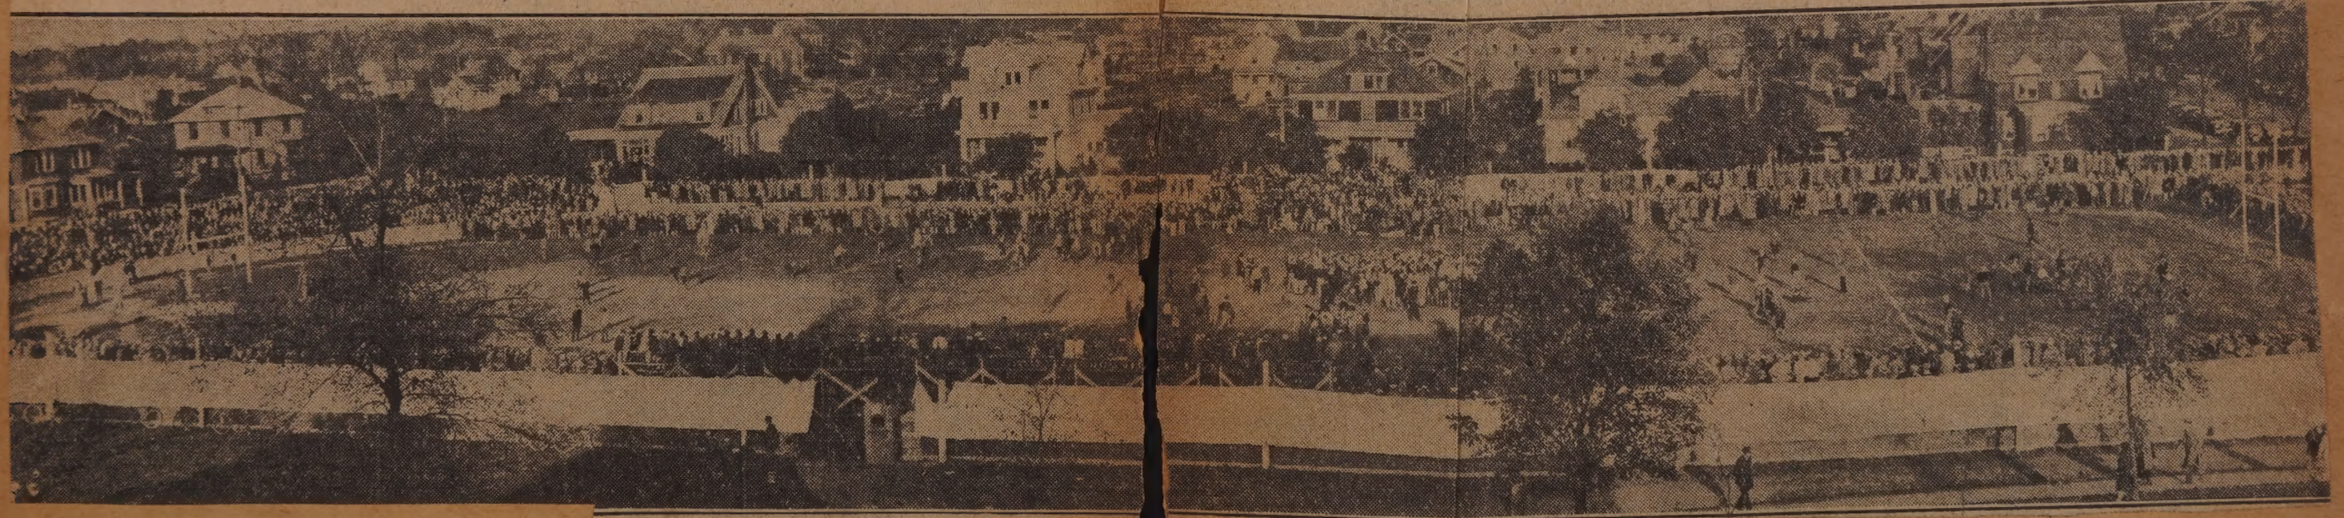
At Institution for Savings

July 16, 1927.

This view of the exhibit at the New Bedford Institution for Savings of some 200 patterns and styles and more than 2,300 yards of fine cotton goods made in the mills of this city shows a number of the panels in the display which tell the spectator facts about the city's leading industry. On the second panel from the left is printed: "New Bedford, the leading city in fine cotton goods in the United States"; on the next: "New Bedford airplane cloth contributed to the success of Lindbergh's sensational New York-Paris flight"; and on the next: "New Bedford manufactures more than one-half of the fine cotton goods made in the United States."

4,500 GATHER AT STADIUM TO SEE BLUE DOWN CRIMSON

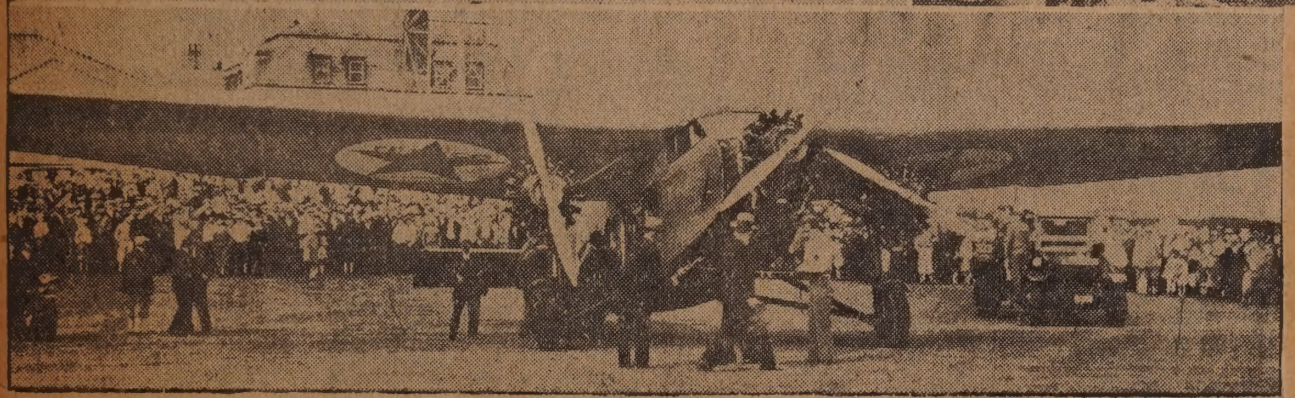
Oct-28-28



View of Yesterda… … Football Crowd

A view of the Fairhaven stadium during yesterday's annual footba… …between Fairhaven and New Bedford high schools, giving an indication of the large crowd that witnessed the fray, officially estimated at 4,50…

ROUND HILLS AVIATION DAY DRAWS THOUSANDS 9/24/'28

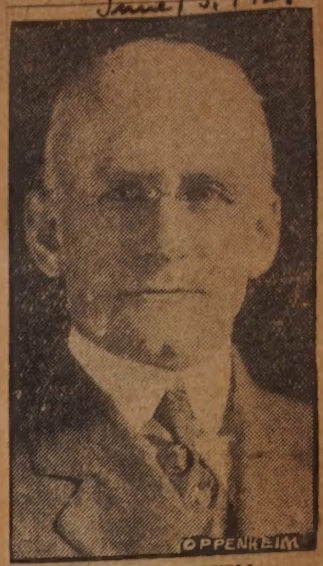


Colonel and Mrs. Green Watch Plane's Flights

It was aviation afternoon at Round Hills yesterday, when the Texaco No. 1 arrived to give a demonstration and take specially invited guests for a ride. Above, the party that went up first, left to right, Miss Pauline C. Clarke, Chief of Police Samuel D. McLeod, Mrs. Laura Bessette Davis; Carl J. Collopy, Miss Ruth G. Hilton, Joseph H. Dunn, Fire Chief Edward F. Dahill, James T. Murray. In the foreground, Frank I. Neild, Milton Burkhardt. Below, how the crowds turned out to see the big Ford plane. Right, Colonel Edward H. R. Green, host to the gathering, Patrolman Elrick M. ...t, Mrs. Green.

DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

June 13, 1928.



WILLIAM P. COVELL.

PARK OFFICIAL SUCCUMBS TO HEMORRHAGE

Observed 63d Birthday Monday; Complained of Headache Last Night

DEATH COMES IN HOUSE OF BIRTH

Former Mill Executive Was Park Superintendent, on Board 12 Years

William Pitman Covell, superintendent of municipal parks and former mill executive, died suddenly at his home, 14 Pope street, at 4:20 this morning.

Was 63 Monday.

Mr. Covell, who observed his 63d birthday Monday, was in Boston that day, apparently in the best of health and spirits, as he was all day yesterday, when he went to work as usual. When he arrived home last evening, he ... headache. At

His daughter, Miss Cecile Covell, a graduate of the Presbyterian hospital, New York city, and at present supervisor of the women's ward there, was notified immediately of the death and started for home. She is an only child.

Born in House of His Death.

Mr. Covell has suffered from severe headaches for several years.

He was born in the same house in which he died, son of Captain George Albert Covell and Lucy A. (Lovell) Covell, June 11, 1865. He attended New Bedford public schools, being graduated from the New Bedford High school. At the age of 17, following graduation, he entered the office of the Wamsutta mill to work there with the late Andrew G. Pierce, a close friend of the Covell family.

Textile Positions Held.

When the Pierce mill was built, he left the Wamsutta mill to take charge of the books at the Pierce. Subsequently he was treasurer of the Regina Manufacturing company, East Greenwich, R. I., and later, for several years was clerk and treasurer of the Bristol mill in this city. Later he was a sales representative of several mills in New York city.

Mr. Covell was a busy man with many activities and interests practically all his like. He took a prominent part in the political events of a few years ago, being unanimously elected secretary of the Republican City committee in 1910. He was a popular clubman. He was one of the first members of the former Dartmouth club and was chosen president of the Dartmouth Cafe club several times. He also belonged to the Wamsutta club.

Named to Park Board in 1916.

He was appointed one of the P commissioners by Mayor Edward Hathaway in 1916 following the resignation of Chairman Samuel P. Rich mond and remained on the board continuously until his resignation last January for the purpose of taking the position of superintendent of public parks. He was elected park superintendent Jan. 3 and took over the office on Feb. 4. He had held the office since. Previous to his resignation, he had been chairman of the park board for six years. He served as acting superintendent many occasions during those years.

For about two years before his assuming charge of the park superintendent's office, Mr. Covell traveled for the Agawam Finishing company, East Wareham.

He was a Mason, a Knight Templar, and an Elk.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Addie R. Covell, and one daughter, Miss Cecile Covell, New York city.

HIS TRIAL ON ONE INDICTMENT OPENS

11/27-28

Defendant and Two of His Champions

Charles H. Gifford at Superior Court yesterday with Mrs. Gifford in conference with the former Westport official's counsel, George H. Young (center).

DEPOSED POLICE HEAD AND HIS COUNSEL

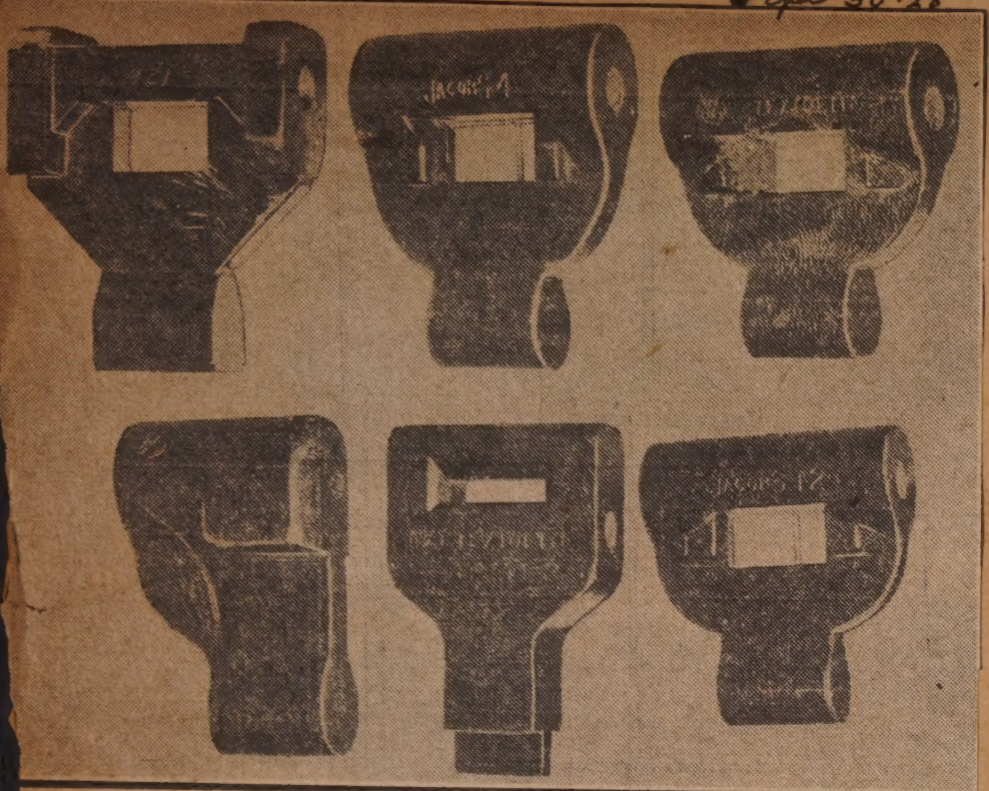
Dec. 21-28

Accused Chief Confers with Lawyer

Elwell H. Smith, former Wareham police chief, photographed before court this morning in conference with his counsel, J. Frank Kiernan.

HERE IS WHAT TEXOLITE PICKERS LOOK LIKE

Sept. 30. 28



A Few Standard Styles

Top left, the original Textolite picker made for an ordinary cotton loom; note the angular clumsy appearance. Top center, standard type of Textolite picker for cotton looms as it stands today; note the refinement of design as compared with old type. Top right, Textolite picker with rubber inserts to prevent picker stick wear; these are used on some of the looms weaving very heavy goods. Bottom left, single end picker for woolen looms. Bottom center, Textolite picker for English overpick looms. Bottom right, Textolite picker for silk looms.

CAPE'S OLDEST BAPTIST CHURCH CALLS ROLL

MAY 17-1928

West Harwich Edifice and Pastor

The Baptist church at West Harwich is the mother church of that denomination on Cape Cod. Pictured are the present pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Lindsay.

BARNSTABLE'S VILLAGE HALL REMODELED

Sept. 30. 28

WOMAN'S CLUB PURCHASES STRUCTURE

Below is the "Village Hall" as it looked before it was bought and remodeled by the Barnstable Woman's club. Above it is shown as it looks today. The club will hold their first meeting in the new quarters Oct. 8.

SCOUT TROOP GETS TROPHY

East Freetown Girls Win Tablet for Destroying Caterpillars

Thornton Burgess, Naturalist, Congratulates Members for Their Efforts

SCOUT CAPTAIN RECEIVES TABLET

Apr. 22 - 28

MISS MARJORIE GURNEY

Miss Gurney here shows the trophy won by her East Freetown girls.

FIGHT FIRE FROM ROOF

Dec 28. 28

FIREMEN EXTINGUISH RESTAURANT BLAZE.

Firemen attacked noon blaze in Blue Moon restaurant from the roof. ture looks down toward Sixth street.

11/20-28

LEGISLATORS STUDY TEXTILE PROBLEMS

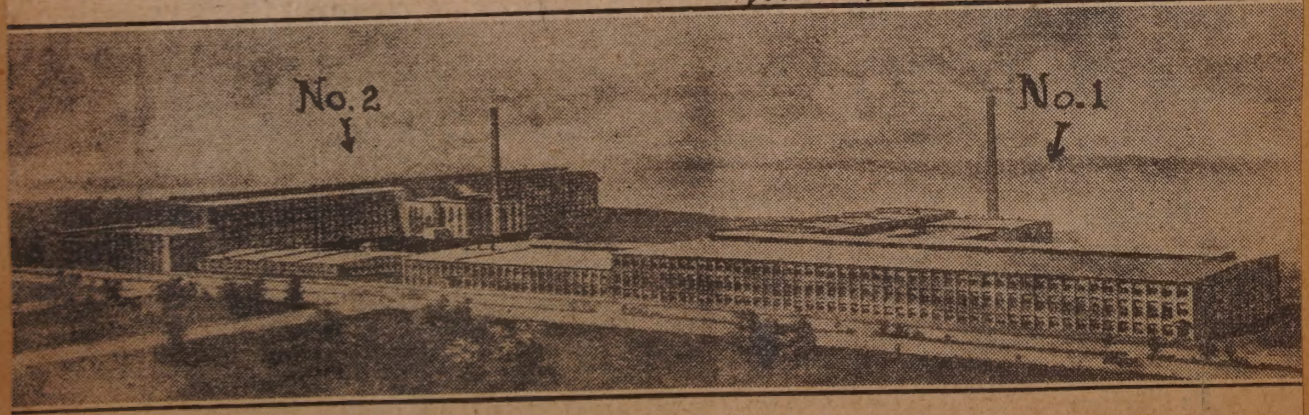
Nov 18-28

Attend Luncheon Conference in This City

Above, left to right—William E. G. Batty; Congressman Joseph W. Martin Jr., directly in his rear; Congressman-elect Richard Wigglesworth, Congressman Frank H. Foss, Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger, Congressman Charles L. Gifford, Congressman Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Congressman John Douglas, Councillor Mark M. Duff, Congressman A. Piatt Andrew, Congressman Robert Luce. Below, left to right—Abraham Binns, John S. Lawrence, Congressman Charles L. Gifford, Robert Amory, John Sullivan, Lincoln Bayliés, Congressman Joseph W. Martin.

NONQUITT MILLS WHICH MAY BE PARTLY LIQUIDATED

Nov 18-28

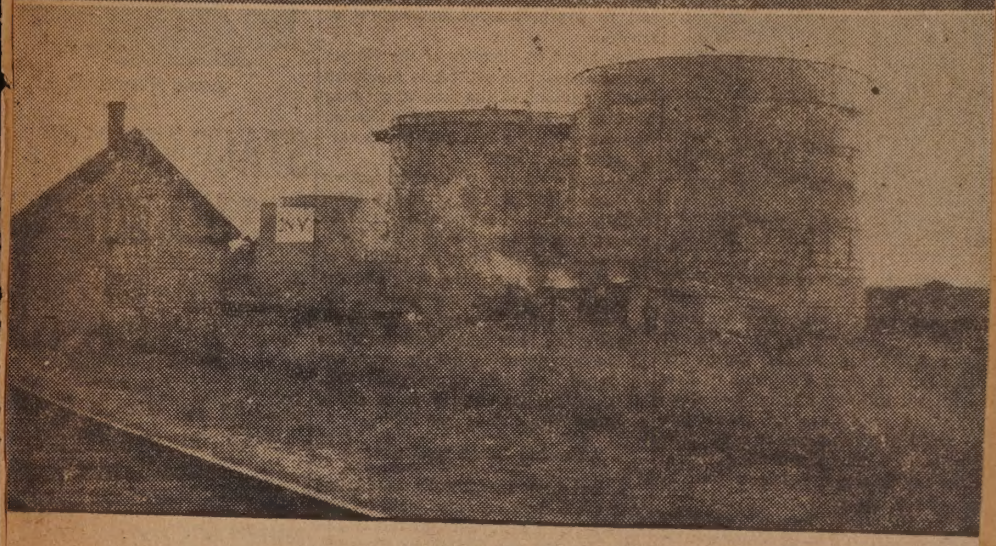


Begins to Sell Equipment

Picture shows a view of the Nonquitt plant, including No. 2 mill in the distance, and in the foreground the No. 1 mill, out of which the management began this week to sell equipment. No. 1 mill has been idle for a long time.

OIL PLANT FACILITIES ARE INCREASED

11/4-28

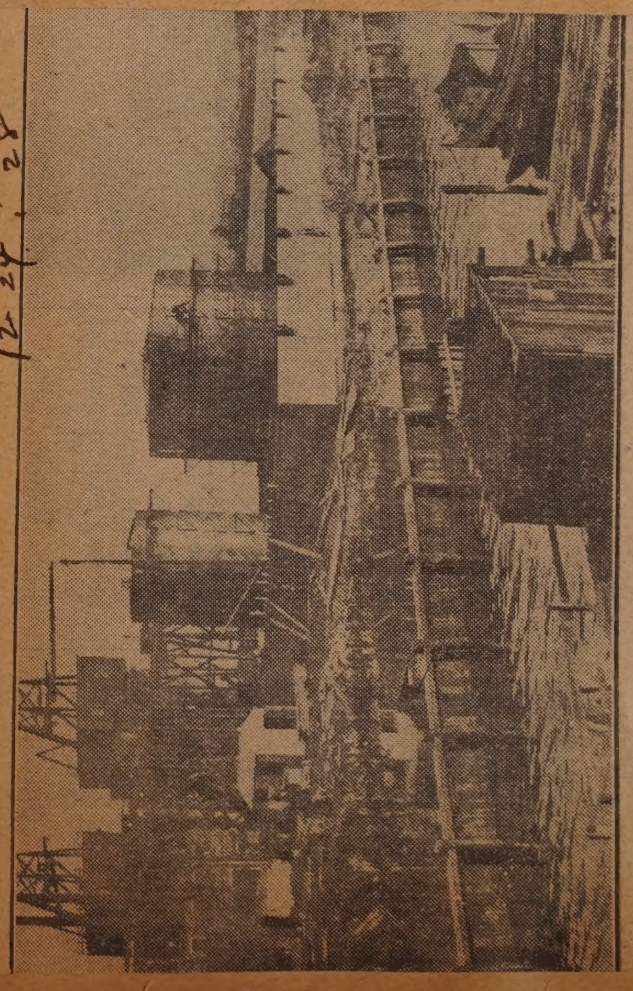


Standard Oil Equipment at Buzzards Bay

The main office of the Standard Oil company on the Cape, located at Buzzards Bay, is shown in the top picture. New storage tanks are shown in the lower picture.

GASOLINE DISTRIBUTING STATION COMPLETED

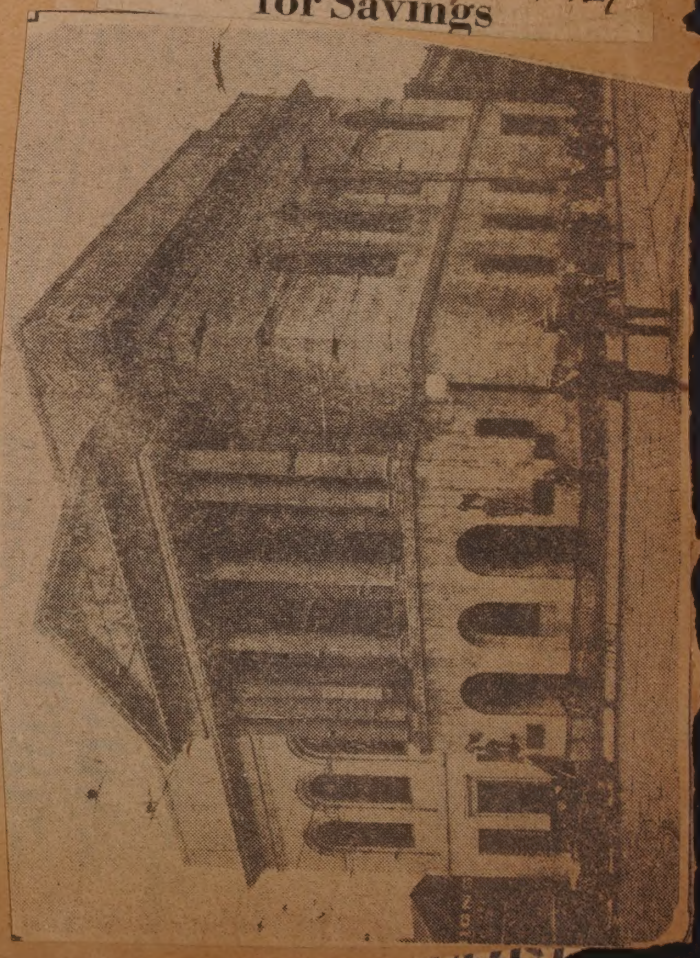
12-24-28



Tide Water Oil Develops Wharf Property

New Bedford Institution for Savings

Sept 14, 1927



FAMILIAR FACES IN DISTANT CLIME 6/24-28

Former New Bedford–Fall River Residents Hold California Reunion

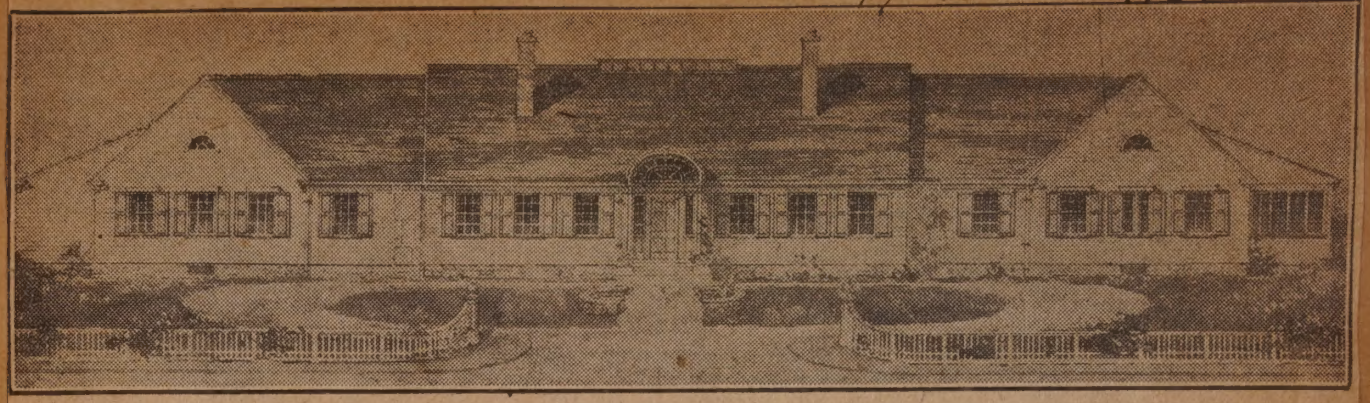
Pictured here is a group including many former residents of New Bedford and Fall River who attended a reunion in Santa Anna canyon, Cal., June 10. Among those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Stewart and son, Mr. and Mrs. T. Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tanner, Dave Young Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Luke Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ackroyd and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Coderre, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salisbury and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mickel Goff, the Misses Bettie, Mary and Agnes Goff, Morris Goff, Mrs. Reedy, Mr. and Mrs. William Whittaker, T. Duckworth Sr., Mr. and Mrs. T. Duckworth Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baldwin, T. Barron, A. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garside, Mr. and Mrs. Dewhurst Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Dewhurst Jr., Miss Delia Hester, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bardbury, M. Cabral, Cliff Corse, H. J. Durant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens.

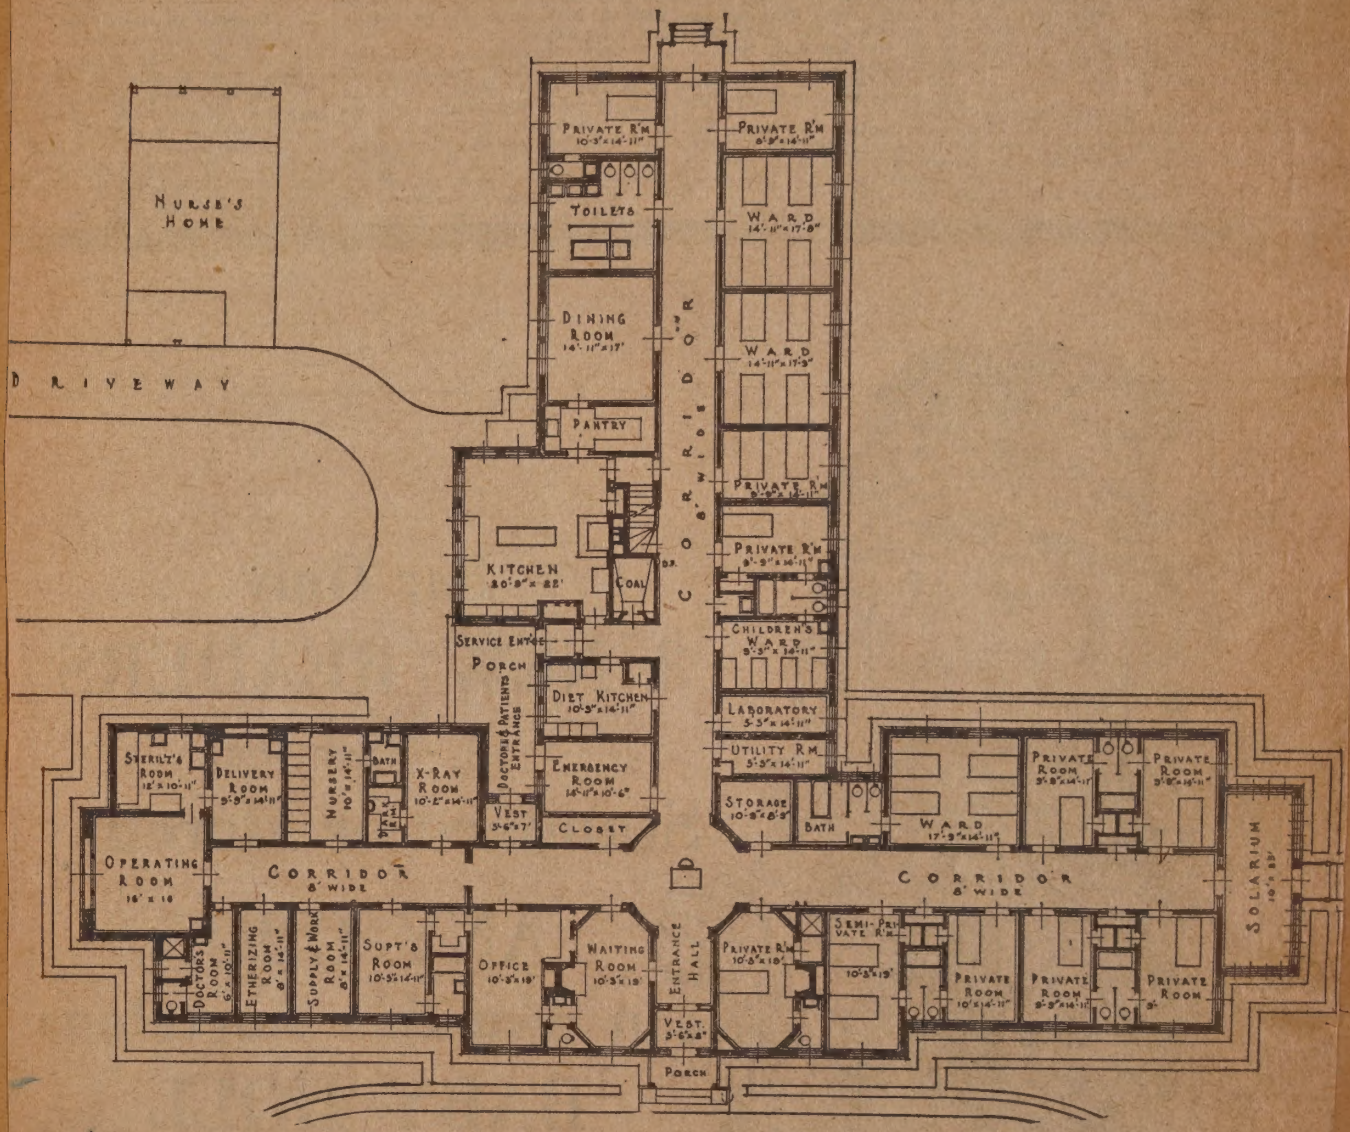
THEY ENTERTAIN AT SASSAQUIN Journal 13-28

Minstrel End Men

Front row: John Wood, Leonard Rawcliffe and Reginald Hargreaves. In back: David Shields and Clifford Hargreaves. The minstrel show scheduled to be given by the young people of the First Congregational church, Lunds Corner, Thursday and Friday evenings in the chapel of the church will be presented [illegible] at Sassaquin sanitarium for the entertainment of the patients there.

COMBINES BEAUTY WITH EFFICIENCY IN EQUIPMENT



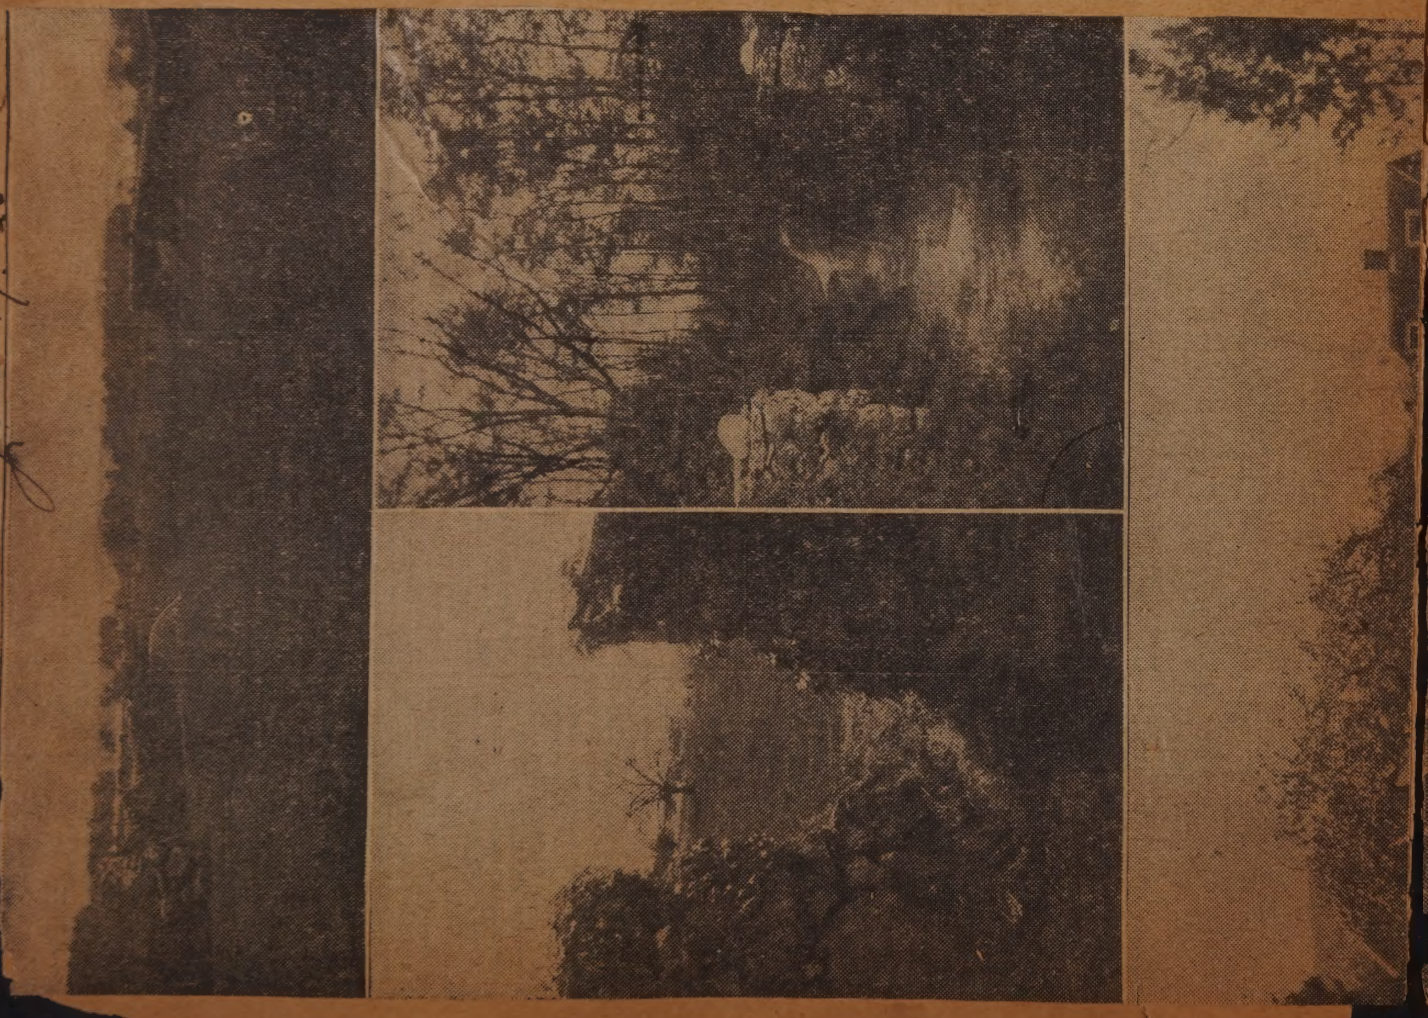


Plans for Marthas Vineyard Hospital

EASTER PAGEANT PORTRAYS ROMAN SOLDIERS' CONVERSION

Trinitarian Young People Stage Story

A scene from the Easter pageant, Thy Kingdom Come, which portrays conversion of Roman soldiers, and which will be presented at Trinitarian Congregational church at 7 P. M. today by young people of the church under the direction of Mrs. Jane Stanton Covill and Miss Evelyn Marriner. The cast, reading from left to right: first row, William B. Ritchie, Priscilla A. Wing, Henry F. Sherman, Morris A. Huggins and Elliott C. Gray; second row, Louise Perkins, Clifford Kendall, Irene Wehoskey and Rosamond E. Bacon; third row, Dorothy C. Lindsay, Virginia Ashley, Jane Briggs, Mazelle Cook and Lois Huddy.



Proposed Devonshire Manor Country Club

Top—Looking out over one of the main fairways of the Marion Golf club, which will be a part of a 27 hole course for the Devonshire Manor Country club.

Left center—Bunkers and an oak. A century old oak, one of the prides of the new Devonshire Manor Country club, seen through an opening in the ivy-clad stone bunker.

Right center—One of the intriguingly quiet paths which are scattered over a section of the land purchased for the Devonshire Manor Country club at Marion.

Bottom—The present home of William M. Bullivant on Butler's point, Marion, which is to be the site of the proposed $4,000,00 clubhouse of the Devonshire Manor Country club. Work on the huge structure is expected to be commenced soon.

Westport Aviator Dreams of 7,200 Mile Non-Stop Flight

July 8, 28

Rohnald W. Ohmeyer, 21, Chooses Copenhagen as Goal of Trip

NEEDS BACKING TO CONSTRUCT PLANE

Hopes to Circle U. S. Before Launching on Ocean Passage

SEEKS NON-STOP RECORD

ROHNALD W. OHMEYER

SES SPEAKER AT SCHENECTADY

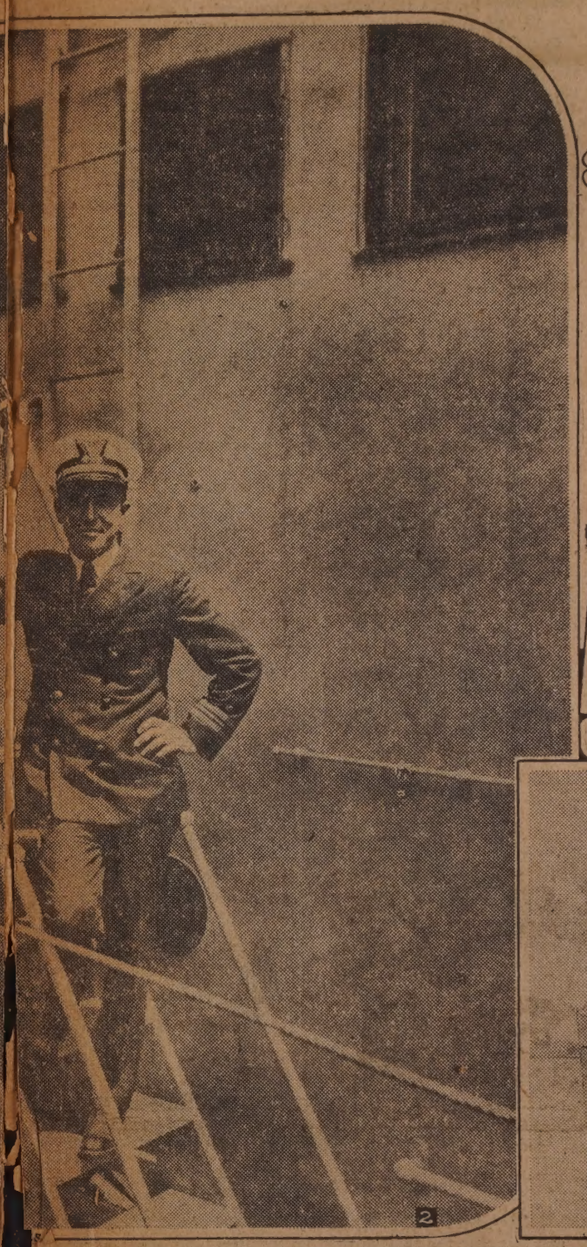
GASTON FONTAINE AND HIS TELEVISION SET

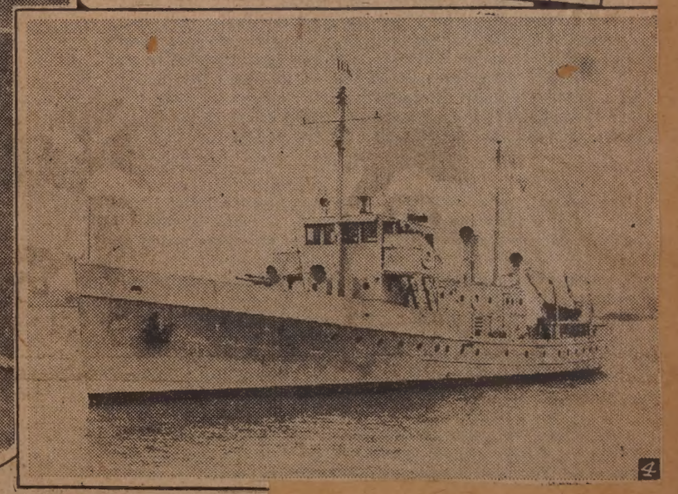
In the picture, Gaston's left arm is resting on the television amplifying tubes, of which there are four in all. The switch and plugs that make the connections can be seen at this end of the board. His right hand is extended along the wrought frame work that supports the scanning disk of black, seen in front, the motor that spins it 1,200 revolutions a minute, and, at the top, the large neon tube within which is the plate upon which, in tiny flashes of light, the pictures appear.

ICEBERGS WILL BE STUDIED IN ARCTIC LAIR

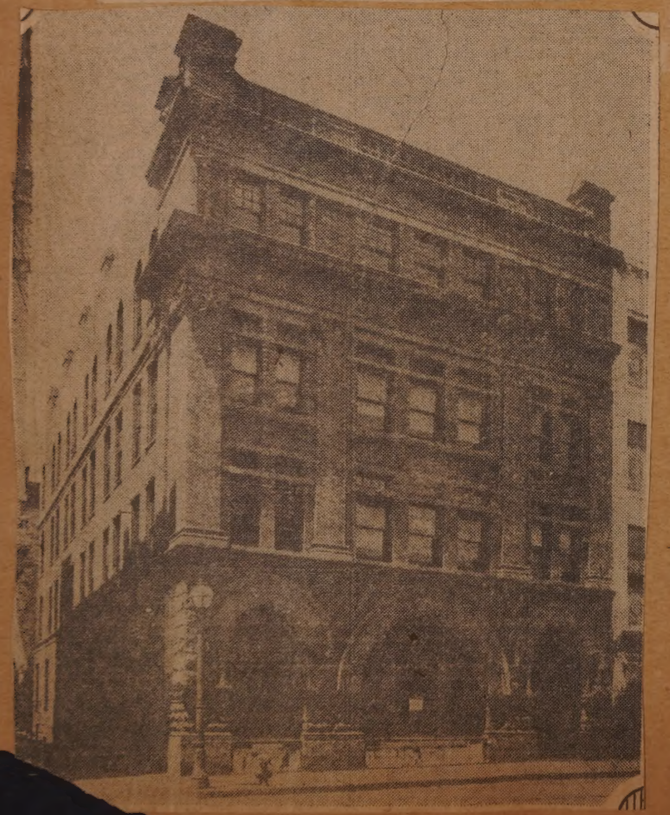
Son of New Bedford Man Leads Coast Guard Expedition to Baffin Bay—Data on Ocean Depth and Currents Sought to Determine Drift of Lurking Menace to Liners

July 8-28





New Bedford Five Cents
Sept 15 1927 Savings Bank



Coast Guard Is Watch Dog of Liner Lanes

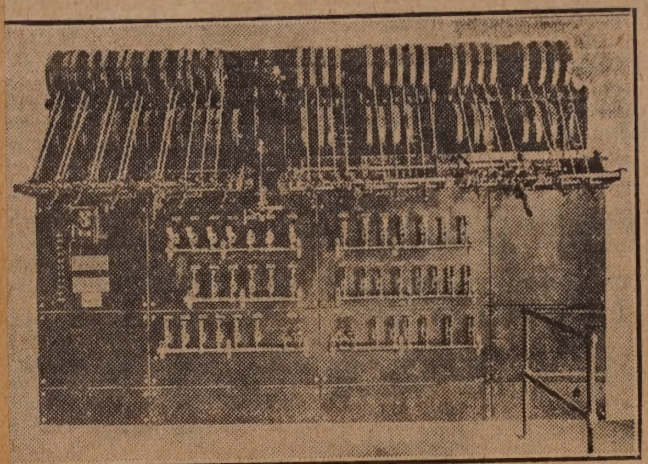
(1) Patrolling the North Atlantic for such mountains of ice as this is one of the annual spring duties of the Coast Guard.
(2) Lieutenant Commander Edward H. Smith, who heads the expedition now starting for the perilous ice fields between Labrador and Greenland.
(3) Officers and crew of the Coast Guard expeditionary vessel Marion—a picked lot.
(4) Steel hull, Diesel engines, and the latest radio depth sounding and oceanographic apparatus distinguish the compact 125 foot Marion.

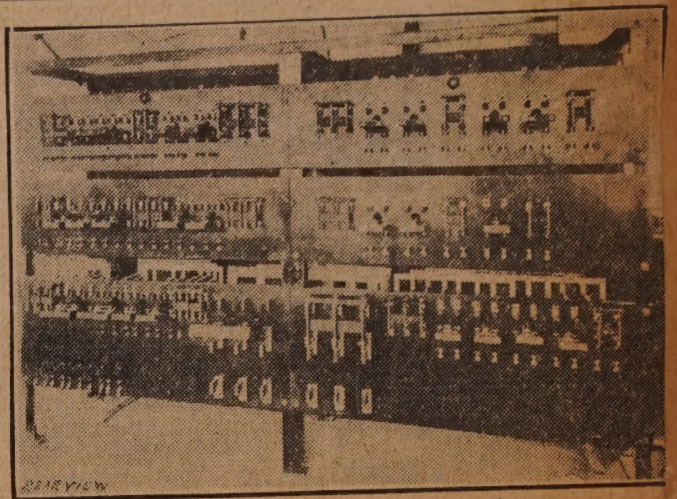
Merchants National Bank

Sept 5 1927

WHERE INTRICATE, GIANT SWITCHBOARDS ARE TURNED OUT

Nov. 27. 28





ENTERTAINS ROYALTY

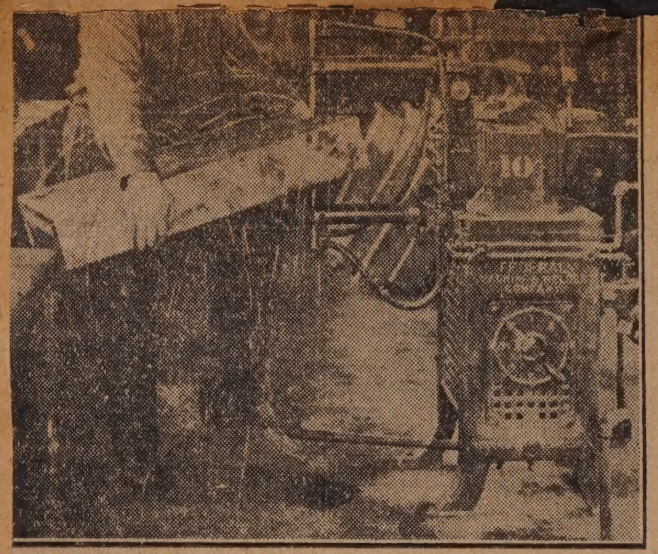
Dec-4-28

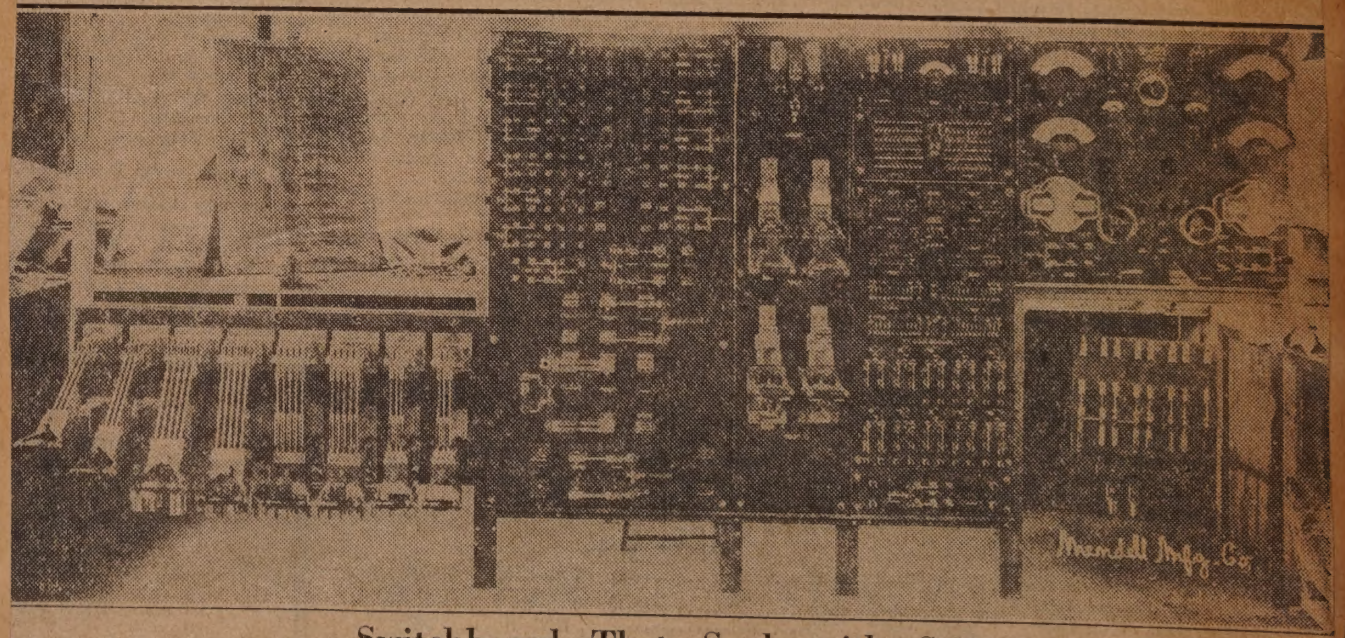
Miss Marguerite Morgan, Boston, with Sisters, Frances and Virginia, Plays by Command Before Princess Beatrice---Heard in This City in 1924

London, Dec. 1 (AP)—Three American girl musicians, Marguerite, Frances and Virginia Morgan of Boston, were commanded to play for Princess Beatrice, aunt of King George, at Kensington palace last night.

The girls, in picturesque dresses copied from Goya paintings, entertained the princess and her guests for more than an hour with a program of oldtime English, Spanish and French compositions chosen by the princess. This is their third appearance before English royalty, having played for the Duke of Connaught and Princess Mary in 1927.

Miss Marguerite Morgan is well known to New Bedford music lovers, having appeared here in March, 1924, as guest soloist with La Societe Chorale Massenet at the home of Mrs. A. Ricard, 79 Holly street.





Switchboard That Sank with S-51

Top, plant of the Mendell Electric Manufacturing company, Mattapoisett. Bottom, the switchboard the company made for the S-51. From this one big board and the two small ones balanced in the background all the submarines's operations were controlled, and she took them down with her and 33 men off Block island in 1925 in the greatest submarine disaster on record prior to the sinking of the S-4 off Provincetown. The four squares in the heart of this layout show: upper left, a front view of the switchboard the company made for the State theater here, and, upper right, a rear view. Lower left, spot welding a steel cabinet which is to hold a panel board; the parts are literally melted together at strategic points, instead of being riveted. Lower right, men at work in the assembling department on a switchboard soon to be installed back stage in a New Hampshire theater.

235

230

WOMAN, 94, GOES TO POLLS TO VOTE

Nov. 7, 1928

Son and Daughter Accompany Mrs. Bartlett

Mrs. Eunice Bartlett, 94, on her way to the polls Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Grace Collins, and her son, Clifton W. Bartlett. Mrs. Bartlett, widow of William H. Bartlett, lives at 64 Arnold street. She voted at Early's garage, Tremont street.

MIDDIES' NEW ATHLETIC HOME

Aug. 28

Contains Large Auditorium

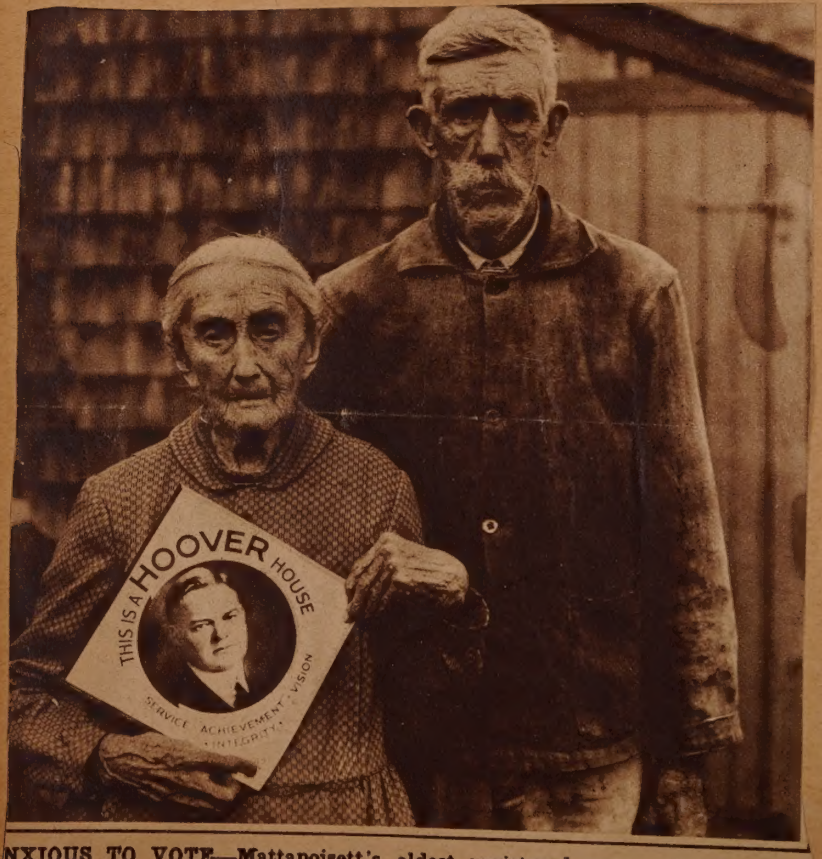
An exterior and interior view of the nearly completed athletic hall and auditorium of Tabor academy, Marion.

CONVEYS CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO DISABLED POSTMAN

Merry Christmas
Dec 24
1928
It isn't so much what we say in words
Nor always so much what we do
It's feeling that counts; it's the feeling we have
When we send Christmas wishes to you.

Prize Card Sent by Postal Employes

Post office employes sent W. Edward Staples this Christmas card. It is 24 inches wide, and carries 170 signatures.



NXIOUS TO VOTE—Mattapoisett's oldest registered man and woman are William Bolles, 75, and Mrs. Mary Jenney, 92, relatives, who joined the voting list this year.